Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned lots of land no longer required by Government, situated along the Bhairab-Tangi Branch of the Assam-Bengal Railway, in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at Dacca Collectorate, at 11 A.M., on 21st day of October 1918, corresponding with the 4th of Kartik 1325 B.S.

The purchasers of the several lots of land will be subject to the following conditions:—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway land, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in case of original sale.

4th.—The lots of land will be sold to the highest bidders subject to the payment of usual rent to their immediate superior landlords.

5th.—The sale will become final on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioners confirming it and a regular conveyance will then be granted to the purchasers.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

Notification, dated 30th August 1918.—The subjoined abstract of the annual report and accounts of the District Road Committee of the Darjeeling district for the year 1917-18, together with the remarks of the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division thereon, is published for general information.

C. P. WALSH,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Extract from letter No. 331P.W., dated the 15th July 1918, from H. F. SAMMAN, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

* * * * * * *

2. The income of the fund was not fully utilized during the year; but as the appointment of a District Engineer has now been sanctioned, it is hoped that the large closing balance will now be gradually reduced.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1917-18.

[Vide letter No. 90R F, dated the 1st July 1918, from J. A. L. Swan, Esq., I.C.S., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Darjeeling, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

1. Working of the Committee.—

(a) District Road Committee.—The total number of members of this Committee is 18—6 official and 12 non-official. Seven meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 9·7 or 53·8 per cent. per meeting.

(b) Kurseong Branch Road Committee.—There are 9 members of this Branch Committee—3 official and 6 non-official. Four meetings were held during the year, the average attendance being 4·5 or 50 per cent. per meeting.

(c) Terai Branch Road Committee.—There are 17 members of this Branch Committee—3 Official and 14 Non-Official. Eight meetings were held during the year. The average attendance being 8·87 or 52·17 per cent. per meeting.

2. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 56,486-0-4 and outstanding advances of Rs. 4,389-9-1, making a total of Rs. 60,875-9-5. This amount, together with Rs. 73,507-9-8, received during the year, made a total of Rs. 1,34,383-3-1 available for expenditure during the year. The actual expenditure during the year was Rs. 52,685-2-7, excluding unadjusted advances of Rs. 8,123-11-3. The actual cash balance on the 31st March 1918 was Rs. 73,574-5-3.

3. The closing balance of Rs. 73,574-5-3, excluding outstanding advances of Rs. 8,123-11-3, exceeds the amount allowed under the rules. A portion of it was, however, expended during the year, though no accounts were received, and the balance will be considerably reduced when the District Engineer and his staff are appointed.

Receipts.

4. Provincial Rates.—The road cess was levied by the Committee at the maximum rate of six pies in the rupee.

Rupees 56,624-8 was collected under the head "Cess on lands" during the year, against Rs. 53,315-6-2 in the preceding year. The increase is due to revaluation.

5. Miscellaneous.—A sum of Rs. 4 was credited under this head on account of sale proceeds of certain old materials of a bridge.

6. Contribution.—

(a) Grant from Government.—Rupees 6,931 and Rs. 2,733-14-11 were credited under this head on acconnt of (i) Augmentation of resources of the Committee and (ii) one-half per cent. collection on Government estates, as against Rs. 3,310 and Rs. 3,370-0-7, respectively, in the preceding year. There was thus an increase of Rs. 3,621 in the augmentation grant, the decrease in the second part being atributable to a falling off in collections from Government estates.

(b) Contribution from Darjeeling Improvement Fund.—Rupees 7,194-2-9 was received as contribution for communications and as share of the cost of the joint cess and tauzi establishment, against Rs 7,183 in the preceding year.

(c) Contribution from private persons and other sources.—A sum of Rs. 20 was received from the Darjeeling Municipality on account of contribution for collection by the cess and tauzi establishment of the rent of the locations from Municipality.

Expenditure.

7. Original Works.—Out of an estimated expenditure of Rs. 3,602, a sum of Rs. 391-2-9 was accounted for during the year under this head, against Rs. 13,516-2-3 in the preceding year for the extension of certain spans of the Muni bridge on Road No. 41 (Bagdogra to Ghugu Jhora). The decrease is due to the fact that only urgent works were taken up, which could not be postponed till the appointment of a District Engineer.

8. Repairs.—A total sum of Rs. 28,515-11-2 as per details below was spent under this head for repairs to roads and bridges, as against Rs. 30,963-0-9 in the preceding year. The decrease is mainly due to the non-receipt of accounts for certain repairs actually done during the year.

9. The total length of 9 miles of metalled roads and 376 miles, out of 398 miles, of unmetalled roads, and 2 miles out of 11 miles of village roads, were actually repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,182 or 131·3 per mile, Rs. 27,673 or 73·5 per mile, and Rs. 53 or 26·5 per mile, respectively. These figures include Rs. 1,334 spent for maintenance of certain important bridges on these roads mainly in charge of the Public Works Department.

10. Sign-Boards.—Rupees 242-8 only was spent for sign-boards during the year.

11. Public Works Establishment.—The appointment of a District Engineer and staff was not sanctioned during the year of report. Practically all the work was, as usual, done by the members of the Committees and by managers of the tea gardens and other private gentlemen. The more important Road Cess bridges were repaired by the Public Works Department as before at the cost of the Road Fund. A sum of Rs. 1,103-14-6, including contingencies, etc., or 3·78 per cent. of the total outlay of Rs. 29,149 on works, was spent on the entertainment of an overseer at Rs. 50 plus a fixed travelling allowance of Rs. 27-8 and a peon at Rs. 8 per mensem, both under the Terai Branch Road Committee.

12. Contribution to Darjeeling Improvement Fund.—A sum of Rs. 8,195 was contributed towards medical aid and water-supply out of the Public Works cess surrendered by Government.

13. Loans.—A sum of Rs. 6,429-9-10 as principal and Rs. 881-7-10 as interest was paid in the year under the terms of the loans granted by Government in 1900-1901 for reconstruction and repairs of bridges destroyed and damaged by the cyclone of September 1899. No fresh loan was taken during the year.

14. Administration.—There are two Branch Road Committees, viz., Kurseong and Terai, under the District Road Committee. Messrs. J. T. Rankin, I.C.S., L. Burrows and J. A. L. Swan, I.C.S., Deputy Commissioners of the district, were the ex-officio Chairmen of the District Road Committee and of the Terai Branch Committee from 1st April to 27th August 1917, 28th August to 7th October 1917, and 8th October to 31st March 1918, respectively. Mr. L. Burrows, the senior Deputy Collector of Darjeeling, was the Vice-Chairman of the District Road Committee throughout the year, except for the period from 28th August to 7th October 1917, when he was Officiating Deputy Commissioner and Chairman of District Road Committee. Messrs. H. G. Blomfield, I.C.S., and H. Quinton, I.C.S., the successive Subdivisional Officers of Kurseong, were ex-officio Chairmen of the Kurseong Branch Road Committee from 1st April to 19th October 1917 and from 20th October 1917 to 31st March 1918, respectively. The late Dr. R. V. Dixon, Civil Medical Officer of Kurseong, was ex-officio Vice-Chairman of the Kurseong Branch Road Committee throughout the year.

The Subdivisional Officer of Kurseong was ex-officio Vice-Chairman of the Terai Branch Road Committee from 1st April to 5th August 1917, and Mr. H. L. Fell, Subdivisional officer, Siliguri, was the Vice-Chairman for the remainder of the year. The office of the Terai Branch Committee was removed on the 6th August 1917 from Kurseong to Siliguri in the interests of the Committee.

15. Audit of Accounts.—The Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal, has audited the accounts up to February 1917, and the members of the Audit Sub-Committee have audited them for the whole year of 1917-18.

Notice to Tenderers.

(See A. R. I, Vol. III, paras. 135 and 136)

I.—Sealed Tenders for the supply of the undermentioned supplies/services from 10th October 1918 to 31st July 1919 will be received by the Superintendent. Remount Depôt, Calcutta, up to 4 P.M., on the 19th September 1918.

II.—Forms of "Tender" and "Schedules" (I. A. F. Z2120, 2121 and 2122) of the stores for the supply of which tenders are invited are obtainable on payment at the rate of Re. 1 per set on application in writing, and samples of the articles to be supplied can be inspected at the Remount Depôt, Calcutta, any day (Sundays and holidays excepted) between the hours of 10 A.M. and 2 P.M.

III.—Tenders will only be received in accordance with the conditions on these printed forms, which must be submitted in English and should specify in words as well as in figures the rate at which each description of article named in them will be delivered. Fractional parts of pies in rates will not be accepted. Tenders must be duly signed and completed in accordance with the instructions they contain.

IV.—Tenders (Bids*) should be accompanied by a deposit in the form of a Presidency Bank/Treasury Receipt or Government Promissory Notes, Provincial or Municipal debentures, or Port Trust bonds as earnest money, at the rate of 2 per cent. on the total value of the stores tendered for, subject to a minimum of Rs. 25, which deposit will be returned on acceptance or rejection of the tender. In the case of Promissory Notes being furnished they must remain in the name of the depositor.

V.—No security or deposit which the tenderer may have furnished in connection with a previous contract or on any other account can be accepted as earnest money.

VI.—The approval or rejection of tenders rests with the Director-General, Army Remount Department, who reserves to himself the right of rejecting any tender, or any items in a tender, without cause assigned. The lowest tender will not of necessity be accepted.

†VII.—Tenders will be opened at this office at 12 A.M. on Friday, the 20th September 1918. Tenderers are invited to attend.

VIII—Parties tendering are particularly requested to give their addresses in full.

IX—Any further information required can be obtained on application to this office between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. (Sundays and holidays excepted).

†X.—Tenders must be sent under a strong cover, securely fastened, sealed with a distinctive device and conspicuously marked "Tender for the supply of Fodder and Salt," and addressed to the Superintendent, Calcutta Remount Depôt, Erindale, Dick Road, Mussoorie, and not to any officer by name.

XI.—Tenders which do not comply with the above conditions will be rejected.

Calcutta, the 31st August 1918

E. C. LOCH, MAJOR,
Superintendent, Remount Depôt, Calcutta.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta

The Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta.

NOTIFICATION No. 5.

THE INDIAN LAW REPORTS,

Published in FOUR SERIES, viz.,

CALCUTTA, MADRAS, BOMBAY AND ALLAHABAD.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, are printed in monthly Parts, which are issued, as soon as possible, after the first of each month, at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

The Reports comprise four Series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court.

The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt: and the Madras, Bombay and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay and Allahabad, respectively.

Persons desiring to subscribe for or purchase the Reports should apply to—
- the Officer in charge, Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, Calcutta, or
- the Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, or
- the Superintendent, Government Central Press, Bombay, or
- the Curator of Government Books, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, Allahabad.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE PORT OF CHITTAGONG FOR THE YEAR 1917-18.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 3RD SEPTEMBER 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 2151Marine.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong for the year 1917-18.

Income.—The receipts of the Port Fund during the year under review exclusive of the Government grant of Rs. 1½ lakhs, amounted to Rs. 1,95.769 as against Rs. 2,65,414 in 1916-17. The fall in revenue was due to the war. as a result of which trade was dislocated and fewer vessels visited the port, thus affecting the main sources of income under the heads port dues, river dues, customs duty on jute and charges for mooring and unmooring vessels."

Expenditure.—The ordinary expenditure of the Port Fund for the year amounted to Rs. 3,40,945, as against the budget estimate of Rs. 4,76,480 and the actuals (Rs. 4,38,319) of the previous year. Compared with the budget estimate, the decrease in expenditure is mainly attributable to the postponement of expenditure on experimental river-training works, pending the report of Sir George Buchanan, K.C.I.E., who had been deputed by the Government of India, Railway Board, to report on the development of the port, and also to savings in the budget grants for repairs to the dredger Karnafuli I and for the provision of a new hull for the S. T. Gekko. The report in question was received after the close of the year.

The nett working result is a credit balance of Rs. 4,824. If there had not been the Government subsidy of Rs. 1,50,000, the year would have closed with a deficit of Rs. 1,45,176. With a view to improving the unsatisfactory financial position of the Port Fund, Government sanctioned the following measures :—

(a) continuance of the Government grant of Rs. 1½ lakhs till the termination of the war;

(b) raising of port dues from 4 annas to 4 annas 6 pies per ton, with effect from 12th August 1917 ;

(c) imposition of a surcharge of 100 per cent. on mooring and unmooring charges from 1st March 1918 ;

(d) a Bill for the amendment of the Chittagong Port Act also has recently been passed by the Legislature to remove the prescribed maximum rate of river dues of 4 annas per ton imposed by section 58, sub-section (2) of the Chittagong Port Act, 1914.

Assets and Liabilities.—The value of the Port Commissioners' properties was estimated on 31st March 1918 at Rs. 35,11,850. and the liabilities (excluding Rs. 5,12,583 being the outstanding balance of loans from Government for revetment work) at Rs. 29,022. The corresponding assets and liabilities for the preceding year were Rs. 35,90,091 and Rs. 12,295.

Dredging.—The dredger Karnafuli I worked at the Inner and Outer Bars for 139 days, dredging 72,08,508 c. ft. at a cost of Rs. 1,22,835, including depreciation on capital cost.

The dredger remained under repairs from 1st August 1917 to 9th September 1917 and from 19th February to 30th April 1918. The grab-dredgers also were employed during the year solely on the "Ring Bar", where they worked continuously from December to May inclusive, excavating 40,000 c. ft. of hard shale, at a cost of Rs. 9,800, including depreciation.

Outer Bar.—An average depth of 8 feet 5 inches was maintained throughout the year over this bar by continuous dredging. Out of a total of 139 days on which the dredger was at work she was employed for 111½ days on this bar.

Inner Bar.—Here an average depth of 9 feet 4 inches was maintained during the year.

River Survey.—A survey from the Telegraph Posts (seven miles above Sadarghat) to the mouth of the river was carried out. Observations showing the direction and velocity of the currents at all states of the tide, from just above Sadarghat to the mouth of the river, were also taken.

Revetment.—The revetment, with slight repairs between khals No. 6 and 8, stood well.

Lighthouses and Light-vessel.—The Kutubdia and Norman Point Lighthouses and the L. V. Sarsuti were in good order and were frequently inspected during the year. Repairs to the light-vessel were executed at a cost of Rs. 24,821.

Shipping.—The total number of ocean-going steamers, inland steamers and sailing vessels entering the port was 600, as against 774 during the previous year. Only two cases of shipping casualties were reported to Government; and in both no further enquiry was considered necessary. No Marine Courts were held.

Detention of vessels.—Four inward-bound and one outward-bound vessels were detained for not more than two days in any one case, during the months of April and May 1917 and January and February 1918, owing to insufficient depth of water over the bars.

Trade.—The total value of foreign and coasting sea-borne trade amounted to Rs. 598·05 lakhs (excluding 63·81 lakhs on account of jute and tea for Government) as against Rs. 866·68 lakhs during the preceding year. The decrease was due to the war.

Port Police.—The work done by the Port Police was satisfactory.

Sanitation.—The general health of the port was good.

General.—During the year under review the duties of the Port Officer were carried on by the Collector of Customs conjointly with the Senior Harbour Master, as no officer from the Royal Indian Marine was available to succeed Commander H. Morland, R.I.M.

Mr. K. C. De, Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, remained Chairman of the Commissioners throughout the year.

The thanks of Government are due to these officers and to the Commissioners for their efficient administration of the Trust in spite of the difficulties of the year.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

CALCUTTA TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

THE following tables are intended to show the trade by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road, and sea, of the Calcutta Block* in certain selected articles during the months of April to June, 1918, as compared with the corresponding period of 1917 and 1916. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the Collectors of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

General Summary.

Imports.—The imports of rice, including paddy†, into Calcutta by rail, river, canal, road, and sea (coastwise) during the months of April to June, 1918, amounted to 3,290,000 maunds as against 2,154,000 maunds in the corresponding period of the preceding year,—an increase of 53 per cent. There was a decrease (26 per cent) in the imports of coal and coke (18,713,000 maunds as against 25,423,000 maunds last year). The imports by rail, river, road, and sea (coastwise) of Indian cotton piece goods showed an increase of 24 per cent, the total value amounting to Rs. 1,07,66,000 as against Rs. 86,58,000 in 1917. The quantity of indigo imported during the months of April to June, 1918, increased (4,000 maunds as against 600 maunds last year). The imports of raw jute amounted to 975,000 bales as against 481,000 bales,—an increase of 102 per cent. The importations of gunny-bags, however, showed a decrease of 31 per cent (78 million bags as against 113 millions in the preceding year). The total imports of oilseeds (linseed and rape and mustard seed) decreased by 11 per cent from 1,812,000 maunds to 1,615,000 maunds. The imports of tea increased by 23 per cent from 413 maunds to 511 maunds.

Exports.—The exports of cotton piece goods, foreign, from Calcutta by all routes during the months of April to June, 1918, increased by nearly 2 per cent (Rs. 6,52,68,000 as against Rs. 6,41,69,000 last year). The exports of gunny bags (excluding the exports by sea to foreign countries) increased from 28 million bags to 39 million bags. The shipments of gunny bags to other Indian ports increased by 2,179,000 in number in the period under review (8,904,000 as against 6,725,000 last year). The quantity of kerosene oil despatched from Calcutta and Budge-Budge by internal routes and by sea (coastwise) decreased from 1,441,000 maunds to 1,193,000 maunds, or by 17 per cent.

* The Calcutta block consists of the town of Calcutta with Howrah and Kidderpore Docks.
† One maund of paddy is equivalent to 25 seers of rice.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 29th August 1918.

Summary.—During the week heavy rain fell over the greater part of the province causing considerable flooding in Eastern Bengal. Both winter paddy and autumn crops have been damaged to some extent. Transplanting of winter paddy is nearing completion; weeding continues. Cutting, steeping and washing of jute are in progress. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 6·4 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Midnapore.

No. 7296L.R.—The 6th September 1918.—On a report received from the Board of Revenue, under section 13 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882), orders, embodied in Notification No. 2153L.R., dated the 24th July 1911, were issued, under section 14 of the Act, directing that a private embankment, called the Bistupur embankment, situated within the local limits of thana Sabang, in the district of Midnapore, should be taken charge of by the officers of Government and renewed at an estimated cost of Rs. 15,677. This estimate having subsequently been considerably modified, fresh proceedings under sections 7 to 11 have been taken and a report has been submitted under section 12 of the said Act. The following order is, therefore, issued in supersession of the notification of the 24th July 1911, cited above, under section 14 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882):—

"Whereas in pursuance of section 12 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882), the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division has submitted, for the consideration of the Governor in Council, a report by the Collector of the Midnapore district, under section 11 of that Act, recommending that a private embankment, called the Bistupur embankment, situated within the local limits of thana Sabang, in the said district, shall be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government and shall be remodelled at a cost of Rs. 1,03,361, in accordance with the plans prepared by the Executive Engineer of the Cossye Division and approved and sanctioned by the Chief Engineer, Irrigation Department, Bengal:

Now, therefore, the Governor in Council having considered the said report and the Commissioner's recommendation, is pleased to order, under section 14 of the said Act,—

(1) that the said Bistupur embankment be taken charge of and maintained by the officers of Government, under the provisions of Act II (B. C.) of 1882: and

(2) that the said embankment be remodelled at the said cost and in accordance with the said plans."

Midnapore.

No. 7297L.R.—The 6th September 1918.—The Governor in Council is pleased to direct, under section 63 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882), that an estimate shall be made of the probable expense to be incurred in respect of the repairs, maintenance and works connected therewith, of the Bistupur embankment, situated within the local limits of thana Sabang, in the Midnapore district, for a period of 20 years, commencing from the 1st April 1918.

No. 7311L.R.—The 6th September 1918.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 101 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (Act VIII of 1885), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Governor in Council is pleased to order that a survey shall be made and a record-of-rights prepared in respect of all lands which are comprised within the administrative boundaries of the district of Nadia (excluding the areas already surveyed in pursuance of Government Notification No. 10334L.R., dated the 6th November 1914, published at page 2011 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 11th idem), as well as in those revenue survey mauzas comprised within the administrative boundaries of the districts of Murshidabad, Burdwan, Hooghly and the 24-Parganas which fall wholly or partly within half a mile of the high bank of the river Hooghly (also called Bhagirathi), extending from where it meets the boundary of the Nadia district down to the Naihati bridge (known as the Jubilee Bridge).

The particulars to be recorded in the survey and record-of-rights shall be the following:—

(a) the name of each tenant or occupant;

(b) the class to which each tenant belongs, that is to say, whether he is a tenure-holder, raiyat holding at fixed rents or rates, settled raiyat, occupancy raiyat, non-occupancy raiyat or under-raiyat, and if he is a tenure-holder, whether he is a permanent tenure-holder or not, and whether his rent is liable to enhancement during the continuance of his tenure;

(c) the situation and quantity, and one or more of the boundaries of the land held by each tenant or occupier;

(d) the name of each tenant's landlord;

(e) the name of each proprietor, with the character and extent of his interest, and the situation, quantity and one or more of the boundaries of the lands, if any, which are his private lands, as defined in Chapter XI of the Act;

(f) the rent and cess lawfully payable by each tenant at the time the record-of-rights is being prepared;

(g) the mode in which that rent has been fixed, whether by contract, by order of a Court, or otherwise;

(h) if the rent is a gradually increasing rent, the time at which and the steps by which, it increases;

(i) the rights and obligations of each tenant and landlord in respect of—

(1) the use by tenants of water for agricultural purposes, whether obtained from a river, jhil, tank or well or any other source of supply, and

(2) the repair and maintenance of appliances for securing a supply of water for the cultivation of the land held by each tenant, whether or not such appliances be situated within the boundaries of such land;

(j) the special conditions and incidents, if any, of the tenancy;

(k) any right-of-way or other easement attaching to the land for which the record-of-rights is being prepared;

(l) if the land is claimed to be held rent-free, whether or not rent is actually paid, and if not paid, whether or not the occupant is entitled to hold the land without payment of rent, and if so entitled, under what authority.

No. 2653P.J.—The 4th September 1918.—In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (3) of section 45 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules for the appointment of village headmen by District Magistrates for the purposes of that section in any village in the Burdwan Division for which there are no such headmen appointed under any other law, namely:—

RULES.

1. In all villages in which the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870, is in force the District Magistrate may appoint either the President (if there be one) of the panchayat, or one or more of its members, or any other suitable person or persons to be the village headman or headmen.

2. In all other villages the District Magistrate may appoint the principal resident land-owner or rent-receiver or his representative, or the principal resident cultivator to be the village headman.

3. When the President or any member of a panchayat is appointed a village headman, a clause shall be added to the appointment order under section 3 of the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870, to the effect that such person has also been appointed to be village headman under section 45, sub-section (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898. If a person other than a member of a panchayat is appointed, he shall receive a special sanad from the District Magistrate.

4. The District Magistrate shall keep a register in which shall be entered the names of all persons who have been appointed village headmen, their fathers' names and the villages for which they are responsible, and shall take measures to effect mutations in the said register from time to time as may be necessary.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 17TH JUNE 1918.

RESOLUTION.

THE Governor in Council has decided to appoint a Committee to advise him in respect of the cases of those persons now under restraint, or who, during the sittings of the Committee, may be placed under restraint, either under the provisions of the Defence of India Act (Act IV of 1915); the Ingress into India Ordinance (V of 1914) (to the extent that the persons so dealt with belong to the province of Bengal); or Regulation III of 1818, whether there are reasonable grounds for believing that they had acted, were acting or were about to act in a manner prejudicial to the public safety or the defence of British India.

The proceedings of the Committee will be held in camera and no Counsel will be permitted to appear. The papers of each case will be placed before the Committee by an officer deputed by the Local Government in the grouping essential to the proper understanding of them and in the manner best calculated to effect that end. Should the Committee desire further information the request will be dealt with by the Local Government to the best of their ability.

With the consent of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice of Bengal, the services of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Beachcroft have been lent as a member of the Committee, which will also comprise Sir Narayan Ganesh Chandavarkar, who has kindly consented to serve.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. L. STEPHENSON,
Addl. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

IN submitting to Government our opinion on each of the cases examined by us, we desire to explain our proceedings with special reference—

(1) to the procedure which we have adopted within the limits of our authority prescribed by Government in their Resolution appointing our Committee,

(2) to the principles and rules (of law and evidence) which we have followed in weighing the testimony in each case, and

(3) the appropriateness of that procedure and those principles and rules to the exceptional circumstances, extent and character, of the revolutionary crime out of which the cases we have examined have arisen.

II. The total number of cases examined and advised on by us is 806. Of these 100 related to State prisoners dealt with under Regulation III of 1818; 702 to internees under the Defence of India Act; and 4 to persons dealt with under the Indian Ingress Ordinance. In 6 of the total number of cases examined by us, we have advised Government that there are not sufficient grounds, in our opinion, for believing that the parties concerned have acted in a manner prejudicial to the public safety or the defence of British India, and that, therefore, they should be unconditionally released. In the rest we have advised that the parties have, in our opinion, so acted.

III. The cases of the State prisoners and internees, which have arisen out of the movement of revolutionary crime in Bengal, have been dealt with by us for convenience under certain groups, suggested by the course of events and by the developments of the investigation by the police. The groups are 18 in number, of which 6 consist of members of the Dacca Anushilan Samiti; the German plot and the conspiracy for the theft of Rodda's mausers form separate groups; and the remaining sections, except the miscellaneous section, relate to the various branches of the Western Bengal party, which party extended its operations also into Eastern Bengal. The miscellaneous group is very small. This formation of groups is based on the organisation of the revolutionaries themselves, except in the case of the Dacca Anushilan Samiti, which is one self-contained organisation.

IV. Our study and examination of the cases have impressed us with the correctness of the conclusion arrived at in their Report by the Sedition Committee, 1918 (presided over by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rowlatt) as to the alliance and inter-connection of all the groups, formed into one revolutionary movement with one common object, viz., the overthrow of His Majesty's Government in India by force. All the individual cases stand so closely inter-connected as parts of one whole, that they form, both as to the personnel and the acts of crime, one continuous movement of revolution, which must be regarded as living and prolonged in all its parts until the movement is completely extinguished.

We desire to emphasise this view of the inter-connection of these revolutionary organisations because (as we shall show presently in this memorandum) of the practical importance of that inter-connection in a judicial investigation of these cases of revolutionary crime.

V. The procedure adopted by us in examining the cases was as follows:—

(1) At the very outset we invited through the Additional Secretary to Government a written representation from each party, stating his defence, duly signed by him and submitted to this Committee through the usual official channel. In only 167 out of 806, the total number of cases examined by us, have we received written representations. These we have considered.

The usual official channel being, we understand, the censoring authority, the use of the latter expression for the former in the official intimation given to the parties to submit their defences to us in writing appears to have given rise in some quarters to the impression that these defences were subject to censorship before their submission to us. That impression is erroneous. The representations appear to have reached us in their original condition without any interference on the part of the censoring or other authority, as may be seen from the fact that the representations in some, though but a very few cases, use free and strong language and allege ill-treatment and torture.

(2) In each case (except where the party has been convicted or bound down by a Criminal Court) we have taken care to see that the parties were duly informed of the charges against them by a formulation in each case of the charges in writing, and that the answers to the charges were duly taken down in full. In most of the cases, the charges had already been formulated and the answers recorded. In addition, in most cases, a statement of the party had also been taken down in writing.

(3) In cases where there had been an omission to formulate the charges, the procedure adopted by us was this. Where the party concerned had made a confession of his crime, and the confession was distinct, or where the party had made an exculpatory statement in writing, and it was unmistakeably clear from that statement that he had distinct intimation of the specific charges against him as a revolutionary, the mere omission to frame a charge and record the answer in writing has been treated by us as a mere technical irregularity, not affecting the merits of the case. Where, however, such statement was absent, or, having been made, it did not show clearly that the party had distinct intimation of the charges against him, we directed a proper formulation of the charges and the answers thereto of the party concerned being taken down in writing and sent to us for the purposes of our finding.

(4) Wherever in any individual case we found that any point relevant to it was obscure and required further elucidation, we called for information on that point, and had it made clear before recording our finding.

(5) We examined some of the Police officers, European and Indian, who were concerned in the investigation of the crime with a view to obtain full information on the methods employed in the detection of the crime, the obtaining of confessions, and the conduct of searches.

(6) We carefully inspected the large and various number of Exhibits collected together in the Museum at the Police Training College, consisting of bombs, arms, ammunition, materials of dacoity, seditious letters, books, papers, etc., which had been either produced in Courts at the trial of revolutionaries for murder or dacoity, or seized by the police during searches or while apprehending offenders for revolutionary crime.

VI. The terms of reference to us, defining our jurisdiction, directed that our proceedings should be held "in camera," and no Counsel would be permitted to appear. Nothing was said on the question of our power to require before us for the purposes of our examination of the cases the presence of any of the parties concerned, if in our discretion we deemed such presence necessary. Impliedly, therefore, we had that power but we have not exercised it for the following reasons: (1) Our Committee is in the nature of an appellate or revising authority, which does not usually require the presence of a convicted party in revising his case. (2) Even then, we might have exercised our discretion by requiring the presence of a party had we in any case found it necessary in the interests of the party himself. But in no case did such necessity, in our opinion, arise. We did not think that hearing his defence from his own mouth would have placed a party in a better position than a written defence prepared by him after full deliberation and submitted to us for consideration. Such written defence we invited. From our judicial experience we have found that if an accused person is not defended by Counsel, he, generally speaking, spoils his case when he conducts his own defence or in answer to questions from the trying Judge either gives irrelevant answers, or makes vague protests of innocence, or makes unwittingly admissions against himself, or by his demeanour in answering questions prejudices his defence by producing an unfavourable impression on the mind of the Judge. That risk to the parties whose cases we have examined was almost certain, seeing that from 70 to 80 per cent. of them are inexperienced and young students. (3) The exceptional conditions of revolutionary crime and the special procedure of judicial investigation necessitated by those conditions (with which we deal in the concluding part of this memorandum) have also weighed with us in not calling the parties before us. The Sedition Committee, 1918, have pointed out in their Report that several of those, who have made long and detailed confessions to the police and thrown light on revolutionary organisations and crime and enabled Government to track their course successfully stage by stage, have made those confessions on "a well-understood though often unexpressed condition," that their names will not be divulged, and that scrupulous care will be taken to save them from exposure "to the vengeance of their associates" (page 21 of the Report). We have satisfied ourselves that those persons are unwilling to appear before any judicial or quasi-judicial tribunal, however constituted, whether sitting in open court or "in camera," and make any statement or answer any questions. Under those circumstances, to differentiate between them and others would have been dangerous.

VII. The principles and rules of evidence which we have applied in examining the merits of each case will be best made clear by dividing the cases into three classes—

First.—Persons who have made confessions of the crime to the police.

Second.—Persons who have made no such confessions but who have been named as members of the revolutionary organisation by persons who have confessed.

Third.—Persons who do not fall under either of the above heads, i.e., persons against whom the evidence is other than that of confessions or of accomplice testimony

VIII. Dealing with the first of these three classes, it is to be remarked, that, of the total of eight hundred and six cases examined by us, one hundred and sixty-eight were cases of confessions. Only eighteen out of of these one hundred and sixty-eight have retracted their confessions by their written representations addressed to us. In only ten cases in all are there allegations of torture—seven of these are from the Presidency and the rest from the Alipur Jail. It is also to be noted that of these ten persons 7 did not plead torture before the commencement of our enquiry, 2 not till 19 months and one not till 4 months after the alleged ill-treatment. Thirteen of the parties who have addressed written representations to us have in their repesentations either made full or partial admissions of guilt or stated that they have nothing to say against the charges.

It is a most remarkable feature of the cases we have examined that almost without exception the persons who had been, before arrest, among the most active and dangerous members of the revolutionary movement, but who, after arrest, have been repentant and realised their situation and have made full confessions, giving, with fullness of detail, information about it, and whose information has been most helpful to the police in unravelling the plot and successfully breaking up the revolutionary organisation, have not retracted their confessions; they have made no complaint of torture or ill-treatment, but have adhered to the confessions faithfully.

Our examination of the cases had led us to the conclusion that the ocealed fessions are due to remorse and repentance on the part of those who id then made them and their honest belief that if they disclose the whole trut suspicion help Government in extinguishing revoluntary crime, they will find s and then for themselves. nation. The e cases before

IX. For the purpose of determining the admissibility in evidence of a confession made to the police by a person arrested for revolutionary crime and, of appraising its evidentiary value in a judicial investigation conducted on the lines and within the limits prescribed by the Government in their terms of reference to us, it is important to keep in view the radical difference between the nature and conditions of ordinary crime on the one hand, and of revolutionary crime on the other with special reference to the means and machinery which it is rendered necessary in the public interests for the State to employ in accordance with its constitutional powers and obligations for the purpose of preventing that crime, securing its detection and its punishment when detected.

With the broad ground on which this distinction rests from the judicial point of view, we deal in the concluding part of this memorandum. Here we state the difference so far as it bears on the question of confessions made to the police.

X. Ordinary crime, by which we mean crime which is committed for private purposes and not with the object of upsetting the Government and striking at its very foundations and authority, is individual in its nature, that is to say, when a person is arrested for such crime and tried in a Criminal Court, there is an end of the case, whether he is convicted or acquitted. A confession, therefore, whether made to the police or to a Magistrate before trial or to the trying Court, is in operation and serves its purpose only until the case is tried and disposed of. The means and process of sifting its truth continue up to the result of the trial in a Court; when the trial ends, the confession has exhausted itself, after that the confession dies, as it were, and being no longer operative, it is not any further subject to the sifting process of truth. Under these conditions a Police officer is liable, as human nature goes, to the temptation of making up a case by extorting a confession and securing credit with the least labour and trouble. On this ground of policy, therefore, a confession made to a Police officer is made inadmissible in evidence, subject to one exception (embodied in the Indian Evidence Act) that so much of a statement made to a Police officer by an accused person as leads to the discovery of any material fact is admissible.

XI. It is otherwise with crime arising out of and directly connected with a revolutionary organisation which aims at the overthrow of the established Government of the land, which has extended over a more or less wide area, embraced a large number of persons, and which carries on its criminal operations by means of secret conspiracies, terrorism, dacoities, and murders. Unlike ordinary crime, which being individual and standing by itself, dies when it has been detected and disposed of and no longer continues its operation revolutionary crime is collective and continuous in its operation. Its individual members are inter-connected, each influences the continuous fortunes of the whole as to the activity of the organisation in the prosecution of its revolutionary purposes.

If an individual member of the revolutionary organisation is arrested and dealt with by the State, the revolutionary crime does not end, it goes on, and where a person arrested confesses the crime, the confession is useful to Government only if it becomes a starting point to the police for fresh investigation of the crime, continuous as it is. Every such confession, so far from exhausting its activity with the arrest and disposal, according to law, of the person making it, continues subject to the sifting process of truth for a long period. The temptation, therefore, to which a Police officer is exposed, of extorting confessions, true or false, in the case of ordinary crime is very much less in the case of revolutionary crime. The risk which the police run of certain exposure is greater in the latter than in the former.

XII. In the case, therefore, of confessions made to Police officers, by persons arrested on the charge of revolutionery crime, the question of their ...nissibility in evidence and of the weight to be attached to them, when ...tted, must depend not on whether those confessions were extorted either ...ture, or inducement or other like means, but on whether the confessions ..., such confessions, by the very nature and conditions of revolutionary ...ntinuously—so long as the revolutionary crime is continuous— ... certain tests as to their truth. The tests are: Has the person who admitted to the police his complicity in revolutionary crime stopped there or has he gone further and given a history of the organisation, its members, its materials, its methods, its actions and plots, its planned operations, so far as he knows them and had the means of knowing them? Has the information which he has given to the police put them on the right track of the revolutionary movement? Has he led them step by step to the capture of persons, arms, ammunition, and other articles of revolutionary crime? Have the concrete facts referred to by the confessing party been verified as a result of subsequent enquiries made by means of the clues he has furnished or clues found by the police independently from other sources or by other means? Has the information he has given as to planned dacoities or murders been verified by those dacoities or murders taking place? Have the places or houses mentioned by him as the rendezvous of revolutionaries or the hiding places of absconders been, when raided, proved to be such by the discovery of arms, ammunition, seditious literature or other incriminating papers and material? Have the absconders who were long in hiding and could not be traced been arrested in substantially the same conditions as were disclosed in the confessions before the arrests? Above all, has the confession helped the authorities in advancing step by step in the direction of breaking up the revolutionary organisations? These tests afford the sure means for finding whether the confessions are true and may be safely acted upon in adjudging the question of the guilty or innocence of the party confessing and of other parties implicated by him.

XIII. Before examining each of the cases on its merits, we applied ourselves at the outset of our enquiry to a careful scrutiny of the most important of the confessions, with a view to find out whether and how far they satisfied the tests above mentioned. In that scrutiny we had this advantage that we were called upon to examine each of the cases not as and when it arose, but long after the confessions, which have proved helpful to the police in successfully and step by step coping with revolutionary crime, had sufficient time—in some cases years, in some cases months—to undergo the sifting process of truth and prove themselves by the discoveries made, absconders traced and arrested, hidden revolutionary haunts, arms and ammunition and other materials of revolutionary crime found in consequence of information and clues given in the confessions. We are satisfied that the police have taken care to see that the confessions they have obtained are true and have been helpful. We have come across cases which show that sometimes the police have been over-cautious in that respect. For instance, we have come across a case where a party after arrest implicated himself in a dacoity in his confession, but the police judging apparently from the inherent character of the statements would not believe that he had taken part in that dacoity. He was told, therefore, that he was trying to mislead the police. Subsequent discoveries and information from independent sources having, however, gone to corroborate the story of the party as to the part he had taken in the dacoity, he was again questioned and reaffirmed his story on oath taken by touching the feet of an elderly relation. In another case, the party concerned admitting his character as a member of revolutionary organisations, had, by important disclosures, materially helped the police in the tracing out of absconders and the discovery of revolvers, etc. In the course of subsequent investigation the police, however, found that the party in question had concealed the more serious of his own crimes, such as dacoities and murders, etc. Confronted with those proofs, he admitted he had concealed some of the more serious of his own crimes from the police. In the result he was dealt with as a State prisoner.

XIV. We need not pursue further the great care which appears to us to have been taken to secure confessions, true and helpful, in unearthing the secret course of revolutionary organisations. * * * * * * * * * *

XV. Information given by a confessing revolutionary about concealed arms and ammunition or other materials of revolutionary crime and their discovery in consequence of such information may be open to the suspicion that the police may have planted the materials in certain places and then pretended to have found them there by the light of that information. The volume of the material discovered precludes any such idea in the cases before us. Arms and ammunition or explosives have been recovered from more than 80 active revolutionaries since the commencement of the war. In all but 7 of these cases the man with whom the arms were found had been mentioned as a revolutionary before his arrest, either in revolutionary documents or by his associates. Further, apart from the fact that it would have been impossible to plant materials in so many places throughout India, each leading to the discovery of materials in other places, there cannot be the slightest ground for suspicion where, as has been the case in many instances before us, in consequence of disclosures made by confessing revolutionaries, the police have been able to trace and arrest revolutionary absconders, who had eluded detection—some for years and some for months—after their names had been mentioned in the confessions. The remarkable point about the confessions was that the absconders were named as hiding in certain groups or batches, the persons forming a group were mentioned, and when they were arrested, they were found in very much the same groups as had been disclosed by the confessions. The confessions, which have so operated and put the police on the right track, are still operating in that way, as we have been able to find from the cases of absconders who have been arrested after the commencement of our enquiry, and whose cases also have been examined by us since.

XVI. The second class of cases we have examined consists of persons, who have made no confessions but against whom the evidence is of accomplices, i.e., of persons who have confessed their complicity in revolutionary crime and implicated others by name as members of the organisation. According to the Indian Evidence Act and the English rule of law, the testimony of an accomplice or approver is admissible in evidence; but it has been the practice of the Courts not to convict an accused person on such testimony if it is not corroborated in material particulars relating to the accused. In most of the cases before us material corroboration exists. In the rest the testimony has been solely that of accomplices. The Indian Evidence Act and the English law agree that, though it is not safe as a rule to convict on the unsupported testimony of an accomplice, yet a conviction based only on such testimony is not illegal. "The general current of authority is strong and unvarying to the effect that the Judge should direct the jury that they may convict on the unsupported testimony of an accomplice, but that he should advise them in all ordinary cases not to do so." (Wills on Circumstantial Evidence.) Crimes arising out of and committed by members of secret revolutionary conspiracies are not ordinary cases. As by their vows and their methods the conspirators carry on their crimes in the closest secrecy and spread terrorism among the public, the evidence obtainable in such cases can only be for the most part of accomplices. If, therefore, a confession made by a revolutionary is found to be true, when judged by the tests mentioned above, it is entitled to weight as a reliable piece of evidence, not only against the confessing revolutionary himself, but also against others whom he has implicated with himself in revolutionary crime, unless there is anything to show that the revolutionary confessing and implicating those others had some indirect motive to falsely implicate them. The cases before us where any private enmity has been alleged are very few indeed. Two considerations must be regarded as of considerable weight in this connection. Most of the persons confessing have been students whose ages vary between 18 and 22. Whoever has had any intimate knowledge and experience of student life in India knows that, whatever the infirmities of Indian students, however impulsive and liable to be led away by sentiment, they are, generally speaking, not given to implicating others in crime falsely. They may and indeed do often suppress the truth as to others involved in crime with them, but it is rarely the case that they falsely name others as criminals with them. It is possible to suggest that, though a person confessing to a revolutionary crime may have no indirect motive himself for implicating others falsely in the crime, yet he may do that at the instigation of the police to enable them to bring into trouble every one on whom they have their eye, rightly or wrongly, as a political suspect. Examining the confessions from that point of view, we have found that the parties have in their confessions implicated certain persons of their own accord and given clues to their identity by disclosing to the police their secret nicknames as members of revolutionary organisations and other details which the police had no means of knowing otherwise, and which were confirmed by subsequent discoveries of revolutionary correspondence and cipher lists. We have come across cases, of which the following may be cited as a typical illustration : A certain detenu, whom we shall call A here, and whose case has been before us was charged as a revolutionary, who had opened in Calcutta a mess harbouring students who were members the of revolutionary party. The evidence to support that charge was of certain approvers and certain incriminating circumstances. In his defence, he admitted that he had let a portion of his residence for a students' mess, but he denied that he had kept that mess or had anything to do with its members. He pleaded that beyond taking rent from the students of the mess, he had no connection with or knowledge of them. The case was placed before us with that material for our examination, and we examined it on those materials and disposed of it. Subsequently, in the examination of other cases, we found that there was other evidence against A— evidence which was undersigned, and as such had escaped the notice of the police, and therefore was not brought in so as to form a part of the record of A's case placed before us or before any authority, who had to deal with the case previously with a view to action under the Defence of India Act. This new evidence, which had escaped notice, but which we were able to detect because of its cogency, was specially valuable by reason of the fact that it consisted partly of the testimony of approvers and partly of statements made by persons arrested. in places, more or less far away from Calcutta under the Defence of India Act. These latter did not confess but pleaded innocence, and in their exculpatory statements they incidentally mentioned A's mess in giving an account of their movements in Calcutta and other places. One those persons was a relation of A himself. They all mentioned the mess as A's where they had lodged and boarded with A. When they made those statements, neither they nor the police (outside Calcutta) to whom they were made, had the remotest idea that the statements had a bearing on the case against A. Though the statements were reported to the police in Calcutta in the usual course of official business, the latter proved their bonâ fides by not bringing them in as additional evidence against A. That evdence was of students who named A incidentally to describe their own movements and to prove their own innocence without any idea of implicating A.

XVII. The third and last class of cases we have examined consists of persons who do not fall under either one or the other of the classes dealt with above. They are—

(1) Persons who, having been convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment by Criminal Courts for either political dacoities or other political offences, have been released from jail, and dealt with either as State prisoners or internees. Though these persons have suffered for their crimes the penalty imposed upon them by the Criminal Courts, there is a strong presumption against them that they were members of revolutionary organisations, and have acted in a manner prejudical to the public safety or the defence of British India, and that therefore their liberty should be restricted under either Regulation III of 1818 or the Defence of India Act, until Government are satisfied that they are penitent and no longer constitute a danger to the State and society.

(2) Persons who have been bound down by Criminal Courts either under section 109 or section 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure under circumstances disclosed in the proceedings of those Courts which raise a strong presumption of their complicity in revolutionary crime. The same considerations that apply to (1) above apply to this class of persons.

(3) Persons arrested while in possession of arms or ammunition or other incriminating materials and articles of revolutionary crime. These persons under the circumstances of the arrest carry their own evidence against themselves.

(4) Persons caught under incriminating circumstances, such as shadowing Police officers engaged in the duty of investigating and unearthing revolutionary crime, against whom there is other evidence also.

(5) Persons incriminated as revolutionaries in the cipher lists, correspondence and other papers of revolutionary organisations found at the searches of revolutionary resorts or on the persons of revolutionaries when arrested, and

(6) Persons who, though they have not confessed, have in their statements made admissions necessarily leading with other circumstances to an inference of guilt.

XVIII. We have treated the evidence of ciphers as admissible against those named in the cipher lists because the records before us show conclusively that cipher language was used and cipher lists of the members of revolutionary organisations were kept as a part of their system. When a person is named in such documents as a member of a revolutionary organisation, the evidence of the cipher stands on a better footing than the testimony of an approver. When an organisation whose object is revolutionary crime works by secret methods and adopts the cipher system to conceal the names of its members and its acts and movements, we think that the ciphers, being one of the methods of the criminal conspiracy, must be regarded as a piece of evidence valuable under the circumstances. Substantially such lists are the language of the organisation itself as a whole, and may be used as evidence against any person named in the cipher unless there is anything to show that the inclusion of his name was made for purposes other than that of the revolutionary movement. The very fact that the organisation has taken care to keep a list of its members in cipher language is proof that the names of the persons mentioned were inserted there not for the purpose of of bringing any of them into difficulties, but for the purpose of saving them from detection and exposure. In using this class of evidence, we have not acted upon it alone. We have taken care to satisfy ourselves that against the party implicated by the cipher evidence there was also the evidence of other incriminating circumstances to warrant a finding adverse to him, such as his mode of life, his movements, his false explanations of suspicious circumstances admitted by him.

XIX. We have in every case declined to act on circumstances of mere suspicion, by which we mean absence of positive proof of guilt and the mere presence of circumstances of an equivocal character not necessarily leading to a presumption of crime. For instance, mere association with proved revolutionaries, or mere residence in a mess consisting of revolutionaries and others or mere seditious talk of an irresponsible character in company, without more of an incriminating nature, has been treated by us as insufficient for action, whether under Regulation III of 1818 or the Defence of India Act or the Ingress Ordinance. We should also point out that it is a part of the system of these revolutionary organisations in securing recruits for their purposes that they begin by catching young students under the bait of religion, well knowing that the religious impulse forms the strongest element in the Indian character. In the language of one of the internees, at first they were attracted by mere religious ideas with nothing of politics—"Our idea was to reach God and not to be in touch with politics." Accordingly religious organisations were started with the ostensible purpose of indoctrinating young men with the love of God and man, but in reality and secretly aiming at the preparation of the minds of those young men in such a way as to incite them silently to revolutionary crime. The leaders of these specious religious organisations, who knew their real character and object, and who transferred the young men brought within their fold to the regular revolutionary organisations have been rightly dealt with either as State prisoners or internees. But their assistants, who brought recruits to those leaders for the purposes of the so-called religious organisations, have been held by us innocent in the absence of positive proof of knowledge on their part of the criminal character of their organisation.

XX. Our procedure has indeed not been in full conformity with the Evidence Act and the Code of Criminal Procedure. Under the limitations of our powers, we have not been able to test the materials placed before us by means of examination and cross-examination and arguments from Counsel for the defence. That defect of our enquiry is due to the special and exceptional situation and conditions, which have been created by the revolutionary organizations, out of which the cases submitted for our examination have arisen, and which, differentiating sharply the crimes of those movements from ordinary crime and criminals, have rendered full adherence to the procedure of the Evidence Act and the Criminal Procedure Code impracticable. They have necessitated the adoption of a special procedure departing from some of the details but consistent with the basic principle of that Act and the Code. That basic principle is (1) that all procedure must be practicable, and such as to ensure, as the special circumstances permit, a fair trial, and (2) that, the law of evidence and the Code of Criminal Procedure allied to that law being merely a judicial means or machinery for sifting the truth in a case submitted for investigation, the means or machinery must be appropriate for the purposes of a fair and practicable trial to the actual conditions and situation created by the crime.

XXI. That being the basic principle and primary object of all criminal procedure, we have to take into account the exceptional situation created by the revolutionary organisations in Bengal and the distinction necessarily arising out of that situation between revolutionary crime and ordinary crime. We have already dealt in the foregoing part of this memorandum with one point of distinction between them, but a broader distinction is this. The records before us conclusively prove that the revolutionary organisations are secret conspiracies, which have spread into different parts of the Province, entered homes, schools and colleges, and have reduced their secrecy of operations almost to scientific methods. They have pledged their members to the closest secrecy of their movements on pain of instant death by murder in the event of disclosure; that is one of their rules, and every attempt has been made to give effect to it. Before the Defence of India Act was brought into force, the fair trial of a person accused of revolutionary crime had been rendered practically impossible by the murders of approvers, witnesses, Police officers and law-abiding citizens suspected by revolutionaries of having given information to or otherwise assisted the police in the detection of revolutionary crime. A situation of terrorism was created, the current of truth and justice was disturbed, so as to prevent a fair, open and impartial trial in the ordinary Criminal Courts with the result that approvers and witnesses would not come forward to give evidence openly lest they should be assassinated. In the language of one of the internees "there are very many members who are members against their will and seek some escape from the bonds of the samiti. They see no prospect. If they disobey the samiti, they will be shot. If they obey, they will be caught by the police sooner or later, and their outlook in life is hopeless. Such men would be only too willing to help Government secretly." When Jotindra Mukharji, one of the most violent leaders of the organisation, who was wounded in an open encounter with the police in 1915, had been hiding in a revolutionary resort in Calcutta, an acquaintance of his named Nirode Haldar, happening to come in one morning, merely accosted him in these words: "Holloa, Jotin." Jotin Mukharji at once drew his revolver and shot Haldar on mere suspicion that he was a spy. Revolutionaries, who having received wounds in dacoities were unable to escape, were shot dead by their associates in the dacoities for fear that if left alive they might confess and disclose the secrets of revolutionary organisations. Under these circumstances, it is impossible to secure a fair trial by the procedure of the Evidence Act and Criminal Procedure Code, which is appropriate only to the normal conditions of crime. The procedure to deal with revolutionary crime has to be practicable in the sense of being appropriate to its special conditions, so as to secure as fair a trial as is feasible under the exceptional situation. Our special procedure cannot be therefore regarded as violating the primary principle on which those laws are based.

CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

Notice under section 63 (2) of Bengal Act V of 1911.

PROPOSED PUBLIC STREET No. XXXI (NEW ULTADINGI ROAD).

NOTICE is hereby given under section 63 (2) of Bengal Act V of 1911, as amended by Bengal Act III of 1915, that the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta has prepared a plan of Proposed Public Street No. XXXI (New Ultadingi Road) in Ward No. III of the Calcutta Municipal Corporation and Ward No. I of the Manicktola Municipality, extending eastwards from the junction of Grey Street and Circular Road (Upper) through Raja Dinendra Street, Gauribere Lane, to Canal West Road, thence across the Circular Canal into the Manicktola Municipality from Canal East Road to meet Ultadingi Main Road at its junction with Ultadingi Lane continuing the widening of Ultadingi Main Road for a distance of 160 yards.

The plan provides for an 84-foot road throughout except for the approaches to the bridge canal where the width of the roadway is reduced to 60 feet in order to provide for the tapering off of the embankments.

The Proposed Public Street will pass through the following Municipal premises:—

The 7th September 1918.

No. 9056.—The following Royal Proclamation is published for general information:—

BY THE KING.

A PROCLAMATION.

FOR PROHIBITING THE IMPORTATION OF COCAINE AND OPIUM INTO THE UNITED KINGDOM.

GEORGE R.I.

WHEREAS by Section forty-three of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, it is provided that the importation of arms, ammunition, gunpowder or any other goods may be prohibited by Proclamation:

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that the importation into the United Kingdom of cocaine or of opium should be prohibited except as hereinafter provided:

NOW, THEREFORE, We, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council in pursuance of the said Act and of all other powers enabling Us in that behalf, do hereby proclaim, direct and ordain as follows:—

As from and after this date subject as hereinafter provided, all cocaine and all opium shall be prohibited to be imported into the United Kingdom:

Provided always, and it is hereby declared, that nothing in this Proclamation shall apply to cocaine or opium imported under the licence of one of Our Principal Secretaries of State and in accordance with the provisions of such licence.

The word "cocaine" includes ecgonine, and any substance, whether prepartion, admixture, extract or otherwise, containing 0·1 per cent. (one part in a thousand) or more of cocaine or ecgonine, or of any salt or derivative thereof.

The word "opium" means raw opium, powdered or granulated, opium, or opium prepared for smoking and includes any solid or semi-solid mixture containing opium.

The cocaine and opium (Prohibition of Import) No. 2, Proclamation, 1916, is hereby revoked.

This Proclamation may be cited as The Cocaine and Opium (Prohibition of Import) No. 3 Proclamation, 1918.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham Palace, this Twenty-fifth day of June, in the year of Our Lord One thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the Ninth year of Our Reign.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Orders by the Governor of Bengal in Council.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 2158L.S.-G.—The 5th September 1918.—In exercise of the powers conferred by clauses (i) and (t) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), and with effect from the 1st April 1919, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules in supersession of the rules made under the said clauses and published under Notification No. 2009T.-M., dated the 9th November 1901, as subsequently amended.

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

Preliminary.

THESE rules may be called the Bengal Local Self-Government Account Rules.

2. In the following rules, unless there be something repugnant in the context,—

(a) the term "District Board" includes a duly empowered Joint Committee constituted under section 30, and a Local Board duly empowered under section 101; and

(b) the term "Chairman" includes a Vice-Chairman in respect of the powers assigned to him by rules framed by the District Board under section 32, clause (e);

(c) the Treasury means a "Government Treasury; or a Sub-Treasury or a bank to which the Government Treasury business has been made over.

(d) "Treasury Officer" means the officer in charge of a Treasury;
(e) "the Act" means the "Bengal Local Self-Government Act" of 1885.

Restriction on the powers of Secretary.

3. When a Secretary has been appointed by the District Board, the Chairman shall not delegate to the Secretary any authority in regard to—
(a) sanctioning expenditure;
(b) signing cheques and orders for payments or adjustments;
(c) making alterations or corrections in accounts which have been passed by the Finance Committee, signed by the Chairman, or laid before the Board.

Receipt and crediting of money.

4. All money transactions to which any member, officer or servant of a Board in his official capacity is a party, shall without any reservation be brought to account and all the money received shall be lodged in full in the Treasury, to be credited to the appropriate account.

(See rules 157 and 158.)

5. Moneys belonging to the District Board, with the exception of authorised advances, shall not be kept apart from the General balance at the credit of the Board, but shall at once be credited to the appropriate head of account.

Payment of money.

6. Subject to the provisions of the following rule and of rule 187 money shall not be paid from the District Fund except on a cheque signed by the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman or either of them, or one of them and a member of the Finance Committee.

7. Sums not exceeding Rs. 20 shall be paid in cash from the Permanent Advance. In the case of works carried out by departmental agency in the district, payments up to Rs. 50 shall be made in cash from a permanent advance held by the District Engineer.

(See rules 98, 99, and 174.)

Loans, Endowments and Provident Funds.

8. Funds held by the District Board as Provident Funds, Deposits, and Endowments, as well as those raised by loans, or contributions for special purposes shall on no account be used for general purposes of the Board.

General Instructions.

9. In all matters not expressly provided for by these rules, the rules, forms, registers and returns prescribed in the Civil Account Code, or in force for the time being under the orders of Government or other competent authority, shall, in so far as they are consistent with these rules and with the Act, apply to the accounts of the District Board, and shall be observed, used, kept, and submitted by the officer appointed under section 54 of the Act.

10. Any modifications of the forms prescribed by these rules shall only be made under orders of Government which will be separately notified to District Boards by the Accountant-General, Bengal.

11. All the accounts and registers of the District Board shall be kept in English. All books of accounts and registers shall be substantially bound and paged before being brought into use, and no accounts shall be prepared on loose sheets of paper or in loosely bound volumes.

12. All corrections and alterations in accounts shall be neatly made in red ink and attested by the initials of the Chairman. All corrections and alterations in a voucher shall be attested by the payee. Erasures shall on no account be permitted in registers, statements, vouchers or accounts of any description.

13. After the budget estimates for the year or supplementary estimates have been sanctioned, the District Board, acting in the exercise of the powers conferred on them by section 32(e) of the Act, or the rules made under the said section of the Act, may, from time to time by a general or special resolution, authorise the Chairman or other executive officer of the Board to expend any sum, or a part of any sum provided in such estimates, for the purpose to which it has been therein assigned.

14. No expenditure shall be incurred for which provision has not been made in the budget estimate for the year, or in a supplementary budget estimate or a reappropriation statement under rules 29 and 30 and which has not been duly sanctioned by the District Board, or by the Chairman, or other executive officer of the Board acting in exercise of the powers conferred on him by the rules made under the Act.

Facsimile Stamp and Common Seal.

15. The facsimile stamp shall always be kept in the personal custody of the officer whose signature it represents and shall never be used except in his presence and actually in his sight. The common seal of the District Board shall also be kept in the personal custody of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman or Secretary and shall be used only in their presence.

Audit.

16. The Finance Committee appointed under section 55 of the Act shall audit the accounts of the District Fund every month, and shall certify the result and the correctness of the account as audited by them in an audit certificate (Form No. 59), which shall be sent to the Accountant-General by the 25th of the following month. If the meeting of the Finance Committee be delayed for any unavoidable reason, the certificate of the Finance Committee shall be sent as soon as it is ready.

17. The Finance Committee, in auditing the monthly accounts, shall examine the registers and accounts enumerated in the audit certificate on Form No. 59, with a view to seeing that they are posted up to date, that they are maintained in the correct form, and that all the necessary columns have been filled in. They shall also see that all signatures or initials which each form requires have been given and have been dated. They shall verify the correctness of the cash-book by comparing it with the treasury chalans and pass-book and with vouchers and counterfoils of cheques. The Chairman's permanent advance account and the District Engineer's imprest cash-book shall be carefully checked with the sub-vouchers and any questionable charges challenged. The acquittance rolls of the District Board's and District Engineer's offices and other payee's receipts shall be carefully scrutinized to see that all sums have been disbursed and receipts taken. The files of work abstracts shall be examined to see that the District Board's Accountant has initialled these in token of having checked the amounts with his own registers.

18. The accounts of the District Fund shall be examined and audited by the Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal as far as possible not less often than once a year.

19. The Board shall at the time of audit cause to be produced all accounts, registers, documents and subsidiary papers which may be required by the Auditor to assist him in his audit.

20. In auditing the accounts the Examiner shall see that they have been kept and are presented in proper form; that the particular items of receipt and expenditure are stated in sufficient detail: and that the payments are supported by adequate vouchers and authority. He shall examine whether the receipt and expenditure are in all cases such as are authorized by law. He shall also reduce such payments and charges as are exorbitant; and shall surcharge moneys not duly accounted for, or lost by negligence, upon the person who ought to account for the same, or whose negligence or improper conduct has caused the loss; and shall disallow and strike out such payments as are not authorized by law or competent authority. The Examiner or Auditor shall verify the cash or imprest balance in the hand of the Chairman or the District Engineer and other employés of the District Board.

Loss of money by embezzlement, theft or otherwise.

21. Money or the irrecoverable value of stores, lost by theft, fraud, the negligence of individuals or other cause shall not be written off from the accounts except with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. When the amount of the loss exceeds Rs. 500, or when the loss is due to any defect in the system of accounts, collection, etc., the sanction of Government is necessary.

CHAPTER II.

BUDGET.

Preparation of Budget Estimate.

22. The Collector of the district shall, on or before the 15th August in each year, prepare and transmit to the District Board an estimate of the balance of the District Road Fund to be transferred to the credit of the District Fund during the financial year next ensuing under section 52, clause (1) of the Act.

23. As soon as the Collector has reason to believe that the receipts from cesses are likely to fall materially short of the original estimate supplied to the District Board under rule 22, he shall transmit to the District Board a revised estimate of the cess receipts in order that the District Board may revise its budget estimate accordingly under rule 33.

24. A budget estimate in Form No. 1 showing probable receipts and expenditure of the District Fund under all heads during the ensuing financial year, shall be prepared by the Finance Committee constituted under section 55 of the Act, and shall be laid before the District Board at a meeting to be held not later than the 15th December in each year. The budget shall be submitted to the Commissioner of the Division through the Magistrate not later than the 15th January and an abstract statement of the estimates by major heads shall be submitted by the Commissioner to the Accountant-General on the 15th February. A copy of the Public Works Department section of the budget shall be forwarded by the District Board not later than the 1st January in each year to the Inspector of Local Works, who shall send his observations thereon, if any, to the Commissioner by the 15th January at the latest.

25. The budget estimate shall set forth estimated receipts and expenditure under major, minor, and detailed heads of account, and the opening and closing balances.

(b) The expenditure chargeable to loans shall be distinguished from that chargeable to revenue and the balance shall be subdivided thus:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Opening balance of loan funds	...	...	...
Appropriation of loan funds	...	...	...
Closing balance of loan funds	...	...	...
Opening balance of revenue fund	...	...	...
Appropriation from revenue fund	...	...	...
Closing balance of revenue fund	...	...	...

26. The budget shall be accompanied—

(a) by a schedule in Form No. 2 for each major head except "45—Civil Works, Communications—repairs" in which shall be entered full details of the estimated receipts and expenditure under that head, working up to the total shown under that head in the budget estimate:

(b) by explanatory notes showing, wherever necessary, how the figures have been arrived at, and specially explaining any new and important item of receipt or expenditure; and

(c) when any new charge requires the sanction of superior authority, by a copy of the order of sanction.

NOTE.—In entering the details of receipts and expenditure in the schedule for each major head, the same forms and the same degree of particularity shall be observed as are prescribed for district budget estimates under the orders of Government, the Accountant-General, Bengal, or other competent authority. In preparing the schedule for public works under the control and administration of the District Board, the rules and forms prescribed for the budget estimates of District Road Committees under the Cess Act, 1880 (Bengal Act IX of 1880), shall be observed.

27. In preparing the budget, what is expected to be paid (under proper sanction) during the year shall be provided for, not the liability likely to be incurred or falling due within the year.

28. For fixed charges, the explanatory notes shall show the full sanctioned scale, the number of employés, rate of pay, etc.

29. The District Board may at any time transfer grants from one minor head to another minor head subordinate to the same major head.

30. Transfers from one major head to another shall not be made without the previous sanction of the Commissioner of the Division.

31. Application for sanction for reappropriations whether submitted to a meeting of the Board or to the Commissioner shall be in Form No. 3.

32. If at any time during the year the District Board has reason to believe that the budget under any head is likely to be exceeded, and that the excess cannot be met by a reduction under some other head, a supplementary budget estimate shall be prepared with the least possible delay and submitted through the Magistrate for the orders of the Commissioner in the manner prescribed in sections 47 to 49 of the Act.

33. If the Board has reason to suppose the receipts under any head are likely to fall materially short of the budget estimate, a revised budget estimate shall be prepared with the least possible delay, and submitted as above for the orders of the Commissioner.

Classification of transactions.

34. No change shall be made in the prescribed major and minor heads of account, unless authority for an alteration is communicated to the District Board by the Accountant-General, Bengal. (If, therefore, any additions or alterations are thought to be required, the question shall at once be referred to the Accountant-General, who will, if necessary, submit the question for the orders of Government.) If, for administrative purposes, it is found convenient to subdivide the detailed heads in the abstract registers, there is no objection to this being done; but all statements and returns shall be compiled according to the headings here prescribed.

Adequate Working Balance.

35. The District Board shall never, except with the previous sanction of the Local Government, exhaust or exceed its balance in the Treasury; and the budget estimates shall be framed so as to provide for an adequate closing balance.

CHAPTER III.

RENTS AND OTHER REVENUE.

Miscellaneous Revenue for which there is a fixed demand.

Revenue leased out.

36. When the collection of revenue is leased out for fixed amounts, the recoveries shall be watched by means of the Demand and Collection Register of rents in Form No. 4.

NOTE.—The following sources of revenue are usually leased out :—
(1) Pound rents.
(2) Ferry rents.
(3) Rent of buildings and lands.
(4) Produce of lands and gardens.
(5) Tolls on bridges.
(6) Rent of fisheries.

37. A separate page or sets of pages of the register shall be set apart for each of the above kinds of revenue for which there is a fixed monthly, quarterly, half-yearly or annual demand.

38. As, however, the sources of revenue and the circumstances are varied, the form may be modified with the approval of the Accountant-General, Local Audit Department, to meet local requirements.

39. The register in Form No. 4 shall be opened by bringing forward all arrears due from farmers whose leases have terminated and have not been renewed. The entries shall be made serially, one below the other, grouped according to the years for which the arrears are due, so that the total demand and realizations can be ascertained by totalling the vertical columns. In the case of such expired leases columns 3, 4, 7, 8 and 10 and 11 need not be filled in.

40. Below the arrear demands due by defaulters shall be entered the demands for current leases. These shall be grouped so that all the pounds or ferries subject to the control of each Local Board and Union Committee come together, and sufficient space shall be left after each group to insert any fresh leases granted during the year. A grand total shall, however, be made of the whole demand, arrears as well as current, and of the realizations of each month. The entries in columns 1 to 8 and 10 and 11 will be filled in from the kabuliyat, and those in column 9 from the previous year's account if the same lessee is in possession of the property. Columns 7 and 8 shall show if the instalments are to be paid monthly or quarterly, or shall show the due dates for payment, i.e., first day of each month or quarter, etc.

41. The security deposit shall be credited direct to "Rent" in the cash-book as it is practically an advance payment of rent. In the register of rents it shall be entered in the collection column of the month in which it is realized. The first March column (column 14) is provided for security deposits on current year's leases paid in March of the financial year.

42. On the expiry of the lease, the amount paid as security deposit will be entered in red ink in the collection columns for the last month of the lease and the outstanding balance reduced thereby.

43. Rents received shall be entered in the collection columns of the month in which they are received.

44. The totals of each monthly collection column shall be compared by the Vice-Chairman with the abstract register of receipts and he shall place his initials at the foot of each column. The total of the final March column must be added to the next year's first March column to effect the agreement.

45. When a lease is cancelled for any reason and the pound, ferry or other property resold the demand up to date shall be worked out and compared with the collections up to date.

46. The remissions shall be sanctioned by the District Board at a meeting.

47. If any pounds, ferries or other property have been placed in charge of Local Boards, duplicates of these registers shall be kept by the latter in the same way as the District Board, and these shall be prepared and checked in accordance with the instructions in rules 39 to 45. Directly the settlement for the year has been made by the Local Board, a copy of the sale list, accompanied by the kabuliyats in original, shall be forwarded to the District Board. At the close of each quarter a return in Form No. 5 shall be submitted to the District Board by each Local Board. In this form the arrears due on expired leases shall be grouped separately by the year and below these shall be entered the current leases. These returns will inform the District Board of the action taken in regard to arrears. The details of the demands and collections shall also be carefully compared with those recorded in the register maintained by the District Board, and any discrepancies shall be immediately reconciled.

Miscellaneous Revenue managed departmentally.

48. When the collection of revenue is managed departmentally, i.e., collected through District Board subordinates, instead of being leased out to renters the collection shall be effected by means of machine-numbered receipt tickets in Form No. 6.

49. The tickets shall be bound in books of 25, 50 or 100 as convenient and shall bear consecutive machine numbers. Before issue to the collecting sircars, the tickets shall be stamped with the common seal of the District Board in the presence of the Vice-Chairman. The stock of tickets shall be kept in the custody of the Vice-Chairman and a stock account of their receipts, issues, and balances shall be kept by the accountant in Form No. 7 and the collecting sircars shall give their receipts in the proper column for tickets made over to them periodically.

50. The collecting sircars shall without fail grant a ticket to the person who pays toll or other dues. The progressive total of the sums received shall be kept on the counterfoil of each ticket in the place provided at the foot, as each ticket is issued. An inspecting officer shall see that these totals are taken regularly as directed in this rule, and shall initial the pages which he checks.

51. At such times as may be fixed by the Board but at least once a fortnight and oftener when the amount in hand is nearly equal to the collecting sircar's security, he shall remit his collections to the treasury with a chalan, Form No. 8, in triplicate. The foil of the chalan that is returned, shall be pasted in the book of receipt tickets as evidence of the remittance having been made. The progressive total on the counterfoil shall run from the date of last credit to the date of next credit, and the amount remitted shall agree with the progressive total made on the last counterfoil on the day of remittance.

52. At least once a quarter, and at shorter intervals as often as possible, the collecting sircar's accounts shall be examined on the spot by the secretary or a member of the Board or other officer appointed by the Board on this behalf. The inspecting officer shall review and check the totals of at least 2 per cent. of the pages of the receipt ticket book, initialling those that he checks. He shall also compare the totals of the books with the amounts remitted to the treasury as shown by the chalans and with the cash in the hands of the collecting sircar. The check shall be made from the time of the last examination under this rule, and a report of the results shall be forwarded to the Board.

Miscellaneous Demands.

53. (1) For demands not otherwise provided for in these rules, the Board shall keep up a miscellaneous demand register in Form No. 9.

(2) Columns 1 to 7 of the register shall be posted when the bills are signed and the entries regarding payment shall be made in columns 8 to 12.

(3) The amount shall then be credited in the treasury in the usual way (see rule 158).

Bills and Receipts.

54. Bills shall be prepared, where necessary, in Form No. 10 and shall be entered in the appropriate column of the miscellaneous demand register, Form No. 9, and their satisfaction noted in the proper column. No other receipts need be given in such cases.

55. For all money received by the Board under the rules in this chapter and in all other cases in which no receipt form has been prescribed in the rules, a receipt in Form No. 11 shall be given by the Vice-Chairman or the Secretary. The total amount received shall be written in words both on the receipt itself and on the counterfoil.

56. The bill and receipt forms shall be bound in counterfoil books. Each book shall contain 100 forms and no book shall be brought into use until all the foils and counterfoils have been consecutively numbered. The numbers shall, if possible, be printed.

57. The receipt and issue of all forms shall be recorded in a stock book (Form No. 7) and on no account shall loose unnumbered forms be kept in the office.

Bungalow Fees.

58. Travellers' bungalow fees are levied according to sanctioned scales and the rules issued in connection therewith, and they will be checked by reference to the entries made by the travellers themselves in the register Form No. 12 maintained in the bungalow concerned.

Receipts on account of fruit trees.

59. In order to enable a proper check to be exercised over the realizations of avenue produce, a register in Form No. 13 should be maintained in the Engineer's office showing the total number of fruit-bearing trees of each kind in each mile of a road separately. This register shall be corrected from time to time as new trees are grown and dead trees are removed. The overseers or sub-overseers shall conduct the sales of these trees and forward sale lists through the District Engineer to the Chairman for approval. After the sale lists have been approved by the Chairman a note of the demand shall be kept in the Miscellaneous Demand Register to enable the Board's office to watch recoveries.

School Fees.

60. The school fees from the Board's schools shall be realized by the Head Masters and credited to the treasury direct. When it is found inconvenient to remit the sums into the treasury, they may be allowed to be retained in part payment of the expenses of the school. In the latter case, the total sum realized during the month shall be deducted from the total of the establishment pay bill for the month, and the net amount shall be claimed.

61. The Head Master shall submit on the 1st of every month to the Board's office a statement of the amounts realized during the last month and the amount outstanding at the end of the month, in Form No. 14. The Board's office shall check the statement and the amounts realized with the amounts credited in the treasury, or with the amounts deducted from the monthly establishment pay bill. (See rules 211 to 213.)

Subscriptions and Donations.

62. Subscriptions and donations for special purposes shall be recorded in Form No. 15. These subscriptions shall not be appropriated for any other purposes; and to prevent this, a separate account shall be kept in Form No. 42. (See rule 147.)

Contributions.

63. The realization of amounts due on account of contributions shall be watched by means of the Miscellaneous Demand Register (Form No. 9). As soon as the demand can be ascertained and the amount becomes due, a bill shall be prepared by the Board in Form No. 10 and accounted for in the way laid down in rules 53 and 54.

CHAPTER IV.

ESTABLISHMENT.

Monthly Pay Bills.

64. The salary bill of the District Board Establishment shall be drawn in Form No. 16 and the certificate at the foot of the form shall be signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman. When salary is drawn for portion of a month only, the rate at which it is drawn and the number of days for which it is claimed shall be stated either against the name of the employé in the body of the bill or in a note at the foot of the page.

65. When an employé is absent from duty and acting arrangements are made in consequence of his absence, the absentee statement on the reverse of the bill in Form No. 17 shall be filled in and signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

66. Pay not distributed shall be refunded by short drawal in the next monthly pay bill.

67. To the first bill in which a periodical increment is drawn by any officer a certificate in Form No. 18 shall be appended.

68. The pay of all temporary employés who are entertained under sanction shall be billed for separately in the same form, the sanction being quoted.

69. The last payment of an employé's salary shall never be made until it has been ascertained that there are no demands outstanding against him. A certificate to this effect signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall be attached to each such bill.

Provident Fund deductions.

70. The net amount payable to the payees shall be drawn in one cheque. For the amount of Provident Fund deductions and contributions a separate voucher shall be drawn up including, if necessary, the deductions and contributions on several bills and showing merely the total deductions and contributions on account of each salary bill. The amount of this voucher shall be paid in cash or by cheque as the case may be in the Post Office Savings Bank. These remittances to the Savings Bank should, whenever possible, be made between the 1st and 4th of each month in order that interest may accrue for the month of deposit.

Arrear Bills.

71. Arrear pay shall not be drawn in the ordinary monthly bill, but in a separate bill, with a quotation of the bill from which the charge was omitted or withheld or on which it was refunded by deduction, or of any special order granting a new allowance. Such bills may be presented at any time and may include as many items as are necessary, but they shall be supported by a certificate from the head of the office that the amount was not paid before.

72. When the bills are paid the number and date of the voucher shall be noted on the original bill from which the charge was withheld or omitted or in which it was refunded, against the item concerned in order to prevent a second claim from being entertained.

Distribution of Salaries.

73. Every District Board employé shall give a receipt with date in the appropriate column on the Form No. 16 for the sum paid to him and shall in the case of sums exceeding Rs. 20, affix a receipt stamp before signing. The cost of such receipt stamp must be borne by the person who received the money and not by the District Board. Employés unable to write shall make their mark and shall be paid in the presence of the Vice-Chairman or some responsible officer, who shall record a certificate to that effect.

74. The drawer of the bill is personally responsible for every salary drawn on a bill signed by him until he has paid it to the persons entitled to receive it, and has had the acquittance roll signed and if necessary, stamped by the payee. If the payee does not present himself before the end of the month, the amount drawn for him shall be refunded by short drawal in the next bill; his salary can be drawn anew under rule 71 when he presents himself to receive it. Pay shall not in any circumstances be placed in deposit.

75. The drawer of the bill shall not readjust the salaries of the establishment by giving one officer more and another less, than the sanctioned pay of his post, nor shall he distribute the pay of an absentee otherwise than as provided by any general or special orders of the Board.

Records of Service.

76. (1) A service-book in Form No. 19, printed in English and the Vernacular, shall be supplied, at his own cost, to every employé holding a substantive appointment on the permanent establishment of a District Board. It shall be kept in the custody of the Chairman, whose signature as well as that of the employé on the first page shall be attested every five years.

(2) The service-book is a contemporary record of the employé's official life, including leave of every description, every period of suspension from employment, and every other interruption of service, with full details of its duration. Every entry relating thereto shall be written across the page and attested by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, or the Secretary.

77. As regards the District Engineer, the record of his services will be kept by the Chairman in a register similar to Form No. 92 prescribed in article 784 of the Civil Account Code (District Board's Form No. 20).

78. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman is primarily responsible that every necessary entry is made, especially in regard to leave or suspension, but it is also the duty of each employé to remind the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Secretary, when any entry is necessary and to see that his own service-book is properly written up and attested. It should be carefully explained to each employé that, unless he does so, there may be a difficulty hereafter in verifying his service when his claim to pension shall come to be investigated and considered. Service-books shall be introduced and kept up, whether rules for the grant of pensions and gratuities have been framed or not.

Annual Establishment Return.

79. At the time of preparing the pay bill for March in each year, a detailed statement of the permanent pensionable establishment existing on the 1st April shall be prepared in Form No. 21 and transmitted to the Accountant-General direct not later than the 15th May. In preparing the statement the following instructions shall be carefully observed :—

(a) The name, designation, and pay of every officer, clerk, or menial servant holding a permanent pensionable appointment, whether on duty or absent on leave or deputation, or under suspension, shall be distinctly shown.

(b) The date of birth, of appointment to present post, and of promotion to present pay of each person should be entered in the appropriate columns of the statement; the date of the birth by Christian era shall be given, and, if the exact date is not known, the approximate date or year shall be stated.

(c) The name of any person acting in an appointment, as well as the acting allowance paid to him shall be shown in the column "Name of incumbent" beneath the name of the absentee for whom he is officiating.

(d) If the acting incumbent holds a permanent appointment upon another establishment, the fact shall be stated.

(e) A detailed statement in Form No. 22 shall be given at the foot of the original return, Form No 21, showing new names of officers which are not found in the return of the previous year, and when these new names include those of persons who have entered the service of the District Board for the first time, the particulars of their previous service and the rules or orders under which their service qualifies for pension shall be given. Columns are also provided in Form No. 22 for information required in regard to the names of officers which appeared in Form No. 21 of the previous year, but are now omitted, as also regarding officers who have been on leave, other than privilege leave, or under suspension, during the previous year. In the case of any who have been under suspension, a note is required stating whether it has been expressly declared that the period of suspension shall count as service qualifying for pension.

(f) If any person on the establishment is a Government pensioner, or is not the servant of the District Board solely, the fact shall be noted in the statement. If he be an officer transferred from the pensionable service of Government, for whose pension contribution is paid, a note shall be entered against his name to the effect "Contribution paid to Government for pension".

When completed in accordance with the preceding instructions, the statement shall be carefully checked with the service-books, as it will be the authority by which hereafter pension claims will be tested by the Accountant-General.

Pensions and Gratuities.

Application for pension or gratuity where rules for the grant of the same have been framed and sanctioned.

80. When an officer applies for an invalid pension or gratuity, he shall be referred, if his age be less than 60 years, to the Medical Officer in charge of the civil station of the district for medical examination. After he has been declared by the Medical Officer to be unfit for further service, he shall not be retained in active service, pending a decision on his application for pension. Service after the date of the medical certificate does not count for pension.

81. After the medical certificate of incapacity for further service has been received, an application for pension or gratuity in Form No. 23 shall be drawn up, and the applicant's service detailed in page 2 of the form verified from office records, and the result of the verification noted in the column provided for the purpose.

82. In the case of pensions or gratuities other than invalid, the applicant's services shall be verified, and the form of application filled up in the same way as in the case of an invalid pension, when the application for pension or gratuity is made by the applicant.

83. The Chairman shall certify on the application whether the character, conduct, and past services of the applicant are such as to entitle him to the favourable consideration of the District Board. If the application is for pension on the superior scale, he shall enter all periods of leave, suspension, etc., which are not reckoned as service. He shall also record his opinion whether the service claimed has been established and shall be admitted or not.

84. The application in Form No. 23, with the applicant's service-book, his last pay-certificate, the medical certificate of incapacity for further service (if the application is for an invalid pension), and the documents relied upon for the verification of the service claimed, will then be forwarded to the Accountant-General, who will return the papers with a certificate as to whether the service claimed has been duly proved, and whether the pension applied for is admissible under the rules.

85. The application, with the Accountant-General's certificate and the other papers, will next be laid before the members of the District Board in meeting for sanction.

Payment of pensions and gratuities granted under sanctioned rules.

86. When the payment of a pension or gratuity has been sanctioned by the District Board, the amount, if it be a gratuity, may be paid in a single sum; but if it be pension, it shall ordinarily be paid monthly to the pensioner in person at the office of the District Board on an authority issued in Form No. 24.

87. A pensioner not residing in the district in which he was employed may draw his pension by agent without appearing in person on production of the certificates required by the Civil Service Regulations, article 946. In such a case the District Board shall obtain every year some proof independent of the certificate, through the police or the officers of the Board of the district in which the pensioner resides, or otherwise, that he is actually alive. The District Board may pay a pensioner by postal money-order in any case in which hardship would arise if the pensioner were required to attend in person at the District Fund office:

Provided :—

(1) that the pensioner requests the Board in writing to remit the money in this manner;

(2) that the remittance is made at the sole risk of the pensioner and at his cost; and

(3) that before the money is remitted the Board is furnished with a life-certificate in respect of the month for which the money is to be remitted, such certificate being signed by a Magistrate, or by the Chairman or a member of the District Board within the limits of whose jurisdiction the pensioner is living, or by some person exercising the powers of a Magistrate under the Code of Criminal Procedure or by any Registrar or Sub-Registrar under the Indian Registration Act, 1908, or by any pensioned officer who, before retirement, exercised the powers of a Magistrate, or by a Chaplain, or by any gazetted officer of Government or any person holding a Government title.

In such a case the District Board shall obtain annually independent proof of the pensioner's continued existence in the manner contemplated in this rule.

88. In cases in which the pension of an officer is debitable to more than one District Fund, the entire amount of pension shall be paid by any of the District Boards under which the officer was employed, at the option of the payee, the District Board or Boards remitting their proportionate share or shares to the disbursing Board selected.

89. On the issue of the authority in Form No. 24 for the payment of pension, it shall be entered in a register in Form No. 25. On appearance of a pensioner claiming pension, his personal marks shall be checked, and his signature to the receipt for pension compared with that given in the register and the payments noted on the back of the order in Form No. 24, which shall be presented every time payment is claimed.

90. A pensioner who is unable to appear in consequence of bodily illness or infirmity may receive his pension upon the production of a life-certificate signed by some well-known and trustworthy person approved by the Chairman. In such case the disbursing officer, who is personally responsible for any payment wrongly made shall take all possible precautions to prevent imposition, and, shall before the first payment of each year, require proof not only of the existence of the pensioner, but also of his inability to attend in person to receive payment.

91. If a pensioner or a person entitled to a gratuity dies, payment of any arrears actually due may be made to his heirs, provided that they apply within six months after his death. Even if the pension or gratuity has not been sanctioned before the death of the officer, the payment may be made under special sanction of the members of the District Board in meeting. If an officer dies before actually retiring, or being discharged, his heirs have no claim to anything.

NOTE.—Pension can be drawn for the day of the pensioner's death; the hour at which death takes place has no effect on the claim.

92. If a pension remains undrawn for more than six months, it ceases to be payable, and if the pensioner afterwards appears, the Chairman, before resuming payment, is to satisfy himself that the claimant is the pensioner and that he could not draw his pension owing to circumstances to be fully explained.

Security.

93. Overseers and Sub-overseers, Store-keepers in the District Engineer's office, Union clerks and bill collectors and other employés of the Board, entrusted with the receipt, expenditure or custody of Board's money or property shall be required to furnish security to an amount to be fixed by the Board in each instance with due regard to the responsibility of the officer.

NOTE.—Chairmen, Vice-Chairmen and District Engineers are not required to give security under this rule.

94. Security must be either a deposit of cash or Government promissory notes, Municipal Debentures or Port Trust Bonds of Calcutta, Madras, Rangoon and Karachi duly endorsed in favour of the Chairman, or a bond hypothecating landed property. In exceptional cases the Chairman may accept payment of the required security by deductions from salary. Such deductions shall be at not less than 10 per cent. of the salary or such sum as would make up the security in four years. In such cases personal securities shall be obtained until the full amounts of the cash securities required have been recovered, the solvency of the sureties being ascertained from time to time.

95. In the case of an employé affected by rule 94, a security bond in Form No. 26 or No. 27 shall be executed. All such bonds shall be kept under lock and key in the custody of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

NOTE.—A security bond executed in a particular capacity is not valid when the duties and responsibilities are added to or changed.

CHAPTER V.

CONTINGENT EXPENDITURE.

Contingent Bills.

96. Contingent expenditure includes all charges other than those for establishment, travelling allowance or Public Works. All recoupment of contingent charges shall be drawn on a bill in Form No. 28.

Imprest Accounts.

97. To an officer whose duties cause him to incur petty expenses which require to be paid at once before money can be obtained on a contingent bill (Form No. 28) such sum as may be fixed from time to time by the District Board may be allowed as a permanent advance: provided that, without the sanction of the Commissioner, the District Board shall not fix the amount of the permanent advance at more than Rs. 100.

98. Payments of not more than Rs. 20 shall be made in cash from the permanent advance; provided that no charge on account of the salary of any employé of the District Board shall be made otherwise than as prescribed in rule 99.

NOTE.—The District Engineer can make payments in cash out of his permanent advance up to Rs. 50 (see rule 7, see also rule 174)

99. All payments exceeding Rs. 20 shall be made by cheque, unless there are special circumstances rendering payment in cash desirable: provided that all payments of sums above Rs. 10 on account of salaries of employés of the District Board shall be made by cheque.

100. The imprest-holder shall make payments from his permanent advance from time to time as may be required, and for each payment he shall obtain and hold a bill receipted by the payee, or, in the case of petty office expenses, a written detailed statement of the sums spent. Imprest-holders may grant sub-imprests to their subordinates, if necessary, but the sub-imprest will be treated as a part of the imprest and accounted for in the imprest-holder's accounts.

101. These bills or statements shall be numbered consecutively enfaced or stamped "paid, in cash", and entered in the register in Form No. 29, the classification of the charge being carefully entered in the columns provided for the purpose.

102. The permanent advance may be recouped whenever necessary, and it shall always be recouped on the last working day of the month, except when the expenditure falls below Rs. 10 for which no cheques can be drawn upon the treasury.

103. The procedure of recoupment shall be as follows:—

The imprest-holder shall compare the sub-vouchers with the entries in the permanent advance account; he shall deface them by stamping them "cancelled", so that they cannot be used again. He shall total and initial the column "Amount of sub-voucher", in the permanent advance account, and also the amounts, in the classification columns, the cross total of which shall agree with the total of the column "Amount of sub-voucher", and shall rule a red ink line across the page, immediately above which in the last two columns the number, date and amount of the voucher for recoupment shall be shown.

104. The bill for recoupment shall then be drawn out and sent to the District Board office for payment. After the bill is enfaced with the usual payment order in the form prescribed in rule 173 (1) a cheque shall be drawn in favour of the Chairman or other officer holding the advance.

See also rule 177 (1).

105. (1) Cheques in favour of the District Engineer in recoupment of imprest shall be made payable "to order" only.

(2) Cheques in favour of the District Engineer in recoupment of imprest shall be separately drawn and shall not be mixed up with any other payment.

106. The recoupment shall always be in full of expenditure from the last recoupment to date so that the balance in hand after recoupment will always be the full amount of the advance.

Sanction for recurring and unusual contingent charges.

107. Sanction of the Board at a meeting shall be obtained for the purchase of books, periodicals, newspapers, official publications for unusual contingent charges, such as typewriters, fountain pens, furniture, etc., and for all recurring contingent charges which bind the Board beyond a single payment.

Stamps and Postage.

108. (1) Stamps and postage charges shall ordinarily be met from the Permanent Advance. But, in order to enable a check to be kept upon the number of stamps expended by each department using stamps upon the business of the District Board a stamp register shall be maintained in Form No. 30. This register is intended primarily for postage stamps; but the same register shall be used for receipt or other stamps, separate pages being allotted for each description, columns 5 and 6 being modified as required.

(2) This register shall also serve as the Despatch Register.

109. The balance of stamps in hand shall be verified once a month by the responsible officer in charge of the department who shall make a note of the verification on the remarks column under his signature.

Forms.

110. For all forms purchased by the Board, a stock book of forms in Form No. 7 shall be maintained. Each kind of form shall be shown on a separate page. The Head Clerk shall be responsible for the correct maintenance of this stock book.

Stationery Account.

111. This shall be maintained in Form No. 31. The purchases shall be made annually or half-yearly on indents duly sanctioned by the Chairman and showing the stock in hand at the time, the actual consumption of the previous year and the quantity required. The issues shall be acknowledged in the register under the initials of the officer supplied. The balances shall be struck at the end of the year and verified with the actual stock by the Vice-Chairman or the Secretary, who shall record a certificate to this effect on the register.

CHAPTER VI.

TRAVELLING ALLOWANCE.

Travelling Allowance.

112. Travelling allowance may be granted to District Board employés for journeys undertaken in the interests of the Board. The travelling allowance paid to such officers shall not, without the express sanction of the Local Government, exceed what would be admissible to similar officers in Government service under Part XI of the Civil Service Regulations.

113. Travelling allowance other than permanent travelling allowance shall be drawn on a bill in Form No. 32 for the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman, members of the District and Local Boards and other gazetted officers and in Form No. 33 for other officers. Every travelling allowance bill shall be countersigned by a controlling officer before payment.

Instructions for preparing Travelling Allowance Bills.

114. In the preparation of travelling allowance bills, the following instructions shall be observed:—

(a) Only one kind of allowance shall be entered on one line, each halt or journey or portion of journey having a line to itself.

(b) Hours of journey shall be mentioned only (1) when, for an absence from head-quarters of not more than two consecutive days, daily allowance is claimed for two days, (2) when mileage or actual expenditure in lieu thereof is claimed, (3) when both railway or steamer fare and daily allowance are claimed in respect of a journey by rail or steamer immediately preceded or followed by a journey by road or by a halt.

(c) The number of miles travelled shall be entered in all cases of journeys by road or by boat.

(d) The daily allowance of an officer acting in an appointment shall be calculated on the maximum pay of the appointment.

(e) A fraction of a mile in the total of each journey for each person shall not be charged for.

(f) When the first item of travelling allowance to any officer is a halt, the date of commencement of that halt shall be stated in the remarks column.

(g) Details of actual expenses charged shall be given at the foot of the bill.

(h) When passage money is drawn for private servants accompanying an officer on a journey by sea or river, a certificate showing the number of servants who actually accompanied him shall be furnished.

(i) Full messing charges according to the steamship Company's tariff may be drawn by an officer of any class who certifies that he has paid such full charges for messing on that day and that he has actually dined on board.

Status in regard to Travelling Allowance.

115. (1) District Engineers will, for the purpose of travelling allowance, be regarded as officers of the first class irrespective of their pay.

(2) Upper and lower subordinates employed under a District Board may be allowed the same rates of travelling allowance as upper and lower subordinates employed in the Public Works Department on corresponding rates of pay.

Travelling Allowance of non-official members.

116. Members of District and Local Boards, who are not Government officers, and who do not hold the post of Chairman or Vice-Chairman of a District Board are entitled to draw from the District Fund travelling allowance at the same rates as are admissible under Chapter III, Civil Service Regulations, in the case of Government officers of the Second Class, for journeys to attend meetings of District or Local Boards or meetings of committees and joint committees of such Boards. When they travel by steamer, they are entitled to draw the maximum allowance under article 1063 (ii) in lieu of the table-money prescribed by article 1023. They are not entitled to any allowance for halting.

NOTE.—They are entitled to mileage for journey by road or boat, although the distance travelled does not exceed 20 miles, because no daily allowance can be fixed in their case. They are not, however, entitled to any allowance for journeys not exceeding 5 miles.

Travelling Allowance of non-official Chairman and Vice-Chairman.

117. Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of Local Boards are entitled to draw from the District Fund travelling allowance at the same rates as are admissible under Chapter III, Civil Service Regulations, in the case of second class officers, for journeys performed for carrying out the objects of the Local Self-Government Act, and when halting, the daily allowance admissible will be the maximum allowance under article 1063 (ii) of the Civil Service Regulations.

118. Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of District Boards, who are not Government officers, are entitled to draw from the District Fund travelling allowance at the same rates as are admissible under the Civil Service Regulations in the case of Government officers of the first class, for all journeys performed for the purposes of the Local Self-Government Act.

Travelling Allowance of official members.

119. Government officers are entitled to draw from Provincial revenue the travelling allowance admissible to them as Government officers (a) for journeys to attend meetings of District or Local Boards or meetings of committees and joint committees when they are members of District or Local Boards; and (b) for journeys performed for the purposes of the Local Self-Government Act, when they hold the post of Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

NOTE.—The term "Government officers" includes managers of estates under the Court of Wards who are appointed by Government but paid from the estates and whose service count for pension under the rules of the Civil Service Regulations.

Controlling Officer.

120. Chairmen of District Boards shall be regarded as controlling officers for the purpose of passing bills for travelling allowance drawn (a) by officers employed under the District Board; (b) by the Vice-Chairman and members of the District Board for journeys performed by them in attending meetings of the boards; and (c) by Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen of Local Boards.

121. Chairmen of Local Boards shall be regarded as the controlling officers for the countersignature of the travelling allowance bills of the Local Board employés and of members of Local Boards for attending meetings.

Scrutiny of claims to Travelling Allowance.

122. (1) The travelling allowance bills of Engineers and Assistant Engineers shall be closely scrutinised and countersigned by the Chairman himself, and those of the subordinate establishments shall be scrutinised by the District Engineer with reference to the diaries submitted by them and then countersigned by the Chairman.

(2) It is the duty of the controlling officer to scrutinise the necessity, frequency, and duration of journeys or halts for which travelling allowance (whether permanent or other) is claimed. The controlling officer may disallow the whole or a portion of the travelling allowance claimable for any journey or halt, if he considers that the journey was unnecessary or that it was not completed with due expedition, or that the halt was of excessive duration. He shall check any tendency to abuse the option of exchanging a daily rate for mileage.

Joining First Appointment.

123. Travelling allowance for joining first appointments is admissible only to a person appointed to a post requiring technical skill or knowledge for which he has been specially trained.

Undisbursed Travelling Allowance.

124. Travelling allowance drawn for a member of an office establishment, but not paid to him within the month in which it is drawn, shall be refunded by short drawal in the next bill presented for travelling allowance. If no such bill be submitted by the end of the month, the undisbursed amount shall be refunded into the treasury in cash.

Permanent Travelling Allowance.

125. Permanent travelling, conveyance and horse allowance shall be drawn along with the pay of the officer and not on travelling allowance bills. Whenever a conveyance or horse allowance is drawn, a certificate shall be furnished that a conveyance or horse was actually maintained. In cases where a pony allowance, as such, has been sanctioned by the Board, the maintenance of a pony for the discharge of the outdoor duties of the officer shall be insisted on.

CHAPTER VII.

DISPENSARY ACCOUNTS.

Classification of Dispensaries.

NOTE.—Local Fund Dispensaries are divided into two classes under rule 28 of the Dispensary Rules, viz.—

(a) Class III-A Dispensaries, for which separate banking accounts are allowed to be opened in the Treasury with the sanction of Government; and

(b) Class III-B Dispensaries, for which separate accounts are not allowed at the Treasury, but the funds of which are kept under the direct control of the local authority

126. The accounts of Dispensaries included in Class III-A under rule 28 of the Dispensary Rules shall not be entered in those of the District Board which is only concerned with them as an agency for the realization of endowments in the Board area, and as paying a regular subscription from the District Fund. Dispensaries of Class III-B being a Board asset and liability, their accounts shall be entered in those of the District Board.

Class III-A. Dispensaries, i.e., those whose accounts are not incorporated.

127. (1) The income from the endowments and investments shall be realized by the District Board and remitted to the treasury for credit to the account of the dispensary fund, an intimation being at the same time sent to the Managing Committee.

(2) The periodical contribution to be made out of the District Fund shall be paid on cheques to be drawn in favour of the Chairman or Secretary of the Dispensary Committee and credited to the ledger account of the dispensary kept at the treasury by transfer.

Class III-B.

128. All subscriptions and donations and other miscellaneous receipts collected by Managing Committees of District Board Dispensaries (class III-B) shall be deposited intact in the postal savings bank in the name of the Chairman or Secretary of the Managing Committee, who is authorized to withdraw therefrom such amounts as may be required for expenditure within budget limits. The Chairman of the Managing Committee shall send monthly pro formâ accounts in Form No. 34, showing separately the charges paid from the Board's office and those paid in cash by the Chairman or Secretary. The latter amount must be brought to account in the District Board office through the adjustment register, Form No 51, by debit to the head "24—Medical hospitals and dispensaries," and credit to the head "XX—Medical contributions from other sources."

Care should be taken to make this adjustment for the month of March before the accounts of the year are closed. But for each institution vested in the Board a subsidiary balanced account shall be kept in Form No. 35, in which shall be credited (a) all endowments, funds and contributions received by the District Board on its behalf, and (b) all sums allotted in the budget estimate for its establishment and maintenance which are chargeable to the general revenues of the district fund and in which all expenditure incurred shall be charged. The balance of this account which shall be struck at the close of each month shall not be appropriated to any object other than the establishment and maintenance of the institution to which it belongs.

129. The monthly pro formâ accounts submitted by the Managing Committee shall be checked in the District Board office with the balanced account.

CHAPTER VIII.

DEBT HEADS.

Advances.

Permanent Advance.

130. Whenever the District Board decides that a permanent advance may be granted to the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Secretary or other officer for payment of petty charges, the procedure indicated in rules 131 to 134 shall be adopted.

131. On first receiving or taking charge of the permanent advance, the Chairman and all other imprest-holders shall sign and file an acknowledgment in these terms:—"I acknowledge to have in my possession a permanent advance of Rupees (Rs.), which sum is due from me to the District Board and I am personally accountable for the amount."

132. A similar acknowledgment shall also be given by the imprest-holder on the first working day of each year.

133. The permanent advance, when first drawn, shall be charged in the cash-book to the head "Advances," and shall be debited to the imprest-holder's account in the advance ledger, Form No. 36.

134. There will be no further operations upon the ledger account until the advance is finally repaid. It need not be repaid at the end of each year If the amount originally fixed for the permanent advance is subsequently increased or decreased by the District Board, the original advance shall be repaid and a fresh advance drawn.

Other Advances.

135. All moneys advanced to officers or employés of the District Board or to contractors or other persons (whether on account of the permanent advance or otherwise), shall, in the first instance, be charged to the head "Advances in the abstract register of expenditure and entered in the Advance Ledger Form No. 36. A separate account shall be opened in this ledger for each person to whom an advance has been given, and this account shall be credited with the amount of repayments made, and of adjustments made in the manner prescribed in clause (b) of rule 206. The accounts shall be balanced quarterly and signed by the Vice-Chairman.

136. Advances for works to be carried out departmentally should not be for the full sanctioned cost of the work, but should be restricted to the amount actually necessary to meet immediate payments; and as this amount is exhausted it can be recouped by submitting detailed bills for the expenditure incurred.

137. In the case of advances made to contractors or others for the execution of works the account shall be credited with the actual value of work done upon receipt of detailed bills and proper vouchers for the expenditure incurred out of the advance. These adjustments shall be carried through the Adjustment Register Form No. 51, in the manner prescribed in rules 205 and 206. Before the order for adjustment is made, the bills and vouchers put forward in support of the expenditure shall be passed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman in the same manner as other bills are passed. The passing order shall run thus:—

"Passed for rupees . Adjust Rs. by credit to advance account of , and debit to Deposits.

138. All sums of money received by way of security deposit from contractors or others and all sums received, which are not the property, of the District Fund, and have been placed with the District Board for a temporary purpose only, shall be credited to the head "Deposits received" in the Abstract Register of receipts, Form No. 49 and shall be entered on the credit or receipt side of the Deposit Ledger in Form No. 37. A separate account shall be opened in this ledger for each person by whom a deposit is made; and the accounts shall be balanced quarterly and signed by the Vice-Chairman.

139. Government promissory notes received from contractors and others for security deposits shall be deposited with the Government in accordance with the instructions contained in Articles 163 and 167A, Civil Account Code.

Review of Advance and Deposit Ledgers.

140. Each separate account in the ledgers of advances and deposits shall be specially reviewed by the Chairman not less often than once a quarter. The officer who signs the accounts shall at the same time satisfy himself that steps are being taken to recover or adjust advances which have been outstanding for more than three months. At the close of every quarter a list in Form No. 38 shall be prepared of outstanding advances, and a list of outstanding deposits in Form No. 39. The posting, in the advance and deposit ledgers shall be proved with the accounts at the end of each quarter.

141. When a deposit is outstanding for more than three years from the date when the work was finished and the depositor does not come to take the refund notwithstanding the service of a notice on him, or when the whereabouts of the depositor are not known, the deposit will be adjusted as a miscellaneous receipt, repayable on a subsequent claim with the previous sanction of the Commissioner.

Register of Security Deposits other than Cash.

142. Security deposits in cash shall be entered at once in the cash-book of the Board and the deposit ledger and paid into the Treasury like revenue. All other forms of security, such as Government paper, bonds for landed property and the like shall be recorded in a register in Form No. 40. When the security is surrendered the depositor shall give a receipt in the column provided for the purpose.

Government Security Register.

143. All Government securities which shall become, by purchase or otherwise, the sole property of a Board shall be accounted for in Form No. 40. They shall not be written off this form unless disposed of absolutely by sale or otherwise, e.g., Government securities merely made over to the Accountant-General for safe custody, under the rules contained in Chapter II of the Civil Account Code, shall not be written off this account.

Annual Verification of Securities.

144. The total amount of securities which are in the safe custody of the Accountant-General shall be verified annually by the Vice-Chairman with the list published by the Accountant-General in the Calcutta Gazette in January of every year and a certificate of verification given in the remarks column of the register against each entry therein.

145. Securities which are in the custody of the Chairman himself shall be verified by the Local Auditor at the time of audit.

Loans.

146. (1) The transactions in regard to any loan contracted by a District Board shall be recorded in Form No. 41.

(2) When a loan is raised in the open market under the condition that a sinking fund is to be formed for its repayment, the payments to the sinking fund, as they fall due, shall be made to the Commissioner of the Division and the Collector of the district, who shall hold the funds in trust for the redemption of the principal of the loan. On receipt of the money the trustees shall lodge it in the treasury for credit to a personal ledger account, to be opened in their names, and as soon as a sufficient balance is available, they shall invest the same in Government securities for retention in the custody of the Comptroller-General under the rules in Chapter 11 of the Civil Account Code. When any loans or debentures fall due, the trustees shall realize the whole or a sufficient portion of the securities held in their names, and apply the sale-proceeds thereof, so far as they will extend, to satisfy such loans or debentures. The interest accruing on the investments shall be added to the balance of the trust account until the sinking fund is complete.

(3) The transactions of the trust account shall be recorded in a cash-book in Form No. I of the "Account rules for the Guidance of Administrators of Trust Funds," issued with Bengal Government, Financial Department order No. 1180-86T—F., dated the 12th September 1912, which shall be kept by the trustees. As soon as possible after the 31st March in each year, the trustees shall forward to the Chairman of the District Board an abstract of the account in Form No. III of the trust fund rules and obtain from him a written acknowledgment of the correctness of the account. The trustees shall bring to the notice of Government any default in payment to the sinking fund, which is not immediately remedied.

Appropriation Register of loans and special grants and contributions.

Government Securities, Endowments and other Funds.

147. In order to check the appropriation of funds raised by loan or special grants by Government or contributions intended for special purposes by individuals or local bodies an appropriation register shall be kept in Form No. 42. The expenditure shall be posted monthly from the register of works. Without the sanction of Government previously obtained, no portion of such funds shall be appropriated even temporarily to any object other than that for which it was intended. Separate pages or sets of pages shall be set apart for each endowment or fund.

NOTE.—When the expense of a work is met partly from special grants or contributions and partly from District Fund money and the expenditure from each source cannot be distinguished, the sum entered in column 2 shall be the total, and a note of the amount derived from each source should be made in the remarks column.

CHAPTER IX.

LOCAL BOARDS.

Budget Estimate.

148. The statement of requirements and estimate of probable expenditure to be submitted by the Local Board to the District Board under section 51 of the Act shall be in Form No. I, and shall be accompanied by full explanatory notes for each head of account in respect of which the Local Board has been empowered under section 101 of the Act.

149. The District Board shall forward to each Local Board subordinate to it an extract of so much of the budget estimate of the District Fund as sanctioned as relates to the matters under the control and administration of the said Local Board.

Allotment of Funds by the District Board.

150. The District Board shall, from time to time, make allotments of funds to each Local Board subordinate to it for expenditure on the matters under their control and administration.

151. In making any such allotment the District Board shall send an intimation to the Sadar Treasury Officer, who will advise the officer in charge of the treasury or sub-treasury at or near the head-quarters of the Local Board concerned, of the amount allotted to such Local Board.

152. On receipt of such intimation, the officer in charge of the treasury or sub-treasury shall place the amount of the allotment to the credit of the Local Board, and shall enter it on the receipt side of the pass-book of the Local Board. The Local Board shall obtain funds by drawing cheques against the amount of the allotments thus placed at its credit from time to time. These cheques shall be signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the Local Board if their amounts be below Rs. 100; otherwise they shall be signed by both Chairman and Vice-Chairman, or, if either be absent, by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman present and a member duly authorized by the Local Board.

Remittances into Treasury on account of District Fund.

153. Moneys paid into a sub-treasury on account of the District Fund shall not be credited in the pass-book of the Local Board; but shall, when incorporated in the Sadar treasury account, be credited in the pass-book of the District Board. The Local Board shall send an account of such payments to the District Board not less often than once a month.

Cash-book.

154. The Local Board shall keep a cash-book in Form No. 43. On the receipt side shall be posted the allotments made by the District Board from time to time; and on the expenditure side shall be posted details of the cheques drawn by the Local Board against the amount of those allotments.

155. The cash-book shall be closed and signed by the Chairman each month on the day fixed by the District Board, so that an authenticated copy thereof supported by vouchers in original may be sent so as to reach the District Board's office positively on the last day of the month. The transactions of the month subsequent to the closing of the cash-book shall be incorporated in the next month's account. The cash-book for March shall, however, be closed on the 31st, the authenticated copy with vouchers being submitted within seven days to the Chairman of the District Board.

NOTE.—In the case of the Asansol Local Board, the vouchers shall not be sent, but only a copy of the cash-book

CHAPTER X.

DISTRICT BOARD OFFICE ACCOUNTS.

Custody of District Fund Money.

156. The District Fund shall be lodged with the Collector of the district, who shall keep a separate account thereof. Donations which private persons give to the District Board for objects of legitimate expenditure on condition that they are to be placed in fixed deposit in a bank or invested in securities, may be so placed in deposit or invested by the District Board.

Payment into the Treasury.

157. (1) All sums due by any person to the District Board, and all moneys collected by authorized servants of the Board, as well as rents due by pound and ferry-farmers, shall be sent direct to the treasury to be credited to the District Fund and shall not be sent through the office of the District Board. Moneys collected by servants of the Board shall be remitted in full to the treasury, and no portion thereof may be appropriated towards expenditure except in certain cases of school fees and fines referred to in rule 211.

(2) If in any case money is tendered at the office of the Board, the person tendering it shall be directed to take it to the treasury, where it will be received and credited to the District Fund.

NOTE.—(See rule 4.)

158. (1) All money paid into the treasury otherwise than by money-order to the credit of the District Fund, whether by servants of the District Board or others, shall be accompanied by a chalan in Form No. 8.

(2) This chalan shall be in triplicate, having the words "Original," "Duplicate" and "Triplicate" printed or written in red on the first, second and third parts, respectively. The first part shall be retained by the treasury office, the second part shall be returned on the same day to the office of the District Board, and the third part shall be delivered to the person paying in the money:

Provided that payments into the treasury of the rents of pounds and ferries which are administered by Local Boards shall be accompanied by chalans in quadruplicate, and the fourth part shall be sent by the treasury to the office of the Local Board.

Road and Public Works Cess.

159. On the last working day of each month the Collector shall transfer to the credit of the District Fund, and shall enter in the pass-book, the amounts of the following items calculated in accordance with the provisions in the Bengal Treasury Manual, Chapter XVI, paragraph 300—

(a) Road cess on lands.
(b) Public works cess.
(c) Cess on mines and railways.
(d) Interest on arrear collections of road and public works cess.
(e) Miscellaneous.
(f) Recoveries on account of cost of collection of arrear cess.

Grants from Provincial Revenues.

160. When a grant is made to the District Fund from Provincial revenues, the Accountant-General shall instruct the Treasury Officer to credit the amount of the grant to the District Fund, and send the Chairman a copy of his letter. Recurring grants are payable to the District Fund at the beginning of each year. The credit shall be made by book transfer; no bill or cheque shall be drawn, and no money shall be paid out of the Treasury.

Pass-book.

161. All moneys remitted to the treasury to the credit of the District Board, and all payments made by the treasury on cheques or otherwise on account of the District Board, shall be entered in a pass-book (Form No. 44); the pass-book shall remain in the custody of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman and it shall be sent to the treasury on the tenth and also on the last working day of every month and on any other day on which the District Board may require the posting to be done. On receipt of the pass-book by the treasury officials, the receipts and payments up to date, and credits referred to in rules 159 and 160 shall be entered therein, and when the book is received on the last working day of the month, the account shall be balanced and signed by the Treasury Officer, the amount being entered in words as well as figures. The book shall be returned to the office of the District Board as soon as the entries prescribed in this rule have been made in it, i.e., on the day of receipt or the next open day at latest.

162. The pass-book will be supplied by the treasury. It is not a District Fund account-book, but is simply a copy of the account kept in the treasury of the money paid into the credit of, and disbursed on account of, the District Board, and must therefore always be written up only by the Government Treasury Department by whom the original account is kept.

163. No entries or marks shall, under any circumstances, be made in the pass-book by any one connected with the District Board's office.

164. The Chairman shall examine this pass-book from time to time, and shall immediately call the attention of the Treasury Officer to any discrepancy that may appear between the credits and debits shown in the pass-book and those shown in the accounts of the District Board's office.

Balance Certificate.

165. The Treasury Officer shall supply the Chairman, immediately after the close of each month, with a balance certificate in Form No. 45.

166. This certificate shall be sent by the District Board to the Accountant-General, Bengal, attached to the audit certificate (Form No. 59).

Overdrawal of Balance.

167. No Local Fund is allowed to overdraw the balance at its credit without the special sanction of the Local Government. A deficit, may, however, if necessary, be allowed to the extent to which the road and public works cesses can be ascertained to have been actually credited in the treasury subsequent to the close of the previous month's account minus the cost of collection up to date.

168. If the Local Government sanction an overdraft when, owing to widespread distress, the instalments of any local cess creditable to District Boards are suspended or remitted and the income of the District Boards undergoes a sudden diminution, these overdrafts should be recouped when the suspended cess is realized. Whenever Government authorize advances of money to a District Fund, the Board will be allowed to overdraw its account at the treasury to the extent of the authorized advance and special instructions on the subject will be issued by the Accountant-General on each occasion. No entry will be made in the pass-book on receipt of these instructions, which will merely be noted for guidance by the Treasury Officer and will indicate the limit beyond which drafts shall not be permitted.

Transactions with the Post-office.

169. When money is remitted to a District Board by means of post-office money-orders or when the amounts of money-orders issued on the requisition of a District or Local Board are returned unpaid they will, in accordance with the post-office rules on the subject, be sent by the post-office of payment direct to the Treasury Officer for adjustment of the amount by book transfer to the credit of the District Fund. An advice-list with coupons and acknowledgments attached will be sent on the same day by the Treasury Officer to the District or Local Board's office, as the case may be, in token of the adjustment having been made. The Chairman shall despatch the acknowledgments to the remitters of the money-order. The Chairman of the Local Board shall also forward the original coupons with a copy of the advice-list to the office of the District Board, retaining the original advice-list in his own office and shall furnish full details of all items of unpaid money-orders which will be entered in red ink.

Money-orders.

170. When writing out money-orders in payment of a bill the number of the cheque and the serial number of the item in the bill shall be written on the acknowledgment portion. When received back the acknowledgment shall be carefully filed in serial order with the voucher. Wanting acknowledgments shall be called for after a month from the Postal Department.

Register of undelivered Money-orders.

171. (1) A register in Form No. 46 shall be opened for money-orders which the Postal Department refunds to the District Board owing to the payee not being found.

(2) The register will serve the double purpose of providing a means of watching that these refunds are brought to credit, and in case of the payee afterwards making application for the money, of ascertaining whether the sum is due from the District Board or from the Postal authorities.

Payment of Claims.

172. A Board shall pay promptly every claim against its fund that is clearly due. Every contractor shall, so far as possible, be paid on monthly bills, and every labourer employed direct by the Board or an official of the Board shall be paid daily or weekly as he may desire. But no money shall be drawn before it is actually required for payment; and no undue delay shall occur in the disposal of money drawn.

173. (1) Every bill or other claim for payment from the District Fund shall be presented in the first instance to the accountant, who shall check and examine it, and, if it be found correct and in order shall submit it for orders to the Chairman. If payment of the bill so presented is to be made, an order for the payment shall be endorsed upon it. The order for payment shall run as follows:—"Pay Rupees only (Rs.)," the amount being written in words as well as in figures, and shall be signed by the Chairman.

(2) The Accountant shall also note on it the classification of the charges according to the heads laid down in Form I, or in such greater detail as may be necessary for entry in the cash-book after payment.

174. All payments exceeding Rs. 20 shall be made by cheque; claims for smaller sums shall be paid in cash from the permanent advance.

NOTE.—See rules 7, 98 and 103 to 106 for recoupment of permanent advance.

175. In passing for payment bills in respect of public works charges which have been already passed by the District Engineer, the District Board's office shall compare the rates allowed by the District Engineer with those sanctioned in the agreement, and, in cases in which there is no agreement, shall compare the bills with the sanctioned estimate.

176. A register of work bills shall be kept in Form No. 17 and all bills passed for payment shall be entered therein. From this register the Board's office must check the allotment and balance available for each work and the District Engineer's accountant must also refer to it in order to verify his register of works.

177 (1). If the bill is to be paid out of the imprest, the chairman shall sign the pay order on the bill and make it over to the accountant for payment. The accountant shall, after payment, stamp the voucher with the words "paid in cash" in conspicuous type. This shall be attached as a sub-voucher to the next contingent bill (Form No. 28). If the bill is to be paid by cheque, it shall be made over to the accountant. The cheque shall be written out by the accountant and the bill stamped "Paid by cheque No. dated " in conspicuous type. Both the bill and the cheque shall then be placed before the Chairman who shall sign the cheque and initial (with date) the "paid" endorsement on the bill in token of having signed the cheque for the bill.

(2) The amount of the cheque shall be entered in the cash-book as soon as the cheque is signed.

178. Every payment from the District Fund shall be supported by a voucher in a proper form duly signed and receipted by the payee himself or his authorised agent and stamped, if necessary. A receipt signed by another person for the creditor will be invalid.

179 (1). Payments to illiterate persons shall be attested by a competent witness in addition to the paying officer.

(2) When the payee signs in vernacular the amount acknowledged shall be noted by him in the same vernacular.

Filing of Vouchers.

180 (1). Bills which have been paid by cheque shall be divided into the following classes, namely, (1) salary and establishment bills, and (2) other bills. Each class of bills shall be pasted in a separate guard file and shall be consecutively numbered in order of payment:

Provided that sub-vouchers, which have been paid in cash out of the permanent advance, shall be separately filed, together with the recoupment voucher covering them.

(2) The following memorandum instead of this voucher shall be pasted into the guard-book for bills other than salary and establishment bills.

Memorandum.

Voucher No.   , dated   , for Rs.   in recoupment of the Chairman's or other imprest-holder's permanent advance, will be found in the separate file.

Cash-book.

181. The District Fund cash-book shall be kept in Form No. 43.

The receipt entries in this book shall be made day by day as follows:—

(1) In the case of money remitted to the treasury (otherwise than by money-orders) for credit to the District Fund under rule 157, from the duplicate chalans mentioned in rule 158.

(2) In the case of money-orders, from the coupons attached to the advice list received from the Treasury Officer. (Vide rule 169.)

(3) In the case of the book adjustments specified in rule 160, from the copies of the Accountant-General's letter received under that rule.

(4) In the case of road and public works cesses mentioned in rule 159 from the pass book.

Expenditure shall be entered from the details of vouchers day by day as cheques are signed. (See also rule 177 (2)).

NOTE.—In the case of a cheque which has to be signed by two persons under rule 187 the date on which it is first signed by either of them shall be taken to be the date of the cheque.

Closing of the Cash-book.

182. The cash-book shall be closed and balanced on the last working day of each month and shall be signed by the Chairman after comparison with the pass-book. In the event of any cheques issued during a month remaining uncashed by the treasury at the close of the month, there will necessarily be a difference between the balance brought out in the cash-book and that of the treasury pass-book and of the certificate issued by the Treasury Officer under rule 165. This difference shall be explained by a note in the last page of the cash-book for the month in the following manner:—

			Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Balance as per cash-book	...	...	......			5,047	15	6

Balance as per pass-book	...	...	......			5,037	15	6

NOTE.—When a cheque has been cancelled (see rules 193 and 195), it will not be entered in the list of uncashed cheques.

Cheques.

183. Cheques drawn on a treasury shall be in Form No. 48. Cheque-books containing 100 cheques each will be provided by the officer in charge of the treasury. Each book shall bear a number which shall be repeated upon each cheque contained in it, together with the consecutive number of each cheque form and the Drawing Officer shall notify to the treasury upon which he draws the number of the cheque-book which he from time to time brings into use. Outside the book there shall be instructions to keep it under lock and key in the personal custody of the Drawing Officer, who, when relieved, shall take a receipt for the correct number of cheques made over to the relieving officer, a specimen of whose signature shall at the same time be forwarded to the treasury concerned.

184. (1) On receipt of a cheque-book from the treasury, the officer to whom the duty of signing cheques is allotted shall count the cheques, and shall record on the back of the cheque book that "this cheque book contains . . . . forms."

(2) The cheque-book shall remain in the custody of the officer who usually signs the cheques.

185. The cheque-book in use may be made over to the accountant whenever required, but it shall be returned before the office is closed for the day and shall on no account be left in the entire charge of any subordinate.

186 The officer in whose custody it is to remain shall satisfy himself periodically that all unused cheques are in the book and that none have been surreptitiously extracted.

187. Cheques for sums not exceeding Rs. 500 shall be signed by the Vice-Chairman or by the Chairman, or if both be absent, by a member of the Finance Committee. Cheques for sums exceeding Rs. 500 shall be signed both by the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman, and if either of them be absent, such cheques shall be signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman present and another member of the Finance Committee.

188. Whenever necessary, and if convenient to the treasury, cheques issued by the District Board may be enfaced at the district treasury for payment at the sub-treasury. In such cases the payees' receipt shall be obtained through the Local Board which shall take it before delivery of the cheque to him.

189. No cheque shall be signed unless required for immediate delivery to the person to whom the money is to be paid, nor until the bill, which it will discharge, has been presented in a complete form, examined and passed for payment in accordance with rules 173(1) and 177. The practice of retaining signed cheques in the office shall not be permitted.

190. Every cheque shall be drawn in English in favour of the person to whom the money is actually due. Payment shall not be made to any other person except on production of a written authority from the creditor to receive it on his behalf:

Provided that this rule shall not apply to—

(a) Cheques issued for a sum of money distributable as pay or wages among a number of District Board employés.

(b) Cheques for recoupments of permanent advance.

(c) Cheques for payments of money by Remittance Transfer Receipts (article 143A, Civil Account Code, Volume I).

(d) Cheques for payment of money in places where there are treasuries but under the rules Remittance Transfer Receipts are not permissible (pay allowance, etc.) and where there are no treasuries. In such cases the money shall be remitted by money-orders and the cheques shall be drawn in the name of the Post Master.

(e) Cheques for payment of money to Government. If the money is accounted for by a special department of Government, such as the Income-tax, the Land Acquisition Department, etc., the cheques shall be drawn in favour of the officer-in-charge of the department concerned. But in other cases the cheque shall be drawn in the name of the Treasury Officer and forwarded to him for credit to Government.

NOTE.—Cheques in favour of the District Engineer shall be "to order."

191. The amount of every cheque shall be written in words as well as in figures, both on the cheque itself and on the counterfoil, and the counterfoil shall be initialled by the person or persons who sign the cheque. The word "only" shall always be inserted after the amount written in words in the body of the cheque.

192. Every cheque drawn for a sum, whether exceeding Rs. 20 or not, shall bear a receipt stamp of the value of one anna, and such receipt stamp shall be affixed before the cheque is signed.

Cancellation of Cheques.

193. When a signed cheque is cancelled, it shall be enfaced or stamped "cancelled" by the drawer of the cheque, and shall be destroyed as soon as the accounts for the month in which the cheque was drawn have been audited by the Finance Committee.

194. The fact of cancellation shall be noted in red ink under the initials of the drawer of the cheque upon the counterfoil and also across the passing order which has been enfaced upon the voucher.

195. A cheque remaining unpaid from any cause for twelve months from the date of its issue shall, however, be cancelled, and the amount shall be written back in the manner prescribed in rule 206.

Cheques lapsed or lost.

196. Cheques are current for three months only. After the expiration of that period, payment will be refused at the treasury, and the person in whose favour the cheque was drawn will, therefore, have to bring it back to be re-dated. No fresh cheque should be issued; the lapsed cheque shall simply be re-dated and the alteration initialled by the Chairman or official whose duty it would be to sign the cheque under rule. A note of the fact of re-dating shall be entered in the cash-book against the original transaction. The alteration will in no way affect the accounts, and no further entries shall be made.

197. When a cheque is reported as lost during the period of its currency the Chairman shall forward to the Treasury Officer concerned a certificate in the following form for signature:—

Certified that cheque No. , dated for Rs. reported by the (disbursing officer) to have been drawn by him on this treasury in favour of has not been paid and will not be paid if presented hereafter.

Treasury Officer.

TREASURY,

The 19 .

198. On receipt from the Treasury Officer of the certificate signed by him, the Chairman will draw a new cheque in lieu of it, the fact of the loss and the number and date of the new cheque will be recorded on the counterfoil of the old cheque, and the number and date of the old cheque that is lost will be recorded on the counterfoil of the new one. The fact of the new cheque having been issued will be entered on the date of issue in red ink parenthetically in the cash-book but not in the column for payment. A note will also be made against the original entry in the cash-book.

Correction of the Cash-book and Abstract Registers when Cheques are cancelled.

199. If the cheque is cancelled in the month of issue before the cash-book is closed and before the abstract register has been posted, all that is necessary is to strike out the entry in red ink under the initials of the Chairman. If, however, the abstract register has been posted and the correction is made in the same year, the cheque shall be removed from the list of outstanding cheques, and the amount credited in the cash-book as a miscellaneous receipt, "deduct" entries being at the same time made in the adjustment register under that head and the head of expenditure to which it was originally charged.

200. If, in any case, a cheque is cancelled after the accounts of the year have been compiled and published, the cheque shall be removed from the list of outstanding cheques, and the amount shall only be entered in the cash-book as miscellaneous receipt and an adjustment made in the accounts in accordance with the instructions contained in rules 206 (d) and 208.

Abstract Register of Receipts and Expenditure.

201. All the entries on the receipt side of the cash-book, Form No. 48, shall be posted item by item direct from the cash-book into the abstract register of receipts, Form No. 49, and all the entries on the payment side of the cash-book shall be similarly posted into the abstract register of expenditure, Form No. 50.

202. The abstract registers shall be posted as frequently as may be convenient, but in no case later than ten days after the close of the month to which the accounts relate.

203. The columns of the abstract registers shall be totalled every month and the totals of the cash transaction must necessarily be equal to and shall be compared by the Chairman with the totals of receipts and payments in the cash-book. He shall initial the abstract registers in token of having made this comparison.

Adjustments.

204. For the record of transactions other than cash a register of adjustments shall be opened in Form No. 51.

205. (1) The chief adjustments to be dealt with in the said register are :—

(1) Rectifications of error in classification.

(2) The adjustment of a bill against an advance.

(3) The charge to a head of expenditure by credit to deposits of a sum due on a contractor's bill which sum is retained as security deposit

NOTE.—The 10 per cent. deductions from contract certificates or other provisional disallowances pending inspection or approval of the work shall not be adjusted under this rule. In such cases only the net amount paid shall be entered in the accounts.

(4) Adjustments due to refund of income or recoveries of expenditure.

(2) These transactions shall be entered item by item in the register of adjustments (Form No. 51), the totals being passed from this register into the abstract registers of receipts and expenditure, but before the postings are made in the abstract registers the net total of the receipt heads shall be agreed with the net total of the payment heads.

206. The methods of entry in the register of adjustments shall be as follows :—

(a) In case (1) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the space for "add entries" in the column for the head to which the amount is to be added, and again in red ink in the space for "deduct entries" in the column for the head from which the amount is to be deducted. Both entries will be made on the receipt side, if the amount is to be transferred from one head of receipt to another; and both will be made on the expenditure side if the amount is to be transferred from one head of expenditure to another.

(b) In case (2) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the space for "add entries" in the column of the expenditure side for the head to which charges on account of the particular expenditure incurred are to be taken and on the receipt side in the space for "add entries" under the head "advances recovered." A corresponding entry must be made on the receipt or credit side of the advance ledger (Form No. 36) of the person by whom the expenditure was incurred and to whom the amount adjusted was originally advanced.

(c) In case (3) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount on the expenditure side in the space for "add entries" in the column for the head to which the balance of the charges of the bill from which the deduction has been made has been taken, and on the receipt side in the space for "add entries" under "deposits received."

(d) In case (4) an adjustment shall ordinarily be made by deduction from similar receipts or payments of the current year, but a refund of expenditure exceeding Rs. 500 shall be finally credited as a receipt under the corresponding revenue head.

207. When income is refunded, the refund shall be charged in the cash-book to the major head of expenditure corresponding to the major head of receipt to which it was originally credited, or if there is no such head, to "32—Miscellaneous." The amount shall then be deducted in the adjustment register from both the head of receipt to which it was originally credited and the head of expenditure to which the refund is charged.

208. When the expenditure is recovered, the amount shall be credited in the cash-book to the major head of receipt corresponding to the major head to which the expenditure was originally charged, or if there is no such head, to "XXV—Miscellaneous." The amount shall then be deducted in the adjustment register from both the head of expenditure to which it was originally charged, and the head of receipt to which the recovery is credited.

NOTE—Adjustments affecting the Advance and Deposit heads shall be made even after the close of the year

209. Adjustments made by deduction in the abstract registers shall always be written in red ink.

Vice-Chairman's Orders for Adjustment.

210. Specific orders of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman for adjustments shall be taken in cases (1) and (2) in rule 205 on the bill or voucher, and in cases (3) and (4) in that rule on separate memoranda which shall be filed.

Adjustment of Educational Charges.

211. The procedure indicated in rules 212 and 213 is to be adopted in cases where it is found inconvenient to require that the fees and fines realized in schools shall be remitted to the treasury, and where consequently they are allowed to be retained in part payment of the expenses of the school. As this practice necessitates the opening of a special register, and entails an appreciable increase of work in the Account branch of the office of the District Board, it shall not be adopted unless the remittance of school fees to the treasury is really a matter of considerable difficulty.

212. Each bill as it is received shall be entered in a register in Form No. 52.

213. The gross amount of each bill shall equal the total of the two columns "net amount paid by cheque" and "adjustment—receipt side—Fees and fines from schools and contributions;" and the amount of the adjustment on the receipt side shall be equal to that on the payment side under the head "Secondary schools," "Primary schools" or "Other schools." The adjustments in the accounts shall be made monthly through the adjustment register from the total figure arrived at in this register.

(See rules 60 and 61)

Incorporation of the Local Board transactions in the District Board Accounts.

214. The transactions of the Local Board, as exhibited in the authenticated copy of their cash-book, shall be scrutinised and passed by the Chairman of the District Board, and shall be at once incorporated in the cash-book and other accounts of the District Board.

215. Separate serial numbers for the year with some distinguishing mark for each Local Board shall be assigned to the vouchers of Local Boards, e.g., Sadar Local Board's vouchers may run from A1 to A100 for the year, and that of other Local Boards from B1, C1, etc. These vouchers shall be filed separately from the District Board's vouchers.

Incorporation of the Union Committees transactions in the District Board Office.

216. Contributions from the District Fund shall be debited in the District Board's accounts to the head of "Advances—Advances to Union Committees," and when they appear as receipts in the account submitted by the Union Committee, the same head shall be credited. All other receipts and charges shall be recorded under the appropriate revenue and service heads of accounts. The transactions of the Union Committees exhibited in the quarterly account shall be incorporated in the cash-book of the District Board after the transactions of the Local Boards. The total payments only under each head of account shall be recorded, and not the details shown in the vouchers.

Monthly, quarterly and annual accounts.

217. Registers of monthly and quarterly receipts and expenditure shall be kept in Forms Nos. 53 and 54, and shall be compiled from the abstract registers. The progress of expenditure as compared with allotment shall be shown in such detail as may be necessary, the particulars being obtained from the cash book.

218. In the first month of every quarter a copy of the "monthly and quarterly accounts" showing only the budget estimate and quarterly figures for the previous quarter's receipts and expenditure shall be published by lodging a copy signed by the members of the Finance Committee and countersigned by both Chairman and Vice-Chairman in the office of the Magistrate and Collector of the district.

219. (1) An annual account in Form No. 55 showing the consolidated receipts and expenditure for the year shall be published in the same manner as the quarterly accounts not later than the second month of the next year. It shall be accompanied by a schedule setting forth the sums expended on each work under—

45. Civil Works—

Original works—

1. Civil Buildings.
2. Communications.
3. Miscellaneous Public Improvements.

Water-supply and Water-works—

1. New tanks and wells.

Drainage works.

These details may be obtained from the register of work bills.

(2) A copy of the annual account shall at the same time be despatched to the Accountant-General.

Office Order Book.

220. An office order book shall be kept by the District Board in which all appointments, promotions, leave, suspensions, fines, office arrangements and orders generally shall be noted. The Vice-Chairman shall see that this order book is kept in a correct and complete manner.

Establishment Check Register.

221. The whole establishment of the District Board shall be recorded in the establishment check register (Form No. 56) in which every appointment as made shall be entered. The entries in columns 1 to 6 of the register shall be made from the sanctions for each appointment, and shall be grouped according to the different branches of the establishment, a total being made for each. When any revision of the establishment is made the details of the revision shall be noted in the register, the number and date of the Resolution or order being quoted in column 1 thereof. Every entry in this register shall be initialled by the Chairman, Vice-Chairman or Secretary.

222. Details of every establishment bill after it is checked by the accountant shall be posted into the establishment check register (Form No. 56). Pay shall be recorded under the month for which it is due, not under that in which it is disbursed.

Temporary Establishment.

223. Temporary establishment shall be entered in the establishment check register (Form No. 56) at the end of the space allotted for the permanent establishment and shall not be mixed up with it. The period for which the temporary establishment is sanctioned shall be distinctly specified in the second column below the details of appointments sanctioned and lines shall be drawn across the columns of the months previous and subsequent to such period, so as to prevent admission by oversight of pay for a period in excess of sanction.

Fixed Recurring Charges.

224. Other fixed recurring charges, such as scholarships, grants-in-aid, rents, chaukidari and municipal taxes payable by the District Board and periodical contributions to Government for pay and allowances of Sub-Assistant Surgeons and Veterinary Assistants, etc., shall be recorded and checked in the same manner as establishment charges. The establishment check register (Form No. 56) shall be used for this purpose, separate pages being opened therein for these charges.

Register of Lands.

225. A proper record of all lands, including roads, lands on road sides, sites of buildings, tanks, etc., in the possession of the District Boards shall be kept in Form No. 57.

226. If any plot of land shown in the register is sold or otherwise transferred from the possession of the Board, the entry for it should be struck off, and the facts in connection with the transfer stated in the column for remarks under the initials of the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman.

227. The Chairman shall periodically, but not less than once a year, re-examine the register of immovable property and satisfy himself that the record is correct and complete. He shall take such steps as he may consider necessary to have the boundaries of immovable property verified.

Register of Properties.

228. Registers and stock books (Form No. 60) of movable and immovable property which belongs to the Board shall be maintained as shown in the table below. Where no officer is specifically mentioned in column 2 the Chairman shall decide what official shall be the officer in charge. A separate list shall be prepared and hung up in each building owned by the Board showing the furniture, etc., contained in it. No separate list is required for such things as forms, medicines and stores which are in process of consumption and are shown in a stock book where balances are struck :—

Class of property.	Official responsible.	Form No.	Balance to be checked.	Checking Officer.
1. Stamp	Officer in-charge	30	At the time of each recoupment	Secretary or Accountant.

12. Other properties ...	Officer-in-charge	60	......	......

* In a Veterinary Hospital, the Veterinary Assistant shall be the officer-in-charge.

Annual Verification of Properties.

229. All movable property of the Board at head-quarters shall be verified annually by such members of the Board as are appointed by the Board for this purpose. Movable property in buildings away from head-quarters shall be verified at least once in two years in the same manner, provided that furniture and apparatus in vernacular schools shall be verified annually by the Deputy and Sub-Inspectors of Schools. In the case of dispensaries the verification by members shall extend to furniture only. Stock books of medicines and instruments shall be examined by Civil Surgeons.

230. The verifying officer shall personally satisfy himself that the balances are correct and shall sign and date the register or stock book and the list (if any) and shall report the result to the Chairman.

231. When for any reason it is not possible to verify the whole balance of one form of property in one day, the verifying officer shall verify a portion each day, and take precaution that each portion verified is secured from interference until he has verified the whole.

Indent Book of Stores.

232. All orders for supplies required for the Board itself or for the educational and other institutions under it, shall be issued in Form No. 58, duly signed by the Chairman. The Chairman shall see that the persons or firms concerned furnish bills for payment immediately after the completion of the supplies, supported by the order. The date of completion of the supply, the date of receipt of the bill, and the date of payment shall be promptly noted on the office copy of the indent by the accountant, as each stage occurs.

Destruction of Records.

233. At the close of every year the Chairman of the District Board shall consider what records of the District Board's office may properly be destroyed. In giving sanction to the destruction of such records, he shall be guided by the general rules issued by Government from time to time in this behalf. At the same time, he shall submit to the Inspector of Local Works a list of those records of the District Engineer's Office which may properly be destroyed. In giving sanction to the destruction of such records, the Inspector of Local Works shall be guided by the provisions of the Public Works Code.

NOW THIS INDENTURE witnesseth that in pursuance of and for effectuating the said condition and in consideration of the premises he the said doth hereby grant convey and assign unto the mortgagee all that and those the lands hereditaments and premises in the said Schedule hereto described together with their respective appurtenances and all the estate right title and interest whatsoever of the said into out of or upon the same premises or any part thereof and* all deeds pattas evidences and writings or other muniments of title whatsoever relating to the said hereditaments and premises or any part thereof and now in the custody power or control of the said

* A mortgage without possession of the title deeds is practically worthless, hence in every case the officer taking the security should be careful to obtain from the principal executing the mortgage all his title deeds.

TO HAVE AND TO HOLD the said lands and hereditaments and all and singular other the premises hereinbefore expressed to be hereby assured with their appurtenances all (which hereditaments and premises are hereinafter referred to "as the said mortgaged premises") unto the mortgagee for ever freed and discharged from all claims and demands but subject nevertheless to the proviso for redemption next hereinafter contained. Provided always and it is hereby agreed and declared that if the said his heirs executors administrators representatives or assigns or some or one of them shall at all times carry out and perform all and every the conditions set forth in the said Bond and on his part to be performed and observed then and at any time not earlier than six months after a final adjustment of account between the said or his representatives on the one part and the mortgagee or his representatives or his or their successors in office on the other part the mortgagee shall upon the request and at the cost and charges in all things of the said or his representatives reconvey the said mortgaged premises unto the said his heirs executors administrators representatives or assigns or as he or they shall direct : PROVIDED ALSO and it is hereby further agreed and declared that it shall be lawful for the mortgagee at any time after the said shall have failed to carry out and perform any of the conditions set forth in the said Bond without any further consent on his part to make sale and dispose of the said mortgaged premises or any part thereof either by public auction or private contract and either together or in parcels and either subject or not subject to any special or other conditions or stipulations relative to title or evidence of title or otherwise as may appear expedient and with full power to buy in the same or any part thereof at any auction and to rescind or vary the terms of any contract for sale and to re-sell without being answerable for any loss occasioned thereby and otherwise to act in relation to such sale or sales as may be deemed expedient and for the purposes aforesaid or any of them to execute and do all such assurances and things as to the mortgagee shall seem proper : PROVIDED NEVERTHELESS and it is hereby agreed and declared that upon any sale purporting to be made in pursuance of the aforesaid power in that behalf the purchaser or purchasers shall not be bound to see or to enquire whether any such failure as aforesaid has happened or as to the necessity or expediency or regularity of such sale and notwithstanding any irregularity or impropriety whatsoever in any such sale the same shall as far as regards the safety and protection of the purchaser or purchasers and whether he or they shall have brought with notice thereof or not be within the aforesaid power of sale in that behalf and be valid and effectual accordingly and the remedy of the said his heirs executors administrators representatives or assigns in respect of any impropriety or irregularity whatsoever in any such sale shall be in damages only : AND it is also agreed and declared that upon any such sale as aforesaid the receipt of the mortgagee for the purchase-money of the premises sold shall effectually discharge the purchaser or purchasers therefrom and from being concerned to see to the application or being answerable for any loss or misapplication or non-application thereof : AND it is further agreed and declared that the mortgagee shall by and out of the monies which shall arise from any such sale as aforesaid in the first place reimburse himself or pay and discharge all the costs and expenses incurred in or about such sale or otherwise in respect of the said premises and in the next place apply such monies in or towards the payment or satisfaction of the said sum of Rs. and then hold the surplus if any in trust for the sale

PROVIDED ALSO and it is hereby agreed and declared that the mortgagee shall not be answerable or accountable for any involuntary losses, which may happen in or about the exercise of the aforesaid power and trusts in any of them : PROVIDED ALSO and it is hereby agreed and declared all the rights and powers by the Indian Contract Act, 1872, and by the Transfer of Property Act 1882 respectively conferred upon a mortgagee or pledgee which are in any way applicable to a security of the nature of these presents and which do not in any way conflict with or restrict any of the powers herein expressly set forth shall be deemed as incorporated herein and as hereby empowering the mortgagee his successors in office or assigns to exercise the said rights and powers or any of them and the said doth hereby for himself his heirs executors admininstrators and representatives covenant with the mortgagee his successors in office and assigns as mentioned in section 65 of the said Act IV of 1882 and that the covenants mentioned in that section shall be considered as embodied in and as forming part of these presents.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the same parties to these presents have hereunto affixed their hands and seals the day and year before written.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING TRAVELLING ALLOWANCE BILLS

1. Journeys of different kinds and journey and halts should not be entered on the same line.

2. Number of miles travelled should be entered in all cases of journeys by road or by boat.

3. Permanent travelling, conveyance and horse allowances should be drawn along with the pay of the Officer and not on travelling allowance bills.

4. Fractions of a mile in the total of a bill for any one journey should not be charged for.

5. When the first item of travelling allowance to any officer is a halt, the date of commencement of that halt should be stated in the Remarks column.

6. Totals of columns 14 and 15 will be, not of the miles travelled, but of the days concerned, those for which half mileage rates are admissible being shown as half days.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING THE TRAVELLING ALLOWANCE BILLS.

1. Journeys of different kinds, and journeys and halts, should not be entered on the same line. Only one kind of allowance should, therefore, be filled in on the same line and its amount carried out separately into the last money column.

2. Hours of journey should be mentioned only—

(1) when, for an absence from head-quarters of not more than two consecutive days, daily allowance is claimed for two days;

(2) when mileage or actual expenses in lieu thereof are claimed;

(3) when both railway or steamer fare and daily allowance are claimed in respect of a journey by rail or steamer and immediately preceded or followed by a journey by road or by a halt.

3. Number of miles travelled should be entered in all cases of journeys by road or by boat.

4. The daily allowance of an officer acting in an appointment should be calculated on the pay or maximum pay of the appointment. (In the column "Pay" the full sanctioned pay of an appointment officiated in should be shown, but in the column "Designation" the word "Acting" should be entered against officers who are officiating in appointments.)

5. Permanent travelling, conveyance and horse allowances should be drawn along with the pay of the officer and not on Travelling Allowance Bills.

6. Fractions of a mile in the total for each person should not be charged for.

7. When the first item of travelling allowance to any officer is a halt, the date of commencement of that halt should be stated in the Remarks column.

Scale of daily allowance admissible to non-gazetted officer not included in Appendix 25 of Civil Service Regulations.

CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA.

NOTICE.

IN compliance with the provisions of section 565 of the Calcutta Municipal Act and in supersession of the previous notice of amendment, dated the 8th June 1918, it is hereby notified that the General Committee of the Corporation propose to amend clause 9 of the by-laws under section 559(8) of that Act specifying the material and pattern of taps to be used in connection with the water-supply in the manner shown below :—

The existing and the proposed by-laws are as follows :—

Existing.

All taps must be made of brass and must be of the screw-down loose valve type or of such other type approved by the Engineer as to obviate all risk of concussion in the pipes owing to the tap being closed too rapidly. Taps shall not be of the plug or barrel type or of any similar pattern. They must be of the best and most approved kind and the name of the maker must in each case be stamped upon them.

Proposed.

All water taps must be made of metal or metal substitute, the metal and the pattern to be approved by the Chairman. Each tap must be stamped with the maker's name or trade mark and the country of origin.

Any person having any objection to the proposed by-law may submit the same so as to reach the undersigned on or before Monday, the 21st October 1918, after which the proposed amendment will be further proceeded with.

NOTICE.

THE BIHAR AND ORISSA MEDICAL EXAMINATION BOARD.

Examinations under new Transitory Provision.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that, any person who has undergone a full course of training at any Medical School or College, which is not recognized by the Bihar and Orissa Council of Medical Registration, but has obtained from the head of such School or College a certificate to that effect, may, at the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, be granted a certificate enabling him to appear at the Final Examination for the Licentiateship of the Bihar and Orissa Medical Examination Board up to and in childing the examination to be held by the Board in November 1919. On his appearing at such examination and his satisfying the examiners, every such successful candidate shall be deemed eligible to be admitted as a Licentiate of the Board, which has been authorized under the Indian Medical Degrees Act, 1916, to issue medical licenses. This concession shall apply to only those practitioners who were employed or were in practice in the Province of Bihar and Orissa on the 15th July 1918.

2. The examinations of the Bihar and Orissa Medical Examination Board are held twice a year simultaneously at two centres only, namely, (1) the Temple Medical School at Bankipur and (2) the Orissa Medical School at Cuttack.

3. The Temple Medical School at Bankipur, shall be the centre for candidates from all the districts of the Patna, Tirhut and the Bhagalpur Divisions and for the districts of Ranchi, Hazaribagh and Palamau of the Chota Nagpur Division. The Orissa Medical School at Cuttack shall be the centre for candidates from all the districts of the Orissa Division and from the districts of Manbhum and Singhbhum of the Chota Nagpur Division.

4. The Final Examination of the Board comprises the following subjects :—

(a) Medicine and Therapeutics.
(b) Surgery (including operative surgery).
(c) Midwifery and Gynæcology.
(d) Medical Jurisprudence and Lunacy.
(e) Hygiene and Vaccination.
(f) Pathology (general and special).

5. The examination shall be written, oral and practical in each subject. The scope of the examination shall be in accordance with the prescribed syllabus.

6. To pass the examination, every candidate must obtain 50 per cent. of the maximum number of marks in each subject, provided that he has obtained not less than 50 per cent. of the maximum number of marks in the oral and practical portions.

7. The full fee for each examination must be paid to the Secretary to the Board on or before such date prior to the examination as may be fixed by the Board and notified by the Secretary.

8. No candidate shall be entitled to claim a refund of the fee or any portion of it because he has failed to pass or because he has failed to present himself for examination.

9. Any candidate, who fails to pass, may be admitted to any subsequent examination up to and including that to be held in November 1919 on payment on each occasion of the full amount of the prescribed fee.

10. The fee payable for each examination shall be thirty rupees for each candidate appearing under the transitory provision.

11. A candidate, who fails in not more than two subjects, shall, on payment of a fee of ten rupees for each subject, be permitted to appear in such subject or subjects at a subsequent examination.

12. The ensuing examination of the Board will commence on Tuesday, the 26th November 1918, simultaneously at the two prescribed centres.

13. Applications, in the prescribed form appended to this notice, of intending candidates under the transitory provisions must reach the Secretary, Bihar and Orissa Medical Examination Board, at Ranchi Secretariat, not later than Saturday, the 9th November 1918. The prescribed fees must be remitted by postal money-order to the Secretary by the prescribed date.

14. The order of examination for the written portion shall be according to the following time table :—

Tuesday, 26th November 1918—

10 A.M. to 1 P.M.—Medicine. | 2 P.M. to 5 P.M.—Surgery.

Wednesday, 27th November 1918—

JATENDRA MOHAN SINHA, for Collector.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned lots of land no longer required by Government, situated along the Bhairab-Tangi Branch of the Assam-Bengal Railway, in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at Dacca Collectorate, at 11 A.M., on 21st day of October 1918, corresponding with the 4th of Kartik 1325 B.S.

The purchasers of the several lots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway land, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in case of original sale.

4th.—The lots of land will be sold to the highest bidders subject to the payment of usual rent to their immediate superior landlords.

5th.—The sale will become final on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioners confirming it and a regular conveyance will then be granted to the purchasers.

Notice to Tenderers.

(See A. R. I., Vol. III, paras. 135 and 136.)

I.—Sealed Tenders for the supply of the undermentioned supplies/services from 10th October 1918 to 31st July 1919 will be received by the Superintendent, Remount Depôt, Calcutta, up to 4 P.M., on the 19th September 1918.

II.—Forms of "Tender" and "Schedules" (I. A. F. Z2120, 2121 and 2122) of the stores for the supply of which tenders are invited are obtainable on payment at the rate of Re 1 per set on application in writing, and samples of the articles to be supplied can be inspected at the Remount Depôt, Calcutta, any day (Sundays and holidays excepted) between the hours of 10 A.M. and 2 P.M.

III.—Tenders will only be received in accordance with the conditions on these printed forms, which must be submitted in English and should specify in words as well as in figures the rate at which each description of article named in them will be delivered. Fractional parts of pies in rates will not be accepted. Tenders must be duly signed and completed in accordance with the instructions they contain.

IV.—Tenders (Bids*) should be accompanied by a deposit in the form of a Presidency Bank/Treasury Receipt or Government Promissory Notes, Provincial or Municipal debentures, or Port Trust bonds as earnest money, at the rate of 2 per cent. on the total value of the stores tendered for, subject to a minimum of Rs. 25, which deposit will be returned on acceptance or rejection of the tender. In the case of Promissory Notes being furnished they must remain in the name of the depositor.

V.—No security or deposit which the tenderer may have furnished in connection with a previous contract or on any other account can be accepted as earnest money

VI.—The approval or rejection of tenders rests with the Director-General, Army Remount Department, who reserves to himself the right of rejecting any tender, or any items in a tender, without cause assigned. The lowest tender will not of necessity be accepted.

†VII.—Tenders will be opened at this office at 12 A.M. on Friday, the 20th September 1918. Tenderors are invited to attend.

VIII.—Parties tendering are particularly requested to give their addresses in full.

IX.—Any further information required can be obtained on application to this office between the hours of 10 A.M and 4 P.M. (Sundays and holidays excepted).

†X.—Tenders must be sent under a strong cover, securely fastened, sealed with a distinctive device and conspicuously marked "Tender for the supply of Fodder and Salt," and addressed to the Superintendent, Calcutta Remount Depôt, Erindale, Dick Road, Mussoorie, and not to any officer by name.

XI.—Tenders which do not comply with the above conditions will be rejected.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1235L., dated the 5th September, 1918.—The following Report of the Select Committee, which was presented to the Bengal Legislative Council on the 3rd September, 1918 (with the Bill as amended by the Committee), is hereby published for general information :—

THE CALCUTTA HACKNEY-CARRIAGE BILL, 1918.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE CALCUTTA HACKNEY-CARRIAGE BILL, 1918.

WE, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee, to which the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to hackney-carriages and palanquins and to make certain provisions with regard to rickshaws in Calcutta was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill, as amended by us, annexed hereto. In reprinting the Bill, all changes made by us have so far as possible been underlined, but in the present report we refer specifically to such changes only as appear to us to be of some importance. Several minor alterations are not discussed.

Papers No. 1.—Letter No. 538 G.M., dated the 25th March, 1918, from the Vice-Chairman, Garden Reach Municipality.

Paper No. 16.—Letter dated the 22nd July, 1918, from the Secretary, Indian Association.

Clause 2(b).—A reference to other towns and local areas to which the Act may be extended has been inserted in order to put such towns or local areas on the same footing as Calcutta when it is desired to exclude or include any local area in the vicinity of such towns or local areas.

Clause 4 (3).—The portion from "and includes" to the end of this sub-clause has been struck out as we do not consider it advisable that the functions of the Commissioner of Police under the Act should be delegated.

Clause 4 (4).—This sub-clause has been struck out as being unnecessary as there are now only a few references to the Corporation.

Clauses 5 and 8.—We have omitted clause 8 and have revised clause 5 so as to enable the Commissioner of Police to fix the time when hackney-carriages should be registered, as it is not possible to register all hackney-carriages at the same time. Amendments in this respect have also been made in clauses 10 (2), 26 (2), 34 (2) and (3) and 62 (2).

Clause 6.—We consider that the control of hackney-carriages should be transferred from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police in Calcutta, and alterations have been made in this clause and in clauses 4(3), 7, 17(2), 30(2), 60, 79 and 81 with a view to give effect to this transfer.

Clause 7.—We consider that the functions of the Registering Officer should not be delegated to any police-officer below the rank of sergeant, and we also consider that the functions of the Registering Officer conferred by clauses 9, 10, 13, 25, 26, 31, 33 and 61 should be retained by the Registering Officer.

Clause 9(2).—It seems to us desirable to include in this sub-clause a provision to the effect that the Registering Officer shall satisfy himself that the municipal tax in respect of the carriage has been duly paid for the half-year before he registers the carriage.

Clause 10(1).—It seems to us to be necessary to make it clear in this sub-clause that the license shall only be delivered upon payment of the registration fee leviable under a by-law made under clause 71 of the Bill. A similar alteration has been made in clause 26(1).

Clause 12.—We have re-drafted sub-clause (1) to include in it a provision for service of a notice in writing upon owners of hackney-carriages to produce them for inspection at such time as the Registering Officer may appoint.

Similar alterations have been made in clause 28.

Clause 13.—We do not consider it equitable that the driver's license should be cancelled if the carriage is unfit for public use. We have therefore struck out the reference to the driver in this clause. We have made similar alterations in clauses 23, 31 and 42.

Clause 14.—We have added two sub-clauses to this clause in order to make it necessary for the registered owner of a hackney-carriage to give notice of the transfer of his carriage, or of the discontinuance of the use of the carriage as a hackney-carriage.

Clause 17, sub-clause (2).—We consider it desirable to insert a second proviso to enable the carriage to be released on the owner furnishing security for its production.

Sub-clause (3).—We consider that a carriage seized under clause 17(2) may, if necessary, be detained at the Registration office.

Sub-clause (4).—We have extended the period of 10 days to 15 days. We have also inserted a provision for previous advertisement of the auction.

Sub-clause (5).—We have extended the period from 20 days to one month.

Similar alterations have been made in clause 30.

Clause 21.—We have inserted the word "wilfully" before the word "neglects" in order to make intention the essence of the offence. Clauses 40 and 41 have been similarly altered.

Clause 22 (2).—We have extended the period of non-delivery from three days to seven days. A similar alteration has also been made in clause 41(2).

Clause 23.—We have omitted the reference to the driver's license as a consequential amendment following the alteration made in clause 13. We consider that it should be compulsory for the Registering Officer to take possession of the plate in the circumstances and we have therefore substituted "shall" for "may". Similar alterations have been made in clause 42.

Clause 25.—We have inserted the words "or intended to be used" in this clause to enable an owner to have the horses registered, even though there is no carriage to be registered along with them.

Clause 26.—For the reasons noted against clause 10 we have revised sub-clause (1) of this clause.

Clause 28.—For the reasons noted against clause 12 we have revised sub-clause (1) of this clause. We have also added a proviso to sub-clause (2) giving the owner an opportunity before prosecution to explain the non-production of his horse.

Clause 30.—We have revised this clause on the same lines as clause 17.

Clause 31.—For the reasons given against clause 13 we have omitted the reference to the driver's license.

Clause 34A.—This new clause provides for notice to be given of a change of a driver's residence. It is considered desirable that the Registering Officer should know where the drivers actually reside.

Clauses 40 and 41.—The alterations made in these clauses are made for the same reasons as those given against clauses 21 and 22.

Clause 42.—We have revised this clause on the same lines as clause 23.

Clause 45.—We have added a provision requiring the Magistrate to inform the Registering Officer of every endorsement which he makes on the driver's license under this clause.

Clause 47 (2) (c).—We have struck out this alternative provision as being unnecessary. The reference to this provision in the proviso to clause 47 (2) has also been omitted as a consequential amendment.

Clause 49 (2).—We have substituted five miles for four miles as the rate of speed for a hackney-carriage hired by time.

Clause 51.—We have inserted sub-clause (q) in order to prevent carriages being left unattended in streets or public places. Sub-clause (r) is designed to put a stop to the growing evil of the use of hackney-carriages for immoral purposes.

Clause 53.—The words "or attendant" have been inserted after the word "driver" wherever it occurs in this clause, so as to extend the scope of the clause to an attendant.

Clause 57 (1).—We have recast this sub-clause making it optional for the hirer to drive to the nearest Magistrate or to the Registering Officer.

Clause 59 (2).—The words "Local Government" have been substituted for the word "Corporation", as we recommend that the by-laws under clause 71 should be made by the Local Government.

Clause 60 (1).—We consider that in view of the transfer of hackney-carriages to the Commissioner of Police, the Commissioner of Police should be consulted before the Corporation builds public stands under this clause.

Clause 63 (1) (b).—We consider it desirable to include in the particulars of the register of licenses the place where the palanquin is to be kept.

Clause 67 (3).—We have altered the license fee of palanquin bearers from eight annas to four annas. We consider eight annas too much in the case of palanquin bearers.

Clause 71.—Now that the control of hackney-carriages is to be transferred to the police it is advisable that by-laws under the Act should be made by the Local Government.

Sub-clause (jj).—We consider that this new provision is necessary in order to protect hackney-carriage horses from cruel or inhumane treatment.

Sub-clause (l).—We have revised this sub-clause in order that the placing of advertisements on hackney-carriages, etc., may be permitted under certain conditions.

Clause 75 (1).—We have reduced the period within which prosecutions may be instituted from three months to one month, as is the case in Madras, as we consider that offences under this Act should be prosecuted with as little delay as possible.

Clause 76.—We have extended the scope of this clause to include all property, instead of merely that of the Corporation, as it seems right that all property should be treated alike in this respect.

Clause 77 (1).—We have substituted the words "officer in-charge" for the words "Inspector or other officer on duty."

Clause 77 (3).—This sub-clause has been added as it is more convenient for people to make inquiries from the Registering Officer concerning any article left in a public conveyance.

Clause 79 A.—This new clause is based on section 127 of the Public Health Act, 1875 (38 & 39 Vict., c. 55) and section 11 of the Infectious Diseases (Prevention) Act, 1890 (53 & 54 Vict., c. 34) and provides for the disinfection of a hackney-carriage or palanquin engaged to convey a patient suffering from any dangerous infectious disorder or a corpse. We consider that a clause like this is very necessary in this Bill.

Clause 79 B.—We consider it necessary to provide in the Bill that the driver of a hackney-carriage or the bearer of a palanquin should not be arrested nor the carriage or palanquin seized when it is actually used for the conveyance of a passenger until some arrangement is made for the passenger to proceed to his destination, and we have suggested two methods by which this may be effected.

Clause 80 (1).—This sub-clause has been revised on the lines of section 22 of Burma Act IV of 1917.

Clause 81.—We consider that the "Commissioner of Police" should be included in this indemnity clause.

Clause 82.—Some necessary alterations have been made in this clause. A reference to clause 80 has been included in sub-clause (2) in order to provide for the disposal of fees and fines in areas outside Calcutta.

Clause 82A.—This new clause supplies a defect in the existing Act. It provides that a hackney-carriage registered in any town or area outside Calcutta can ply for hire within a radius of six miles from the place where it is registered. This will enable such carriages to ply in adjacent places without being registered in those places.

We recommend that the Bill, as thus amended, be passed.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR.

It is nearly 54 years ago since the first legislation on the subject was undertaken. The objects of that measure were "to restrain the extortion of native livery-stable keepers, to provide a regulated scale of fares and otherwise to place the relations of the carriage-hiring community and the owners and drivers of gharries on a satisfactory footing". It became law as Bengal Act I of 1864. An amending Act was introduced for the more efficient control over drivers, and it became law as Bengal Act V of 1866. This Act continued till 1878. From 1864 to 1878 the Registering Officer was under the control of the Commissioner of Police. In 1878 an amending measure was introduced by the Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds which became Bengal Act IV of 1878, and it authorized the Local Government to place the Registering Officer under the control and supervision of the Corporation, and since 1878 the Registering Officer and the administration of the Hackney-carriage Act have been placed under the Corporation of Calcutta. The history of the administration of the hackney-carriage department under the Corporation is a steady and continuous development, progress and improvement of hackney-carriages in Calcutta. The Corporation had its standing hackney-carriage committee which worked with unremitting zeal and energy for the improvement of the hackney-carriage service and this has been acknowledged by Government. When the department has been for over 40 years under the Corporation which has done so much to improve the service, I hope the Legislature will be very chary to take away the administration of this department from a popular body and place it in the hands of a single person, however exalted his position and authority may be. The Corporation proposed in 1910 an amendment of the Hackney-carriage Act of 1891, in order to further improve the service. An amending Bill was introduced in 1916, but as the Select Committee materially changed it, the Bill was withdrawn, re-drafted and re-introduced this year. If the original Bill had been sent up to the Council the question of transfer of the Hackney-carriage Department to the Police would not have arisen. The Bill of 1918 was sent to the Corporation when the Chairman advocated the transfer of the hackney-carriage to the Police. for he started the idea "that the hackney-carriage should be under the Police and the fire-brigade under the Corporation as was the ordinary system in other countries". He asked "as a quid pro quo that the control of the fire-brigade should be transferred from the Police to the Corporation". There was divergence of opinion amongst the members of the Corporation. Mr. Phelps stated that the hackney-carriage service had attained a certain amount of efficiency after many years and the Police had a lot of important things to do and he, therefore. failed to see what advantage would accrue from the transfer. The Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha, representing an important section of the community, thought that the public would not like the transfer because they would not be able to approach the Police so easily as the Corporation. He emphasized that the public would surely oppose the proposal. The Chairman, Mr. Payne, admitted that there had been substantial improvement in the hackney-carriage service, but he thought it would be a quid pro quo to get the fire-brigade in exchange. In my opinion, it is the idea of getting in hand the fire-brigade department that dominated the proposal. The Corporation, on the advice of Mr. Payne, by a very bare majority (it would not be far wrong to assume by the Chairman's casting vote) resolved "that the control of the hackney-carriages should be transferred to the Police and that the control of the fire-brigade should at the same time be transferred to the Corporation". But, as stated by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, the fire-brigade will not be made over in exchange to the Corporation, and, therefore, it must be assumed that the Corporation is not prepared to part with the hackney-carriage department. It has been urged by two European Associations that the hackney-carriages should be transferred to the Police as, in their opinion, all vehicles should be under their control. May I ask what about the carts? The cart registration is in the hands of the Corporation and I believe it will be admitted that the bullock cart owners and drivers are more difficult to be dealt with than the owners and drivers of hackney-carriages. The present Commissioner of Police asked for the transfer of the hackney-carriage department. His predecessors, during the last 40 years, did not ask for it, and the ground, so far as I understand, urged by Mr. Clarke is the difficulty in serving summonses on hackney-carriage drivers. I do not understand why, now that under the present Bill the addresses and changes of addresses of drivers must be notified to the Registering Officer, what particular difficulty will arise in serving the summons. If there is any difficulty surely the same must appear in the case of bullock carts. I do not know whether the next stage will be to take away cart registration from the Corporation.

Much is said about the efficient supervision of the Police. I do not cast any reflection upon them, but as it may imply relative inefficiency of the Corporation in the matter of the administration of the hackney-carriage department, I should like to quote here what a European Commissioner, representing the Trades Association, observed :—

"Mr. Shelton said that the control exercised over the taxi-cabs in Calcutta was not as it should be. There was no classification of the taxi-cabs, no uniformity in the dress of the drivers, and no inspection of fittings or machinery. He, therefore, suggested that the taxi-cabs should be brought under the control of the Corporation." Further, "Mr. Shelton said that, when this question of controlling the taxi-cabs in Calcutta was discussed previously it was thought that under the Police they would be more efficiently managed; but it proved otherwise. As they had a well-organized department in the Corporation, namely, the hackney-carriage department, he thought they could very efficiently deal with the taxi-cabs. These vehicles were generally in a dirty condition and. therefore, stricter supervision was necessary."

I can confidently state that the public opinion, particularly the Indian section of the community, are opposed to the transfer. Both the British Indian Association (I assume from Raja Hrishikesh Laha's observations) and the Indian Association are strongly opposed to it.

I do not wish to add any observation of mine. As regards the transference of the department to the Police it will not centralize the control in one place, for there is the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals who will deal with the gharrywallahs quite independently of the Police. Next, the Corporation will shortly have a Civil Veterinary Department and all horses and other animals in the city must pass through its hands. The complete control of all animals in Calcutta, inclusive of the S. P. C. A. agency, and the administration of the Glanders and Farcy Act will be transferred to the Corporation. As soon as the war is over and funds are available, the Corporation will organize this department.

Another point is that an appeal against the order of the Registering Officer lies with the Commissioner of Police. Here again I oppose the one-man rule. A Board should be constituted consisting of the representatives of the municipalities included in the area and the Commissioner of Police may be associated with them, and they should form the appellate authority whose decision should be final, or, in the alternative, a Court of Law.

There may be some other points on which I may have to speak in the Council, but it is not necessary to note them all here.

I would recommend that the opinion of public bodies on the new proposal which was not in the Bill as introduced in Council be invited.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR.

I AGREE to the modifications made by the Select Committee in the Hackney-carriage Bill, subject to the following note of dissent :—

Looking to the history of legislation, it appears that Bengal Act V of 1866 which was introduced by Mr. F. R. Cockrell in the Bengal Legislative Council was amended in 1878 by Mr. Reynolds. The Act of 1866 placed the Registering Officer and the administration of the law relating to hackney-carriages entirely under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The object of Mr. Reynolds' amending Act (Bengal Act IV of 1878) was to authorize the Local Government to place the Registering Officer under the control and supervision of the Corporation. Since then the Registering Officer and the administration of the Hackney-carriage Act have been transferred from the Commissioner of Police to the Corporation of Calcutta. Since 1878 the hackney-carriage service has been administered satisfactorily by a body of gentlemen elected by the rate-payers of Calcutta and appointed by Government.

As there are no adequate reasons for this transfer, I do not agree with the majority of the members of the Select Committee who consider that the control of the hackney-carriages should be transferred from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and in my opinion alterations should not, therefore, be made in clauses 6, 4(3), 7, 17(2), 30(2), 60, 79 and 81.

A BILL

to consolidate and amend the law relating to hackney-carriages and palanquins and to make certain provisions with regard to rickshaws in Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to hackney-carriages and palanquins and to make certain provisions with regard to rickshaws in Calcutta ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, commencement and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Calcutta Hackney-carriage Act, 1918 [Cf. s. 1, Ben. Act V of 1911, ss. 1(3), 148.]

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Local Government may, by notification, direct ; and

(3) It shall apply in the first instance only to Calcutta.

Further provisions as to extent.

2. The Local Government may, by notification,—

(a) extend this Act, or any portion thereof, to any other town or local area ; or

(b) exclude from, or include in, Calcutta, or any other town or local area to which this Act is extended under clause (a), any local area in the vicinity of the same and defined in the notification :

Provided that no notification under this section shall be published in respect of any area included in a Military Cantonment without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council :

Provided also that, before finally publishing any notification under this section, the Local Government shall publish a draft of the same in such manner as they may think fit, and any rate-payer or inhabitant of the area affected by such draft may, if he objects to the draft, submit his objection in writing to the Local (Chapter I.—Preliminary.—Clauses 3, 4.)

Government within six weeks from its publication, and the Local Government shall take such objection into consideration.

Repeal

3. (1) The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Act, 1891, is hereby repealed. [Cf. s 2, Ben. Act II of 1891]

(2) This repeal shall not affect the validity of anything done or suffered, or of any right, title, obligation or liability which may have accrued under the said Act; and all registrations made, licenses issued, penalties incurred, and other things duly done under the said Act shall, so far as they are consistent with this Act, be deemed to have been respectively made, issued, incurred or done hereunder.

(3) All proceedings now pending, which may have been commenced under the said Act, shall be deemed to be commenced under this Act.

Definitions

4. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,— [Cf. s 3]

(1) "bearer" when used with reference to rickshaws includes any person employed to draw or push a rickshaw;

(2) "Calcutta" means, subject to the exclusion or inclusion of any local area by notification under clause (b) of section 2, the area described in Schedule I to the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899; Ben Act III of 1899

(3) "the Commissioner of Police" means the officer appointed under section 4 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866; Ben Act IV of 1866

(4) (Omitted);

(5) "hackney-carriage" means any wheeled vehicle, drawn by horses and used for the conveyance of passengers, which is kept, offered or plies for hire by the hour or day or according to distance;

(6) "horse" includes mule and pony;

(7) "notification" means a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette;

(8) "palanquin" means a vehicle for the conveyance of passengers which is carried by men;

(9) "rickshaw" means a two-wheeled vehicle for the conveyance of passengers which is drawn by a man or men; and

(10) "stage-carriage" means any hackney-carriage, the passengers in which pay or are charged separate and distinct fares, or pay or are charged, at the rate of separate and distinct fares, for their respective places or seats therein or conveyance thereby.

CHAPTER II.

REGISTRATION OF HACKNEY-CARRIAGES.

Hackney-carriages to be registered annually.

5. Every hackney-carriage in Calcutta shall be annually registered by a Registering Officer, on such date as the Commissioner of Police may direct. [Cf. s. 5.]

Duties of Registering Officer.

6. (1) The Registering Officer shall be a Deputy Commissioner of Police specially appointed by the Local Government for this purpose, and he shall keep a register in which he shall enter every hackney-carriage under the class prescribed therefor by by-law made under section 71. [Cf. s. 5.]

(2) Every act, matter or thing done by the Registering Officer, under or by virtue of this Act, shall be subject to the control of the Commissioner of Police.

(3) (Omitted).

Power to Registering Officer to delegate his functions.

7. The Registering Officer may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of Police, by general or special order in writing, delegate to any police-officer, not below the rank of sergeant, all or any of the powers and duties conferred or imposed upon the Registering Officer by this Act or any by-law made thereunder, except those conferred or imposed upon him by sections 9, 10, 13, 25, 26, 31, 33 and 61. [New.] [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 18.]

8. (Omitted).

Procedure for registration

9. (1) Any person, who is desirous of registering a hackney-carriage, shall apply to the Registering Officer, stating the class in which he desires that the carriage may be registered, and shall submit the carriage for the inspection of the Registering Officer. [Cf. s. 7.]

(2) The Registering Officer shall satisfy himself that the municipal tax imposed upon such carriage for the current half-year has been paid, and decide whether the carriage is fit to be registered in the class applied for, and shall register it in that class or refuse to grant the application.

(3) The person in whose name any carriage is registered shall be deemed to be the owner of such carriage for the purposes of this Act.

License for carriage.

10. (1) The Registering Officer shall, at the time of registration, upon payment of such fee as may be fixed by by-law made under clause (f) of section 71, deliver a license, duly signed by him, to the owner of every hackney-carriage. [Cf. s. 8.]

(2) Such license shall, if not cancelled or suspended, continue in force for one year from the first day of the month in which the carriage is registered.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter II.—Registration of Hackney-carriages.—Clauses 11—14.)

Particulars of register and license.

11. The following particulars shall be entered in the register, and shall be specified in the license to be given to the owner :— [Cf. s. 9.]

(a) the class, and the number assigned to the carriage in the register :

(b) the name and residence of the owner, the description of the carriage, and the place where such carriage is to be kept ;

(c) the number and description of horses to be employed in drawing such carriage ;

(d) the number of passengers the carriage is licensed to carry ;

(e) the date on which the license was granted ; and

(f) such other particulars as may be prescribed by by-law made under section 71.

Production of carriages for inspection half-yearly.

12. (1) The owner of every hackney-carriage registered under this Act shall, on receipt of a notice in writing in this behalf, produce the carriage before the Registering Officer, for inspection, at such time as may be specified in the notice within two weeks after the expiration of six months from the date of every such registration. [New.]

(2) If the owner of any such carriage fails to produce the same for inspection in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1), he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five rupees for every day during which, after the expiry of the period specified in sub-section (1) and before the carriage is produced for inspection, the carriage is used as a hackney-carriage, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days.

Registration of carriage and owner's license may be cancelled or suspended.

13. The Registering Officer may cancel or suspend, for such period as he thinks fit, the registration of any carriage and the license granted to the owner under this Act, whenever it appears to him that such carriage is unfit for public use. [Cf. s. 11.]

Notice to be given of change of ownership.

14. (1) Whenever any change takes place in the ownership of a hackney-carriage, if the person to whom such carriage is transferred desires to use it as a hackney-carriage, he shall, before so using it, give to the Registering Officer notice in writing of such transfer. [Cf. s. 12.]

(2) Every such notice shall contain the particulars specified in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of section 11.

(3) If any such person, before giving such notice as aforesaid, uses such carriage as a hackney-carriage, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter II.—Registration of Hackney-carriages.—Clauses 15—17.)

(4) Every owner of a hackney-carriage registered under this Act shall, within fourteen days of the transfer of such carriage to another person, or of the discontinuance of the use of the carriage as a hackney-carriage, give notice thereof to the Registering Officer, in the case of a transfer stating the name and residence of the transferee.

(5) If any such owner fails to give notice in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (4), he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

Notice to be given of change of owner's residence or place where carriage is kept.

15. (1) Whenever the owner of a hackney-carriage registered under this Act changes his residence or the place where such carriage is kept, he shall, within one week from the date of such change, give to the Registering Officer a notice in writing thereof. [Cf. s. 13.]

(2) Every such owner who neglects to give such notice shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

Change of ownership or residence to be entered in register.

16. The Registering Officer, on receiving a notice under section 14, sub-section (1) or (4), or section 15, sub-section (1), or after a conviction under section 14, sub-section (3) or (5), or section 15, sub-section (2), shall make the necessary alteration in the register and in the license. [Cf. s. 14.]

Penalty for using unregistered carriage.

17. (1) If any hackney-carriage is used as such without having been duly registered under this Act, the owner of such carriage shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months. [Cf. s. 15.]

(2) Any police-officer, or any person duly authorized by the Commissioner of Police in that behalf, may seize such carriage together with the horses and harness thereof and remove the same to a police-station :

Provided that, if it be proved on arrival at the police-station or afterwards that any horse so removed has been duly registered under this Act with its harness, that horse and harness shall be released forthwith :

Provided also that any carriage so removed shall be released on the owner thereof furnishing security to the satisfaction of the officer in charge of the police-station for the production of the carriage when required.

(3) Any carriage seized under sub-section (2) which is not released under the second proviso thereto may be detained at the police-station or sent to the Registration office and detained there until any fine imposed by the Magistrate has been paid.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter III.—Plate on Hackney-carriage.—Clauses 18—21.)

(4) If the hackney-carriage so seized be not claimed and if any fine imposed be not paid, together with any costs or charges incurred, within fifteen days of such seizure or imposition of such fine, respectively, such carriage may be sold by auction, after previous advertisement of such auction, and the sale-proceeds applied to the payment of the fine and all costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale.

(5) The surplus, if any, if not claimed by the owner within a further period of one month, shall be credited and applied in the same manner as fees and fines realized under this Act.

CHAPTER III.

PLATE ON HACKNEY-CARRIAGE.

Plate to be affixed outside carriage.

18. Upon the registration of any hackney-carriage, the Registering Officer shall cause to be affixed on some conspicuous part of the outside of such carriage a plate bearing the class and the number of such carriage in the register and the number of passengers which it is licensed to carry. [Cf. s. 16.]

Penalty for using carriage without plate

19. If any hackney-carriage is let, used or plies for hire without having a proper plate affixed thereto under this Act, the owner thereof shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days. [Cf. s. 17]

New plate may be had on loss or obliteration of former one

20. If, during the year of registration, the words or figures on any plate affixed to a hackney-carriage become indistinct or obliterated, or if the plate is lost or stolen, the owner of such carriage shall produce the carriage before the Registering Officer and, after proving the loss of the plate or on delivering the defective plate, to the Registering Officer, as the case may be, shall be entitled to have a new plate affixed upon payment of a fee of eight annas: [Cf. s. 18.]

Provided that if any plate, in lieu of which a new plate has been affixed under this section, be afterwards recovered, the same shall forthwith be delivered to the Registering Officer.

Penalty for using obliterated plate or for failing to deliver lost plate when recovered.

21. Every owner of a hackney-carriage registered under this Act who uses or permits to be used any plate after the writing thereon has become indistinct or obliterated, [Cf. s. 18.]

and every person into whose possession any plate which has been lost or stolen comes, and who refuses or wilfully neglects for three days to deliver the same to the Registering Officer as required by the proviso to section 20, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter III.—Plate on Hackney-carriage.—Chapter IV.—Registration and Identification of Horses.—Clauses 22—25.)

Plate to be delivered on expiration of registration.

22. (1) Upon the expiration or other determination of the registration of a hackney-carriage, the owner of such carriage shall cause the plate affixed thereto under this Act to be delivered to the Registering Officer. [Cf. s. 19.]

(2) Any person who, after the expiration of the period aforesaid, wilfully neglects for seven days to deliver the plate to the Registering Officer, and every person who uses or retains any plate affixed in respect of a registration which is no longer in force, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days.

Power to take possession of plate on cancellation or suspension of registration

23. Whenever the Registering Officer cancels or suspends for any period, under section 13, the registration of any hackney-carriage he shall take possession of the plate affixed to such carriage under this Act. [New.]

Penalty for using or having counterfeit plate

24. (1) Every person who, for the purpose of deception or with a view to avoiding any of the provisions of this Act, [Cf. s. 20.]

(i) uses or has in his possession any plate resembling or intended to resemble any plate affixed under this Act, or

(ii) uses, affixes or has in his possession any plate issued under this Act, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month.

(2) The Registering Officer or any police-officer, may seize any plate used or had as aforesaid, wherever the same may be found.

(3) Whenever a police-officer seizes any plate under sub-section (2), he shall forthwith deliver it to the Registering Officer.

CHAPTER IV.

REGISTRATION AND IDENTIFICATION OF HORSES.

Horses to be registered annually.

25. Every horse used, or intended to be used, for drawing a hackney-carriage, together with the harness of such horse, shall be annually registered by the Registering Officer at the time and in the manner provided by Chapter II with respect to the registration of hackney-carriages: [Cf. s. 46.]

Provided that the Registering Officer may refuse to register any horse if such horse or its harness appears to him to be unserviceable or unfit for public use.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter IV.—Registration and Identification of Horses.—Clauses 26—29.)

License for horse.

26. (1) The Registering Officer shall, at the time of registration, upon payment of such fee as may be fixed by by-law made under clause (f) of section 71, deliver a license, duly signed by him, to the owner of every horse. [Cf. s. 8.]

(2) Such license shall, if not cancelled or suspended, continue in force for one year from the first day of the month in which the horse is registered.

Particulars of register and license.

27. (1) The following particulars shall be entered in the register, and shall be specified in the license to be given to the owner, namely:— [Cf. ss 9 47.]

(a) the class of the hackney-carriage with which the horse is to be used, and whether it is to be used singly or in a pair;

(b) the name and residence of the owner;

(c) the number assigned to the horse in the register;

(d) the place where it is intended to keep the horse;

(e) the date on which the license was granted; and

(f) such other particulars as may be prescribed by by-law made under section 71.

(2) All the provisions of this Act in any way relating to the notification to the Registering Officer of the change of ownership and of residence of the owners of hackney-carriages and of the place where such carriages are kept shall be applicable in like manner to the owners of licensed horses.

(3) The person in whose name a horse is for the time being registered shall be deemed to be the owner of such horse for the purposes of this Act. [Cf. s. 7 (3).]

Production of registered horses for inspection half-yearly.

28. (1) The owner of every horse registered under this Act shall, on receipt of a notice in writing in this behalf, produce the horse and the harness used therewith before the Registering Officer, for inspection, at such time as may be specified in the notice within two weeks after the expiration of six months from the date of every such registration. [New.]

(2) If the owner of any such horse fails to produce the same with its harness in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two rupees for every day, during which, after the expiry of the period specified in sub-section (1) and before the horse is produced for inspection, the horse is used to draw a hackney-carriage, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days:

Provided that, before prosecuting the owner under this sub-section, the Registering Officer shall consider any explanation for the failure to produce the horse with its harness that may be put forward by the owner.

Identification of horses.

29. Upon the registration of any horse, the Registering Officer shall cause to be attached or applied to such horse such mark of identification as may be prescribed by by-law made under section 71. [Cf. s. 16.]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter IV.—Registration and Identification of Horses.—Chapter V.—Driver's License and Ticket. —Clauses 30—33.)

Penalty for using horse not bearing identification mark

30. (1) If any horse is employed for drawing a hackney-carriage let or used or plying for hire without bearing a mark of identification attached or applied to it under this Act, the owner of such horse shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days. [Cf s. 17]

(2) Any police-officer, or any person duly authorized by the Commissioner of Police in that behalf may seize such horse with its harness and remove the same to a police-station:

Provided that any horse with its harness so removed shall be released on the owner thereof furnishing security to the satisfaction of the officer in charge of the police-station for the production of the horse and its harness when required.

(3) Any horse with its harness seized under sub-section (2) which is not released under the proviso thereto may be detained at the police-station or sent to the Registration office and detained there until any fine imposed by the Magistrate has been paid.

(4) If the horse and the harness so seized be not claimed and if any fine imposed be not paid, together with any costs or charges incurred, within fifteen days of such seizure or imposition of such fine, respectively, such horse and its harness may be sold by auction, after previous advertisement of such auction, and the sale-proceeds applied to the payment of the fine and all costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale.

(5) The surplus, if any, if not claimed by the owner within a further period of one month, shall be credited and applied in the same manner as fees and fines realized under this Act.

Cancellation or suspension of registration of horse and owner's license

31. The Registering Officer may cancel, or may suspend for such period as he thinks fit, the registration of any horse and the license granted to the owner under this Act, whenever it shall appear to him that such horse or the harness used therewith is unfit for public use. [Cf s. 11.]

Application of certain provisions relating to hackney-carriages to horses

32. All the provisions of this Act in any way relating to the renewing, producing, using, or taking possession of plates affixed to hackney-carriages shall, in like manner, and so far as the same may reasonably be applied, be applicable to the marks of identification attached or applied to horses. [New.]

CHAPTER V.

DRIVER'S LICENSE AND TICKET.

Driver of hackney-carriage to have license.

33. (1) No person shall act as a driver of a hackney-carriage without a license granted by the Registering Officer. [Cf s. 21]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter V.—Driver's License and Ticket.— Clauses 34, 35.)

(2) No person shall be so licensed unless the Registering Officer, after due inquiry, is satisfied—

(a) that he is competent to drive a hackney-carriage, and has a sufficient knowledge of localities in Calcutta;

(b) that he is of sober habits, and has not been convicted of any offence which, in the opinion of the Registering Officer, is of such a nature as to render him unfit to hold a driver's license; and

(c) that he is not less than eighteen years of age.

Particulars and duration of license.

34. (1) Every license granted under section 33, sub-section (1), shall contain— [Cf. s. 21.]

(a) the number of the license;

(b) the name, father's name, place of abode, and age of the person to whom such license is granted;

(c) the date on which the license was granted: and

(d) a summary of the more important statutory provisions and by-laws affecting drivers of hackney-carriages; and shall bear the signature of the Registering Officer.

(2) Every license granted under section 33, sub-section (1), shall, if not cancelled or suspended, continue in force for one year from the first day of the month in which it is granted, and shall thereafter be renewed, provided that the Registering Officer is satisfied that the driver continues to fulfil the conditions prescribed by clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (2) of that section.

(3) For every such license and for every renewal thereof there shall be paid a fee of two rupees.

(Proviso omitted).

Notice to be given of change of driver's residence.

34A. (1) Whenever a driver licensed under this Act changes his residence he shall, within one week from the date of such change, give to the Registering Officer a notice in writing thereof. [Cf. s. 18.]

(2) Every such driver who neglects to give such notice shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

Penalty for not having license, or lending it out.

35. If any person acts as the driver of a hackney-carriage, without holding a license in force for the time being, [Cf. s. 22.]

or transfers, or lends his license, or allows the same to be used by any other person, he shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter V.—Driver's License and Ticket.—Clauses 36—40.)

Penalty for permitting unlicensed person to act as driver

36. If any owner of a hackney-carriage permits any person, who has not obtained a driver's license, or whose license has either expired or been cancelled or suspended, to drive such carriage for hire, he shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days: [Cf. s. 23.]

Provided that such owner and such unlicensed driver shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act, for any act done or omitted to be done by such driver during such employment, in like manner as if such driver had been duly licensed.

Particulars of license to be registered and copy given on payment of fee

37. The particulars of every license which is granted under section 33 shall be entered in the register to be kept for that purpose at the office of the Registering Officer; and a certified copy of such particulars shall be furnished to every person applying for the same on payment of a fee of eight annas. [Cf. s. 24.]

Driver to wear metal ticket

38. (1) The Registering Officer shall, at the time of granting a license to any driver of a hackney-carriage, deliver to him a metal ticket bearing the number of his license. [Cf. s. 25.]

(2) Every driver to whom such ticket is delivered shall, at all times while acting as driver or while attending before any Magistrate, carry such ticket exposed to view.

(3) In case any such driver omits to wear such ticket exposed to view while acting as driver or attending before a Magistrate, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

Driver entitled to new ticket on loss or obliteration of former one

39. If, during the term of the license, the number on any ticket becomes indistinct or obliterated or the ticket is lost or stolen, the licensed driver shall produce his license before the Registering Officer, and on proving the loss of the ticket or on delivering the defective ticket to the Registering Officer, as the case may be, shall be entitled to have a new ticket upon payment of a fee of eight annas: [Cf. s. 26.]

Provided that, if any ticket, in lieu of which a new ticket has been issued under this section, be afterwards recovered, the same shall forthwith be delivered to the Registering Officer.

Penalty for using obliterated ticket or for failing to deliver lost ticket when recovered

40. Every driver licensed under this Act who uses or wears the ticket granted to him after the number thereon has become indistinct or obliterated, [Cf. s. 26.]

and every person into whose possession any ticket which has been lost or stolen comes and who refuses or wilfully neglects for three days to deliver the same to the Registering Officer as required by the proviso to section 39, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter V.—Driver's License and Ticket.—Clauses 41—45.)

License and ticket to be delivered on expiry

41. (1) Upon the expiration or other determination of any license granted to a driver under this Act, such driver shall deliver his license and ticket to the Registering Officer. [Cf. s. 27.]

(2) Every driver who wilfully neglects for seven days to deliver such expired license and ticket to the Registering Officer, and every person who uses, wears or retains any such expired license or ticket or any license or ticket other than such as shall have been delivered to him under the provisions of this Act, and every person to whom any ticket has been delivered under this Act, who lends or transfers such ticket, whether current or expired, to any other person, and every person who wears or uses the ticket of any other person, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days.

Power to take possession of driver's ticket on cancellation or suspension of registration

42. Whenever the Registering Officer cancels or suspends for any period, under section 13 or section 31, the registration of any hackney-carriage or horse, as the case may be, he shall take possession of the ticket which was delivered to the driver of such carriage under section 38 or section 39. [New.]

Penalty for using or wearing counterfeit ticket

43. (1) Every person who, for the purpose of deception, uses or wears any ticket resembling or intended to resemble any ticket granted under section 38 or section 39 shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month. [Cf. s. 28.]

(2) The Registering Officer or any police-officer may seize any such expired or counterfeit ticket, wherever the same may be found.

(3) Whenever a police-officer seizes any expired or counterfeit ticket under sub-section (2), he shall forthwith deliver it to the Registering Officer.

Penalty for failing to produce license before Magistrate

44. Whenever any driver is summoned to appear before any Magistrate to answer any charge preferred against him under this Act, he shall carry with him his license, and produce the same if required so to do; and any driver who, on such requisition, fails to produce such license shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding five rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding five days. [Cf. s. 29(1).]

Endorsement of conviction, warning or reprimand, on license

45. Whenever a Magistrate convicts a driver of any offence punishable under this Act, or warns him of his liability to punishment for any such offence, or [Cf. s. 29(2).]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter V.—Driver's License and Ticket.—Clauses 46, 47.)

reprimands him in respect of his conduct as a driver, the Magistrate shall endorse on the driver's license—

(a) the nature of the offence for which the driver was convicted, the date of the conviction and the penalty imposed, or

(b) the warning or reprimand given, as the case may be, and shall inform the Registering Officer of every such endorsement.

Revocation or suspension of driver's license on conviction.

46. (1) Any Magistrate before whom any driver is convicted of any offence, whether under this Act or under any other Act, may cancel his license or may suspend the same for such period as the Magistrate thinks fit, and for that purpose may require the driver, or any other person in whose possession such license and the ticket thereto belonging shall then be, to deliver up the same. [Cf. s. 30.]

(2) Every driver or other person who, on being so required, refuses or neglects to deliver up the license and ticket, shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days.

(3) The Magistrate shall forward every license and every ticket delivered to him under sub-section (1) to the Registering Officer, together with a memorandum of his sentence in the case.

(4) The Registering Officer shall enter the fact of such sentence in the register referred to in section 37, and if the license has been suspended, the Registering Officer shall, on application at the end of the period of suspension, re-deliver such license and ticket to the person to whom they were granted.

Power to Registering Officer to cancel or suspend driver's license.

47. (1) If it appears to the Registering Officer that any licensed driver is not a fit person to drive a hackney-carriage, he may cause a notice to be served on such driver, requiring him to appear before the Registering Officer, at such time as may be specified in the notice, for re-examination. Every such notice shall state the reasons for such re-examination. [Cf. ss. 11, 30.]

(2) (a) If such driver fails to appear in pursuance of the notice served under sub-section (1), or

(b) if, upon his appearance, the Registering Officer finds that he is not a fit person to drive the hackney-carriage, or

(c) (Omitted.)

(d) if the owner of the carriage or of the horse used therewith on being summoned to produce the driver to answer any charge preferred against him under this Act fails to do so;

the Registering Officer may cancel the driver's license or may suspend the same for such period as he thinks fit, and may for that purpose require the driver, or any other person in whose possession such license or the ticket thereto belonging may then be, to deliver up the same:

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter VI.—Fares, Hiring and Plying for Hire.—Clauses 48—51.)

Provided that, before passing an order under clause (d), the Registering Officer shall consider any explanation for the failure that may be put forward by the driver or the owner as the case may be.

(3) Every driver or other person who fails to comply with any requisition made upon him under sub-section (2) shall be liable, for every such offence, to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days.

CHAPTER VI.

FARES, HIRING AND PLYING FOR HIRE.

Owner to keep list of fares inside carriage

48. (1) The owner of every hackney-carriage registered under this Act shall cause to be put up, in such manner and in such position as may be directed by the Registering Officer, on the inside of such carriage, a list in such language or languages as the Local Government may, by notification, prescribe, showing the amount of fare according to distance and time which may be demanded and taken from the hirer of such carriage. [Cf. s. 32.]

(2) Every owner who fails to comply with the provision of this section shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

Maximum distance to which driver is bound to drive

49. (1) The driver of every hackney-carriage registered under this Act shall drive such carriage to any place which is not more than six miles from the place where the same has been hired, to which he shall be required by the hirer thereof to drive the same. [Cf. s. 33.]

(2) When any carriage is hired by time, the driver thereof shall drive the same at a rate not less than five miles within one hour.

(3) Any such driver who, without sufficient excuse (the burden of proving which excuse shall lie upon him), fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days.

Penalty for refusing to let a carriage for hire.

50. Any owner, driver, or person in charge of any hackney-carriage registered under this Act, who, without sufficient excuse (the burden of proving which excuse shall lie upon him), refuses to let such carriage for hire, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days and shall also pay to the party complaining such compensation as the Magistrate thinks fit. [Cf. s. 35.]

Penalty on driver and attendant for certain offences.

51. Every driver or attendant of a hackney-carriage who— [Cf. s. 36, Mad. Act V of 1911, s. 37]

(a) is drunk during his employment;

(b) makes use of insulting or abusive language or gesture during his employment;

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter VI.—Fares, Hiring and Plying for Hire.—Clause 52.)

(c) stands (elsewhere than at some stand or other place appointed for the purpose) or loiters, for the purpose of being hired, in or upon any public street, road or place;

(d) suffers his carriage to stand for hire across any street or alongside of any other carriage;

(e) refuses to give way (when he reasonably and conveniently may do so) to any other carriage;

(f) wilfully obstructs or hinders the driver of any other carriage in taking up or setting down any passenger, into, or from such other carriage;

(g) wrongfully prevents or endeavours to prevent the driver of any other carriage from being hired;

(h) demands or takes more than the proper fare to which he is legally entitled;

(i) refuses to admit and carry in his carriage the number of passengers which such carriage is licensed to carry;

(j) carries more than such number of passengers;

(k) refuses to carry by his carriage such quantity of luggage as is prescribed by by-law made under section 71;

(l) being hired, permits or suffers any person to be carried in, or upon, or about such carriage during such hire, without the consent of the person hiring the same;

(m) drives in the carriage any animal which is not so secured as to be under the control of the driver;

(n) being hired by time or distance, before he has been discharged by the hirer, wilfully deserts from the hiring;

(o) plies for hire with any carriage or horse which shall be at the time unfit for public use;

(p) disobeys any direction given by a police-officer for the regulation of traffic and the control of carriages on hackney-carriage stands;

(q) leaves his carriage unattended in any street or public place;

(r) allows his carriage to be used by any person for the purpose of soliciting any other person to immorality, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, or, imprisonment for a period not exceeding two months.

Penalty on driver for refusing to attend at premises of owner.

52. Any licensed driver, employed as a driver by the owner of any hackney-carriage registered under this Act, who, without sufficient excuse, refuses or neglects to attend at the premises where such carriage is kept for the purpose of driving any such carriage, whereby such owner is prevented from letting out the [Cf. s. 37.]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter VI.—Fares, Hiring and Plying for Hire.—Clauses 53—55.)

same, shall be liable for each offence to a fine not exceeding ten rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding seven days.

Owner may be summoned to appear before Magistrate and to produce driver or attendant.

53. (1) When a complaint is made before a Magistrate against the driver or attendant of a hackney-carriage registered under this Act for any offence committed by him against the provisions of this Act, or any by-law made hereunder, such Magistrate may, if the driver or attendant fails to appear, forthwith summon the owner of the carriage or of the horse used therewith, or both such owners, as he may consider necessary, personally to appear and to produce the driver or attendant of such carriage to answer the complaint. [Cf. s. 38.]

(2) If any such owner, without reasonable excuse, neglects or refuses to appear personally, or to produce the driver or attendant in compliance with a summons issued under sub-section (1), he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days, and so from time to time, as often as he shall be so summoned, until such driver or attendant shall be produced by him :

Provided that if such owner, without reasonable excuse, neglects or refuses to appear personally, or to produce such driver or attendant on the second or any subsequent summons requiring him so to do, the Magistrate may proceed to hear and determine the complaint in the absence of the owner and the driver or attendant, as the case may be, or any of them.

Procedure on refusal to pay fare

54. (1) If any person, who has hired a hackney-carriage registered under this Act, and who, without sufficient excuse, refuses to pay to the owner or driver thereof, on demand, the proper fare to which he is entitled the Magistrate may order payment of such fare and also of such compensation for loss of time as shall seem reasonable. [Cf. s. 39.]

(2) If any person who has used any such carriage attempts to evade payment of the fare, or any portion of the same, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, or to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days in addition to the payment of such fare and compensation, as hereinbefore mentioned.

Penalty for destroying carriage-plate, etc.

55. Any person who maliciously or knowingly tears, destroys, defaces, obliterates or removes any plate, table of fares, driver's ticket or mark of identification which has been affixed, put up, granted, attached or applied under the provisions of this Act, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days. [Cf. s. 40(1).]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter VI.—Fares, Hiring and Plying for Hire.—Clauses 56—60.)

Penalty for wilful injury to carriage

56. Any person using a hackney-carriage registered under this Act who wilfully injures the same, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days; and shall also pay to the owner of the carriage such compensation for the injury, as the Magistrate may direct. [Cf s 41]

Disputes how to be settled

57. (1) In case of any dispute between the hirer and driver of any hackney-carriage registered under this Act, [Cf s 42]

the hirer may require the driver to drive to the Court of the nearest Magistrate or to the Registering Officer; and, if any driver refuses to obey such requisition, the hirer may give such driver into the custody of the nearest police-officer.

(2) The police-officer shall thereupon take the driver and the hirer, together with the carriage and horse, to such Court or Registering Officer, and the Magistrate or Registering Officer, as the case may be, may hear and determine the dispute in a summary way.

Table of distances signed by Registering Officer conclusive

58. In the case of disputes as to fare to be calculated according to the distance, any table or book signed by the Registering Officer shall, on proof of such signature, be taken to be conclusive evidence of the distances therein stated. [Cf s 43]

Hackney-carriage may ply for hire as stage-carriage

59. (1) Any hackney-carriage registered under this Act may ply for hire as a stage-carriage. [Cf s 44, Mad. Act V of 1911, s 43(2).]

(2) The owner or driver of a carriage so plying for hire or hired as a stage-carriage shall not be subject to any by-law made under clause (g) of section 71, but shall be entitled to demand and take for the hire of such carriage such fares as shall be agreed upon between him and the several hirers, respectively, subject to any maximum which may be prescribed by the Local Government by an order in writing.

(3) All the other provisions of this Act shall be applicable to the case of a hackney-carriage plying as a stage-carriage, so far as the same may be applicable in each case.

Stands to be appointed

60. (1) The Corporation of Calcutta shall, in consultation with the Commissioner of Police, from time to time appoint the places in Calcutta that are to be used as public stands for hackney-carriages. [Cf s 10, Mad Act V of 1911, s 44]

(2) Every public stand so appointed shall have a board placed in a conspicuous place on the same containing a notice in such language or languages as the Local Government may, by notification, prescribe, stating that the stand is a public stand under this Act and specifying the number of carriages that may stand upon it.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter VII.—Palanquins.—Clauses 61—65.)

CHAPTER VII.

PALANQUINS.

Palanquins to be registered annually.

61. Every palanquin plying for hire in Calcutta shall be registered annually by the officer appointed for registering hackney-carriages, at the time and in the manner provided by Chapter II with respect to the registration of hackney-carriages: [Cf. ss. 11, 46.]

Provided that the Registering Officer may refuse to register any palanquin, or may cancel or suspend for such period as he thinks fit, the registration thereof, whenever such palanquin appears to him to be unfit for public use.

License for palanquins.

62. (1) The Registering Officer shall, at the time of registration, deliver a license, duly signed by him, to the owner of every palanquin. [Cf. s. 8.]

(2) Such license shall, if not cancelled or suspended, continue in force for one year from the first day of the month in which the palanquin is registered.

Particulars of register and license.

63. (1) The following particulars shall be entered in the register and shall be specified in the license to be given to the owner, namely:— [Cf. s. 47.]

(a) the number of the palanquin;

(b) the name and residence of the owner, and the place where the palanquin is to be kept;

(c) the number of persons the palanquin is licensed to carry;

(d) the date on which the license was granted;

(e) such other particulars as may be prescribed by by-law made under section 71.

(2) All the provisions of this Act in any way relating to the notification to the Registering Officer of the change of ownership or of residence of the owners of hackney-carriages shall be applicable in like manner to the owners of palanquins.

Plate to be affixed outside palanquin.

64. (1) Upon the registration of any palanquin, the Registering Officer shall cause to be affixed on some conspicuous part of the outside of such palanquin a plate bearing the number of such palanquin in the register and the number of persons it is licensed to carry. [Cf. ss. 16, 17, 48.]

(2) If any palanquin is let, used or plies for hire without having a proper plate affixed thereto under sub-section (1), the owner thereof shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days.

(3) The person in whose name a palanquin is for the time being registered shall be deemed to be the owner thereof for the purposes of this Act.

Application of certain provisions relating to hackney-carriages to palanquins.

65. All the provisions of this Act in any way relating to the cancellation or suspension of the registration of hackney-carriages and to the renewing, producing, using or taking possession of plates affixed to hackney-carriages shall be applicable in like manner to palanquins. [New.]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter VII.—Palanquins.—Chapter VIII.—Rickshaws.—Clauses 66—70.)

Owner to keep list of fares inside palanquin

66. The owner of every palanquin registered under this Act shall cause to be put up, in such manner and in such position as may be directed by the Registering Officer, on the inside of such palanquin, a list in such language, or languages as the Local Government may, by notification, prescribe, showing the amount of fare according to distance and time which may be demanded and taken from the hirer of such palanquin. [Cf. s. 49.]

License for bearers of palanquins

67. (1) No person shall act as the bearer of a palanquin registered under this Act unless such person has obtained a license from the Registering Officer in the manner prescribed by Chapter V for drivers of hackney-carriages. [Cf. s. 51.]

(2) All the provisions of this Act in any way relating to the taking out, granting, renewing, producing or using the licenses, or to the issuing, granting, wearing, using or taking possession of tickets granted to drivers of hackney-carriages, shall be applicable in like manner to the bearers of palanquins.

(3) For every license to act as a palanquin-bearer, granted under this Act, there shall be paid a fee of four annas; and for every renewal thereof there shall be paid a fee of two annas.

Maximum distance to which palanquins are to be carried

68. (1) The bearers of every palanquin registered under this Act shall carry such palanquin to any place which is not more than five miles from the place where the same has been hired, to which they shall be required by the hirer thereof to carry the same. [Cf. s. 52(1) and (2).]

(2) When any such palanquin is hired by time, the bearers thereof may be required to carry it at any rate not exceeding two and a half miles within one hour.

Provisions regarding owners and drivers of hackney-carriages applicable to owners and bearers of palanquins

69. All the provisions of this Act as to offences committed by or against the owners and drivers of hackney-carriages and the penalties in respect of the same and recovery thereof, and all the remedies given to or against hirers, owners or drivers of hackney-carriages, except the provisions contained in section 53, shall be applicable, so far as the same may reasonably be applied, to the owners and bearers of palanquins. [Cf. s. 50.]

CHAPTER VIII.

RICKSHAWS.

Rickshaws

70. All the provisions contained in this Act, relating to palanquins, and the hirers, owners and bearers thereof, shall be applicable, mutatis mutandis, and so far as the same may reasonably be applied, to all rickshaws plying for hire in any town or place in which this Act is in force, and to the hirers, owners and bearers of such rickshaws. [New.]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter IX.—By-laws.—Clauses 71, 72.)

CHAPTER IX.

BY-LAWS.

Power to Local Government to make by-laws.

71. (1) The Local Government may make by-laws generally for carrying out the provisions and intentions of this Act; and in particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, they may make by-laws— [Cf. s. 53.]

(a) regulating the examination and qualification of drivers of hackney-carriages and bearers of palanquins and rickshaws, and the conditions under which they may be employed;

(b) prescribing the uniforms to be worn by drivers and attendants of hackney-carriages;

(c) specifying the description of horses, harness, or other things to be used in hackney-carriages, palanquins and rickshaws, the dimensions and colours of such carriages, palanquins and rickshaws, and prescribing the condition in which such carriages, palanquins and rickshaws and the horses, harness and other things used therewith, shall be kept;

(d) prescribing the mark of identification of horses to be used in any hackney-carriage;

(e) providing for the division of hackney-carriages into classes (if any);

(f) prescribing the fees to be paid for the registration of carriages, horses, palanquins and rickshaws, respectively, under this Act, and for alterations to be made in any register kept thereunder;

(g)* prescribing the fares to be paid for the hire of hackney-carriages, palanquins and rickshaws, respectively;

(h) regulating the quantity of luggage to be carried by hackney-carriages;

(i) for the inspection of the premises on which any such carriages, palanquins, rickshaws, horses, harness and other things are kept;

(j) for the protection of weak, lame or sickly horses and the prevention of their use in hackney-carriages;

(jj) for the regulation of the use of horses in hackney-carriages;

(k) for the publication of a table of distances;

(l) for regulating or preventing the placing of advertisements on or in hackney-carriages, palanquins or rickshaws; and

(m) prescribing particulars to be entered in the registers and licenses under this Act.

(2) By-laws made under this section shall be published in such manner as the Local Government may direct. [C. Ben. Act III of 1884, s. 351A(2).]

Penalty for infringement of by-laws.

72. Whoever infringes any by-law made under this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding ten days. [Cf. s. 54.]

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter X.—Prosecutions.—Chapter XI.—Miscellaneous.—Clauses 73—77.)

CHAPTER X.

PROSECUTIONS.

Effect of substituted service of summons

73. A summons against a driver of a hackney-carriage registered under this Act for any offence against this Act may be served either on the person accused, or on the owner of the carriage, or on the owner of the horse used therewith, and the service on the owner shall be as effectual as if it had been made on the driver personally. [Cf. Act V of 1908, Sch. I, O. V, r. 20 (2).]

Ex parte disposal of criminal charges

74. If, in any prosecution under this Act, the person charged does not appear as directed by the summons, the Magistrate may, upon proof of service, and if no sufficient cause be shown for the non-appearance, proceed to hear and determine the case in his absence. [Cf. s. 55, Mad. Act V of 1911, s. 17.]

Liability to fine when incurred

75. (1) No person shall be liable to prosecution for any offence under this Act, unless the complaint respecting such offence be made within one month from the commission of such offence. [Cf. s. 56, Mad. Act V of 1911, s. 48(2).]

(2) For the purposes of this section every omission punishable under this Act shall be deemed to be a continuing offence so long as the omission continues.

Damage to property to be paid for

76. (1) If, through any act, neglect or default on account whereof any person is fined under this Act, any damage to any property has been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage to the owner of such property as well as to pay such fine. [Cf. s. 57.]

(2) The amount of such damage shall be determined by the Magistrate by whom such person has been fined; and, in default of payment of the amount of such damage on demand, the same may be levied in the same manner as a fine.

CHAPTER XI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Property left in carriage, palanquin or rickshaw to be deposited in police-station

77. (1) If any property is left by any person in a hackney-carriage, palanquin or rickshaw, the driver or bearer thereof, as the case may be, shall, within twenty-four hours, carry such property, if not sooner claimed by the owner thereof, to the nearest police-station, and shall there deposit it with the officer in charge. [Cf. s. 59.]

(2) The said officer shall forthwith enter in a book to be kept for that purpose—

(a) the description of such property;

(b) the name and address of the driver or bearer who brings it;

(c) the day and hour when it is brought;

(d) the name and address of the owner of the hackney-carriage, palanquin or rickshaw in which the property has been left, and the registered number of such carriage, palanquin or rickshaw;

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter XI.—Miscellaneous.—Clauses 78—79B.)

and shall grant a receipt for the same.

(3) The said officer shall also send a copy of every such entry to the Registering Officer.

Penalty for neglecting to deposit property.

78. Any driver or bearer who fails to deposit any property left in a hackney-carriage, palanquin or rickshaw within the time prescribed in section 77, sub-section (1), shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days. [Cf. s. 59 (2).]

Property to be turned to owner.

79. The property entered under section 77, sub-section (2), shall be returned to the person who proves to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Police or such other police-officer, not below the rank of Inspector, as he may appoint in this behalf, that the same belonged to him, on payment of all costs incurred, together with such reasonable sum to the person who brought the same as the Commissioner or such other officer may determine: [Cf. s. 59 (4).]

Provided that, if within six months from the date of such deposit no person satisfies the Commissioner that he is the owner of the property, the Commissioner may cause the property to be sold, or otherwise disposed of; and the proceeds, after deducting therefrom the expenses, together with a reasonable sum to the driver or bearer, shall be credited and applied in the same manner as fees and fines realized under this Act.

Disinfection of hackney-carriage or palanquin after conveying a patient or corpse.

79A. (1) Every owner of a hackney-carriage or palanquin or the driver or bearer thereof, not providing for disinfection of the carriage or palanquin, at a place appointed by the Registering Officer, immediately after it has, with his knowledge, conveyed any person suffering from any dangerous infectious disorder, or after it has been used for conveying a corpse, and which fact had been previously notified by the hirer to the owner, driver or bearer shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and, in default of payment of fine, to simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding fourteen days: [Cf. 38 & 39 Vict., c. 55, s. 127 and 53 & 54 Vict., c. 34, s 11.]

Provided that no such owner, driver or bearer shall be required to convey any person so suffering or any corpse until he has been first paid a sum sufficient to defray the loss and expenses incurred thereby, such sum not to exceed ten rupees in the case of a hackney-carriage and five rupees in the case of a palanquin.

Provision for passenger in case of seizure of hackney-carriage or palanquin.

79B. If a police-officer has cause to arrest a driver of a hackney-carriage or a bearer of a palanquin for any offence under this Act or any other bailable offence, or to seize a hackney-carriage or palanquin or a horse employed in drawing such carriage for a breach of any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made thereunder, when such carriage or palanquin is being used for the conveyance of a passenger, such police-officer shall, if so required by the passenger,—

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter XI.—Miscellaneous.—Clauses 80-82.)

(a) provide him with another carriage or palanquin, or

(b) permit the carriage or palanquin to proceed to the place to which the passenger desires to proceed, and shall thereafter complete the arrest.

Fees and fines how to be dealt with.

80. (1) All fees and fines realized under this Act shall be credited to Government, and all charges incurred on the administration of this Act shall be met from such fees and fines. At the end of each year the balance of fees and fines realized during the year, after all such charges have been met, shall be paid to the Calcutta Municipal Fund. [Cf. s. 60; Bur. Act IV of 1917, s. 22.]

(2) In the event of one or more municipalities being included in Calcutta by virtue of a notification published under clause (b) of section 2, such balance shall be divided annually between the Corporation of Calcutta and such other municipality or municipalities in such proportion as the Local Government may from time to time determine.

Indemnity

81. No suit shall be maintainable against the Commissioner of Police or any municipal authority, officer or servant or any police-officer or any person acting under the direction of the Commissioner of Police or of any municipal authority, officer or servant or of a Magistrate, or of any person appointed under section 82, sub-section (1) of this Act, in respect of anything lawfully and in good faith and with due care and attention done under this Act or any by-law made thereunder. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 636.]

Effect when Act extended outside Calcutta.

82. (1) Whenever this Act is extended to any other town or local area outside Calcutta under clause (a) of section 2, the Local Government may, by notification, appoint persons, or local authorities, to exercise and perform in such town or area the same powers and duties as are conferred or imposed by this Act on the Corporation of Calcutta and the Commissioner of Police, respectively. [Cf. s. 61.]

(2) In each town or local area to which this Act may be extended, for the word "Calcutta" in sections 5, 33, 60, 61 and 80, sub-section (2) shall be read the name of such town or area, and for the words "Calcutta Municipal Fund" in section 80, sub-section (1), shall be read the fund of the local authority for such town or area.

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918.

(Chapter XI.—Miscellaneous—Clause 82A.)

Hackney-carriages outside Calcutta to ply within certain radius.

82A. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, a hackney-carriage registered under this Act in any town or local area outside Calcutta may ply for hire in any place outside Calcutta within a radius of six miles from such town or local area.

(2) All the provisions of this Act shall be applicable to the case of a hackney-carriage plying within such radius, so far as the same may be applicable in each case.

A

to make provision for the prevention of adulteration of food in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision for the prevention of adulteration of food in Bengal;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title and local extent

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Prevention of Adulteration Act, 1918. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 1.]

(2) This section shall extend to the whole of Bengal, except Calcutta as defined in clause (7) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899; and the Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, extend all or any of the other sections of this Act to any local area outside Calcutta in Bengal. [Ben. Act III of 1899]

(3) The Local Government in extending all or any of the sections of this Act, as provided in sub-section (2), may extend the same in respect of all articles of food or may limit the operation of the section or sections extended to any specified article of food.

Definitions

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) an article of food shall be deemed to be "adulterated" if the quality of that article has been reduced, lowered, or injuriously affected— [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 3(a/).]

(i) by the mixing or packing with the article of any other substance; or

(ii) by the substitution for the article of any other substance wholly or in part; or

(iii) by the abstraction from the article of any valuable constituent thereof wholly or in part;

(2) "food" includes every article used for food or drink by man other than drugs or water; [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 2.]

(3) "local area" includes a municipality, cantonment, and any other area declared by the Local Government by notification in the Calcutta Gazette to be a local area for the purposes of this Act;

(4) "local authority" means—

(i) in the case of any municipality, the Chairman of such municipality;

(ii) in the case of a cantonment, the cantonment authority; and

(Chapter I.—Preliminary.—Chapter II.—General Provisions.—Clauses 3—5.)

(iii) in the case of any other local area, the District or Subdivisional Magistrate;

(5) "public analyst" means any person appointed by the Local Government to perform the duties and to exercise the powers of a public analyst as prescribed by this Act.

Power of Local Government to appoint public analyst.

3. The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, appoint a person to be the public analyst for any area specified therein. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 3.]

Power of Local Government to declare normal constituents of any article of food.

4. The Local Government may declare the normal constituents of any article of food and may determine, by rules in this behalf, what deficiency in any of these constituents, or what addition of extraneous matter or proportion of water in a sample of any article of food, shall, for the purposes of this Act, raise a presumption until the contrary is proved that the quality of the article of food has been reduced, lowered or injuriously affected; and a public analyst shall have regard to such rules in certifying the result of an analysis under this Act. [Cf. 62 & 63 Vict., c. 51, s. 4.]

CHAPTER II.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Sale of food.

Prohibition of sale, etc., of food not of the proper nature, substance or quality.

5. (1) No person shall sell to the prejudice of the purchaser any article of food which is not of the nature, substance or quality of the article demanded by such purchaser; and no person shall manufacture for sale any article of food which is not of the nature, substance or quality which it purports to be: [Cf. U. P Act VI of 1912, ss. 4 and 6.]

Provided that an offence shall not be deemed to be committed under this section in the following cases, that is to say:—

(a) where any matter or ingredient not injurious to health has been added to any article of food because the same is required for the production or preparation thereof as an article of commerce, in a state fit for carriage or consumption, and not fraudulently to increase the bulk, weight or measure of the article or to conceal the inferior quality thereof; or

(b) where any article of food is unavoidably mixed with some extraneous matter in the process of collection or preparation; or

(c) where the article of food was purchased by the vendor as the same in nature, substance and quality as that demanded by the purchaser, and with a written warranty to the effect that it was of such nature, substance and quality; or

(d) where the article of food is sold in the same state in which the vendor purchased it; or

(Chapter II.—General Provisions.—Clause 6.)

(e) where a patent has been granted under any law for the time being in force in respect of any article of food, and the article is sold in the state required by the specification of the patent.

(2) In any prosecution under this section it shall be no defence to allege that the vendor or manufacturer was ignorant of the nature, substance or quality of the article sold, exposed for sale or manufactured for sale by him.

(3) In any prosecution under this section the Court shall, unless and until the contrary is proved, presume that any article of food found in the possession of a person who is in the habit of manufacturing like articles for sale has been manufactured for sale by such person.

Prohibition of sale, etc., of articles of food which are not of the prescribed standard of purity.

6. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 5, no person shall sell, expose for sale or manufacture or store for sale, any of the following articles, namely:— [Cf. Bom. Act III of 1888, ss. 415 and 417A.]

(a) milk (other than condensed milk in hermetically closed receptacles),

(b) butter,

(c) ghee,

(d) mustard oil, and

(e) any other article of food which may be notified by the Local Government in this behalf, unless the following conditions are fulfilled, namely:—

(ii) in the case of butter, it shall be exclusively derived from milk or cream (other than condensed milk or cream), or both, with or without salt or other preservative, and with or without the addition of colouring matter, such preservative or colouring matter being of such a nature and in such quantity as not to render the article injurious to health, and shall not contain a greater proportion of water than may be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf; [Cf. 50 & 51 Vict., c. 29, s. 3 and 7 Edw. 7, c. 21, ss. 1 (b) and 4.]

(iii) in the case of ghee, it shall not contain any substance which is not derived exclusively from milk

(Chapter II.—General Provisions.—Clauses 7, 8.)

(iv) in the case of mustard oil, it shall be derived exclusively from mustard seed; and

(v) in the case of any food notified by the Local Government under clause (e), it shall fulfil such conditions as may be prescribed by the Local Government in regard to such food.

(2) No person shall sell, expose for sale, or manufacture or store for sale any thing which is similar to any of the articles specified in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of sub-section (1) or to any article notified by the Local Government under clause (e) of that sub-section, under a name which in any way resembles the name of such article.

(3) In any prosecution under this section the person selling or exposing for sale any of the articles specified in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of sub-section (1), or any article notified by the Local Government under clause (e) of that sub-section, shall not be deemed to have committed an offence, if he proves to the satisfaction of the Court before whom he is charged that the article was purchased by him as the same in nature, substance and quality as that demanded by the purchaser, and with a written warranty to the effect that it was of such nature, substance and quality. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 6(e).]

(4) In any prosecution under this section it shall be no defence to allege that the vendor, manufacturer or storer was ignorant of the nature, substance or quality of the article sold, exposed for sale, or manufactured or stored for sale, by him.

(5) In any prosecution under this section the Court shall, unless and until the contrary is proved, presume that any of the articles specified in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of sub-section (1) or any article notified by the Local Government under clause (e) of that sub-section found in the possession of a person who is in the habit of manufacturing or storing like articles for sale, has been manufactured or stored for sale by such person.

Use of warranty as defence.

7. The warranties referred to in clause (c) of the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 5 and sub-section (3) of section 6 shall not be available as a defence unless the vendor has, within seven days after service of the summons, sent to the purchaser a copy of the warranty with a written notice stating that he intends to rely thereon and specifying the name and address of the person from whom he received it. [Cf. 62 & 63 Vict., c. 51, s. 20(1).]

Prohibition of adulterants in places where ghee, mustard oil, etc., are manufactured.

8. (1) No person shall keep or permit to be kept in any factory, in which butter, ghee, mustard oil or any article notified by the Local Government under clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 6 is manufactured, any substance intended to be used for the adulteration of such butter, ghee, mustard oil or other article. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 495B.]

(2) If any article capable of being so used is found in such factory, the Court shall, unless and until the contrary is proved, presume in any prosecution under this section that it is intended to be used for the purposes of adulteration.

(Chapter II.—General Provisions.—Clauses 9—11.)

Receptacles for separated or skimmed condensed milk to be marked.

[Hongkong Ordinance No. 20 of 1911 s. 2.]

9. No person shall sell or expose for sale any tin or other receptacle containing condensed milk which has been separated or skimmed, unless such tin or receptacle bears a label on which and on its wrapper (if any) it is clearly indicated, both in English and in Bengali, that the milk has been skimmed and is not suitable for feeding infants under one year of age.

Analysis of food.

Power of purchaser to have article of food analysed.

[Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 7.]

10. Any purchaser of an article of food shall be entitled, on payment of such fee as the Local Government may prescribe, to have such article analysed by the public analyst appointed for the area within which such article is purchased and to receive from him a certificate, in the form prescribed in the Schedule to this Act, of the result of his analysis.

Compulsory sale of food, etc., for purpose of analysis.

[Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 507.]

11. (1) Any person duly authorised by the Local Government or by any local authority empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, may require, on tendering the price for it, the sale to him during the process of manufacture, for the purpose of analysis, of such quantity of—

(i) any food, or

(ii) any ingredients used in the manufacture of food,

as is reasonably requisite for division and disposal under section 12; and any person in possession of the said food or ingredients shall be bound to sell such quantity.

(2) Any person duly authorised by the Local Government or by any local authority empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, may also require the surrender to himself, for the purpose of analysis, of such quantity as is reasonably requisite for division and disposal under section 12, of any food which for the purpose of sale is—

(a) in course of transit in any local area, or

(b) stored in any place in the said local area;

and any person in possession of the said food shall be bound to surrender such quantity:

Provided that in every such case the price of the food so surrendered shall be payable from such fund as the Local Government may prescribe to the owner of the food, if claimed by such owner within one month from the date of the said surrender.

(3) Any person duly authorised by the Local Government or by any local authority empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, may also require, by tender of the price, the sale to him, for the purpose of analysis, of such quantity of any food exposed or intended for sale, as is reasonably requisite for division or disposal under section 12; and any person in possession of or exposing the same for sale shall be bound to sell such quantity.

(Chapter II.—General Provisions.—Clauses 12—14.)

Procedure for analysis of food.

12. (1) Any purchaser who wishes to have an article of food analysed under section 10, and any person who purchases, for the purpose of analysis, a sample of food under section 11, sub-section (1) or sub-section (3), shall, after the purchase has been completed, forthwith notify to the seller, or his agent selling the article, his intention to have the same analysed, and shall divide the article into three parts, to be then and there separated, and each part to be marked and sealed or fastened up in any manner which its nature will permit. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 9.]

(2) The person purchasing the article or sample shall deliver one of the said parts to the seller or his agent, and shall retain another part for future comparison, and shall send the remaining part to the public analyst appointed for the area where the article is sold.

(3) When any food is surrendered under section 11, sub-section (2), the person to whom it is surrendered shall forthwith notify to the person in charge of the said food his intention to have the same analysed, and shall thereupon deal with the food so surrendered in the manner provided in sub-sections (1) and (2). [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 507 (2).]

Inspection and seizure of food.

Power to seize food which is believed to be adulterated.

13. (1) Any person duly authorised in this behalf by rule made under this Act may, at any time by day or by night, inspect and examine any food which is being manufactured for sale, or is in course of transit or stored for sale, or is hawked about or exposed for sale, and any utensil or vessel used for preparing, manufacturing or containing any such food; and no person shall offer resistance to, or obstruct, any such inspection or examination. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 503.]

(2) If the person so authorised has reason to believe any such food to be adulterated, he may seize and remove such food, utensil or vessel in order that the same may be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of section 14; and no person shall offer resistance to, or obstruct, any such seizure or removal.

(3) The person authorised as aforesaid may, instead of carrying away any food, utensil or vessel seized under sub-section (2), leave the same in such safe custody as he thinks fit in order that the same may be dealt with as provided in section 14; and no person shall remove such food, utensil or vessel from such custody or interfere or tamper with the same in any way while so detained.

(4) When any food is seized under sub-section (2), the person seizing it shall separate therefrom such quantity as is reasonably requisite for division and disposal for the purposes of this sub-section, and shall thereupon divide and dispose of such quantity in the manner provided in section 12, sub-sections (1) and (2).

Food, etc., seized under section 13 to be taken before Magistrate.

14. (1) Any food, utensil or vessel seized under section 13, sub-section (2), shall, subject to the provisions of sub-sections (3) and (4) of that section, be taken as soon as may be after such seizure, before a Magistrate. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1899, s. 505.]

(Chapter II.—General Provisions.— Clauses 15—18.)

(2) If it appears to the Magistrate that any such food is adulterated, or that any such utensil or vessel is used for preparing, manufacturing or containing the same, he shall cause the food, utensil or vessel to be forfeited to the local authority for the area in which the seizure has taken place, in order that it may be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by that authority, at the cost of the person in whose possession it was at the time of its seizure, and such cost shall be realized as if it were a fine imposed under this Act.

(3) If it appears to the Magistrate that any such food is not adulterated, or that any such utensil or vessel is not used for preparing, manufacturing or containing the same, the person from whose shop or place the food, utensil or vessel was taken shall be entitled to have it restored to him, and it shall be in the discretion of the Magistrate to award to such person from such fund as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, such compensation, not exceeding the actual loss which he has sustained, as the Magistrate may think proper.

Miscellaneous.

Duty of public analyst to supply certificate of analysis

15. (1) Every public analyst to whom any article of food has been submitted for analysis under this Act, shall deliver to the person so submitting it a certificate in the form prescribed in the Schedule to this Act, specifying the result of his analysis, and shall send a copy of the same to the local authority concerned. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 11.]

(2) Any document purporting to be such certificate signed by a public analyst shall be sufficient evidence in any inquiry, trial or proceeding under this Act of the result of such analysis :

Provided that any Court before which a case may be pending under this Act, whether exercising original, appellate or revisional jurisdiction, may, in its discretion, at the request either of the accused or the complainant, cause any article of food to be sent for analysis to the Chemical Examiner to Government, who shall thereupon analyse the same and report the result of such analysis to the said Court; and the expense of such analysis shall be paid by the accused or the complainant as the Court may, by order, direct.

Cognizance of offences.

16. No prosecution for any offence under this Act shall be instituted without the order or consent in writing of the local authority within whose jurisdiction the offence is committed. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 12.]

Jurisdiction.

17. No Magistrate whose powers are less than those of a Magistrate of the second class shall try any offence under this Act. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 13]

Limitation for prosecutions.

18. (1) No summons shall issue for the attendance of any person accused of an offence under this Act unless the same is applied for within thirty days from the date upon which the order or consent referred to in section 16, shall have been made or given. [Cf. U. P. Act VI of 1912, s. 15.]

(Chapter II.—General Provisions.—Clauses 19, 20.)

(2) Every summons issued in a prosecution under this Act shall specify the particulars of the offence charged and the name of the complainant, and the date fixed for the hearing of the case shall not be less than seven days from the day on which the summons is served upon such person.

Fines, etc., how to be credited.

19. All fines realised under this Act in any local area to which all or any of the sections of this Act have been extended, and all other sums, if any, which the Local Government may direct to be utilized for the purposes of this Act, shall be credited—

(i) to the municipal fund, if the local area be within the limits of any municipality;

(ii) to the cantonment fund, if the local area be within the limits of any cantonment; or

(iii) to such fund as the Local Government may direct, in the case of any other local area.

Power of Local Government to make rules.

20. (1) The Local Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act. [Cf. Ben. Act VI of 1911, s. 33.]

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, the Local Government may make rules—

(a) determining what deficiencies in or additions to any article of food, the normal constituents of which have been declared under section 4, shall raise the presumption that the quality of such article has been reduced, lowered or injuriously affected;

(b) prescribing the proportion of non-fatty solids and of fat which must be contained in milk sold, exposed for sale or stored for sale;

(c) prescribing the maximum proportion of water which may be contained in butter sold, exposed for sale or stored for sale;

(d) prescribing the conditions to be fulfilled by any food notified by the Local Government under clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 6;

(e) providing for the appointment by the Local Government, or by any local authority empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, of persons to perform the duties and to exercise the powers mentioned in section 11, or section 13;

(f) prescribing the fees to be charged by a public analyst for analysing articles of food under this Act; and

(g) prescribing the funds to which fines and other sums shall be credited under clause (iii) of section 19.

(Chapter III.—Penalties.—Clause 21.)

CHAPTER III.

PENALTIES.

Penalties

21. Whoever contravenes any of the provisions of this Act mentioned in the first column of the following table shall be punished with fine, which may extend to the amount mentioned in that behalf in the third column of the said table.

Explanation.—The entries in the second column of the following table, headed "Subject", are not intended as definitions of the offences described in the provisions mentioned in the first column, or even as abstracts of those provisions; but are inserted merely as references to the subject thereof:—

Provisions of the Act.	Subject.	Maximum fine which may be imposed.

[1] Here insert the name of the person submitting the article for analysis.

[2] Here insert the name of the person delivering the sample. If the sample is received by post or by railway, entry should be made accordingly.

[3] When the article cannot be conveniently weighed, this passage may be erased or the blank may be left unfilled.

[4] Here the analyst may insert, at his discretion, his opinion as to whether the mixture (if any) was for the purpose of rendering the article potable or palatable, or of preserving it, or of improving the appearance, or was unavoidable, and may state whether it was in excess of what is ordinary or otherwise, and whether the ingredients or materials mixed are or are not injurious to health.

NOTE.—In the case of a certificate regarding milk, butter or any article liable to decomposition, the analyst shall specially report whether any change had taken place in the constitution of the article that would interfere with the analysis.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE adulteration of food, particularly of articles of common consumption, such as milk, ghee, mustard-oil, etc., is extremely prevalent, and the existing law has entirely failed to check the evil. The present Bill has been framed for the purpose of remedying the defects in the law, which make this practice possible, and of ensuring the purity of the staple articles of food which are most liable to adulteration.

The Bill, which excludes Calcutta from its operation, provides for the fixing of a statutory standard of purity for various important articles of food. In the interests of the consumer the Bill is based on the general principle that a person who sells food must take the responsibility that the food is not adulterated; but protection is afforded to a vendor who sells an article which he purchased with a written warranty to the effect that it was the same in nature, substance and quality as that demanded by the purchaser. It prohibits the storing of adulterants in any factory where ghee, mustard-oil, etc., are manufactured, and powers are taken for the appointment of public analysts, for the compulsory sale to authorised persons of food for the purpose of analysis, and for the inspection and seizure of food which is believed to be adulterated. A private purchaser is also given power, under certain safeguards, to cause his purchases of food to be analysed. A certificate granted by a public analyst will be taken as sufficient evidence of the results of the analysis in a Court of Law.

The subjoined notes explain the more important clauses.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

1. Clause 1.—Calcutta is excluded from the scope of the Bill as the Calcutta Municipal Bill contains special provisions dealing with the same subject. With this reservation the power of extension has been made as general as possible to meet the varying circumstances of the mufassal.

2. Clause 2.—The definition of the word "adulterated" is similar to that contained in Bengal Act I of 1917.

3. Clause 4.—Power is taken to the Local Government to declare the normal constituents of any article of food and to make rules to determine what variations from the normal will raise the presumption that the quality of the food has been reduced, lowered or injuriously affected.

4. Clause 5.—This clause, the basis of which is the offence of cheating, follows similar provisions in the United Provinces Prevention of Adulteration Act, 1912 (U. P. Act VI of 1912).

5. Clause 6.—It is proposed to enact more stringent provisions based on fixed standards in respect of certain important articles of food by means of this clause, which is mainly based on sections 415 and 417A of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888 (Bom. Act III of 1888). The provisions have been made more stringent in the interests of the consumer on the principle that a person who sells food must himself take the responsibility that the food is not adulterated; but protection is given to a person who sells under a warranty.

The provision in this clause relating to butter is based on section 3 of the Margarine Act, 1887 (50 & 51 Vict., c. 29) and sections 1 (b) and 4 of the Butter and Margarine Act, 1907 (7 Edw. 7, c. 21).

6. Clause 7.—This clause, which is based on section 20 (1) of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1899 (62 & 63 Vict., c. 51), is intended to prevent collusion between the vendor and the warrantor, by prescribing a time limit for the production of the warranty.

7. Clause 8.—This clause is based on section 495B of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899 (Ben. Act III of 1899). The operation of this clause has, however, been limited to factories.

8. Clause 9.—This clause has been inserted to ensure the labelling of tins of skimmed condensed milk in such a way as to warn the public that it is unsuitable for infants. The clause is based on Hongkong Ordinance No. 20 of 1911.

9. Clause 10.—This clause is based on section 7 of the United Provinces Prevention of Adulteration Act, 1912 (U. P. Act VI of 1912).

10. Clause 11.—This clause is based on section 507 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899 (Ben. Act III of 1899), and provides for the compulsory sale or surrender for the purposes of analysis of food during the processes of manufacture, transit and storage.

11. Clause 12.—This clause is based on section 9 of the United Provinces Prevention of Adulteration Act, 1912 (U. P. Act VI of 1912), but differs from that section inasmuch as it makes division into three parts compulsory, following the English Law on the subject.

12. Clause 13.—This clause is based on section 503 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899. Provision is made for safeguarding the position of the owner of food seized, by compulsory analysis of the food.

13. Clause 14.—This clause is based on section 505 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899.

14. Clauses 15, 16, 17 and 18 follow similar provisions in the United Provinces Prevention of Adulteration Act, 1912 (U. P. Act VI of 1912).

15. Clause 19 provides for the credit of monies to be realized under this Bill.

16. Clause 21.—The penalties proposed under this Bill follow those enacted in the Calcutta Municipal (Amendment) Act, 1917 (Ben. Act I of 1917).

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1917-18.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2645S.-R.—The 7th September 1918.—The following extracts from the Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the Administration of the Salt Department in the Presidency of Bengal during the year 1917-18 are published for general information, together with a Resolution recorded by Government on the Report.

J. A. L. SWAN,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 2067E., dated Calcutta, the 27th June 1918.

From—A. N. MOBERLY, ESQ., I.C.S., Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following consolidated report on the administration of the Salt Department for the year 1917-18. The report deals with preventive operations in the saliferous districts of the Presidency, which were under the control of the Commissionor of Excise and Salt, and with the importation and issues of salt under the control of the Customs authorities.

2. Charge of the Department.—I was in charge of the Department throughout the year.

CHAPTER I.

General.

3. Credit system of payment of duty.—The Collector of Customs, Calcutta, reports that securities to the extent of Rs. 54,84,200 were deposited during the year, as compared with Rs. 55,22,100 in 1916-17. The amount of duty debited during the year under the system was Rs. 83,68,422 against Rs. 89,49,131½ in the previous year. There were 48 depositors during the year, three of whom closed their accounts, leaving a balance of 45.

4. Salt golas at Chittagong.—There was no lack of storage space, as imports were smaller than in 1916-17. The average wastage was 0·88 only as compared with 1·06 in the previous year. There was one bad case of wastage in a gola where the salt had been stored for nearly two years and the floor had sunk considerably, but this was immediately remedied on the gola being cleared.

5. Consumption of duty-free Salt for commercial purposes.—The quantity of salt delivered free of duty for commercial purposes, or on which a drawback of duty was subsequently allowed for the same reason, amounted to 12,300 maunds as compared with 8,500 maunds in 1916-17.

6. Applications for licenses to manufacture Salt.—Several applications for licenses to manufacture salt were received in Chittagong in November and December, when prices were at their highest and stocks were low. The applicants were taken by the Superintendent to inspect the richest soils in the district, but came to the conclusion that conditions were not suitable for the manufacture of salt on a commercial scale. A subsequent application for permission to manufacture salt experimentally without supervision for a period of six months, on a small scale, by the methods followed by illicit manufacturers, was rejected on the ground that proposals could not be entertained unless they provided for adequate supervision over the processes of manufacture. An application was received in the 24-Parganas in February, but was withdrawn a few days later. With a view to encouraging the manufacture of salt in Bengal special enquiries were made in all the coast districts, with the exception of Bakarganj, in order to ascertain whether there was any hope of successfully introducing manufacture on a commercial scale, but the reports received show that such manufacture by any of the methods hitherto employed is impracticable in Bengal. Whilst there are patches of saline soil which lend themselves readily to illicit manufacture on a small scale by villagers, who employ their women and children for the purpose and are thus put to practically no expense, the soils are too poor and too scattered to make supervised manufacture possible, except at a cost which would render production entirely unremunerative. The climate of Bengal is altogether unsuited to the system of manufacture by solar evaporation, which is followed in Madras.

CHAPTER II.

Stocks, imports and clearances.

7. Accounts of stocks and issues.—The stocks, imports and clearances of salt in and from the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong for the years 1916-1917 and 1917-18 are shown below :—

Stocks, imports, etc.	1916-17.	1917-18
	Mds.	Mds.
Total of all stocks at the commencement of the year	18,70,788	8,64,738
Total quantity imported during the year ...	1,06,28,404	85,50,142
Excess found in the golas	1,038	750
Total	1,25,00,230	94,15,630
Quantity on which duty was paid during the year	1,09,62,942	83,03,724
Quantity which passed free of duty for the manufacture of glazed stoneware, etc. ...	2,465	2,000
Quantity of non-duty paid salt removed under bond to all inland warehouses ...	5,69,390	3,95,970
Quantity written off during the year for wastage or otherwise	1,00,695	70,455
Total ...	1,16,35,492	87,72,149
Balance at the close of the year ...	8,64,738	6,43,481

Both the import and clearance figures again show a considerable decrease.

8. Imports.— * * * * * * * * * The total imports into Calcutta and Chittagong decreased by 19·3 per cent. and 20·3 per cent., respectively, as a result of lack of tonnage. There was, however, an increase in imports into Calcutta from Aden, Port Said and Massowah and a shipment was received at Chittagong from the United Kingdom for the first time since 1913-14.

Out of the total importation of 78, 24, 372 maunds into the port of Calcutta, 67, 95, 338 maunds or 86 per cent. were bonded in the Sulkea golas during the year as against a percentage of 72 in the previous year. * *

9. Sales of imported salt from shipboard and bond.— * *

In Calcutta the sales direct from shipboard show a decrease of 60 per cent., and those from bond of 13 per cent. In Chittagong the sales direct from shipboard and bond decreased by 66·9 per cent. and 14·8 per cent. respectively. There was a decrease of 24·8 per cent. in the total sales of imported salt. All the vessels carrying salt to Calcutta were steamers.

10. Transactions in the golas.—The total transactions at the golas in Calcutta and Chittagong for the past five years are given below :—

Year.	Calcutta	Chittagong.
	Mds.	Mds.
1913-14	2,01,32,936	19,52,207
1914-15	1,58,60,486	15,95,103
1915-16	1,55,57,771	17,35,807
1916-17	1,45,87,255	15,24,260
1917-18	1,36,05,327	13,64,536

* * * * * *

12. Inland bonded warehouses.—There were 11 private bonded warehouses in this Presidency against 10 at the close of the previous year, viz., 2 at Narainganj (Dacca), 1 at Bhairab Bazar (Mymensingh), 1 at Madaripur (Faridpur), 4 at Jhalakati (Bakarganj) and 3 at Chandpur (Tippera). One new gola was opened at Jhalakati. One of the 3 golas at Chandpur was closed during the year. The quantity of salt despatched to these 11 inland warehouses from shipboard and golas in the ports of Calcutta and Chittagong was 3,77,070 maunds, as compared with 5,26,790 maunds in 1916-17, showing a decrease of 28·4 per. cent. There was a decrease of 23,700 maunds or 55·6 per cent., in the quantity of salt despatched to bonded warehouses in other provinces, the quantity despatched in the year being 18,900 maunds (to Ajmiriganj in Assam) against 42,600 maunds in the previous year (6,000 maunds to Chandbali in Bihar and Orissa and 36,600 maunds to Ajmiriganj).

* * * * * *

CHAPTER III.

Consumption and prices.

15. Consumption.—The total quantity of salt which passed into consumption in this Presidency during the year 1917-18 was 69,68,452 maunds. This is exclusive of 27,51,437 maunds, the net export by rail, road or river, but inclusive of 696 maunds educed from saltpetro.

16. Prices of salt in Bengal generally.— * * * * * * * * * * There was an increase of Re. 1-0-7 in the average as compared with the previous year, which is attributed to the rise in the price of imported salt.

The retail prices in the saliferous districts showed an abnormal increase, the price per seer ranging from 1 anna 6 pies to 4 annas. The average wholesale price per 100 maunds of Liverpool salt. as sold from ship's side in the port of Calcutta, exclusive of duty, was Rs. 273-6-4 against Rs. 145-9-5 in the previous year, whilst at Chittagong it was Rs. 409-6.

In February 1918 Government fixed the maximum prices at which salt might be sold wholesale ex-golas and retail in the districts. By Government Notification No. 1607Com. of the 20th March 1918, a higher rate was allowed for Chittagong. The maximum prices at which salt may be sold for delivery at the Sulkea and Chittagong salt golas are now fixed at the following rates per 100 maunds :—

	Ex-golas
	Sulkea	Chittagong
	Rs.	Rs.
Liverpool	248	258
Spanish	243	253
Port Said, Massowah, Aden Fine	240	250
Indo-Aden	239	249

At the same time the maximum retail price of salt was fixed at 1 anna 9 pies per seer in all places in the Presidency, Burdwan and Chittagong Divisions and 2 annas per seer in all places in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions.

CHAPTER V.

Financial Results.

20. Receipts and Charges.— * * * * * * * As compared with 1916-17 receipts show a decrease of Rs. 24,88,252 or 18·6 per cent., and charges of Rs. 28,068 or 8·4 per cent. The net revenue was Rs. 1,06,09,133, which was less than that of the previous year by Rs. 24,60,184 or 18·8 per cent. The decrease in the receipts occurred mainly under the head "Import Duty on Salt." The charges do not include any share of cost of the Customs Preventive Service, which is largely employed in safeguarding the salt revenue. * *

CHAPTER VI.

Miscellaneous.

21. Saltpetre refineries and soda factories.—There were three licensed saltpetre refineries at Maniktola, Sulkea and Kakurgachi during the year, against one at Maniktola in the previous year. No license was issued in 1917-18 for the manufacture of sulphate of soda.

The quantity of refined saltpetre produced during the year was 16,989 maunds against 7,534 maunds in the previous year. The increase was due to greater demand for saltpetre on account of the European War. The quantity of salt educed in the process of refinement of saltpetre was 942 maunds as compared with 42 maunds in 1916-17, and the quantity of sitta (impure salt) left in the course of refinement was 191 maunds against nil in the previous year. Six hundred and ninety-six maunds of educed salt were sold during the year as compared with 43 maunds in 1916-17, the duty realized being Rs. 870 against Rs. 53-12 in the previous year. The license fees realized from the saltpetre refineries amounted to Rs. 150.

READ—

The Report of the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on the administration of the Salt Department in Bengal during 1917-18.

THE report covers a period within which abnormal conditions prevailed in the salt market, and a situation arose which necessitated the intervention of Government, and the fixation of prices under the Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules. A fall in the amount of the stocks at the golas led to a fear that there would be shortage of stocks, and the demand became so considerable that prices rose rapidly from the middle of October 1917, culminating in a very high figure in the end of November 1917. High retail prices as a consequence prevailed throughout the province, and led in part to loots in hâts and bazars. Government took steps to deal with the situation, and while they made arrangements to ensure ample supplies of salt, they fixed maximum prices for the wholesale and retail sale of salt. The effect of these measures is seen in the position at the present time. The stocks in the golas on the 31st March last amounted to a little over 11 lakhs of maunds, but by the end of the first week of August they had increased to over 18 lakhs of maunds, while large supplies are expected in the next few months. The abundance of the supply has led to a fall in price, and wholesale prices now rule appreciably below the maximum fixed in March last.

2. Reference is made in the Report to the applications made for permission to manufacture salt locally, and the difficulties attendant on any scheme for manufacture by the indigenous methods formerly adopted in Bengal. Government have expressed their willingness to encourage any scheme of manufacture under conditions which will safeguard the revenue. although they have not so far sanctioned any of the applications referred to in the Report, which in fact are not likely to mature.

3. Generally the position as regards salt is far more satisfactory than was the case a little while ago, even although prices are still higher than in pre-war times.

The Report on Police Administration in the Bengal Presidency for the year 1916 and the Resolution of Government thereon.

MR. C. W. C. PLOWDEN, C.I.E., held the post of Inspector-General throughout the year.

2. The Military Police Battalion under Major Macpherson fully maintained its high standard of efficiency, in spite of calls in different directions to unaccustomed duties which interfered with its regular training. Good accounts have been received of the contingent serving with the expeditionary force in Mesopotamia, where a lance-naik has recently been awarded the Indian Order of Merit. The battalion suffered a heavy loss in the death of its Subadar-Major, Sardar Bahadur Gopal Chandra Das, who had a most distinguished record of service, and the reversion of Captain Dallas-Smith to military duty at the end of the year deprived it of an able and experienced officer.

3. The superior cadre of the service was increased during the year by the addition of a fifth post of Deputy Inspector-General to hold charge of a new Range comprising the districts of Bakarganj, Faridpur, Noakhali and Chittagong, together with the river police. Hitherto, the Deputy Inspector-General of the Dacca Range has been required to supervise the two Divisions of Dacca and Chittagong, both of which are exceptionally lacking in communications. The creation of the Bakarganj Range will, it is hoped, considerably improve police administration in Eastern Bengal, and the transfer of the river police to its natural centre at Barisal will afford much needed relief to the Deputy Inspector-General in charge of the Criminal Investigation Department, the scope of whose work is constantly developing in other directions.

Four more Additional Superintendents of Police were appointed during the year in Eastern Bengal, in addition to the seven posts created in previous years. Each of the important districts of Mymensingh and Dacca has now three Superintendents of Police at headquarters,—an unsuitable arrangement, but one which will probably have to be maintained until the projected partition of the districts has been carried out.

The sanctioned strength of the force was increased during the year by 998 men, including 5 inspectors and 99 sub-inspectors, but the proportion of police to population is still low in Bengal in comparison with other provinces. The reorganization of the subordinate police in Eastern Bengal is nearly complete, but a similar reorganization has still to be undertaken in Western Bengal; in both parts of the Presidency, much remains to be done in breaking up unwieldy investigating centres. There can be no doubt too that the force is at present overworked. It is frequently necessary to refuse well earned leave, both because the leave reserve is inadequate and because police-stations have to give up men for temporary emergent duties. An increase of the leave reserve recently sanctioned by the Secretary of State should help to ease the situation, and steps are also being taken to increase the special armed force which was severely tried during the outbreak of hât looting at the beginning of last cold weather.

4. Recruitment was on the whole satisfactory and the force was kept well up to its sanctioned strength. The difficulty of securing upcountry men is increasing, as was to be expected in view of the large drain on the rural population of Northern India for war service. On the other hand, the number of local recruits shows a steady increase from year to year, and it is satisfactory to find that the old prejudice against joining the police is gradually disappearing. In the recruitment of sub-inspectors a most satisfactory feature is the large increase in the number of graduates enrolled—more than three times that of the previous year. A great improvement will have been achieved if young men of good education can be brought in greater numbers to look to the police service as affording the chance of a useful and honourable career. The difficulties of securing suitable men as head constables under existing conditions have proved insuperable, and a radical change in the system is under consideration.

5. The number of resignations, though still high, again showed a decrease. The question appears to be closely bound up with that of the adequacy of the reserve, and the results of reforms in this direction will be carefully observed.

The year was a bad one for health and followed an unusually good one. A rise in the mortality statistics was therefore inevitable. The figures, however, compare favourably with those for 1915. Illness is mainly malarial, and therefore largely preventable; considerable improvement has been effected by the supply of cots and nets for police barracks in the interior.

6. The further increase in the number of men who were rewarded either in money or with good service marks may denote either an improvement in the work performed by the force or increased liberality in the appreciation of good work. In either case it is a good sign, for the effect of increased severity in dealing with serious misdemeanour is doubled by correspondingly increased recognition of good service. The amount of money disbursed in this way exceeded that spent last year by nearly Rs. 10,000.

The proportion of men judicially punished remained stationary at 1·3 per cent. of the force. Of the 377 criminal cases brought against the police and decided during the year, only 59 ended in conviction, and of these the majority related to minor offences. No member of the force was convicted of torture, and with the exception of two sub-inspectors convicted of bribery, one of whom was subsequently acquitted on appeal, no officer above the rank of head-constable was found guilty of any criminal offence. Of the 18 civil suits instituted against the police, only one was decreed; an appeal has been filed and is pending.

7. The river system was extended during the year by the opening of the new Ganges Division with five police-stations, and in Eastern Bengal three police-stations only remain to be equipped. The value of river patrols working in close co-operation with the land branch is exemplified by the fact that in the Tippera district only two river dacoities occurred during the year, as compared with 23 in the previous year. Six vessels were received during the year from the Royal Indian Marine Dockyard, and eight steam-launches were built to replace eight vessels taken over by the Military Department. Sanction to acquisition of land at Barisal for the new river police head-quarters was communicated shortly after the close of the year.

His Excellency in Council observes with pleasure that during the year the river police rescued no less than 87 persons from drowning.

8. The reports on the village police are, on the whole, encouraging, and in several districts there is satisfactory co-operation between the station officers and the panchayats. This is especially the case in areas in which the circle system has been introduced. It is reported that in Dacca the panchayats have done much good police work and are showing increasing interest and helpfulness in police matters. Similar results may be hoped for elsewhere when the passing of the Village Self-Government Bill renders possible an extension and development of the circle system. In other districts, however, the results shown are less satisfactory. There are heavy arrears of pay in Midnapore, Mymensingh, Bakarganj, Rangpur and Tippera, and in some of these and in other districts, there is apparent illiberality in rewarding chaukidars. Good work cannot be expected from the rural police in these conditions, and the District Officers concerned should look more closely into this branch of the administration.

9. The amount spent on the police during the year exceeded the sum spent in the previous year by Rs. 5,39,000, the increase being due mainly to additions to the force. Expenditure on a still larger scale is urgently needed, but has been postponed owing to the war. The sum of Rs. 18 lakhs spent on buildings was nearly double that of the previous year, but small when compared with urgent requirements in the matter of decent accommodation for the police in the mufassal. Such expenditure is well repaid by the increased well-being and efficiency of the force, and the Governor in Council will continue to do all that is possible in the way of providing funds for this important object.

10. There was a slight increase, amounting to less than one per cent., in the total volume of cognizable crime, but the statistics relating to the more serious forms of crime show a considerable improvement. Murders, dacoities, poisoning cases and thefts of arms were all less frequent than in 1916. There were 437 cases of dacoity compared with 544 in 1916 and 653 in 1915; the figures for 1917 are swelled by the inclusion of the hât-looting cases which took place at the end of the year, but which were not the work of ordinary dacoits. The police are to be congratulated on the manner in which they have coped with the outbreak of dacoity which occurred shortly after the beginning of the war and reached its height in 1915, and the Inspector-General is justified in his claim that the force has kept pace with the increased activity of the criminal classes due to the war. The most serious feature of the statistics for 1917 is the large increase in burglaries. This is, no doubt, due in part to better reporting facilitated by the opening of new investigating centres, but it would seem that the open lawlessness which found its vent in dacoities after the outbreak of the war, has now been succeeded by greater activity on the part of individual criminals. The economic stress and general unrest caused by the war still continue, and so long as they prevail, the restoration of normal conditions cannot be expected.

11. It is unsatisfactory to find deterioration in the prompt disposal of cases by Magistrates. The causes alleged in some districts are the shortage of officers, the more frequent transfers to which this condition gives rise and the pre-occupation of subdivisional and other officers with work connected with the war. These factors, no doubt, contributed in some cases to the unsatisfactory results, but the question is, in general, one of organization and forethought, and more business-like arrangements are necessary in fixing dates for cases and more firmness in refusing unnecessary adjournments. The matter requires constant attention at the hands of Commissioners and District Magistrates during their inspections. Similar control is necessary in regard to the action of Magistrates in referring petty cases to the police for enquiry. The orders issued by Mr. French have brought about a great improvement in this respect in the Dacca Division, and similar action might well be taken elsewhere.

12. There was a most satisfactory decrease in revolutionary outrages during the year, only 9 cases having occurred as compared with 24 in 1916 and 36 in 1915. All the cases in 1917 were dacoities; three were attended with murder, resulting in the death of six persons. For the first time since 1907, no police officers met their death at the hands of the revolutionary party, though, officer had a narrow escape while arresting a dangerous criminal who was armed with a revolver. That the improvement in the situation is directly due to the preventive measures taken under the Defence of India Act and under Regulation III of 1818 admits of no doubt, but success would not have been achieved, but for the skill and judgment displayed by the officers of the Intelligence Branch and their courage and devotion to duty in their difficult and dangerous task. The Governor in Council desires again to place on record his high appreciation of their services. The events of recent months have shown only too clearly that the party which seeks to attain its ends by violent crime is still active, but the record of the year 1917 is a hopeful augury of the final success of the police in their long struggle with murder and outrage.

13. The Criminal Investigation Department took energetic action during the year in Western Bengal to rid the mufassal districts of gangs of habitual dacoits and thieves. It is generally the case that when an area looks black on the crime map, the crime there is due, not to the inhabitants of the area as a whole, but to a small portion of the population who have banded together to plunder the rest. By taking action under sections 400 and 401 of the Penal Code against gangs of this sort, the Criminal Investigation Department succeeded in clearing some areas altogether of crime and in effecting a remarkable reduction in others.

The Department also secured the conviction of 15 persons for instituting fraudulent civil suits. No case of this class that was taken up ended in acquittal.

The section of the Department, which deals with the administration of the Criminal Tribes Act, has been strengthened, and ten more gangs were brought under the Act during the year. The Act provides control over habitual criminals which can be obtained in no other way, but, as the Inspector-General points out, it needs a large staff to take full advantage of it. The need for surveillance after registration was met by the appointment of three inspectors and thirteen sub-inspectors for the work.

The Criminal Investigation Department and the force as a whole, should, in future years, be greatly benefited by the accession of officers trained in the newly opened detective school at Howrah. The curriculum provides instruction in various branches of scientific police work. The establishment of the school is an important step towards educating the police in India up to the standard of European countries, and is an experiment which will be watched with interest. The organization of a special detective staff for the 24-Parganas has proved of great assistance to the district police, and has done much to improve the control over professional and organized crime in the area around Calcutta.

14. Looking upon the year as a whole, the Governor in Council sees good reason for satisfaction. The force have been hampered by the absence of many officers of the Imperial service on military duty and by the unusual conditions which have prevailed in the Presidency since the war began; yet their work shows a steady progress. In a year when crime as a whole has shown a tendency to increase, serious crime has diminished, and energetic steps are being taken to reduce it still further. His Excellency in Council congratulates Mr. Plowden on the year's record and, in particular, on the continued improvement of the morale of the force which has been effected by his careful supervision. The thanks of Government are due to all the officers who have been commended by the Inspector-General for good work done during the year.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Police, the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, and all Commissioners of Divisions, for information.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 5th September 1918.

Summary.—During the week moderate rain generally fell throughout the province. Damage to standing crops by floods continue to be reported from many places in Eastern Bengal. The flood water is, however, gradually subsiding. Transplanting of winter paddy is nearing completion. Weeding has commenced. Harvesting of autumn paddy and jute is also well advanced. The prospects of the standing crops, excepting in the flood-affected areas, are fair. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 2·5 per cent., as compared with that of the previous week.

The Calcutta Gazette

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1918.

PART IA.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following notification, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 7th September 1918, is republished for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 6th September 1918.

No. 45.—The Governor General is pleased to accept the resignation by the Hon'ble Sir John Wood, K.C.I.E., C.S.I., of his office of Additional Member of the Indian Legislative Council.

A. P. MUDDIMAN,
Secretary to the Govt. of India.

The following Bill, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 7th September 1918, is republished for general information.

J. H. KERR,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 4th September 1918:—

No. 14 OF 1918.

A Bill further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Provincial Insolvency (Amendment) Act, 191 . III of 1907.

Amendment of section 2, Act III of 1907.

2. In section 2, sub-section (1), of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907 (hereinafter referred to as the said III of 1907.

Act), the following amendments shall be made, namely :—

(i) the definition of ' available act of insolvency" shall be omitted;

(ii) to the definition of " property" the following words shall be added " but does not include property held on trust for any other person ," and

(iii) the following definition shall be added, namely :—

[Cf. s. 2 (i), Act III of 1909.]

" (h) ' transfer of property' includes a transfer of any interest therein and any charge created thereon."

[Cf. s. 7, Act III of 1909.]

3. After section 3 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Insertion of new section 3 A, in Act III of 1907.

" 3-A. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Court shall have full power to decide all questions of priorities and all other questions whatsoever, whether of law or of fact, which may arise in any case of insolvency coming within the cognisance of the Court, or which the Court may deem expedient or necessary to decide for the purpose of doing complete justice or making a complete distribution of property in any such case."

Power of Court to decide all questions arising in insolvency.

4. For section 6 of the said Act the following sections shall be substituted, namely :—

Substitution of new sections for section 6, Act III of 1907.

" 6-A. No insolvency petition shall be presented against any corporation or against any association or company registered under any enactment for the time being in force.

Exemption of corporation, etc. from insolvency proceedings.

6-B. (1) A creditor shall not be entitled to present an insolvency petition against a debtor unless—

Conditions on which creditor may petition.

(a) the debt owing by the debtor to the creditor, or, if two or more creditors join in the petition, the aggregate amount of debts owing to such creditors amounts to five hundred rupees, and

(b) the debt is a liquidated sum payable either immediately or at some certain future time, and

(c) the act of insolvency on which the petition is grounded has occurred within three months before the presentation of the petition.

(2) If the petitioning creditor is a secured creditor, he shall in his petition either state that he is willing to relinquish his security for the benefit of the creditors in the event of the debtor being adjudged insolvent, or give an estimate of the value of the security. In the latter case he may be admitted as a petitioning creditor to the extent of the balance of the debt due to him after deducting the value so estimated in the same way as if he were an unsecured creditor.

6-C. A debtor shall not be entitled to present an insolvency petition unless—

Conditions on which debtor may petition.

(a) his debts amount to five hundred rupees; or

(b) he has been arrested or imprisoned in execution of the decree of any Court for the payment of money; or

(c) an order of attachment in execution of such a decree has been made, and is subsisting, against his property :

Provided that a debtor in respect of whom an order of adjudication made under this Act has been annulled, owing to his failure to apply, or to prosecute an application for his discharge, shall not be entitled to present an insolvency petition without the leave of the Court by which the order of adjudication was annulled. Such Court shall not grant leave unless it is satisfied that the petition is founded on substantially different facts from those contained in the petition on which the order of adjudication was made.

6-D. Every insolvency petition shall be presented to a Court having jurisdiction under this Act in any local area in which the debtor ordinarily resides or carries on business, or personally works for gain, or if he has been arrested or imprisoned where he is in custody :

Court to which petition shall be presented.

Provided that no objection as to the place of presentment shall be allowed by any appellate or revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the Court by which the petition was heard at the earliest possible opportunity, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice.

6-E. Every insolvency petition shall be in writing, and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 for signing and verifying plaints, and the procedure laid down by the said Code with respect to the admission of plaints shall, so far as it is applicable, be followed in the case of such petitions."

Verification of, and procedure for, admission of petition

5. In section 10 of the said Act, for the words "if he were alive," the words "far as may be necessary for the realisation and distribution of the property of the debtor," shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 10, Act III of 1907

6. To section 11, sub-section (1) of the said Act, the following clauses shall be added, namely :—

Amendment of section 11, Act III of 1907

"(f) A statement whether the debtor has on any previous occasion filed a petition to be adjudged an insolvent, and—

(i) if such petition has been dismissed, the reasons for such dismissal, or

(ii) if the debtor has been adjudged an insolvent, concise particulars of the insolvency including a statement whether any previous adjudication has been annulled owing to his failure to apply, or to prosecute an application for his discharge."

7. In section 12 of the said Act, after sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :—

Amendment of section 12, Act III of 1907

"(4) The Court, when making an order under sub-section (1) shall, unless for reasons to be recorded in writing it otherwise directs, appoint an interim receiver of the property of the debtor, or of any part thereof, and may direct him to take immediate possession thereof or any part thereof, and the interim receiver shall thereupon have such of the powers conferable on a receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as the Court may direct. If an interim receiver is not so appointed, the Court may, at any subsequent time before adjudication, likewise appoint an interim receiver of the property of the debtor or any part thereof, and the provisions of this sub-section shall apply accordingly." V of 1908

8. In section 13 of the said Act, clause (2) shall be omitted, and in the proviso to the said section, the word and figure "clause (2)" shall also be omitted.

Amendment of section 13, Act III of 1907

9. In section 14, sub-section (1), of the said Act, the word "and" where it occurs at the end of clause (b) of that sub-section shall be omitted, and after clause (c) the following clause shall be added, namely :—

Amendment of section 14, Act III of 1907

"(d) In the case of a petition presented by a debtor that he is unable to pay his debts."

10. (1) In section 15, sub-section (1), of the said Act for the words "Where the Court" the words "In the case of a petition presented by a creditor, where the Court" shall be prefixed.

Amendment of section 15, Act III of 1907

(2) After sub-section (1) of the same section, the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely —

"(1A). In the case of a petition presented by a debtor, the Court shall dismiss the petition—

(i) where the Court is not satisfied with the proof of the right to present the petition, or of the fact that the debtor is unable to pay his debts, and

(ii) where the Court is satisfied that the petition is grounded on substantially the same facts as were the grounds for a previous petition by the debtor leading to an order of adjudication which was annulled owing to his failure to apply, or to prosecute an application, for his discharge."

11. In section 16 of the said Act the following amendments shall be made, namely :—

Amendment of section 16, Act III of 1907

(1) In sub-section (1) the words "and the debtor is unable to propose any composition or scheme which shall be accepted by the creditors and approved by the Court in the manner hereinafter provided" shall be omitted, and after the word "adjudication," the following words shall be added, namely:—"and shall specify in such order the period within which the debtor shall apply for his discharge."

(2) In sub-section (2), the following words, namely:—"and (b) the insolvent, if in prison for debt, shall be released", and "or person" shall be omitted.

(3) In sub-section (7) after the word "adjudication," where that word occurs for the second time, the words "the period within which the debtor shall apply for his discharge" shall be inserted.

(4) After sub-section (7) the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(8) The Court may, if sufficient cause is shown, extend the period within which the debtor shall apply for his discharge."

Insertion of new section 16 A, Act III of 1907

12. After section 16 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

Protection order

"16-A. (1) Any insolvent in respect of whom an order of adjudication has been made may apply to the Court for protection, and the Court may on such application make an order for the protection of the insolvent from arrest or detention.

(2) A protection order may apply either to all the debts of the debtor or to any of them as the Court may think proper, and may commence and take effect at and for such time as the Court may direct, and may be revoked or renewed as the Court may think fit.

(3) A protection order shall protect the insolvent from being arrested or detained in prison for any debt to which such order applies, and any insolvent arrested or detained contrary to the terms of such an order shall be entitled to his release;

Provided that no such order shall operate to prejudice the rights of any creditor in the event of such order being revoked or the adjudication annulled.

(4) Any creditor shall be entitled to appear and oppose the grant of a protection order."

Amendment of section 24, Act III of 1907.

13. In sub-section (1) of section 24 of the said Act, for the words "All persons" the words "When an order of adjudication has been made under this Act, all persons" shall be substituted;

And in sub-section (3) of the same section, after the words "other creditors" the words "who have proved their debts" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 27, Act III of 1907

14. In section 27 of the said Act the following amendments shall be made, namely:—

(1) In sub-section (1) the words "whether before or" shall be omitted.

(2) In sub-section (7) the words and brackets "(if any)" shall be omitted.

(3) In sub-section (8) for the word "adjudge" the word "readjudge" and for the word "adjudged" the word "readjudged" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 34, Act III of 1907

15. To section 34, sub-section (1), the following shall be added, namely:—

"and before he had notice of the presentation of any insolvency petition by or against the debtor."

Amendment of section 37, Act III of 1907

16. In section 37, sub-section (1), the words "or of any interest therein" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 38, Act III of 1907

17. In the proviso to section 38 after the word "adjudication" the words "and is bonâ fide" shall be added.

Amendment of section 43, Act III of 1907

18. In section 43 of the said Act the following amendments shall be made, namely:—

(1) In sub-section (1) after the word "debtor" the words "on the making of an order under section 12 (1) and" shall be inserted; and for the words "give such aid in the realisation of his property and the distribution of the proceeds among his creditors" the words "do all such acts and things in relation to his property" shall be substituted.

(2) For sub-section (2) the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(2) A debtor shall, if adjudged insolvent, aid to the utmost of his power in the realisation of his property and the distribution of the proceeds among his creditors."

Insertion of new sections 43A, 43B, and 43C, in Act III of 1907.

19. After section 43 of the said Act the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

Offences by debtor.

"43A. If a debtor whether before or after the making of an order of adjudication,

(a) wilfully fails to perform the duties imposed on him by section 43, or to deliver up possession of any part of his property which is divisible among his creditors under this Act, and which is for the time being in his possession or under his control to the Court or to any person authorised by the Court to take possession of it, or

(b) fraudulently with intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the objects of this Act,

(i) has destroyed or otherwise wilfully prevented or purposely withheld the production of any document relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under this Act, or

(ii) has kept or caused to be kept false books, or

(iii) has made false entries in or withheld entries from or wilfully altered or falsified any document relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under this Act, or

(c) fraudulently with intent to diminish the sum to be divided among his creditors or of giving an undue preference to any his creditors,—

(i) has discharged or concealed any debt due to or from him, or

(ii) has made away with, charged, mortgaged or concealed any part of his property of what kind soever, he shall be punishable on conviction by the Court with imprisonment which may extend to one year.

Procedure on charge under section 43.

43-B. (1) Where the Court is satisfied that there is ground for inquiring into any offence referred to in section 43A, the Court shall direct that a notice be served on the debtor in the manner prescribed in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for service of a summons, calling on him to show cause why a charge or charges should not be framed against him. [Cf. s. 104, Act III of 1909.] V. of 1898.

(2) The notice shall set forth the substance of the offence, and any number of offences may be set forth in the same notice.

(3) At the hearing of such notice and of any charge framed in pursuance thereof, the Court shall, so far as may be, follow the procedure for the trial of warrant cases by Magistrates prescribed by Chapter XXI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and nothing in Chapter XXIII of the said Code relating to trials before High Courts and Courts of Session shall be applicable to such trial. V. of 1898.

(4) Any number of offences under this section may be charged at the same time.

Criminal liability after discharge or composition.

43-C. Where an insolvent has been guilty of any of the offences specified in section 43-A he shall not be exempt from being proceeded against therefor by reason that he has obtained his discharge or that a composition or scheme of arrangement has been accepted or approved." [Cf. s. 105, Act III of 1909.]

Amendment of section 44, Act III of 1907.

20. In section 44, sub-section (1), of the said Act, after the word "adjudication," the words "and shall within the time appointed by the Court" shall be inserted, and after sub-section (5) of the said section, the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"(6) If the debtor does not appear on the day fixed for hearing his application for discharge or on such subsequent day as the Court may direct, or if the debtor does not apply for an order of discharge within the time appointed by the Court, the order of adjudication shall be annulled, and the provisions of section 42 (2) and (3) shall apply accordingly. [Cf. s. 41 Act III of 1909.]

(7) Where a debtor has been released from custody under the provisions of this Act, and the order of adjudication is annulled under sub-section (6), the Court may, if it thinks fit, re-commit the debtor to [Cf. s. 23, (2), Act III of 1909.]

his former custody, and the jailor or keeper of the prison to whose custody such debtor is so re-committed shall receive such debtor into his custody according to such re-commitment, and thereupon all processes which were in force against the person of such debtor at the time of such release as aforesaid shall be deemed to be still in force against him as if such order had not been made."

Amendment of section 45, Act III of 1907.

21. In section 45, sub-section (1) of the said Act, after clause (c) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(d) any liability under an order for maintenance made under section 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898."

Amendment of section 46, Act III of 1907.

22. In sub-section (1) of section 46, after the words "aggrieved by" the words "a decision come to or" shall be inserted;

And in sub-section (2) of the same section after the words "aggrieved by" the words "a decision come to by the District Court in the exercise of powers conferred by section 3-A, or" shall be inserted; and for the figures and word "43, sub-section (2)" the figures and letter "43 A" shall be substituted.

Substitution of new section for section 48, Act III of 1907.

23. For section 48 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

Summary administration.

"48. When a petition is presented by or against a debtor, if the Court is satisfied by affidavit or otherwise that the property of the debtor is not likely to exceed in value two hundred rupees, the Court may make an order that the debtor's estate be administered in a summary manner, and thereupon the provisions of this Act shall be subject to the following modifications:—

(i) unless the Court otherwise directs, no notice required under this Act shall be published in the local official gazette;

(ii) on the admission of a petition by a debtor, the property of the debtor shall vest in the Court as a receiver;

(iii) at the hearing of the petition, the Court shall inquire into the debts and assets of the debtor and determine the same by order in writing, and it shall not be necessary to frame a schedule under the provisions of section 24;

(iv) the property of the debtor shall be realised with all reasonable despatch and thereafter, when practicable, distributed in a single dividend;

(v) the debtor shall apply for his discharge within six months from the date of adjudication; and

(vi) such other modifications as may be prescribed with the view of saving expense and simplifying procedure:

Provided that the Court may at any time direct that the ordinary procedure provided for in this Act shall be followed in regard to the debtor's estate, and thereafter the Act shall have effect accordingly."

Insertion of new section after section 53, Act III of 1907.

24. After section 53 of the said Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—

Disqualifications of insolvent.

"53A. (1) Where a debtor is adjudged or re-adjudged insolvent under this Act, he shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be disqualified from—

(a) being appointed or acting as a Magistrate;

(b) being elected to any office of any local authority where the appointment to such office is by election, or holding or exercising any such office to which no salary is attached; and

(c) being elected or sitting or voting as a member of any local authority.

(2) The disqualifications which an insolvent is subject to under this section shall be removed and shall cease if—

(a) the order of adjudication is annulled under sub-section (1) of section 42 of this Act, or

(b) he obtains from the Court an order of discharge whether absolute or conditional, with a certificate that his bankruptcy was caused by misfortune without any misconduct on his part.

The Court may grant or refuse such certificate as it thinks fit, but any order of refusal shall be subject to appeal."

Repeal of certain words in sections 12, 27 and 44, Act III of 1907

25. The words "by publication in the local official gazette and" and the word "other" where they occur in section 12, sub-section (2), section 27, sub-section (1), and section 44, sub-section (1), shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907 (III of 1907), which contains the law of Insolvency in force in British India outside the Presidency towns and the town of Rangoon. The Act came into force on the 1st January 1908, and since then, with the exception of a few unimportant amendments made in 1914, it has not been amended. Ten years' experience of the practical working of the Act has brought to light many defects which have from time to time provoked criticism from most of the Local Governments and not a few of the Judges who have had to administer its provisions. Numerous suggestions for the amendment of the Act on various points have also been received from time to time from the commercial communities and members of the legal profession.

2. The chief indictment of the Act is that it lends itself to the protection of fraudulent debtors, that it subjects an undischarged insolvent to little or no practical inconvenience, and that its provisions for the punishment of fraudulent insolvents are not effective in practice.

3. One of the principal defects in the existing law arises from the fact that the conduct of the debtor in many cases never comes under the scrutiny of the Court The stage at which the misconduct of the debtor should come before the Court, and at which most of the provisions affecting a fraudulent insolvent would operate, is when he applies for his discharge. But there is nothing in the Act which requires him to apply for his discharge, and in practice such applications are rare. To remedy this unsatisfactory state of the law, it is proposed to include in the Act provisions which will compel an insolvent to apply to the Court within a prescribed period for his discharge or to lose the protection afforded by the insolvency proceedings. The Court will have power to extend the prescribed period and, when the adjudication order is annulled owing to the failure of the insolvent to apply in time for his discharge, a fresh petition on the same facts will be barred. These proposed changes are effected by the proviso to proposed new section 6C in clause 4 of the Bill, new sub-section (1A) (ii), in clause 10, the amendments in clause 11 (1), (3) and (4), and the amendments in clause 20.

4. It is now settled law that under the Act, as it stands, it is not open to the Court to reject the petition of a debtor on the ground that the application is an abuse of the law. While admitting that the object of an insolvency law is to deal with all insolvents, whether honest or not, and that no applicant who is in fact insolvent should be liable to have his petition dismissed in limine, it seems reasonable that the Court should have discretion as to the amount of protection to be afforded to a petitioning debtor in each individual case, the debtor being required to show that he is in fact unable to pay his debts, and that he has not concealed his property. These changes in the existing law are effected by the amendment in clauses 9 and 10 (2) and by clause 12, which inserts a new section 16A as to protection orders on the lines of section 25 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909.

5. A further defect in the Act is the absence of provisions sufficiently defining the power of Courts to decide questions of law and fact arising in insolvency proceedings. In certain cases, e.g., those mentioned in sections 18 (3), 36 and 37 the Court is empowered to pass orders, and section 47 defines the general powers of the Court in regard to proceedings under the Act, but nowhere is a general power conferred on the Court to deal with and decide important questions of law and fact (e.g., a question of title to property) which may arise in the insolvency proceedings. This question has recently been the subject of conflicting decisions in the Allahabad and the Calcutta High Courts. In Nilmoney Chowdhri v. Durga Charan Chowdhri (22 C. W. N., 704), the Calcutta High Court dissenting from the Allahabad High Court held that the Insolvency Court has no such power, and that a question of title to property should be tried in a separate suit. It is obviously desirable that this conflict between the two High Courts should be terminated, and having regard to the prevalence of benami transactions in India and the importance of arming Courts with adequate powers for the speedy realisation of assets in the interests of creditors, the Government of India are of opinion that the Court should be given full power to decide all questions raised in insolvency proceedings. Clause 3 of the Bill accordingly enacts a provision on the lines of section 7 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

6. Proceedings instituted against fraudulent insolvents are frequently infructuous. This is largely due to the lack of precision in the Act as to the procedure to be adopted by the Court which desires to take action. The wording of sub-section (2) of section 43 is unduly vague, regard being had to the fact that it constitutes a criminal offence, and experience has shown that it frequently creates difficulties. It is proposed that the penal provisions of existing section 43 should be amended on the lines of section 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, and that the procedure to be followed on a charge should be defined on the lines of section 104 of that Act. It is proposed to embody these provisions in the two separate sections 43-A and 43-B inserted by clause 19 of the Bill, which also inserts a new section 43-C containing provisions similar to those of section 105 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. It seems desirable to make it clear that a dishonest insolvent who has been guilty of an offence under the Act can be proceeded against even after he has obtained his discharge, or after a composition submitted by him has been accepted.

7. The summary administration of petty insolvencies is now largely governed by rules made by the High Courts under section 51 (2) (c) of the Act, but it seems desirable that the Act itself should contain more detailed provisions than at present and that further simplification of procedure should be effected. It is proposed therefore that, in addition to any further modifications to be made by rules, section 48 should contain certain definite provisions, and it is thought that, if these changes are made, it would be well to confine summary administration to cases where the assets do not exceed Rs. 200 instead of the existing limit of Rs. 500, and to reserve a discretion to the Court to direct the ordinary procedure to be followed in cases where it thinks such a course desirable.

8. These amendments will, it is hoped, go far to check the abuses rendered possible by the defects in the existing law.

9. Opportunity has been taken to effect certain minor amendments in the Act, and an explanation of the reasons for the changes proposed will be found in the Notes on Clauses.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2.—The expression "available act of insolvency" is not used anywhere else in the Act, and a definition therefore seems unnecessary. No such definition is to be found in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. The amendment in the definition of "property" makes it clear that trust property is not to be dealt with under the Act as property of the insolvent. It is proposed to include a definition of the expression "transfer of property" on the lines of the definition in section 2 of the Presidency Towns Act.

Clause 4 is principally a drafting amendment. The opportunity has been taken to split up section 6 into five separate sections with a view to re-arrange its different parts in their logical order. New section 6A merely reproduces existing section 6 (6). New section 6B deals with the conditions on which a creditor may petition and reproduces existing section 6 (4) and (5). New section 6C deals with the debtor's petition and reproduces existing section 6 (1) with the addition of a proviso which is a corollary to the amendments in clauses 11 and 20 of the Bill regarding the annulment of an order of adjudication.

New section 6D reproduces existing section 6 (2) with the addition of a proviso which is designed to cure a defect. Section 6 (2) lays down where an insolvency petition is to be presented, but does not contain any saving in the event of the petition being presented in the wrong Court. The point was raised in Mehdi Pershad v. Watson (18 C. W. N., 1050), where the insolvent successfully presented an appeal on the ground that the petition had been presented in the wrong Court. The proposed proviso is intended to stop this loophole in the existing law.

New section 6E merely reproduces existing section 6 (1).

Clause 5 amends section 10 to make it clear that the object of continuing proceedings on the death of the debtor is for the purpose only of realising and distributing his property.

Clause 6.—This amendment appears to be necessary in view of the proviso to section 6 C in clause 4 and section 1A (ii) in clause 10.

Clause 7.—Section 13 (2) gives power to appoint an interim receiver at any time between the admission of the petition and the order of adjudication, but the Act is silent as to the powers of an interim receiver. It is considered desirable that an interim receiver should normally be appointed when the petition is admitted, and should be armed with such of the powers conferable on a receiver under the Code of Civil Procedure as the Court may direct (cf. section 16 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act). It is thought, however, that these provisions would come more appropriately into section 12 of the Act.

Clause 8 is consequential to the amendment in clause 7.

Clause 11.—The first amendment is consequential to the first amendment in clause 14.

The amendment of section 16 (2) is consequential to clause 12, which inserts a new section as to protection order.

The other amendments in this clause are explained in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Clause 13.—The first amendment is one of drafting, and the second is designed to obviate the necessity of sending notices to creditors who have not yet proved their debts and thus to shorten the proceedings.

Clause 14.—Both section 16 (1) and section 27 contemplate the possibility of a composition or scheme before adjudication. The Presidency Towns Insolvency Act in section 28, on the other hand, only contemplates a composition after adjudication. Under the English law a composition can be made (1) after the receiving order and prior to adjudication, or (2) after adjudication. But under the Indian law there is no receiving order procedure at all, and the order of adjudication is made on the hearing of the petition. It is very doubtful whether under the Provincial Insolvency Act the Court would have before it the necessary facts to justify it, in dealing with compositions or schemes prior to adjudication. It is therefore proposed to follow in this respect the procedure under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act and allow compositions and schemes only after adjudication. This is effected by the first two amendments.

The third amendment in the clause is a drafting one—(cf.) sub-section (7) of section 27.

Clause 15.—As it stands, section 34 would not prevent the whole of the debtor's property from being sold for the benefit of an individual creditor after the filing of the petition and before the order of adjudication is made. The amendment prevents this and brings the section into line with section 53 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

Clause 16.—This amendment is consequential to the proposed definition of "transfer of property" in section 2.

Clause 17 makes it clear that the transactions referred to in section 38 are bonâ fide transactions. There appears to be no doubt that this is the intention.

Clause 18.—Apparently the duties imposed on the debtor by sub-section (1) of section 43 arise as soon as the Court has made an order under section 12 (1). It seems desirable to make this clear. It is difficult to see how the debtor can be under any obligation to assist in the distribution of his property, unless he is adjudged an insolvent. It is proposed therefore to amend the concluding part of sub-section (1), and to relegate to a separate sub-section the provisions which impose on the debtor the duty of aiding in the distribution of his property. Clause 18 effects these changes.

Clause 21.—The effect of existing section 45 is to release a discharged insolvent from liability under an order of maintenance made under section 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and in this respect the section is in conflict with section 45 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. It is proposed to bring it into accord with the latter Act.

Clause 22.—In view of the power which the proposed new section 3A would confer on Courts exercising insolvency jurisdiction, it is proposed to provide specifically that decisions in the exercise of this power shall be appealable.

Clause 24.—Under the Indian law no statutory disabilities attach to the position of an undischarged insolvent. It is doubtful whether public opinion in this country is at present inclined to attach much disgrace to a person in this position, but it appears desirable that the sense of the community should be stimulated by providing certain statutory disqualifications in addition to those already imposed, e.g., by the Regulations relating to members of the Legislative Council. A parallel provision is to be found in section 32 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1883 (46 & 47 Vict , c. 52).

Clause 25.—These amendments are introduced with a view to curtail the excessive number of notices which are at present required to be published in the Gazette.

Almeric Fitzroy.

No. 9096.—The following War Trade Department lists, dated the 11th June 1918, of goods the export of which from the United Kingdom is prohibited or restricted, is published for general information:—

WAR TRADE DEPARTMENT,
4, CENTRAL BUILDINGS,
WESTMINSTER, S. W. 1.
11th June 1918.

List of goods the export of which is prohibited by the Royal Proclamation of the 10th May 1917, as amended by Orders of Council of the 22nd June 1917, the 13th July 1917, the 14th August 1917, the 28th August 1917, the 18th October 1917, the 27th November 1917, the 18th December 1917, the 22nd January 1918, the 8th February 1918, the 26th February 1918, the 8th March 1918, the 12th April 1918, the 25th April 1918, the 14th May 1918, and the 11th June 1918, to be exported from the United Kingdom to the following Destinations, viz.:—

Goods marked (A) to All Destinations;
Goods marked (B) to All Ports and Destinations Abroad other than Ports and Destinations in British Possessions and Protectorates;
Goods marked (C) to all Destinations in European and Asiatic Russia and in other Foreign Countries in Europe and on the Mediterranean, except France and French Possessions, Italy and Italian Possessions, Spain and Portugal, and to all Ports in any such Foreign Countries.

The dates appended to various prohibitions are those of Orders of Council imposing or amending those prohibitions since the Royal Proclamation of 10th May 1916. Where no date appears it may be assumed that the prohibition stands as it did on the 10th May 1916.

List E (page 1406).—Goods specially prohibited by Royal Proclamation of the 13th March 1917, as amended by Orders of Council of the 10th August 1917, and the 27th November 1917, to be exported to Switzerland. The goods in this list are consignable to the Société Suisse de Surveillance Economique. It must be understood, however, that all goods mentioned in the General List, pages 1388-1406, are prohibited to be exported to Switzerland whether mentioned in List E or not. Goods mentioned in the General List but not in List E are not consignable to the Société Suisse de Surveillance Economique.

List F (page 1414).—Goods specially prohibited by Royal Proclamation of the 29th September 1917 to be exported to Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland.

Orders of Council issued subsequently to the date of this list are published in the "Boa[rd] of Trade Journal," which may be obtained either directly or through any bookse[ller] from the undermentioned branches of H. M. Stationery Office:—

(A) Flax shakings.
(A) Flax tow.
(A) Flax waste.
Fleshes, see Pickled Grains.
Flour, see Banana ; Bean ; Corn ; Lentil ; Malt ; Maize ; Pea ; Potato ; Rice ; Rye ; Sago ; Tapioca ; Wheat.
(C) Fluorine compounds, not otherwise prohibited ; 1-5-17.
Flyers, see Steel.
Foods prepared from cereals, see Cereals.
Forage and food which may be used for animals, see specific headings as, e.g., Beans ; Cakes ; Hay ; Oats, etc.
(A) Forage, green.
(B) Forges, Portable.
Forks, see Tools ; see also Handles.
(C) Formates, not otherwise prohibited , 12-12-16.
(A) Formic acid ; 27-11-17.
(A) Formic aldehyde ; 12-4-18.
Formic ether, see Ether.
French chalk, see Talc.
(A) Fruit and fruit preserves ; 29-9-16, 15-1-17, 19-2-17.
(A) Fuel economisers constructed of cast iron pipes, used as auxiliary heating apparatus in connection with land or marine steam boilers ; 12-12-16.
Fuel, manufactured, see Coke.
Fuel oil, see Oil.
Furniture fittings, see Castings.
(C) Furs and manufactures thereof (except Sealskin Fur, which see) ; 12-3-17, 1-5-17.
(A) Fusel oil (amyl alcohol).
(A) Fuses.
(A) Fustic (chips and extracts) ; 22-1-18.

G

(A) Gall nuts and extracts thereof ; 28-8-17.
(A) Galvanised sheets, corrugated or flat ; 26-7-16, 10-5-17.
Galvanised wire, see Wire.
(A) Gambier and extracts thereof ; 28-8-17.
(A) Game.
Gas carbon, see Carbon.
Gas mantles, see Incandescent, Mantles, Ramie.
Gas masks, see Respirators.
Gauges for cartridges and shells, see Implements, etc.
Gelatine, see Glue ; Paper.
(A) Gelsemium root ; 12-4-18.
(A) Gentian root ; 10-5-17, 11-6-18.
Gilding solution, see Gold.
Gill pins, see Steel.
Gimlets, see Tools.

(A) Ginger, crystallised or preserved; 2-2-17, 19-3-17.
(A) Glass for optical instruments.
Glasses, Field, see Field.
(B) Gloves made wholly or partly of leather, not otherwise specifically prohibited; 8-9-16, 23-10-16, 30-3-17, 12-4-18.
(A) Gloves, men's, made wholly or partly of leather; 12-4-18.
(A) Glucose, and articles, mixtures and preparations containing glucose; 19-2-17, 10-5-17.
(A) Glue, osseine, and concentrated size (and other sizes and sizings made from glue), fishglue, isinglass, finings and other kinds of gelatine; 12-12-16, 22 6-17, 22-1-18.
(A) Gluestock of all kinds, including animal hoofs, untanned hides and pelts, not otherwise specifically prohibited, fish bladders, and fish skins; 12-12-16, 1-5-17, 14-5-18.
Gluten meal, or gluten feed, see Cakes and Meals.
(A) Glycerine, and preparations containing glycerine not otherwise specifically prohibited.
Goa powder, see Araroba.
(A) Goat skins; 18-10-17.
(A) Golbeater's skin.
(A) Gold, liquid, including gold paint, gold enamel, gilding solution and all other pigments containing gold; 12-4-18.
(C) Gold paint containing sulphide of tin; 1-5-17.
Gouges, see Tools.
(A) Grains, Brewers' and Distillers; 12-12-16.
Grains, Pickled, see Pickled.
(A) Gramophone and other sound records, including perforated music rolls; 10-5-17.
(C) Gramophone record compositions; 8-9-16.
(A) Gram or dhol; 12-12-16.
(B) Graphite, and mixtures containing graphite.
(A) Grass, esparto.
Grass seed, see Seeds.
Grass matting, see Mats.
(A) Green forage; 12-12-16.
(A) Green oil, and mixtures and preparations containing green oil; 26-7-16, 2-2-17.

Hosiery, see Wool.
Hubnerite, see Tungsten Ores.
Husk meal, see Cakes and Meals
(B) Huts, wooden.
(A) Hydrastis canadensis and hydrastine, 22-6-17, 22-1-18, 12-4-18.
(A) Hydrobromic acid; 11-6-18.
(B) Hydrochloric acid.
(A) Hydrocyanic (prussic) acid and solutions thereof; 22-6-17.
(B) Hydrogen peroxide; 30-3-17.
(A) Hydroquinone, and mixtures containing hydroquinone.

I

(A) Implements and apparatus designed exclusively for the manufacture of munitions of war, for the manufacture or repair of arms or of war material for use on land or sea, the following :—
Cordite presses;
Dies for cartridge cases;
Gauges for cartridges or shells,
Incorporators;
Lapping machines;
Rifling machines;
Wire-winding machines.
Implements for cutting or fixing barbed wire, see Wire.
(A) Incandescent gas mantle rings, 18-12-17.
Incandescent mantles, see Mantles, Ramie.
Incorporators, see Implements.
(B) Indian hemp (Cannabis indica); 27-11-17.
(A) Indigo, natural and synthetic.
(A) Ingot, moulds manufactured of hæmatite iron; 14-5-18..
(C) Insecticides, not otherwise prohibited; 22-6-17.
Insulated cables, see Cables.
Insulated wires, see Wires.
(C) Insulating materials; 28-6-16, 17-11-16, 2-2-17, 30-3-17, the following :—
(C) Compounds intended for the purpose of electrical insulation;
(C) Leatheroid;
(A) Oiled insulating cloth, paper silk and tape; 14-5-18.
(B) Vulcanised fibre; 14-5-18.
See also Mica.
(A) Invert sugar, and articles, mixtures and preparations containing invert sugar; 28-8-17.
(C) Iodine and its compounds and preparations (except iodoform); 12-4-18.
(A) Iodoform; 12-4-18.
(A) Ipecacuanha root.
(B) Iridium and its alloys and manufactures containing iridium; 12-12-16, 22-6-17, 27-11-17.
(B) Iridium compounds; 27-11-17.
Iron and steel castings, and forgings for hulls and machinery of ships, see Ship-building Material.
(A) Iron and iron articles containing chrome, cobalt, molybdenum, nickel, tungsten or vanadium; 1-5-17.
Iron 1-5-17 the following :—
(A) Angles, channels, joists, tees and other sectional material.
(A) Bars, including flats, rounds and other sections and shapes.
(A) Billets, blooms and slabs.
Bins, see Bins.
Bolts, see Bolts.
(A) Bridgework, pierwork and constructional material.
Buckets, see Buckets.
Castings (see also Shipbuilding material).
Channels, see Angles above.
Constructional material, see Bridgework above.
Drums, see Drums.
Flats, see Bars above.
Forgings (see Castings, also Shipbuilding material).
(A) Hoops and strips.
(A) Ingots.
Joists, see Angles above.
Moulds; see Ingot Nails, see Nails.
Nuts, see Nuts.
(A) Ore.
Pierwork, see Bridgework above.
(A) Pig.
(A) Pipes, wrought.
Piping, see Piping.
(A) Plates and sheets.
(A) Pyrites.
Rails, see Railway material.
Rivets, see Rivets.
Rounds, see Bars above.
(A) Scrap.
Sections, see Bars above.
(A) Sheet bars.
Sheets, see Plates above.
Slabs, see Billets above.
Sleepers, see Railway material.

Springs, see Railway material.
Tees, see Angles above.
(A) Tubes.
Tubs, see Tubs.
Wire and wire rods, see Wire.
(C) Iron, oxides of.
(C) Iron sulphate.
Ironmongery, builders, see Castings.
Isinglass, see Glue.
(A) Ivory, vegetable and manufactures thereof; 10-5-17, 22-6-17.

J

(A) Jalap; 30-3-17, 12-4-18.
Japanese tissue paper, see Paper.
Jellies, see Mineral; Rubber.
Jimcrows, see Tools, small.
(A) Jute cordage and twine; 7-6-16, 18-12-17.
(A) Jute padding; 30-3-17, 18-12-17.
(A) Jute, piece goods made wholly or partly of; 28-7-16, 19-12-16, 18-12-17.

PART IB.

Orders by the Governor of Bengal in Council.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATION.

Howrah.

No. 2248M.—The 14th September 1918.—The following draft of by-laws which have been framed by the Commissioners of the Howrah Municipality, in the district of Howrah, under section 350 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), and which the Governor in Council proposes to confirm under section 351 of the Act, is published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

The draft will be taken into consideration on the 21st October 1918 and any objection or suggestion received by the undersigned through the District Magistrate before that date will be duly considered.

DRAFT BY-LAWS.

PRELIMINARY.

For the purposes of the following by-laws, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context.—

"Cattle" means cattle as defined in section 3 of the Cattle-trespass Act, 1871 (I of 1871).

PENALTY.

1. The penalty for the infringement of any of these by-laws shall be—

(a) a fine not exceeding the sum stated at the foot of the by-law,

(b) in the case of second or subsequent conviction for a similar offence a fine not exceeding the sum (if any) stated in that behalf at the foot of the by-law, and

(c) in the case of a continuing offence, a further fine, not exceeding the sum (if any) stated at the foot of the by-law as the daily fine, which daily fine may be imposed for each day after written notice of the offence from the Commissioners.

BY-LAWS FRAMED UNDER SECTION 350 (a).

A.—For regulating traffic.

2. Every carriage and every four-wheeled cart plying on any road between dusk and dawn shall carry two conspicuous lights and every two-wheeled cart, bicycle, tricycle or jinrickshaw shall carry one conspicuous light.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

3. Every proprietor or driver of a cart shall comply with such of the following provisions for regulating the maximum weights to be carried by carts, as shall be applicable to such cart:—

	Mds.
For each lorry or four wheeled wagon drawn by two buffaloes or horses	70
For each two wheeled cart drawn by two buffaloes ...	60
For each two wheeled cart drawn by one buffalo	25
For each two wheeled cart drawn by two Punjab, Bombay, or Madras bullocks measuring 52 to 60 inches in height ...	45
For each two wheeled cart drawn by two Behar, or United Provinces bullocks measuring 46 to 52 inches in height ...	30
For each two wheeld cart drawn by two local bulls or bullocks measuring 40 to 46 inches in height	25
For each two wheeled cart drawn by one bull or bullock ...	15
For each two wheeled cart drawn by one horse	20
For each two wheeled cart drawn by one pony	15

Fine, Rs. 15; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 30.

4. No owner of any cart or carriage shall allow it to be driven on any road by a driver under sixteen years of age.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

5. Every driver or person in charge of a cart shall drive or conduct his cart on the extreme left of the road in a line with and in rear of any other carts or cart proceeding in the same direction and he shall not in any way make any attempt to pass the cart which is immediately in front of his cart.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

6. No person shall drive or cause to be driven any carriage or cart over a masonry drain on or near a road, unless the drain is so constructed as to permit of safe vehicular traffic over it.

Fine, Rs. 20; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 40.

7. When loading or unloading a cart on a road, the person in charge of the cart shall rest it parallel with the foot-path and immediately on the edge of the carriage-way, or if there is no foot-path, then parallel with and immediately on the edge of the road.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

8. All loads carried on any cart shall be properly fastened and secured so as to prevent any portion of the load from falling off the cart. Carts loaded with bamboos, iron rails, pipes, timber, or other materials of a similar character projecting beyond the cart, must be in charge of not less than two men, of whom one shall go in front to guide the load, and after dark the person accompanying any cart so laden must carry a light.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

9. No person shall carry any articles on any vehicle on any road in such a manner so as to project breadthwise beyond the wheels of such vehicle.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

10. Any person driving a carriage or cart, or driving or riding an animal or carrying a palanquin on any road shall, when passing any vehicle, animal or palanquin coming from the opposite direction, keep to his left, and shall, when overtaking any vehicle, animal or palanquin pass it on its right or offside.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

11. No person shall ride or lead a horse or any other animal, except a dog, or drive or propel any vehicle (other than a vehicle intended solely for the conveyance of children) on any foot-path set apart as such by the Municipality along any road side.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

12. Hackney carriages, when waiting for hire, shall be halted only on public cabstands.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

13. When a driver wishes to stop his vehicle, he shall pull up the vehicle at the extreme left-hand side of the road, unless there is some reasonable cause to the contrary.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction. Rs. 10.

14. Before the driver of any vehicle along any road pulls or turns in any direction, he shall give notice of his intention to do so to the drivers of such other vehicles as may be using the road, by raising, or pointing with, his hand or in some other manner.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

15. No driver of any vehicle shall on any account pull up his vehicle on or across a street crossing.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

16. No person shall walk on the carriage way of any road where there are foot-paths on both sides, unless there is some reasonable cause to the contrary.

Provided as follows:—

(a) Subject to the sanction of the Commissioners this by-law shall not apply to marriage, funeral, religious or similar processions and parties.

(b) Notices in English and the vernacular shall be put up at both ends of such streets or roads informing the public of such prohibition.

(c) This by-law shall not be enforced against females for a period of one year from the date on which the notices referred to in proviso (b) are affixed.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

17. No person shall, without the general or special permission of the Commissioners in writing, take an elephant or camel along any road.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

18. (1) No cattle shall be allowed on any road unless they are accompanied by a driver or herdsman.

(2) There shall be at least one driver or herdsman to each twenty head of cattle.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

19. Not more than six buffaloes shall be driven along any road in one herd.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

20. When driving cattle along a road the person in charge of them shall not tie them together or allow them to be so tied.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

21. The Commissioners may from time to time at a meeting prohibit the traffic of herds of cattle along certain roads during certain hours, and no person shall drive a herd of cattle upon any such road during such period so long as such prohibition is in force.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

22. When several horses are led along a street they must be led in a single line on the right side of the road; and each horse must be under the charge of at least one attendant, who must always keep on the left side of the horse.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

23. No person shall convey or cause to be conveyed through any road any notice-board intended for the purposes of advertisement which is more than two feet six inches in height and one foot eight inches in breadth.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

24. When any such notice-boards are conveyed on any road by a person on foot they shall be slung from the shoulders of such person either in front of or behind, or in front of and behind, such person, and they shall not be carried in any other way.

Fine, Rs. 5: on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

25. When any such notice-boards are conveyed on any road by persons on foot, each person conveying one or more notice-boards shall keep at a distance of not less than twenty feet from any other person conveying a notice-board or boards.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

26. No person or conveyance carrying or conveying any such notice-board shall halt on any main street or thoroughfare; and they shall not be allowed on any foot-path; but they shall proceed slowly along the roadway keeping as close to the edge of the road as possible, and at the same time adhering to the rule of the road.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

B.—For the prevention of obstructions and encroachments on or near roads.

27. No person shall shoe or allow to be shod any horse, pony, donkey, mule, bullock, buffalo, or other four-footed animal in or upon any road.

Fine, Rs. 5; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 10.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

V.—BY-LAWS FRAMED UNDER SECTION 350 (d).

A.—For regulating cremation.

41. Any person who conveys or causes to be conveyed any corpse or part thereof to any burning ground or burning ghat shall commence to burn the same within two hours after its arrival at such ground or ghat.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

42. No person, when burning or causing to be burnt, any corpse or part of a corpse in any burning ground shall permit the same or any part thereof to remain without being completely reduced to ashes, or shall permit the clothes or other articles connected with the burning of such corpse to remain at or near such burning ground, unless the same be completely reduced to ashes:

Provided that in the case of Hindus, the navel may be preserved or disposed of in accordance with their religious rites.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

43. No person shall remove or sell any clothes or other articles appertaining to a corpse which may have been left at any burning ground. If any such clothes or articles have been left by the cremating party at the burning ground, the person in charge of such ground shall cause the same to be destroyed by setting fire to them in his presence.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

44. Every person in charge of a burning ground shall cause the same and its compound to be swept and kept clean and disinfected and the ashes and sweepings to be removed daily.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

45. No Dome or other person shall drink spirituous liquors or be in an intoxicated state or create any disturbance in any burning ground.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

46. No contractor, Brahmin or Dome, on duty, of a burning ground shall neglect or refuse to attend immediately to any person requiring his services for the cremation of a corpse, provided that the fee authorised by the Commissioners is tendered to him and the contractor, Brahmin or Dome, shall forthwith grant to the payer a signed acknowledgment for the payment in the prescribed form. Provided also that the officer in charge of the public burning ground may sign for any contractor, Brahmin or Dome, who is unable to write.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

47. No Dome or Brahmin attached to any burning ground shall demand any fee, gratuity or reward, other than that authorised by the Commissioners for his services at any cremation.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

B.—For regulating burials.

48. No person shall bury or cause to be buried, any corpse in any burial ground in a grave constructed of masonry in such manner that the top of the coffin, or the body, when no coffin is used, shall be at a less depth than five feet from the surface of the ground.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

49. No person shall bury or cause to be buried in any burial ground any corpse in a grave not constructed of masonry, unless the grave is at least five feet deep.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

50. No person shall build or dig or cause to be built or dug any grave in any burial ground at a distance of less than two feet from any other existing grave.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

51. In any burial place in which the line of the graves has been prescribed by the Commissioners no person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any other line than that so prescribed.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

52. No grave once used shall be opened for the burial of another body without the permission of the Commissioners. Provided that the land used for a non-masonry grave may be re-used after a period of ten years from the date of the burial therein.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

53. No corpse shall be disinterred, except under orders of a Magistrate, without the written permission of the Commissioners.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

54. No person shall remove or sell any clothes or other articles appertaining to a corpse which may have been left at any burial ground.

Fine, Rs. 25; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 50.

55. No monument shall be erected over, or fencing put round, any grave in a burial ground provided by the Commissioners except with their permission.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

C.—For regulating disposal of corpses.

56. No one shall carry a corpse or part of a corpse along any road unless it be decently covered, and totally concealed from view, except that in the case of the corpse of a Hindu married woman the face may be exposed.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

57. No person, while conveying any corpse or part of a corpse, shall, except for the purpose of ordinary relief, deposit it on or near any road.

Fine Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

58. Every corpse or part of a corpse that has been kept or used for the purpose of dissection, must be removed at night in a closed receptacle and in such manner as will effectually prevent, as far as possible, any offensive odour arising therefrom.

Fine, Rs. 10; on a second or subsequent conviction, Rs. 20.

BY-LAWS FRAMED UNDER SECTION 350 (e)

For preventing nuisance, affecting the public health, safety or convenience.

59. No person shall, when suffering from an infectious, contagious or loathsome disease—

(i) make or offer for sale any article of food or drink for human consumption or any medicine or drug, or

NOTICE.

THE BIHAR AND ORISSA MEDICAL EXAMINATION BOARD.

Examinations under new Transitory Provision.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that, any person who has undergone a full course of training at any Medical School or College, which is not recognized by the Bihar and Orissa Council of Medical Registration, but has obtained from the head of such School or College a certificate to that effect, may, at the discretion of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, be granted a certificate enabling him to appear at the Final Examination for the Licentiateship of the Bihar and Orissa Medical Examination Board up to and including the examination to be held by the Board in November 1919. On his appearing at such examination and his satisfying the examiners, every such successful candidate shall be deemed eligible to be admitted as a Licentiate of the Board, which has been authorized under the Indian Medical Degrees Act, 1916, to issue medical licenses. This concession shall apply to only those practitioners who were employed or were in practice in the Province of Bihar and Orissa on the 15th July 1918.

2. The examinations of the Bihar and Orissa Medical Examination Board are held twice a year simultaneously at two centres only, namely, (1) the Temple Medical School at Bankipur and (2) the Orissa Medical School at Cuttack.

3. The Temple Medical School at Bankipur, shall be the centre for candidates from all the districts of the Patna, Tirhut and the Bhagalpur Divisions and for the districts of Ranchi, Hazaribagh and Palamau of the Chota Nagpur Division. The Orissa Medical School at Cuttack shall be the centre for candidates from all the districts of the Orissa Division and from the districts of Manbhum and Singhbhum of the Chota Nagpur Division.

4. The Final Examination of the Board comprises the following subjects:—

(a) Medicine and Therapeutics.
(b) Surgery (including operative surgery).
(c) Midwifery and Gynæcology.
(d) Medical Jurisprudence and Lunacy.
(e) Hygiene and Vaccination.
(f) Pathology (general and special).

5. The examination shall be written, oral and practical in each subject. The scope of the examination shall be in accordance with the prescribed syllabus.

6. To pass the examination, every candidate must obtain 50 per cent. of the maximum number of marks in each subject, provided that he has obtained not less than 50 per cent. of the maximum number of marks in the oral and practical portions.

7. The full fee for each examination must be paid to the Secretary to the Board on or before such date prior to the examination as may be fixed by the Board and notified by the Secretary.

8. No candidate shall be entitled to claim a refund of the fee or any portion of it because he has failed to pass or because he has failed to present himself for examination.

9. Any candidate, who fails to pass, may be admitted to any subsequent examination up to and including that to be held in November 1919 on payment on each occasion of the full amount of the prescribed fee.

10. The fee payable for each examination shall be thirty rupees for each candidate appearing under the transitory provision.

11. A candidate, who fails in not more than two subjects, shall, on payment of a fee of ten rupees for each subject, be permitted to appear in such subject or subjects at a subsequent examination.

12. The ensuing examination of the Board will commence on Tuesday, the 26th November 1918, simultaneously at the two prescribed centres.

13. Applications, in the prescribed form appended to this notice, of intending candidates under the transitory provisions must reach the Secretary, Bihar and Orissa Medical Examination Board, at Ranchi Secretariat, not later than Saturday, the 9th November 1918. The prescribed fees must be remitted by postal money-order to the Secretary by the prescribed date.

14. The order of examination for the written portion shall be according to the following time table :—

Tuesday, 26th November 1918—

10 A.M. to 1 P.M.—Medicine.	2 P.M. to 5 P.M.—Surgery.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF PRIVATE CANDIDATES FOR THE MATRICULATION EXAMINATION OF 1919.

THE following rules for the guidance of private candidates for the Matriculation Examination are published for general information.

2. Private students are those who have not attended any recognized or unrecognized school for, at least, one year previous to the examination. The term "private students" includes bonâ fide school masters.

3. Private students must appear at the Test Examination of one of the following institutions on the dates mentioned against it :—

Name of School.	Dates of Examination.
(1) Comilla Zilla School	2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th December 1918.
(2) Noakhali Zilla School
(3) Chittagong Collegiate School ...
(4) Rangamati High English School ...

Each private student will pay a fee of Rs. 3 to the head of the institution in which he appears for the Test Examination. No private student will be admitted to the Test Examination, unless he is accompanied for the purpose of identification by some person known to the Head Master of the institution at which he appears.

4. Application for permission to appear at the Test Examination must be sent in time to reach this office not later than the 6th November 1918. The information to be given and the documents to be appended, in original, are the following :—

(a) Name of the school in which the candidate last studied.

(b) Transfer Certificate, in original, granted to the candidate by the Head Master of the school in which he last studied ; or

(c) In the case of a candidate, who previously appeared at the Matriculation Examination, Registrar's receipt, in original, for the fee paid.

(d) Age of the candidate. No candidate, who has not completed the age of 16 years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination, will be allowed to appear at it.

(e) In the case of school masters, a certificate of good conduct from the Secretary of the school in which he is serving or from the Deputy Inspector of the district concerned.

(f) A certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect that the candidate has prosecuted a regular course of study and has been subject to proper discipline and that he has not read in any school since the last Matriculation Examination.

(g) A statement by the candidate giving the following facts :—

(i) Residence.
(ii) Father's name.
(iii) Second language besides English.
(iv) Vernacular language for composition.
(v) Vernacular language from which translation is to be made into English in the first English paper.
(vi) Which of the following subjects he has taken up :—

(1) Additional Mathemathics.
(2) Additional paper in the classical language.
(3) History.
(4) Geography.
(5) Elementary Mechanics.

(vii) The name of the school at the Test Examination of which the candidate wishes to appear must be stated. Candidates of the plains districts will not be allowed to appear at the Test Examination of the Rangamati High English School.

5. The Inspector on being satisfied will countersign and return the application, which will then be the candidate's passport for admission to the Test Examination.

6. Every candidate must deposit his fee for the Test Examination with the Head Master of the institution in which he intends to appear, at least 15 days before the date of that examination. The Head Master will deposit the amount realized by him into the local Treasury and forward a copy of the Treasury chalan to this office. He should also submit to this office an account of the charges incurred by him (including remuneration to examiners) for conducting the examination of private candidates, together with vouchers in support of the charges, on receipt of which the Director of Public Instruction will be moved to sanction the expenditure.

7. The Head Masters of the institutions named in paragraph 3 above should direct private students who satisfy the test to appear before them in due time with their applications for admission to the Matriculation Examination and to sign them in their presence. They will then grant the necessary certificates and forward the application to the Inspector for countersignature, after which they will be sent by the Inspector direct to the candidates.

8. In no circumstances should the fee for the Matriculation Examination be sent to the Inspector's office. It should be sent to the Registrar by the candidates themselves, together with the countersigned applications.

9. Private students must understand that the Test Examination of any school other than those named above will not be accepted by the Inspector.

10. The Matriculation Examination will be held on the 2nd March 1919, and following days.

11. Applications and fees for admission to the Matriculation Examination must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 18th January 1919.

ABDUL AZIZ,

Offg. Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division.

CHITTAGONG, the 5th September 1918.

N B.—A student, who failed to pass or appear at, the annual examination for promotion to class X at the end of the session 1917 and then left the school can, under no circumstances, be allowed to appear at the Test Examination.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF PRIVATE CANDIDATES FOR THE INTERMEDIATE AND B. A. EXAMINATIONS, 1919.

Boná fide teachers of schools recognized by the University, or of any other schools approved for the purpose by the Syndicate, who have served as such for a full period of three academical years preceding the examination, will be admitted to the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations as non-collegiate students.

2. Applications for permission to appear at the abovementioned examinations must be submitted in the printed form prescribed by the University to the Inspector of Schools for signature, on or before the 10th January 1919, with the following papers :—

(1) Registrar's orders showing that the candidate's name has been registered as a University student.

(2) Permission of the Senate allowing the candidate to appear at the examination.

(3) F. A. certificates by candidates for B. A. Examination or Matriculation certificates by candidates for the Intermediate Examination, and also Registrar's receipts by candidates who were admitted to a former examination.

(4) Certificates of good character, length of service and diligent and regular study from Secretaries of the schools in which the candidates may be serving.

3. No candidate shall be admitted to the abovementioned examinations, who has been enrolled as a regular student of a college during the twelve months previous to the date of the examination at which he applies for permission to appear.

4. The Intermediate and B. A. Examinations of 1919 will be held on the 18th March and 3rd April 1919, respectively, and the following days.

5. Applications and fees for admission to the abovementioned examinations must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 3rd and 19th February 1919, respectively.

CHITTAGONG, the 5th September 1918.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM BY THE INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS, BURDWAN DIVISION.

University Matriculation Examination, 1919.

PRIVATE STUDENTS.

1. Private students are those who have not attended any recognized or unrecognized High English schools for at least one year previous to the examination. The term "private students" includes school masters.

2. Private students must appear at the Test Examination to be held on Monday, the 2nd December 1918, and the following days at the Hooghly Branch School.

Each private student will have to pay a fee of Rs. 6, which should be remitted to the Inspector of Schools, Burdwan Division, Chinsura, along with his application for admission to the Test Examination by the 9th November 1918, after which date a fine of Rs. 2 will have to be paid for each week's delay. Under no circumstances will the admission fee be refunded. No private student will be admitted to the Test Examination unless he is accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known in the office of the Inspector of Schools, Burdwan Division, or to the staff of the Hooghly Branch School.

3. Applications must be submitted through the Head Master of the school in which the applicant last read. The Head Master, in forwarding the application to this office, should note whether he recommends the application or not. If he does not, his reasons should be stated. The application of no candidate is to be forwarded who did not leave school from the first class, or who had not been declared fit for promotion to that class. The information to be given and the documents to be appended (in original) are the following:—

(a) The name of the school in which the candidate last studied.

(b) The transfer certificate (in original) granted to the candidate by the Head Master of the school in which he last read; or

(c) In the case of a candidate who previously appeared at the Entrance Examination, the Registrar's receipt (in original) for the fee paid.

(d) The age of the candidate is not required in cases (b) and (c). No candidate who has not completed the age of sixteen years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination is eligible.

(e) In the case of school masters, a certificate of good conduct from the secretary or proprietor of the school in which the candidate is serving.

(f) A certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect that the candidate has prosecuted a regular course of study and has been subject to proper discipline, and that he has not read in any school since the last Matriculation Examination held in April 1918. Detailed information is needed under this head. The person granting the certificate should state his social or professional position.

(g) The names of subjects in which the candidate wishes to be examined.

4. The fee for the Matriculation Examination has NOT to be sent to this office. It should be sent to the Registrar by the candidates themselves, together with the countersigned applications.

5. The address of each private student should be supplied to this office.

6. The Matriculation Examination in 1919 will be held on the 3rd March 1919 and following days. Applications and fees for admission must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 18th January 1919.

W. E. GRIFFITH,
Inspector of Schools, Burdwan Division.

CHINSURA,
The 10th September 1918.

Intermediate and B. A. Examinations.

1. Deputy Inspectors of Schools, Sub-Inspectors of Schools and bonâ fide masters of English schools, who have served as such for the full period of three academical years preceding the examination, will be admitted to the abovementioned examinations.

2. Candidates for the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations must produce certificates of character and length of service from the secretaries of their respective schools. Candidates for the B. A Examination must forward with their applications their F. A. certificates, and those for the Intermediate Examination their Entrance or Matriculation certificates. Those candidates who were admitted to a former examination must produce the Registrar's receipt in addition.

3. Under section 19 of the Indian Universities Act, candidates for the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations are informed that their applications for admission to these examinations will not be considered unless they enclose with their applications to this office the sanction of the Senate to appear at the said examinations. Candidates who have applied for or have obtained the special permission of the Senate for the purpose are required, under section 9, chapter XV of the Revised Regulations, dealing with the registration of University students, to apply at once to the Registrar for the registration of their names as University students. No person will be deemed a "University student" unless and until his name has been duly registered, and none but "University students" will be eligible for admission to any University examination other than the Matriculation.

4. The printed form of application should be carefully and correctly filled in and submitted to this office on or before the 12th January 1919, together with other papers, as mentioned in rules 2 and 3, after which no application will be received.

5. The Intermediate Examination of 1919 will be held on the 18th March 1919 and following days. The B. A. Examination of 1919 will be held on the 3rd April 1919 and following days. Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned lots of land no longer required by Government, situated along the Bhairab-Tangi Branch of the Assam-Bengal Railway, in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at Dacca Collectorate, at 11 A.M., on 21st day of October 1918, corresponding with the 4th of Kartik 1325 B.S.

The purchasers of the several lots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway land, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in case of original sale.

4th.—The lots of land will be sold to the highest bidders subject to the payment of usual rent to their immediate superior landlords.

5th.—The sale will become final on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioners confirming it and a regular conveyance will then be granted to the purchasers.

Dacca, the 19th August 1918. S. G. HART, Collector.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate, at noon, 6th November 1918, corresponding with 20th Kartic 1325 B. S., Wednesday.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to the existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force ; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

Stipendiary Studentships for the Ranger class, 1919-21.

APPLICATIONS for two stipendiary studentships for the Ranger class will be received by the Conservator of Forests, Darjeeling, up to the 21st September 1918.

2. Applicants must be not less than 18 and not more than 25 years of age on the 1st April 1919.

3. Applications should be made in the applicant's own handwriting and sent to the undersigned through a Divisional Forest officer of rank not below that of a Deputy Conservator or through a Collector or officer in charge of a district; they must be accompanied by the following certificates :—

(a) A certificate that the candidate is a "Native of India" within the meaning assigned to those words by section 6 of 33 Vict., Cap. 3.

(b) A certificate of age.

(c) A health certificate in the form prescribed by article 49 of the Civil Service Regulations, 5th edition, signed by the Civil Surgeon of the district in which the said Divisional Forest or district officers' duties lie and testifying to the candidate's sound constitution, good vision and hearing, and general physical fitness for a rough outdoor life in the Forest Department, and to the fact that he bears on his body marks of successful vaccination or of small-pox.

(d) A certificate of respectability and good moral character from two or more persons whose social or official position can be accepted as a guarantee of reliability.

NOTE.—The certificates (c) and (d) must bear date not further back than the 1st April 1918.

(e) A certificate of having passed one of the following examinations, viz. :—

The B.A., F.A., B.Sc. or Licentiate of Agriculture.

The Matriculation, where no School Final Examination or school-leaving certificate exists.

The School Final Examination, provided the candidate can show that he has qualified in English and Mathematics up to the Matriculation standard, or, for European candidates, a certificate of having passed the High School examination, with a similar proviso.

The school-leaving certificate as prescribed in the United Provinces, Central Provinces and Bombay.

(f) A certificate that each candidate has a sufficient knowledge of colloquial English to assimilate lectures delivered in that language without the aid of dictation.

4. From the applications received the Conservator will make a preliminary selection of not more than four candidates, and these candidates will be required to undergo a course of preliminary training for not less than three and-a-half months, commencing 1st November 1918, during which the candidates will receive a monthly allowance of Rs. 25.

5. The final selection of candidates for deputation to the Forest College will be made by the Conservator in accordance with the results of the preliminary training, preference being given to the men who are considered likely to make the best Forest officers. Selected candidates will be obliged to execute the agreement and security bond prescribed by Government.

6. While at the Forest College, the selected candidates will be granted a monthly stipend of Rs. 35 (which will be supplemented by a bonus of Rs. 360 at the end of the course to those candidates only who pass the course with "Honours").

STARRED QUESTIONS.

The following questions which had been starred were put and answered :—

By the Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI :—

* 1.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state how many lecturers or demonstrators have been promoted to the Provincial Educational Service, permanently or temporarily, for at least over a year, since 1913?

(b) In how many of these cases have senior officers been superseded by their juniors?

(c) Will the Government be also pleased to state how many cases of supersession of this kind occurred during the five years immediately preceding the introduction of the college governing body system?

(d) Will the Government be further pleased to state how many cases of supersession, if any, have taken place in the executive and judicial services in Bengal since 1913?

(e) Is there any truth in the statement that cases of supersession are much more numerous in the Education Department than in the executive or judicial service?

(f) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the reason why such should be the case?

(g) Is there any truth in the statement that in at least three of the four cases of supersession referred to in the answers to my starred questions, Nos. 3-5 of the 3rd July, 1918, the junior members in question were given promotion over the heads of their seniors on the recommendation of the governing bodies of their respective colleges?

Questions and Answers.

(h) Is it also a fact that the officers so superseded have long been engaged in teaching, with credit, either up to pass B.A. or B.Sc. classes, or both pass and honours?

(i) If so, why were such officers superseded?

(j) Are the Government aware of a public feeling that exists that the promotions and supersessions of recent years in the Education Department have greatly added to the discontent already existing among lecturers and demonstrators in the service and have created a general sense of insecurity among them?

(k) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking away from the college governing bodies the powers of appointment and promotion and of revesting these powers in the Director of Public Instruction?

(l) If not, will the Government be pleased to state why they are not prepared to do so?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) Fourteen.

(b) Six.

(c) The information is not available, and its compilation would necessitate special enquiries involving an undue amount of labour.

(d) Since 1913 eighteen Sub-Deputy Collectors have been promoted to the Provincial Executive Service; all these promotions have involved the supersession of senior officers, but under the standing rules such promotion is regulated by selection and not by seniority. Will the Government be pleased to state what arrangements have been made for communicating flood-warnings to the affected area on the right side of the Damodar immediately on receipt of warnings from Ranigunge?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" The additional arrangements made this year for the issue of flood warnings on the right bank of the Damodar are as follows :—

Seven additional peons have been entertained for issuing the warnings. Warnings will be telegraphed by the gauge reader at Ranigunge direct to Jamalpur, where a telegraph office has recently been opened, and from this centre the information will be distributed from Lakra downwards along the right bank.

Above Lakra the warnings will be issued by Canal dâk and special peons from Edilpur.

The gauge reader at Ranigunge will also telegraph warnings to the officer in charge of the Raina thana at the terminus of the Bankura-Damodar Railway and also to the Civil Subdivisional Officer, Arambagh. A temporary Public Works Department Section has also been established at Baikantapur on the right bank."

(e) Is it a fact that Madhupur is situated on a high raised land with large areas around, whereas Dhanbari is largely a marshy, low land, the greater portion of it being under a vast sheet of water during the rains?

(f) Have the Government ascertained what will be the comparative cost of location of the proposed subdivisions at Dhanbari and Madhupur?

(g) Are the Government aware of the opinion that has been expressed that Madhupur is healthier than Dhanbari and that Madhupur is more centrally situated than Dhanbari?

(h) Will the Government be pleased to make a statement giving the names of village unions within the Kalihati police-station and their respective distances from Tangail and Dhanbari?

(i) Is it a fact that the jurisdiction of the Kalihati police-station which, as proposed, comes under Dhanbari, extends up to within three miles of the Tangail subdivision?

(j) Is it a fact that certain places in the southern portion of the Kalihati police-station which stand at a distance of about 30 miles from Dhanbari and only three miles from Tangail, are, by the proposed inclusion of the Kalihati police-station within Dhanbari, cut off from Tangail?

(k) Have the Government considered the inconveniences which will thus be caused to the people of the locality within the Kalihati police-station?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the memorandum which was published on the 16th August, 1917. Government do not propose to lay further papers on the table.

(b) As shown in the memorandum, the question of selecting Madhupur as a district or subdivisional headquarters was fully considered, but the objection to Madhupur is that it is situated in the extreme east of the new subdivision and is not sufficiently central. For this reason, His Excellency the Governor did not think it necessary to visit Madhupur.

(c) Madhupur is connected by road with the places mentioned, but the road from Madhupur to Baushi passes through Dhanbari, and this is also the easiest route from Madhupur to Sarisabari. From Dhanbari there are roads running north to Baushi, west to Bingula and Pingna, south-west to Gopalpur and south-east to Madhupur and Tangail. When the projected Tangail-Jamalpur line is constructed through Dhanbari, communications with that place from all parts of the proposed subdivision will be much easier than with Madhupur.

(d) The river which passes Madhupur is navigable throughout the year for boats of a capacity of 500 maunds. Boats can go by this river to Narayanganj and Dacca. The river Jhinai passes within two miles of Dhanbari. It flows into the river Jamuna and is navigable in the rains.

(e) There is a site at Madhupur about 30 or 40 feet above sea level. There is ample high land above flood level at Dhanbari for a subdivisional headquarters, and it will need only local raising in places.

(f) The cost of establishing a subdivisional headquarters at Dhanbari is estimated at 6 lakhs, of which Rs. 7,000 is required for levelling and draining. No estimate has been framed for Madhupur, but it is probable that the cost would be approximately the same.

(g) Madhupur is reported to be unhealthy, owing to the proximity of the Madhupur jungle and a defective water-supply. Dhanbari is said to be malarious at present, but this defect is capable of remedy. Government are not aware of any opinion having been expressed that Madhupur is more centrally situated than Dhanbari, and in any case such an opinion would be incorrect.

(h) A statement is laid on the table.

(i) The nearest point in Kalihati to Tangail is about four miles from the town of Tangail.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is true that some poor paddy cultivators of the district of Jessore, who had manufactured a few seers of common salt from ashes of paddy stalks for personal consumption, were prosecuted for illicit manufacture of salt and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 2 each by the trying Deputy Magistrate, Babu Mohit Chandra Ghosh? Prosecutions for the manufacture of salt.

(b) Is it true that the views of the Government of Bengal for ignoring such cases of manufacture, as expressed in this Council at the meeting held on the 22nd January last through the Hon'ble Mr. Donald, were brought to the notice of the said Magistrate at the trial?

(c) Are the Government aware of the feelings of the cultivators that it is far better that paddy stalks should be utilized in this way than that these stalks should be allowed to be wasted through fear of criminal prosecution?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of instructing the Salt Department and the Police not to start such prosecutions, and to issue public notifications enabling such people to make free use of their paddy stalks for the purposes which were found by the Magistrate to be illegal as also for the use of cattle?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) Six persons were sent up by the police for having manufactured illicitly 3, 5, 7, 7, 20, and 25 seers of salt respectively. In each of the first four cases fines of Rs. 2, and in the last two fines of Rs. 5, were imposed by Babu Mohit Chandra Ghosh, the trying Magistrate.

(b) The trying Magistrate held that the quantities of salt manufactured were greater than were required for the personal consumption of those concerned, but prima facie prosecutions might have been withheld at least in the first four cases mentioned.

(c) Government have no information on this point.

(d) The instructions already issued should suffice. A certain amount of discretion must be left to local officers, but so far as the statistics show, the orders are being interpreted liberally."

Location of the subdivisional headquarters of the proposed western district of Mymensingh at Dhanbari.

(b) Is it a fact that in selecting a site for the Sadar subdivision of western Mymensingh, His Excellency the Governor, while he visited Dhanbari, did not visit Madhupur, and that the claims of Madhupur as represented by the people of the locality have not been considered?

(c) Is it a fact that there is a good District Board road connecting Madhupur with Mymensingh and Sarisabari, Subarnakhali, Baushi and Tangail, whereas, in point of communication, Dhanbari is comparatively at a disadvantage?

(d) Is it a fact that Madhupur possesses the additional advantage of a navigable river which connects it with Narayanganj and Dacca, whereas Dhanbari has no river communication?

Questions and Answers.

(d) (i) Government are advised that efficient filtration will remove 99 per cent. of fæcal bacilli, and that boiling destroys them.

(ii) The Calcutta water is purified by settlement in large settling tanks exposed to the sun and air; and settling is aided by the use of alum or allumino-ferric which assists in the precipitation of suspended matter, including bacteria. After settlement the water is passed through slow sand filter beds, which remove a very large proportion of the remaining bacteria. The water is constantly being analysed both chemically and bacteriologically and a high standard of purity is always insisted on.

Letters referred to by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY in his answer to question No. 6 (starred) asked by the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR at the Council meeting of the 19th August, 1918.

No. 679-701, dated the 5th June 1918.

From—DR. C. A. BENTLEY, M.B., D.P.H., D.T.M. & H., Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal,

To—The Chairmen of all Riparian Municipalities.

I HAVE the honour to report for your information that samples of unfiltered water taken from the Ganges (Bhagirathi) were examined chemically and bacteriologically in my laboratory during the week ending the 25th May, 1918, and as a result it was found that the water contained countless bacteria in ·1c.c. and showed non-resistant type fæcal bacilli in ·01c.c. indicating that it contained such a large amount of pollution, probably derived from human excreta, as to render it dangerous to use it for drinking purposes unless it has first been filtered or boiled. Neglect of these precautions will expose persons to the risk of contracting cholera, typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhœa and other water-borne diseases. It is also unsafe to use the unboiled or unfiltered water for cleansing dishes and plates or other vessels used for food.

In the case of municipalities possessing a proper filtered water-supply distributed by means of pipes, people should be urged to use this water for drinking purposes and cleansing dishes, etc., in preference to water from any other source.

In every case the attention of the whole population should be called, if necessary, by beat of drum, to the dangerously contaminated condition of the river water as shown by this report.

No. D-862-84, dated Darjeeling, the 15th June, 1918.

From—DR. C. A. BENTLEY, M.B., D.P.H., D.T.M. & H., Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

To—The Chairmen of all Riparian Municipalities.

MY attention has been drawn to the fact that the river banks in the neighbourhood of your municipality are frequented by persons for the purpose of committing nuisances. In certain cases also brickfields are situated on the river banks and the coolies employed thereon invariably foul the banks of the river with nightsoil. In this way the water of the river is constantly being polluted and in consequence of this there is great risk of the spread of cholera and other water-borne diseases. I have the honour accordingly to request that you will be so good as to take immediate steps to have the banks of the river within your municipal boundary carefully inspected, and, if necessary, guarded and to take immediate proceedings against anyone found committing a nuisance there and thus endangering the health of the community.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table copies of letters issued by the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, to the Chairman of riparian municipalities on the subject of the dangerously contaminated condition of samples of unfiltered water taken from the Ganges (Bhagirathi) and which were examined chemically and bacteriologically in his laboratory during the week ending the 25th May. 1918?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking immediate steps for the prevention of a large amount of pollution of the river water probably derived from human excreta?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what action they are taking for the supply of filtered water to those riparian municipalities where the main source of water-supply is the Ganges water which is now in a dangerously contaminated condition?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) whether the fæcal bacilli now present in the Ganges water are completely removed by filtration without boiling the water, and

(ii) what is the process of filtration of the Ganges water by the Corporation of Calcutta?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

(a) A copy of the Sanitary Commissioner's letter No. 679-701, dated the 5th June, 1918, to the Chairmen of Municipalities along the Hooghly is laid on the table. As there appears to be some misapprehension on the subject, it may be explained that fæcal bacilli (sometimes also called excretal organisms), some of which are derived from animals and some from human beings, are present in practically all surface waters, e.g., rivers and tanks, in inhabited areas in India. Government are advised that the organisms themselves are probably innocuous and that 90 per cent. die within 48 hours in a stream exposed to the sun, but that if there is a very large number of them or the pollution is very recent, it is probable that pathogenic organisms, such as those which cause cholera or typhoid fever, will be present among them. In other words, it is not the fæcal bacilli themselves that are the cause of disease, but other organisms which may be present with them though in infinitely smaller numbers. The fæcal bacilli serve to indicate possible danger and are therefore an index of pollution.

(b) The riparian municipalities have been urged in the Sanitary Commissioner's letter No. D-862-84, dated 15th June, 1918, of which a copy is laid on the table, to prevent nuisances being committed on the river bank. Government will consider what other measures can be taken to prevent pollution.

(c) A scheme for the supply of filtered water to the municipalities shown in the margin has been prepared and the municipalities and mills concerned have been asked whether they are willing to join in it. The Sanitary Board are considering their replies. The scheme involves an initial cost of 36 lakhs and a recurring cost of Rs. 68,000, which will ultimately rise to Rs. 78,000 a year; and it will not be possible for Government to give it financial assistance till normal financial conditions are restored.

(j) and (k) It is a fact that Kalihati thana as a whole is nearer to Tangail than to Dhanbari, and to this extent the people of Kalihati will be inconvenienced by their inclusion in the Dhanbari subdivision. In nearly every subdivision, however, there are places which are nearer to the headquarters of an adjoining subdivision than to the headquarters of the subdivision within which they are situated. The same objection in regard to Kalihati would apply if Madhupur were made the headquarters of the new subdivision instead of Dhanbari.

Are the Government aware that the one-rupee currency note is not yet popular among the ignorant people in the interior?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to unstarred question No. XXVI asked by the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin at the meeting of the Council held on the 3rd July last."

By the Hon'ble RAI SRI NATH RAY BAHADUR :—

XIX.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of vacancies in the lower grades of the Indian Civil Service due to the war?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they propose to fill up these vacancies by promoting officers of the Provincial Civil Service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Owing to the absence of officers on duties connected with the war, and, owing to the curtailment of recruitment caused by the war, the cadre of Joint and Assistant Magistrates is 57 officers short of its sanctioned strength of 98.

Questions and Answers.

(b) The cadre of Joint and Assistant Magistrates is intended as a training and leave reserve for the superior posts open to members of the Indian Civil Service. Members of the Provincial Civil Service, which has its own training and leave reserve, cannot be appointed Joint or Assistant Magistrates, but owing to the number of members of the Indian Civil Service absent on duties connected with the war, members of the Provincial Civil Service are holding a larger number of superior posts, ordinarily held by Indian Civilians, than would otherwise have been open to them. Ten superior posts in the Indian Civil Service are listed as open to members of the Provincial Civil Service. At present sixteen such posts are actually held by members of the Provincial Civil Service, and, in addition, a number of Deputy Collectors are holding charge of important subdivisions which would, in normal circumstances, be held by Civilians."

XX.

Police Superintendentships.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the number of Superintendentships of police, both permanent and temporary, given to officers of the provincial police service, namely—

(i) to promoted Inspectors of police, and

(ii) to directly appointed Deputy Superintendents of police, respectively?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) the present number of Deputy Superintendents of police;

(ii) how many of them have been appointed direct from outside during the last five years; and

(iii) how many have been promoted from the police service during the same period?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Two permanent posts and one temporary post of Superintendent of Police are at present held by promoted officers of the provincial police service. All three officers were promoted to the Deputy Superintendents' grade from the rank of Inspector.

(b) (i) 29.

(ii) 9.

(iii) 11."

Managers for Court of Wards and mortgaged estates.

Is it a fact that when the last increase in the cadre of Deputy Collectors was asked from the Secretary of State, the appointments of Managers for the Court of Wards and mortgaged estates were taken as appointments to be filled up by the members of the Provincial Executive Service?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" In connection with the reorganisation of the Provincial Civil Service, which was sanctioned in 1906, ten posts were provided for employment in Wards and Encumbered Estates in the province of Bengal as constituted before the partition of 1905. In 1912, five of these posts were transferred to Bihar and Orissa."

By the Hon'ble RAI SRI NATH RAY BAHADUR :—

XXII.

(a) Are the Government aware that the residents of Mymensingh town living on the southern side of the Eastern Bengal Railway are greatly inconvenienced for want of over-bridges across the railway?

(b) Are the Government aware that there is constant shunting of engines on the railway, which is a source of inconvenience and danger to them?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of removing this danger and requiring the Eastern Bengal Railway to construct over-bridges in places where they have constantly to cross?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) The alleged inconvenience has recently been brought to the notice of Government.

(b) It has been ascertained from the Eastern Bengal Railway authorities that there is more shunting at Mymensingh than before the extension of the station yard.

(c) No. The Railway authorities report that they are taking steps to minimise any inconvenience."

By the Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ :—

XXIII.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the claims of the Muhammadan assistants in the Bengal Secretariat are considered when assistants are taken with the Government to Dacca and Darjeeling?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the total number of assistants sent on each trip to Darjeeling and Dacca, respectively, from each Department of the Secretariat since 1912, and the number of Muhammadans selected on each occasion in each batch, Department by Department?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

" (a) No claim can be admitted that the number of assistants accompanying the Government to Dacca and Darjeeling should include a certain proportion of any particular race or creed. The selection of such assistants is necessarily governed by considerations of the work to be done.

(b) A statement is laid on the table."

Questions and Answers.

(a) Is it a fact that the pay of the post of the Collector of Income-tax in Calcutta has been raised to Rs. 1,500 rising to Rs. 2,000 a month? Collector of Income-tax.

(b) Is it a fact that Government are entertaining applications from outsiders as well as from persons already in Government service for the above post?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to declare their policy as to—

(i) whether the post is to be considered a preserve for any particular service, Imperial or Provincial;

(ii) whether the post is to be treated as one to which a professional European must be appointed;

(iii) whether the post is to be treated as one to which a professional Indian will be appointed;

(iv) whether there is any bar to an Indian, as such, official or otherwise, being appointed to the post?

Questions and Answers.

(d) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table copies of all correspondence relating to the raising of the salary of the post between them and the Government of India and also the Secretary of State?

(e) If that is not convenient, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the letter from the Secretary of State, and the Government of India conveying sanction to the increased rate of pay?

(f) Are the Government considering the advisability of keeping well within the proposal for the Indianization of services recommended in the recently published Reform Scheme when filling up this post?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) The pay has not yet been raised; it is intended, if a suitable candidate for the post be forthcoming, to fix the pay of future incumbents at the figure stated.

(b) Yes.

(c) (i) to (iv) It is the intention of Government to select the best candidate available, without limitations of the kind suggested.

(d) and (e) Government are not prepared to lay the correspondence on the table.

(f) The post is not one which is necessarily filled by a member of any service and the question does not, therefore, arise."

XXV.

(a) Are the Government aware that formerly Sheristadars or Registrars of Police Courts, Calcutta, were recruited from experienced officers of the ministerial establishment?

(b) Are the Government aware that Mr. D. H. Kingsford, late Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta, made an experiment in the matter of the selection of Sheristadars or Registrars from among the members of the Provincial Subordinate Executive Service?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the above experiment proved to be successful?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the opinion of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Newbould and the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Duval regarding the appointment of Sheristadars, as expressed in their last inspection notes of the Police Courts in Calcutta?

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking into consideration the opinions of the two Hon'ble Judges in the matter of appointing Sheristadars in the Police Courts in Calcutta in the future?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DUVAL :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) The experiment proved successful.

(d) The appointment of Sheristadars was not discussed in the notes referred to.

(e) The question does not arise"

XXVI.

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the memorial submitted by the residents of the police-station Manirampore in the district of Jessore protesting against the proposed removal of the police-station from Manirampore to Rajganj? Police-station of Manirampore.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state what action, if any, is being taken in regard to the memorial?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) No proposal for the removal of the police-station has yet been received by Government, and the local officers have been asked to consider the memorial before submitting recommendations in the matter. The memorialists have been informed that their representation will be considered by Government before any orders are passed."

With reference to the scheme of partition of the district of Dacca, as outlined in Government Resolution No. 5670 P., dated the 17th July, 1918— Partition of Dacca

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) what the ultimate total cost, non-recurring and recurring, of maintaining the two districts under the proposed scheme is likely to be,

(ii) how much, approximately, the average expenditure of the two districts under the proposed scheme is likely to be, and

(iii) by how much approximately would the average expenditure of the two districts together exceed the present average expenditure of the Dacca district?

(b) what the respective average annual income and expenditure of the two District Boards of the two districts would be under the said scheme?

(c) what the respective average annual income and expenditure of the district of Dacca has been during the last five years in respect of each of the two areas proposed to be constituted into two districts?

(d) have the Government considered an alternative scheme of partition of the district of Dacca by which the subdivisions of Munshiganj and Manikganj, and some parts of the Sadar subdivision of Dacca, such as Nawabganj thana, may be constituted into a district?

(e) have the Government taken into consideration the merits of such a scheme, in so far as it would combine areas which possess many common physical aspects, and present the same problems regarding communication, education and sanitation?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Complete estimates have not yet been prepared, but it is probable that the scheme will involve an expenditure of about Rs. 17 lakhs non-recurring and Rs. 1½ lakhs recurring.

(b) and (c) The information is not available and the labour of compiling it would be disproportionate to the value of the results at the present stage of the case.

(d) and (e) No, but if any such scheme is put forward by responsible persons in response to the resolution of the 17th July, it will receive due consideration."

Waterways and subdivisions in the Presidency.

With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. IV of the 27th March, 1917, will the Government be pleased to state what progress, if any, has been made in the matter of the formation of the waterways division and subdivisions?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"The continuance of the war has rendered it impossible to proceed with the formation of new divisions and subdivisions. Such would involve both additional expenditure and more staff."

XXX.

Ground-nut industry in Bengal.

(a) With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. XLII of the 18th December, 1917, are the Government in a position to make a statement as to the progress made in the ground-nut industry in Bengal and as to how far it has proved an economic success?

(b) Are the Government now in a position to combat the spread of the ground-nut diseases?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Cultivation is spreading steadily in the Burdwan Division, in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore and Birbhum owing to demonstrations by the District Agricultural Officers. Trials on a field scale are being made in the Presidency Division.

Hitherto the crop has been an economic success as it grows freely without manure, but it may eventually require manuring with phosphates on the laterite areas.

(b) Up to date there has been no serious outbreak of disease in the Bengal crop. A proposal is before Government for the deputation of an officer of the Agriculture Department to the Bombay Presidency to study amongst other things methods for the avoidance of disease."

Questions and Answers.

(b) when he is likely to direct his inquiry to the Mymensingh waterways?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to unstarred question No. XXXVIII of the Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur at to-day's meeting.

(b) The scope of the inquiries with which the Executive Engineer on special duty has been entrusted does not extend to the district of Mymensingh. The possibility of extending the scope of such special inquiries to the district of Mymensingh will depend on the future strength of the establishment of the Public Works Department and on the relative urgency of the various problems which require the services of specially selected officers."

XXXII.

Sibpur and Dacca Schools of Engineering.

With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. XVIII of the 19th February, 1918, are the Government considering the desirability of equalising the scales of stipends granted to the artisans at the Sibpur and Dacca Schools of Engineering?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"No. No proposals to this effect have been made by the authorities directly responsible for the welfare of the Institutions."

XXXIII.

Title suits, rent suits and miscellaneous suits against the Nawab of Dacca's estate.

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing separately, year by year, and district by district, from April 1907 to March 1918, the number of title suits, rent suits and miscellaneous suits in connection with the record-of-rights relating to, and criminal cases for and against, the estate of the Nawab of Dacca under the Court of Wards?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The compilation of the information asked for would necessitate the employment of a special staff and thus involve the estate in expense which could not be justified."

By the Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI :—

XXXIV.

Complaints against managers or employés of Court of Wards estates.

Will the Government be pleased to state, in how many, and in what instances during the last five years ending on the 31st March, 1918, did the proprietors of estates under the Court of Wards management in Bengal, prefer complaints of a personal character to the Courts of Wards, the Commissioner or the Collector, against the managers or other employés of such estates, stating in each case the purport of such complaints, when and to whom they were made, and the steps taken thereon?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"There have been hardly any complaints except from the proprietors of one estate. The responsibility for the management of estates under the Court of Wards rests solely with the Court of Wards and its employees. Complaints of a personal character are for the most part of a private and confidential nature and it is not in the public interest that their purport should be divulged."

Waterways and channels in East Bengal.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the officer deputed to investigate into the question of waterways and channels in East Bengal has submitted any report on the subject?

* Not printed in these Proceedings.

Questions and Answers.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay it on the table?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is in the contemplation of the Government to abolish the office created for the purpose of the said investigation after the submission of the report?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to consider the advisability of either permanently retaining the office or until such time as all necessary projects for improving the waterways and channels have been effected?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"(a) and (b) No project report has yet been finally completed though ad interim technical reports have been received. No useful purpose will be gained by laying these technical reports on the table at an intermediate stage in the inquiries. Inquiries are being continued and hydraulic data collected in connection with the following projects :—

(i) the improvement of the Tulsi Khal to give direct communication between the Padda near Tarpassa, and the Dhaleswari;

(ii) the improvement of the Pania Khal between the Dhaleswari and Buriganga rivers;

(iii) the improvement of the Dholai Khal, with a connection to the Balu river at Domra; and (iv) the improvement of the Sitallakhya Khal to give direct communication between Dacca and Narayanganj.

(c) and (d) The office was created for the purpose of carrying out certain special inquiries, and would naturally cease to exist after these inquiries had been completed and the connected report has been submitted. The question of the advisability of extending the scope of the inquiries is, however, now under consideration; but Government are at present not in a position to make any definite statement on the subject."

(ii) how many such promotions have been made since 1912, both in the case of temporary and permanent appointments; and

(iii) how many of such promotions were in each case given to Muhammadans?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the names of the present mohurrirs in the Bengal Secretariat and their respective educational qualifications?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the minimum qualifications required for admission—

(i) into the Upper Division and Lower Division clerkships in the Bengal Secretariat; and (ii) as clerks under the various Heads of Departments?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"(a) (i) They are eligible for appointments if they pass the clerkship examination and are otherwise qualified under the rules.

(ii) There have been two such permanent appointments in the Financial Department, one temporary appointment in the Revenue Department and two in the General Department (in leave vacancies).

(b) how many of such clerks are Muhammadans;

(c) how many appointments as clerks have been made since 1912; and

(d) how many of such appointments were given to Muhammadans?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) 23

(b) None.

(c) 10 (permanent).

(d) None.

The Inspector-General states that suitable Muhammadan candidates are unwilling to accept appointments in the lower grade of clerks, but his attention is being called to the Government orders on the subject, and he is being instructed to make further efforts to secure suitable candidates by advertising vacancies in Muhammadan papers and otherwise."

Advertising vacancies in the Secretariat and subordinate offices.

XLV.

Will the Government be pleased to state the means that are adopted to advertise vacancies in the Secretariat and the offices under Heads of Departments so as to give due notice to intending Muhammadan candidates?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. DONALD :—

"The Hon'ble Member is referred to rule 21 (1) of the rules for the regulation of appointments in the clerical service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal, a copy of which is laid on the table. In addition, if candidates are not available otherwise, notices are displayed at the entrances to the Secretariat, the Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education is informed, and District Officers are consulted.

The practice in the offices of Heads of Departments is not uniform, but, generally speaking, vacancies are advertised and in some instances special efforts made to get into touch with Muhammadan interests."

Rule 21 referred to in the above answer.

* * * * * * *

21. (1) The head of an office will also reserve the power of appointing suitable Muhammadans to either the Upper Division or the Lower Division. In the case of the Upper Division of the Secretariat every third appointment in each office made under rule 3 shall ordinarily be given to a Muhammadan, provided he possesses the educational qualifications required by rule 3 (a). In the Lower Division of the Departments of the Secretariat every third appointment in each office shall ordinarily be given to a Muhammadan who possesses the educational qualifications required by rule 15 and furnishes the evidence required by rule 16. Before candidates are selected for appointments in either Division, all vacancies shall be advertised in Muhammadan papers and Muhammadan Anjumans shall be informed. In the Lower Division such selection shall be made only when there is no suitable Muhammadan candidate in the competitive examination to whom the post can be offered.

(2) Until the proportion of Muhammadans in the various offices reaches one-third the claims of qualified Muhammadan candidates shall be considered in filling up all vacancies.

(a) Is it a fact that Mr. Payne, Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta, did not offer to sit on the present Lighting Committee of the Corporation in order to give a chance to the members of the said Committee to conduct the business of the Committee themselves? Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta and the Lighting Committee.

(b) When the Chairman does not happen to be a member of a committee, do not the rules require such committee to choose its own President?

(c) Was the retirement of Mr. Payne from the Lighting Committee conditional upon his choosing its President himself?

(d) Is it a fact that on a recent occasion he asked a member of the Committee to elect Mr. Cotton, I.C.S., as Chairman of the said Committee? If so, why?

(e) Is it not the declared policy of Government that no official interference should be made in the election of members of committees of local bodies?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a), (c) and (d) Government have no information. These are matters concerning the Corporation and the information should be asked for at a meeting of the Corporation.

(b) This is the rule for special committees.

(a) Is it a fact that the Divisional Inspectors of Schools are permitted to spend a month at Darjeeling every year? Divisional Inspectors of Schools.

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table any circular or order in this behalf and state the amount of emoluments enjoyed, and the nature of the work done, by such Inspectors during this period of recess?

(c) When did this practice originate and for what reasons?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) and (b) A copy* of Government Order No. 1786 T.G., dated 24th September, 1912, is laid on the table. It will be seen that all Inspectors of Schools, except the Inspector of Schools, Rajshahi Division, are permitted to spend one month in the year (from 20th May to 20th June) in Darjeeling subject to certain conditions. The case of the Inspector of Schools, Rajshahi Division, is governed by Government Order No. 3676, dated 7th August, 1908, as modified by Government Order No. 2185 T.G., dated 31st October, 1910, of which copies are also laid on the table.

The Inspectors of Schools draw only their salary if they spend on month in Darjeeling, and they are responsible for the work in their Divisions during this period.

(c) This arrangement was sanctioned in 1912 on the following grounds :—

(1) that during the month in question the schools are closed for the summar vacation, so that there is no inspection to be done and work is light ;

(2) that a visit to Darjeeling at this time of the year would benefit the health of the officers concerned and lead to increased efficiency ; and

(3) that it would give them an opportunity to study educational and administration questions, and to discuss them with one another and with the Director of Public Instruction."

Are the Government considering the desirability of— Sibpur and Dacca Engineering Colleges.

(a) co-ordinating the rules and regulations, courses of study and examinations of the Sibpur Apprentice Department, and the Dacca School of Engineering; and

(b) removing all inequalities in the matter of status and the prospects of teachers of these two institutions, and in the matter of appointments and other privileges of the students thereof?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) No. The present rules and regulations are based on the recommendations of the heads of the two institutions. The courses of study have been co-ordinated so far as they cover the same ground.

(b) No. There is no inequality of prospects between teachers of equal status on the two staffs. The students have equal opportunities of training under the Public Works Department and equal chances of appointment to that Department."

Inspection of schools by the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions.

In view of the reply of Government to clauses (d) and (e) of my starred question No. 2 of the 14th March, 1918, will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) whether, when visiting the sadar town schools, the Officiating Inspectress of Schools has required the attendance of the Deputy Inspectors, notwithstanding the fact that there were already two Assistant Inspectresses with her;

(ii) whether Miss Brock, the permanent incumbent, ever took, on any ground, the Assistant Inspectress of Schools for zenana work and Muhammadan education, to Hindu schools? If not, why has the Officiating Inspectress to do so?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(i) The Officiating Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, has rarely required any Deputy Inspector of Schools to accompany her to sadar town schools. In some instances, however, Deputy Inspectors of Schools have come to these schools of their own accord to see the Inspectress of Schools.

(ii) Miss Brock, the permanent Inspectress, used to take the Assistant Inspectress for Zenana work and Muhammadan Education with her to Hindu schools when she intended to visit a maktab or zenana agency immediately after finishing her work in a Hindu school, or in some cases when she had to consider the desirability of opening a zenana agency or a Muhammadan school in the place where a Hindu school is situated. The same practice is followed by Miss Bose, the officiating Inspectress."

The mechanical and electrical course at Dacca.

(a) Regarding the abolition of the mechanical and electrical branches of the overseer course at Dacca, owing to the paucity of students, has the attention of Government been drawn to a statement made by the Principal, Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, in his last annual report that the great industrial development the war has caused' has produced an insatiable demand for mechanical and electrical engineers and that this has been evident at Sibpur by an annual rush of applicants for admission to mechanical engineering and mining classes?

(b) In view of the situation created by the war, as stated in the annual report of the Sibpur College referred to above, are the Government considering the desirability of reconsidering their decision regarding the discontinuance of the mechanical and electrical course at Dacca?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

(a) The Principal has stated in his last annual report that the demand for electrically and mechanically trained men is increasing fast and that there has been an unusual rush of applicants for the mechanical and electrical and mining classes.

(b) No."

(b) Is it a fact that Babu Kumud Behari Mullick, Subdivisional Officer of Kalna, asked the Rev. Dr. E. Muir, M.D., of the Kalna Mission, to exercise influence with his assistant, who is a Municipal Commissioner of Kalna, to support the election of Babu Jogesh Chandra Mitter as Chairman of the Kalna Municipality, and that the reverend gentleman refused to do so?

(c) Is it a fact that Babu Jogesh Chandra Mitter was elected Chairman of the Kalna Municipality and that the District Magistrate of Burdwan, in deference to public opinion, refused to permit him to act as Chairman?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) From an inquiry made by the District Magistrate it appears that it is not a fact.

(b) Government are informed that the Subdivisional Officer had no talk or correspondence with the Rev. Dr. Muir on the subject of the candidature of Babu Jogesh Chandra Mitter.

(c) Babu Jogesh Chandra Mitter, who is Sub-Registrar of Kalna, was elected Chairman of the Kalna Municipality. The Commissioner was of opinion that he should not serve as Chairman as he would thereby be brought into conflict with party factions at Kalna to the detriment of the proper discharge of his official duties. Babu Jogesh Chandra Mitter was accordingly called upon to resign the office of Chairman and did so on 13th July, 1918.

Will the Government be pleased to explain the preventive and remedial measures that are usually adopted by the Government at the outbreak of such diseases as cholera, small-pox and plague in the rural areas? Remedial measures regarding epidemics.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"The responsibility for the prevention of epidemic diseases in rural areas rests with the District Boards. When an outbreak of small-pox occurs, the Civil Surgeon deputes licensed vaccinators to vaccinate the people of the affected area, and, when necessary, the Sanitary Commissioner deputes an officer to advise and report. When there is an outbreak of plague (which is fortunately rare) the District Magistrate, in consultation with the Civil Surgeon, deputes medical officers to treat patients, to arrange for the disinfection of houses and to inoculate any persons who are willing to be inoculated: the Sanitary Commissioner also deputes an officer to advise the local officers and report to himself on the action taken. In other cases District Boards take action to prevent the spread of epidemic disease by deputing medical officers, disinfecting sources of water-supply, etc., and the Sanitary Commissioner, when necessary, deputes officers to advise and report."

(a) Are the Government aware that the largest number of cases of cattle poisoning and of flaying cattle alive occur in the district of Midnapore? Cases of cattle poisoning, etc in the district of Midnapore.

(b) Are the Government aware that there has recently been a recrudescence of these crimes in Midnapore, particularly in the police-station of Patashpur?

(c) What action has been taken for the suppression of these crimes since attention was drawn to their prevalence in this Council in July 1917?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) As shown in the statement which was laid on the table on the 3rd July, 1917, Midnapore between 1912 and 1916 had a higher annual average of these cases than any other district. Figures for 1917 are not yet available for all districts.

(b) Six cases of cattle poisoning were reported in Midnapore in 1917, as compared with an annual average of 18 in the previous five years. No cases of flaying cattle alive have occurred since the 1st January, 1917.

In Patashpur, no case of cattle poisoning has been reported since 1912. One case of flaying cattle alive was reported in 1916, but it was not detected.

(d) Government are not in possession of the information asked for.

(e) There is a rule that monthly audited accounts shall be presented at the next meeting of the Managing Committee. This rule does not appear to have been regularly observed.

(f) This appears to have been the case. (2) Third year.—Applicants who pass the Intermediate examination from the Presidency College are regarded as having a prior claim. Their claims having received consideration, the same principles are followed as in the case of the first year.

Dacca College.

First year.—In the first place consideration is given to Muhammadans who have matriculated in the First Division and steps are taken to ensure that 25 per cent. of vacancies are given to Muhammadans, then suitable matriculates are taken from the Dacca Collegiate School, Armanitola High School and other local schools; next, candiates from schools in the Dacca Division, who are willing to reside in the College hostels, are admitted; family connection with the College and relationship to local Government officers constitute, in all cases, special claims to consideration.

Third year.—All students who have passed the Intermediate examination from Dacca College are admitted; with regard to the admission of students who have passed from other Colleges, the same principles are observed as in granting admissions to the first year class.

THE CHITTAGONG PORT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cumming moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Chittagong Port Act, 1914.

He said :—

"My Lord, I rise to beg leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Chittagong Port Act of 1914. The Bill is known as the Chittagong Port (Amendment) Bill, 1918.

The amendment proposed is very short and very simple. It is solely in the interests of the port and is non-contentious; and it has already received the approval of the Government of India and the Secretary of State. The relief suggested is also very urgent. Hon'ble Members will see that in the agenda it is proposed to take the Bill into consideration at the present stage, and intimation of this has already been given by the publication of the Bill in the Gazette of the 7th August and by the circulation of copies of the Bill to each Hon'ble Member of this Council. It will, therefore, be convenient if, when introducing the Bill, I explain very shortly the change proposed and the urgent necessity for the same.

Section 58 of the Chittagong Port Act, 1914, gives to the Port Commissioners power to impose river dues on all goods landed or shipped. Sub-section (2) of that section imposes a maximum of 4 annas a ton. In connection with certain subsidies given to the port by Government, the Government of India had suggested that this maximum should be removed; and apart from that, the Port Commissioners themselves have desired that this maximum should be removed and, in view of the unsatisfactory conditions of the finances of the port, that the river dues which are at present levied at a maximum of 4 annas a ton should be increased. The commercial community of Chittagong, as I have ascertained recently from my visit there, also realise the propriety of increasing without delay the revenues of the port by means of the river dues; and, finally, Sir George Buchanan, in his recent report on the development of the port of Chittagong, which was received by this Government after measures for the abolition of the maximum river dues had been initiated, has recommended that the Chittagong Port Act be immediately amended and the limitation to a specific sum be deleted from the Act.

"These, Sir, are considered sufficient reasons for amending the Act, and they also explain the urgency of the measure which is now before the Council. Hon'ble Members will, I am sure, at the same time, appreciate that the abolition of this limitation is quite distinct from the determination of what rate per ton will hereafter be considered appropriate for the conditions of Chittagong. Such a determination is naturally and primarily a matter for the consideration of the Port Commissioners themselves.

It is proposed to attain the required object in the proposed Bill by the omission of sub-section (2) of this section 58, which contains the limitation of 4 annas per ton; and there is a consequential amendment in sub-section (3) insomuch as there is therein a reference to the existing sub-section (2.)

On the ground, therefore, of simplicity, of urgency and of the absence of controversy, I think there is good justification for asking Your Excellency, as I shall shortly do if the present motion be accepted, to suspend the rules of business and permit the Bill to be taken into consideration at once. It may be suggested that much more than the abolition of the existing limitation as regards river dues requires to be effected in connection with the development of the port of Chittagong: that is quite true; but the fact that other forms of relief are required. should not preclude the grant of this relief in the shape of the removal of the statutory limitation which could be granted without delay."

The Chittagong Port (amendment) Bill, 1918.

Mr. Cumming ; The President ; Mr. Martin.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. CUMMING also moved His Excellency the President to suspend the Rules of Business to admit of the Bill being taken into consideration.

The PRESIDENT having declared the rules suspended, the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming moved that the Bill be taken into consideration.

The Hon'ble MR. MARTIN said :—

"My Lord, the Bill before the Council to-day has been framed for the purpose of removing a defect or at least an anomaly in the Chittagong Port Act of 1914. When that Act was framed no one could be expected to anticipate the calamity of a world-war and the strain which would be put upon the finances of the port by the loss of revenue resulting from shortage of tonnage. The strain has been so great that we are faced to-day with a situation which makes it imperative that the limit of 4 annas per ton River Due imposed by the existing Act be removed forthwith, and that the rate be increased as soon as possible.

Speaking for the Commercial Community of Chittagong I may say that this is looked upon as inevitable and the necessity is recognised, so that there need be no hesitation in passing the enactment now before us.

And now, with your permission. my Lord, I should like to say a few words on the position generally.

I have had the honour to sit in this Council as representing the Port of Chittagong since the year 1916, and though I have not sought to press the needs of our port on the attention of Government or the Council from my place here it is not because our needs have been met or that they have disappeared, but that Government have been fully advised of the situation in other ways.

I can assure this Council that if tireless and frequent representation could have accomplished it we should have a very flourishing port at Chittagong to-day, and we should not be in the position in which we now find ourselves of having to implore the Government of Bengal or the Imperial Government, or both, to save us from total extinction at a cost vastly greater than would have been necessary had we been listened to, as we had every right to expect to be, years and years ago. We have had the misfortune to be caught in the whirlpool of partition and repartition, of having to plead our cause with a new Government, and just as we had managed to convince them, of having to begin all over again with another—an uphill task, if ever there was one.

Lest it be thought even now that the port of Chittagong, if developed, will serve only the interests of a few merchants who happen to be established there, and that we are presumptuous in a claim for development and expansion by means of funds from the public Exchequer, it is only necessary to say that the Port is the natural doorway serving a tract of country some 80,000 square miles in area, much of it as densely populated as any in India. It is fitting that this should be brought to mind here in Dacca, for Chittagong is without a doubt the proper and legitimate port for this vast and wealthy province of Eastern Bengal. If further argument is necessary, I need only refer to the potentialities of development represented in the Assam-Bengal Railway.

The Chittagong Port (amendment) Bill, 1918.

Mr. Martin.

Without a port at its terminus this Railway is so severely handicapped that instead of being a paying concern as it should be, it remains a burden on the State.

My Lord. we have now reached a crisis in our affairs. Conditions in the Kornaphuli river are so bad that the port is menaced with becoming closed to ocean traffic and this I need hardly remind you means bankruptcy and ruin. It means the abandonment of all the valuable works with which the port has been provided at a cost of enormous sums of public money. I am not an expert in these matters, but I do not think I am wrong in saying that if the silting up of the river is allowed to continue it will be impossible to get it in hand later on.

I have already indicated that this terrible state of affairs might have been prevented had action been taken years ago, but do not let us think of that now. Let the situation be faced and the remedy found, whatever the cost may be. The investment will be large, but even now it will be sound. I do not speak without authority in this. Sir Francis Spring in 1914 and Sir George Buchanan this year were eloquent and unanimous in their opinions as to the paramount necessity of rendering the port navigable, and the beneficial development which will result therefrom.

They have pointed out the way in which this may be carried out and I think it will be agreed that the opinions of these two gentlemen represent the greatest weight of authority which can be brought to bear on the subject of port development in India to-day.

The economic welfare of a country must be of necessity the first consideration of its governing authority, for without expansion of trade and commerce there cannot be expansion in any other direction.

Add to its opportunities for accumulating wealth and a community cannot fail to go ahead.

Surely it is for the Government to see that nothing is neglected which will increase those opportunities. Still more would it seem to be the duty of Government to see that the facilities which exist of bringing wealth and prosperity to the country are not allowed to go to ruin owing to neglect or apathy or procrastination.

Sir George Buchanan visited Chittagong with a mandate from the Imperial Government (Railway Department) to report on the condition of the port, and prospects of development. His report is a most valuable one and sets forth in the clearest possible language what should be done. The Hon'ble Member in charge has visited us quite recently and I take this opportunity of expressing to him on behalf of those I represent, our appreciation of his sympathetic recognition of our most urgent needs. The Port Commissioners and the Chamber of Commerce have been asked to address Your Excellency's Government in the matter and this has been done.

We are forced to ask for large sums of money in the shape of grants, as we are quite unable in our present financial position to undertake to repay or to meet the interest on loans. We ask for permission to undertake the most urgent works immediately, and we specially ask that provision of suitable dredging plant be made without delay. The difficulties are great, but if the need is really recognised, I feel confident that they can be overcome. Once more, my Lord, I would respectfully beg to impress upon Your Excellency the urgency of the matter. Further delay may mean disaster, and I appeal to Your Excellency and to Your Excellency's Government, on behalf of the many important interests which are involved, for all the assistance which it is in your power to give."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

(under the Rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest.)

The following resolution which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray went by default owing to the Hon'ble Member being absent :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore, the Sanitary Commissioner to the Government of Bengal, Sir Nilratan Sarkar, KT., a representative of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce on the Bengal Legislative Council, and the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq, be appointed—

(1) to inquire into the complaints and allegations made by the persons interned in Char Lawrence and Kutubdia, and

(2) to inquire whether proper arrangements were made by Government for keeping the détenus in the same condition of life as they were accustomed to live.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEMS Nos. 8 and 9.

The following two resolutions which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar went by default owing to the Hon'ble Member being absent :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the grant-in-aid rules, as approved in the Government of Bengal, General Department letter No. 408 Edn., dated the 25th February, 1918, be either withdrawn or so modified as to leave a substantial measure of independence to the School Committees.

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the powers given to the inspecting officers for supervising the promotions of pupils from one class to another and for selecting candidates for the Matriculation Examination be wholly withdrawn, such powers being vested in the Head Master subject only to the supervision and approval of the School Committee concerned.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 10.

The Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that having regard to the rate at which houses can be rented in Darjeeling nowadays, the present rate of house rent allowed to Government servants drawing below Rs. 100 per month be raised to Rs. 20 per month.

He said :—

"My Lord, I do not think that I need say many words in commending this resolution to Your Excellency and to the Council for acceptance. The facts are very simple. The house allowance granted to the assistants of the Bengal Secretariat who have to move to Darjeeling for the season was fixed many years back and house rent in Darjeeling has increased very much since then, and I am told that houses cannot be got, or proper accommodation secured for less than Rs. 20 a month in Darjeeling. It is very hard on the poor clerks drawing salaries of less than Rs. 100 to have to pay for their accommodation out of their salary, and not out of the house rent paid to them by Government. For a few months also they have to pay house rent in Dacca. I hope, my Lord, that this resolution will be accepted ; it will entail only a small increase in expenditure and it will relieve a very deserving number of Government servants who help to a very great extent in assisting those who carry on the administration of the country. With these few words, I beg to commend the resolution to the acceptance of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said :—

"My Lord, I do not think that the Hon'ble Member knows the position or has correctly stated the facts. The allowance which he speaks of is an allowance given to assistants for whom it is found impossible to provide accommodation in Government buildings. Rupees 25 a month is given to assistants drawing over Rs. 400, Rs. 20 to those drawing Rs. 100 and more, and Rs. 10 to those drawing less than Rs. 100. It is true we have accommodation in Darjeeling for, roughly speaking, about two-thirds of the assistants who go up, and so far there have been no complaints about the high rates of rent at Darjeeling. The solution surely is that junior assistants should be provided with free quarters and that senior assistants with their bigger allowances should be turned out. The Hon'ble Member says that they cannot get a house at less than Rs. 20 a month. I have got the actual figures. There were 48 assistants drawing less than Rs. 100 during this last hot weather ; 28 of them had free quarters and 20 drew house allowance. Of those who drew house allowances, three were actually paying less than Rs. 10 for their accommodation, 14 paid Rs. 15 and five paid more than Rs. 15. If we are going to give more than Rs. 10 as house allowance, the money will not go to the landlords, but to the clerks who will put it into their own pockets. Besides this house rent, the assistants are given other allowances ; a clerk whose pay is less than Rs 60 gets an allowance of Rs. 40, and a clerk whose salary is between Rs. 60 and Rs. 100 gets Rs. 50, so if they have to pay a few more rupees in house rent, it does not trench on their pay.

We have information also as regards the rents paid by the senior assistants and we find that they can get accommodation at the rates allowed to them by Government ; but in any case, their allowance, which is still more liberal, makes it easy for them to pay a little more than the amount which is allotted to them by Government as house rent ; and it is easier for them to do so than for the junior assistants.

Our proposal is to provide junior assistants with free quarters, and to allow senior assistants to look after themselves if they cannot find accommodation in Government quarters. It is on these lines that Government propose to work. They will look into the case further and make provision for the junior assistants in preference to the senior assistants. I think that this fairly meets the position of hardship to which the Hon'ble Member refers, and I think, in view of this, he will withdraw his resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, after the statement made by the Hon'ble Mr. Donald in reply to this resolution, I beg leave to withdraw it."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 11.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM also moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, having regard to the inconvenience caused to the junior assistants in Government service in journeying with menials and other lower class people, the Government of India be approached with a view to removing the restrictions imposed by Note 1 to Article 1011 of the Civil Service Regulations on these assistants and permitting them to travel by second class on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway.

He said:—

"My Lord, the note to Article 1011 of the Civil Service Regulations lays down that on all railways where there is no intermediate class accommodation, Government servants who are entitled to intermediate accommodation are allowed to travel second class, but the note to that article makes an exception in the case of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway. I do not know on what ground the Government of India excluded this railway from this concession and it is not necessary for me to draw attention in this Council to the fact that the assistants in the Secretariat have to travel third class on this line where there is no intermediate accommodation and that they have to travel with menials and low class persons, coolies and others travelling in the Darjeeling district, and altogether there is great inconvenience in doing so. There is to my mind no reason why the same concession should not be shown to the assistants of the Bengal Secretariat as is done to those Government servants in other parts of the country where they travel on lines where there is no accommodation for an intermediate class. It is a very small matter, and I think that the attention of the Government of India has only to be drawn to it, to remove this restriction, and I hope that my resolution will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said:—

"My Lord, the exception made in the note to Article 1011 of the Civil Service Regulations, to which the Hon'ble Member refers, was made very many years ago. It was considered that that rule should apply to the ordinary railway systems of the country, and it was not the original intention to apply it to a special line like the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway which is more of a tramway than a railway, and where the fares are very much higher than those of ordinary lines. Then again, the second class accommodation on ordinary lines usually secures sleeping accommodation during night journeys; but this is not the case on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, where the journey from Siliguri to Darjeeling is performed in daylight and covers only five hours. Another point is that the second class accommodation on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway is very limited and it should be reserved for those who can afford to pay for it. These were the reasons which led to an exception being made in Article 1011 in respect of this railway. This was done many years ago, and the position is not different nowadays. But, after all, there is not much hardship to the junior assistants in travelling with menials and other low class people. There are about 50 assistants going up on or about the same day and they can easily arrange to occupy a carriage or at least a compartment among themselves. Then, again, the second class accommodation on the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway is very limited, and if Government servants all go up together on one or two days in the second class, they will fill up all the second class accommodation available, and thus cause a good deal of inconvenience, particularly to ladies travelling with children, who usually travel up to Darjeeling at or about the same time as Government.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 12.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a school for teaching weaving and spinning on approved lines be opened at Dacca and other suitable centres in Bengal.

He said :—

"My Lord, it is now my turn to set the ball rolling so far as my resolutions are concerned. But before I take up the resolutions concerned, I wish to make a statement which, I am sure, will give something like a relief to my colleagues and certainly to those who have been charged with the duty of noting all our speeches—I mean the silent victims of our eloquence, the reporters, who are sitting over there. Certainly the attendance of the non-official members of the Council is most discouraging..............."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Order, order, I do not quite see what bearing this observation has on the particular motion which the Hon'ble Member is now moving. I must ask the Hon'ble Member, when moving his resolution, to confine himself to the subject-matter of the motion itself."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I was only giving vent to a feeling which was uppermost in my mind. I was going to submit that having regard to all the circumstances and to the attendance in this Council, I will not waste the time of the Council unnecessarily and try to be as brief as possible. And in return, my Lord, I expect a little sympathetic treatment so far as the resolutions are concerned, at the hands of the official members of the Council."

"My Lord, in moving this resolution I need hardly point out that the question raised by me in the resolution has acquired an unusual degree of interest in consequence of the high prices now prevailing of cloth and the consequent distress in the country. I need hardly say anything about a matter which is obvious, that before we could get our cloth we must have our own cotton, and we must have our own yarn. We must have our spinning machines and we must have our own weavers if not our own spinning mills. So far as the weaving question is concerned, there is at present at Serampore, a fairly well-equipped weaving school, but as far as my information goes, there is no such school in this part of the country. If we look for a moment to the number of weavers in Dacca and adjoining districts as published in the census reports, we find that this part of the country is largely inhabited by persons who take to weaving as a profession and who have long been known for the skill with which they have carried on their profession in the past. To come to exact figures, I find from the latest documents I could consult, that in Dacca there are as many as 44,000 weavers, in Mymensingh 25,000, in Faridpur 26,000, in Bakarganj 23,000, making for the Dacca Division a total of 125,000 It is true that most of these weavers have taken to cultivation and have given up their hereditary calling for the very simple reason that weaving on approved lines is something that they do not know anything about, and it does not pay for the trouble as well as for the capital they spend for the purpose. The question, therefore, arises if something could not be done to induce these weavers, who have given up their hereditary profession, to go back to it and also to teach them improved methods so that they can compete with persons who have taken to produce cloth on approved principles, and to turn out a much better quality of cloth than uninstructed weavers can be expected to do. In this connection some attempts have been made by that useful association, known as the Bengal Home Industries Association, whose report for the year 1917-18 I have before me. It appears that in 1907 or thereabouts, the Director of Public Instruction wrote to the District Board, Dacca, asking for his opinion as to the desirability of opening a weaving school in this part of the country. The District Magistrate thereupon consulted several local gentlemen and somehow or other, they could not agree as to details or as to ways and means, and the final report that went up to Government was that there was very little prospect of a successful weaving school here. The matter was allowed to drop. Then about the end of last year a weaving expert was brought up by Mr. Hart from the Bengal Home Industries Association. This officer went round the chief weaving centres and suggested several methods; and upon the report of this expert the Principal of the Serampore Weaving School wrote to the Director of Public Instruction and he wrote to the Chairman of the District Board asking for a reconsideration of this question. I am not in possession of all the facts, but I am told that this question is in some shape before the Home Industries Association. I take it, therefore, that the importance of the question is realised and also the urgency, and the only problem before us is as to ways and means. I do not know if we have got all the officers necessary. If not, these must be secured before we can have a school on improved lines, but I think we can have something like administrative centres at suitable places like Dacca, Mymensingh, Faridpur and elsewhere. In this matter, I must respectfully ask Your Excellency's Government to take opinion and also direct attention in order that something might be done to give an impetus to an industry which is now fast dying out. It is no use concealing the fact that the weavers are desperately poor and weaving industry at least in Dacca is something which is a relic of the past. It is most regrettable that Dacca which was once regarded as a great weaving centre, one of the best in the world at one time, should now be reduced to such a position. I am only moving this resolution in order to ascertain in what light the Government looks at the question. Having regard to the urgency of the matter, I hope Your Excellency's Government will do all that is possible in the matter. With these few words I commend the resolution to the acceptance of this Council.'

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri.

The Hon'ble BABU KISORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I fully support the views of the Hon'ble Member. The want of cloth is justly felt all over Bengal. Hand-loom industry cannot compete with power-loom but during the swadeshi movement it has been seen that though strenuous efforts were made, it did not succeed. At present the price has gone up so much that it has become a necessity, and I think if such schools be established in different centres at least where there is some need for it, it will help the poor classes to a very great extent. Everywhere in Bengal the hereditary weavers have taken to cultivation because it pays them more, but, as I submitted, the position at present is not so. If such schools be established and instructions either with the help of experts or by providing stipends in schools the art is taught, machines can be got on the hire-purchase system and at a cheap rate. I believe it can be done. In my district of Rajshahi there was a weaving school; there was room for improvement of matka cloth; an attempt was made to teach hand-loom work also, but somehow or other it had to be discontinued, but now as the necessity is very great, I think it can be safely revived with profit to the poor cultivator. I hope Government will see its way to do something for their relief in this direction. With these few words, I beg to support the motion."

Resolutions.

Mr. O'Malley.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My Lord, in replying to this resolution, I may be permitted, in the first place, to sketch briefly our existing organisation for instruction in up-to-date methods of weaving, and then to state what action Government propose to take in order to give further instruction and to help to resuscitate the industry.

We have already at Serampore the Government Weaving Institute, to which the Hon'ble Member has referred. At this Institute instruction is given to two distinct classes, the first consisting of young men of good education who are likely to qualify as teachers, overseers, managers—in fact, young men who are likely to be organisers of the industry. The second class consists of those who are themselves weavers and their sons. The Institute also serves as a centre from which instruction is given to weavers through schools of weaving which have been established in different centres of the industry. The Hon'ble Member is, I think, unaware that there are some weaving schools in this part of the Presidency, there being two weaving schools at Cox's Bazar and at Tangail. There is also one at Malda and one in Pabna in Northern Bengal, and one at Bankura in West Bengal. Not only do young men receive training in these weaving schools as well as at the Weaving Institute at Serampore, but Government help them to set up business when they pass through their course, and give them advances for the purchase of looms and other accessories.

In spite of this, it is recognised that the use of the fly-shuttle loom and the adoption of up-to-date methods of weaving have not spread as fast as could be desired. It seems that the introduction and spread of up-to-date looms and up-to-date methods through the villages cannot be given full effect to by means of weaving schools at fixed centres. A scheme has therefore been prepared for peripatetic instructors who will go about the villages, demonstrating the use of the fly-shuttle loom to the weavers themselves, instructing them in preparing their yarn before the actual process of weaving is begun, and also assisting in creating weavers' co-operative societies. It is hoped that these instructors will succeed in getting fly-shuttle looms adopted more rapidly than at present, and that they will help to create a greater demand for instruction in modern methods. If this is the case, the attendance in weaving schools will rise, and the number of schools will have to be increased. One such peripatetic instructor has already been appointed in the Burdwan district and there has already been a fair amount of success; a certain number of fly-shuttle looms have been bought by the weavers, and they are earning their livelihood. The Principal of the Serampore Weaving Institute is anxious to extend the system and has proposed that four more peripatetic instructors should be attached to the weaving schools at Tangail, Malda, Bankura and Pabna; the Managing Committees of all these schools are very anxious to have peripatetic instructors. Besides that, the Principal proposes that peripatetic instructors should be employed in districts in which no weaving schools are established. I understand that these men will work in the districts of Dacca, Noakhali and Khulna, as well as in Chittagong, where there is already a weaving school at Cox's Bazar. I think it will be recognised that this arrangement has a certain advantage, namely, that the villagers will be reached more easily than if there is a weaving school at a fixed centre. Again, in the districts in which we already have weaving schools, the work done by the schools will be brought home to the weavers, and I think the knowledge of the modern methods will be more easily disseminated in this way. The proposals of the Principal of the Government Weaving Institute at Serampore have not yet reached Government. They will shortly, however, be submitted by the Director of Public Instruction, and I can assure the Hon'ble Member that they will receive sympathetic consideration. That, my Lord, is one line of advance.

Resolutions.

Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

Another line of advance consists of the organisation of Weavers' Co-operative Societies. Mr. Hoogewerf, the Principal of the Serampore Institute, has been put on special duty to facilitate the production of hand-woven cloth in Bengal and generally to assist in the development of the industry. Mr. Donovan, the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, has for some months been busy organizing weaving societies and introducing spinning wheels: three ex-masters of weaving schools have been appointed inspectors for the inspection of these societies. A number of difficulties have to be met, e.g., want of capital, want of yarn, want of an organized market, the indebtedness of the weavers and their conservatism. They are for the most part in the clutches of mahajans who are very unwilling to let them go. Many weavers will not work on certain days of the month—I believe they depend on phases of the moon—some weavers are unwilling to weave a longer or a wider piece of cloth than they have always woven, although it would pay them better. I believe, again, in Dacca and Mymensingh many weavers weave a kind of fine cloth which hardly pays them, and they are reluctant to weave a coarser cloth. However, already much has been done in the way of establishing co-operative societies. In Bankura, a number of these societies has already been organized. The Registrar of Co-operative Societies reports that the weavers there are trooping in to be organized in societies and he hopes that in six months' time he will have two to three thousand weavers at work. A similar programme has been undertaken in Pabna, and it is proposed to start organization almost immediately in Brahmanbaria and then in Midnapore and perhaps also in Hooghly and Kushtia, and to develop Jessore where we already have societies. In Barisal also the possibility of starting societies is to be looked into. In Dacca itself the Joint Registrar has been making enquiries for the purpose of organizing societies as soon as the views of the Committee which has been considering the question are known.

From what I have said, I hope it will be realized that Government have been taking steps for the development of the weaving industry. As I have already said, there are already several Government weaving schools. Then there is a scheme for supplementing the work which is being done in these schools by demonstration by peripatetic instructors in the villages. In districts where there are no weaving schools, it is not proposed to establish them but to meet the demand for practical instruction by peripatetic instructors. Besides this, there is the scheme for establishing weaving societies which will strengthen the weavers' position, produce greater efficiency and increase production. In view of this statement of what Government are doing and what it is proposed to do to meet the situation, I beg to suggest to the Hon'ble Member that it is scarcely necessary for him to press his resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, I think it my duty to support the proposal moved by my hon'ble friend. Technical schools are generally opened on account of demands from factories for operatives. That is not the situation here. We know what the prevailing situation here is. Here we want cloth. There is a demand for it and it is increasing every year. The question whether the production of home industries can compete with the produce of factories does not arise. We know there is a large demand for home produce and I believe that with the help of the artistic faculties of the people which may be noticed by even the most superficial observer in the products of our home industries that they are bound to hold their own against the products of any number of factories. But the question before us may be looked at from another point of view. There is the consumer's point of view. We want more cloths and cheaper cloths if possible. There is another point of view. We want to give instructions to a lakh and twenty thousand persons of this district who or whose ancestors had been engaged in the trade of weaving for generations. There is no reason why their activities should be confined to agriculture or some such profession. And to do that we must train them in these particular lines. And what is the method ? That is the question—whether there is a necessity for training these men. The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has said that the Government have been doing their best towards this direction. In fact, he has accepted the programme of the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq. He said that the Government does not only admit the necessity of inspecting instructors but that they have actually employed them, and that the latter are going about the country. We appreciate this activity on the part of the Government. As regards the existence of co-operative societies, we certainly welcome them with our whole heart. But we still demand that there should be some institution here permanently interested in the promotion of the weaving industry in this part of the province. So far as the circumstances are concerned, they are here more favourable than at Serampore. I cannot conceive of any difference in circumstances. On the other hand if there be any difference at all, it is all in favour of Dacca. We want that, like Serampore, this place should be a scene for the promotion of weaving as an industry in the homes of the weavers of this division. My Lord, it may be urged what is the necessity of this school ? Why should not these boys take their training as apprentices ? They do so at the present moment. As many of them can join the weavers, do so as apprentices, but only a very small number of them can be admitted in this way. Then there is another point. They cannot receive the best training as apprentices. It is that the industry cannot be carried on simply with the ordinary appliances that are used in home industries. Appliances are to be improved. In fact it is the hand-cum-machine system which is the most effectual. I do not mean huge pieces of machinery. I mean that isolated looms or a large number of them can be run at a very small expenditure by machinery. These are the things in which they are to be trained. It is quite possible to give them instruction in mechanical knowledge as well as in the knowledge of weaving, and I think that a school in this connection can go a long way in helping the development of the industry in Bengal. I do not see any reason why Government should refuse to accept this resolution. Government recognized the necessity, we all feel the necessity of promoting this industry and the Government have already taken steps to introduce weaving on a very extensive scale in many parts of Bengal. We appreciate these activities. And here is a proposal which will further help the promotion of the industry in this district and I hope that Government will kindly accept the resolution."

Resolutions.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur ;

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I support the motion of my hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq. In doing so I will only say this. At the present time the necessity of introducing weaving and spinning has been proved by the fact that the price of cloth has risen so high that it means great hardship to the poorer classes of the people. The Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has given a very interesting description of Resolution.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

the steps that have been taken by Government to foster this industry. But, my Lord, I do not quite follow what he means by peripatetic instructors. Of course I know the meaning of the word "peripatetic", but to my mind it seems that if the number of such instructors are increased and if they are sent, having regard to the present needs of the country, to all parts of Bengal, it will be of considerable help to the country. I do not know whether peripatetic instructors include female instructors also. My impression is that in the families of the poorer middle class, the ladies of the house would be glad to have instructions for the preparation of home-made cloths for their own use and if Government will help them by placing female instructors at their disposal a great service will be done to the country. As regards the immediate necessity of starting weaving and spinning schools at Dacca and other places, I do not know much, and perhaps my friends are in a better position to know it. But what I feel is this : that 75 per cent. of the people do not know that peripatetic instructors are available, but if this fact is more widely known and the number of instructors are increased, a great service would be done to the country, I am sure."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I am much obliged to the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley for the very lucid manner in which he has explained to us the Government position and I do not think there is any one amongst the non-official members of this Council who would fail to appreciate what the Government have done and are doing in regard to the improvement of the weaving industry in Bengal. At the same time I confess that I feel a little bewildered when I come to consider what attitude I should take up so far as this recommendation is concerned. I cannot get rid of the impression that the efforts that are now being made by Government and others are of a somewhat transitory character. The present distress prevailing in the country has no doubt induced many of us to think of bringing about some sort of improvement in the weaving industry and if I may respectfully say so, has also stimulated the Government to a more than usual spell of activity. But, after all, these efforts must be short-lived. After the present circumstances have passed away, there may come a time when we will slip back into our usual lethargy and I do not think that there is any guarantee that all the efforts that are being made will lead to any permanent result. I therefore fully agree with the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar that the establishment of a weaving school at Dacca would be taking a step which would be of some permanent character. I am told that in this part of the province there are weaving schools. I have heard of two technical schools. But I think I am free to say that both these institutions are not very much known to fame. My opinion is that these institutions are not prospering. The profit that is now made in price may or may not continue after the present circumstances have changed. On the other hand I fully recognize that Government are alive to the necessities of the situation and that they have got a definite programme of work. The question, therefore, before us is whether I should press the resolution for acceptance by Your Excellency's Government or leave the matter entirely in the hands of Government for the present. I know that if I take up the latter position, Government will fully consider the matter and perhaps reconsider the steps they have already taken, and I am sure something will be done which will be satisfactory to everybody concerned. But at the same time I cannot overlook the importance of the question that has been raised by this resolution, and although we have all listened to a very instructive speech by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley I must confess that I have not heard anything which would convince me that there are difficulties in the way of the Government accepting my resolution. In these circumstances, having reconsidered the matter and having regard to the importance of the question that is raised, I am sorry I cannot but press this resolution. I hope Government will reconsider the question and accept this resolution."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"I think, my lord, the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has given expression very clearly to the attitude of the Government regarding the weaving industry in Bengal generally. I am afraid we cannot accept the resolution as it is worded or as it stands ; but after what the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley has said, and after the assurance that I propose to give, the Hon'ble Maulvi Sahib, I hope, will see his way to withdraw the resolution. What we propose to do with regard to the establishment of a weaving school in Dacca is to consult the Educational authorities and to see what can be done to make an early start in that direction."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I think, that it would rather be asking too much if I pressed this resolution. I would, therefore, ask Your Excellency's permission to withdraw it."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 13.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a selected officer be placed on special duty to report on what steps are immediately necessary for improving the prospects of cotton cultivation and increasing the supply of cotton in Bengal.

He said :—

"The question raised by this resolution is somewhat connected with the one that we have just discussed because all these questions are ultimately connected with that of the increased supply of dhoties and other wearing apparels. But before we can think of increasing the supply of dhoties we must have our cotton, because without our cotton we cannot have our yarns. As regards cotton there are two distinct varieties which we get from what is called 'tree cotton' and the other variety that we get is what is called "field cotton." The climate of Bengal is not considered suitable for the production of long staple cotton or, in other words, the only cotton that we have in Bengal does not give us exactly the kind of yarn that is necessary for weaving fine kind of cloth. It is, therefore, to what is called the tree cotton that we must look for the supply of the proper kind of yarn which is necessary for weaving cloth and the question before us, therefore, practically resolves itself to this : what are the prospects for the improvement of the cultivation of tree cotton and what steps can be taken for this purpose. It is well known that we had in Dacca an industry which was famous throughout the world. I refer to the industry of muslins and the question naturally arises where it was that the people of Dacca used to get their cotton in the olden days. I was casually discussing this matter yesterday with the Hon'ble Mr. Crum and at that time I had not sufficient information to give in regard to the question raised by our discussion. But after I came here I met some of my friends and from inquiries I have come to know that there was at that time in Dacca a sufficient supply of cotton of the variety called tree cotton which used to grow in abundance and which used to yield the finest yarn in the world. It was in the days of the East India Company a certain General, who was afterwards known as Sir Stephen Hamilton (?), reported that at a certain place near Dacca there was a variety called tree cotton which produced such a fine quality of yarn that he was actually surprised and he recommended that all possible steps should be taken for the development of this variety of cotton. An inquiry showed that Sir Stephen Hamilton was referring to that part of the district now known as Kapasia. Kapas means cotton and the place was appropriately called Kapasia. But tree cotton has ceased to exist in that place. It is therefore not correct to say that there are no facilities in Bengal for the production of tree cotton and that all our efforts in that direction are bound to result in failure. The problem really is one which the Agricultural Department can tackle and it is somewhat unfortunate that although they must have been doing something to improve the cultivation and increase the supply of cotton, their efforts so far have led to no appreciable results. The proposal that I make is that a selected officer specially fitted for the task be charged with the duty of reporting to Government what steps may be taken for improving the cultivation and increasing the supply of cotton. I may be told that there is the Department for the work. But, my Lord, if an officer is placed on special duty it goes without saying that he would be able to give his undivided attention to the subject, he would be able to devote all his energies and his suggestions are bound to be of a valuable character. I am not quite sure, but I was told yesterday and I think it is generally believed, that District Officers have been asked to collect information something on the lines suggested in the resolution. I do not know whether it is a fact, but even if it were it would not meet the situation, because, after all, the District Officers have got other duties to look to. They will perhaps depute one of their subordinate officers—very likely one not fully equipped for the task. Enquiries made by District Officers will not be useful. But if an officer is placed on special duty he can tour through at least the suitable part of the province and he will find out what has been the history so far as the cultivation of tree cotton is concerned. He will take note of the soil and note other conditions that are necessary for the improvement and development of this kind of tree cotton and it goes without saying that his report is bound to be of a most valuable character. I only want that a selected officer be placed on special duty to tackle the problem of the increased supply of cotton, which is a most important problem at the present moment. And I do not see that there is any difficulty for Government to depute one of its expert officers for that purpose. So far as this resolution is concerned, I would most confidently commend it to the Council."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I beg to support the resolution. The mover has already brought to the notice of the Council that there are places in this part of the province in which cotton of the finest quality used to be grown. I come from West Bengal and I can also say that there are villages in West Bengal where cotton used to be grown and those villages are still known as Kabasdanga. I do not find any such village in my district. But I know that in many villages in other districts the people used to cultivate cotton. But where are they now? Their descendants are now working as mill-hands in riverside mills in the riparian municipalities. So far as the Government Agricultural Department is concerned, I cannot but say, My Lord, that the cultivation of cotton has not been properly looked after by Government. I have read with great attention the reports of the Agricultural Department, but I am sorry to say that the reports are very discouraging. I have made personal inquiries about seeds and I am glad to inform the Council that seeds are available in many parts of the province. But the Agricultural Department I am told, get their seeds from Bombay and are selling them at Rs. 10 per maund but, allow me to say, that if proper inquiries are made it will be found that seeds can be had here at a price not above Rs. 2 or Rs. 3 per mound. If a special officer is appointed to look into these matters, I am perfectly convinced that the proper step will be taken in the direction of cotton cultivation. We talk of weaving schools, but to my mind what is the necessity of them unless proper attention is paid towards the improvement of cotton cultivation? Therefore, if a special officer is appointed, whether from the Agricultural or from any other department, I am almost sure that there will be an improvement in the present state of things. Moreover, if there be cotton cultivation in our own province the present difficulty will be avoided. With these words, I beg to support the resolution."

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord. I support the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend. Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq. That there was cotton cultivation in Bengal can be proved from old zamindary papers. Cotton was known as kapas. But why it has deteriorated—whether on account of people taking to some other cultivation or owing to the unsuitability of the soil—is a matter for investigation. This ought to have been done by the Agricultural Department by this time, but I am sorry that no such thing has been done. To import cotton seeds from Bombay would be of no use to us as we do not know whether the variety brought from Bombay is suitable to the soil of Lower Bengal. It is therefore necessary that an investigation be made and proper means be devised for improving cotton cultivation in Bengal. If we import cotton seeds from Bombay. it will not be possible to turn out cotton at a cheap rate. It is, therefore, necessary that we should improve our own cultivation so that we could produce cotton at a cheap rate. I do not think it necessary to speak much on the subject, but I fully agree with the Hon'ble Mover that a special officer should be appointed to properly investigate into the matter."

The Hon'ble SIR NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord. I rise to support the resolution. I do so because I have faith in two things. The first in the honest laborious work of experts and secondly in the soil of Bengal. In spite of discouragement that we have received, I still believe that the last word has not been said with regard to the Department of Agriculture. My Lord. to illustrate the matter. I might cite one or two instances. We all know that within the last few years by the investigation of Mr. Milligan we have been able to add considerably to our knowledge of sugar and we have also been able to very nearly approach the solution of the question in regard to that industry in Bengal. My Lord, as regards sugar, we were told in the year 1915 that there was no hope for sugar in Bengal till a particular kind of cane was introduced in Rajshahi which produced an yield of 40 maunds per acre, and only recently I had occasion to come across an European gentleman just casually who had come over to Rajshahi in order to get land worth several thousand rupees. In fact. he had no objection to purchase any extent of land for the purpose of starting a sugar factory. And it was only in 1915 that we were told that the soil of Bengal was not fit for sugar cultivation! I believe that the character of the soil is not the same throughout the whole of the district. The character of the land in Bikrampur, in Tippera, Noakhali or Chittagong may differ but places may be found in these districts which may be found suitable for the cultivation of a particular kind of cotton. In fact, what is wanted is an efficient, hardworking expert who should be able to devote his whole time to the task. It is the whole-time worker that is wanted who would be able to devote his energies on one particular experiment and whose report would not contain vague generalities. It may be, that after experiments

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

such an expert may not be able to give us a good report. But what of that? Then at least we shall have the satisfaction that we have done our duty. We know that in certain parts of Tippera have been found traces of the base of former rivers. I have noticed certain spots in Chota Nagpur where cotton can be grown. And I take the reponsibility of saying that it is a case for an inquiry. I hope that the Government will not give up the question either of silk growing or of sugar growing or of cotton growing without a more thorough inquiry."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"My Lord, the reply of Government to the Hon'ble Member's resolution can be expressed very shortly. Government are at one with the Hon'ble Member and the other speakers in their desire to promote, as far as possible, the cultivation of cotton in this province, but the point on which Government differ from him is the method to be adopted. It is quite true, as has been mentioned by one speaker, that the cotton that is being grown in any quantity, apart from a very small area in the Bankura and Midnapore districts, is to be found in the areas of Hill Tippera and the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

The Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur and Hon'ble Babu Kisori Mohan Chaudhuri have stated that enquiries should now be made as to whether cotton cannot be grown in other areas in the plains of Bengal. If I have understood them correctly, the suggestion from their remarks is that nothing has hitherto been done in this direction. It is not inaccurate to say that for more than half a century special enquiries have been made from time to time to promote the cultivation of cotton in the plains of Bengal. It is an obvious remark to make that cotton was grown at one time, and there is sufficient evidence of that fact; but in the plains of Bengal, as at present constituted, partly from rainfall, and partly from certain diseases to which the cotton plant is liable, it has not been found possible to promote that cultivation.

Now. I have said that Government differ as to the method. As the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar has mentioned, the last word has not been said on the subject. I myself am also still somewhat of an optimist in the matter.

The proposal before the Council is that a selected officer be deputed for the purpose. To this, I can only say that the only officer who can, at the present time, be spared, or who will be suitable for such an enquiry, is our Economic Botanist, and he is at present giving a great deal of attention to the subject and is examining a number of indigenous and exotic varieties of cotton under the conditions pertaining to Bengal. It is true that if he were placed on special duty he might possibly be able to do more; but the Economic Botanist has several and varied duties to perform at the present time. Apart from him, the Agricultural Department as a whole are giving special attention to the matter. In the first place, members of the district agricultural staff are examining a number of plots in order to gain information regarding the suitability of the exotic varieties; and in the second place they are preparing indents for seed for the crop of next year.

For these two reasons, Government, I am afraid, are not prepared to accept the special recommendation of the Hon'ble Member; first, because any officer specially selected outside the Agricultural Department would simply interfere with the existing organization; and in the second place, if the officer were to be selected from within the department, he could be no other than the Economic Botanist who, as I have already said, is giving his special attention to this subject.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

It will thus be seen that Government fully recognize the importance of the enquiry to which this resolution refers; but, at the present moment, they are not able to do more than request the officers of the Agricultural Department to follow up these lines of enquiry, and in particular, to instruct the Economic Botanist to give, as far as possible, a large proportion of his time to this particular enquiry.

With these words, my Lord, I desire, on behalf of Government, to say that Government are not prepared to accept the resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I must begin by saying that I consider the reply that has been given by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming as absolutely unsatisfactory, and that I propose to press this resolution to a division. I would most earnestly request my non-official colleagues to bestow a little attention to this question. We have been told that an officer has got to be selected from outside the Agricultural Department if one is to be selected for the purpose I have in view. What is the good of having an Agricultural Department at all, if that department cannot supply one officer with expert knowledge to take into consideration the prospects of the improvement of one of the most important crops, viz., the improvement in the cultivation of cotton in the districts in Bengal? What is the good of Government spending so much money and nursing a department which sends out officers to the villages simply to look after the old fashioned days of our agriculturists and which cannot devote its proper attention or its energies to find out a solution for a problem which is agitating the public mind so much at the present moment? Is it necessary to go outside the Agricultural Department? Is there no officer in that department who has received a training not merely in India but who has gone outside India? I know that there are gentlemen who have received such a training not merely in this country but outside it and who are fully equipped to take up this task. I am told that the Economic Botanist—I could not catch the expression, but by whatever formidable name he may be called—is at present weighed down with other duties and can only devote a portion of his time to this work. Why, my Lord, should parsimony be shown, when it comes to a question of looking after the needs of cotton cultivation, and that this officer should do this work in addition to his other duties? Why is it that we cannot get a whole-time officer who can devote his undivided attention to this important matter? It is for this reason, my Lord, that I have asked that a certain officer be placed on special duty. We might perhaps be told that the district agricultural officers or the different officers who belong to the Department of Agriculture are in some way concerned with this question. But is that sufficient? What we want is not a man who has come into contact with the Agricultural Department, not a man who has got a superficial knowledge in agricultural improvements and can use fine phrases which we do not understand by which he shrouds his problems with a mystery. But what we want is a man who has received a good training in this particular matter and who can really be called an expert and who must devote his whole time and attention to this matter. I do not know, my Lord, whether the importance of this matter has been fully recognized. Why is it that Government cannot spare an officer for a month or a couple of months in order that he may consider this very important question? After all, what I ask for is that Government should take steps to improve the supply of cotton in this province, i.e., the yield should be increased and that the prospects of the cultivation should be improved. Are the Government to tolerate a situation in which the price of a pair of dhoties has gone up from Rs. 3 to Rs. 8, and when Government have received reports of cases of suicide and lamentable occurrences in the domestic life of the province?

Resolutions.

Mr. Crum.

After all these, are we going to be told that Government are afraid to consider this question which is of the supremest importance at the present moment?

Are not the Government aware of the vital needs of the Empire at the present moment? We, who are discussing this matter, do realize what this distress means, what the price of a pair of dhoties means, what an acute feeling has been caused by so many tragedies which are known to us. I submit, my Lord, that in the face of these, if Government cannot find an officer from the Agricultural Department who could be placed on special duty for a couple of months, I must then earnestly ask Government to take this matter into their consideration and abolish that department altogether and save some money to the public tax-payer. We might be told that there are no district agricultural officers who possess an expert knowledge which is necessary for an examination of this problem. It is for this reason that I have suggested that an expert officer be deputed for this work. I do not understand the position which has been taken up by Government without hearing our arguments and that is the reason why we are driven to have recourse to moving resolutions in Council. I must strongly urge upon the personal consideration of Your Excellency the acceptance of this resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. CRUM said :—

"My Lord, I am afraid that I am unable to agree with the very strong way in which the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq has pressed his resolution ; but at the same time, I do not think that the Government answer to the question is quite satisfactory. The question of cotton cultivation in Bengal resolves itself into two parts. First of all we have the ordinary staple cotton which is grown in many other parts of India, and which we would wish to encourage now as a war measure and, if possible, to reduce the price. I do not think it is necessary to bring over cotton seed from Bombay and try to grow it in the plains of Bengal, because I am definitely satisfied that except possibly in some places such as Midnapore or Hill Tippera, as the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar says, it is perfectly useless to attempt to grow short staple cotton in the plains of southern Bengal; but the mover of the resolution did touch during his first speech on what, I think, must be regarded as rather an important point, and that is the produce of long staple cotton in the Dacca district. Years ago Dacca used to produce an extraordinarily fine muslin and this was made from long staple tree cotton, so I am told. The industry apparently died out many years ago, because it could not compete with machine-made English goods in the same style, and possibly because the demand for this very fine muslin disappeared or was reduced. Twenty years ago, the price of ordinary American cotton was 3*d*. per lb., before the war, 4 or 5 years ago, it was 6*d*. per lb. and nowadays it is 22*d*. per lb. The price of superior cotton, such as Egyptian cotton and other varieties of long stapled cotton, has equally increased in value. As regards the high prices, we may not perhaps see anything like the old prices for a great many years to come, if ever ; and I do think it is conceivable that an industry such as tree cotton in Dacca which has died out a considerable number of years ago, because it could not compete with the other types of the same industry at that time might now owing to the higher price of cotton be a feasible trade. Therefore, on that point, I would like Government to tell us what they think of the tree cotton trade of Dacca and if they intend to make enquiries on that point. There has lately been a Committee sitting in Bombay on the question of cotton in India, and it might be possible to get into communication with that Committee and find out what they have got to say on the subject. It is possible that some of the gentlemen who were sitting on that Committee would be available to examine this question in Bengal. Therefore, although I do not propose to press for the resolution, I

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 14.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the headquarters of the Registrar, Co-operative Societies, be permanently located at Dacca.

He said :—

"My Lord, this is one of our hardy Dacca annuals. I have been persuaded to bring up this resolution for the simple reason that the orders that have recently been passed for allocating the office of the Registrar, Co-operative Societies, in Calcutta, might be reconsidered by Government. The reasons for allocating the office at Calcutta and not at Dacca as given by the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell on the last occasion may be briefly summarised as follows :—

First, there was the proposal for the establishment of a provincial co-operative bank which would be under the control of the Registrar, and secondly that although there are more societies in Eastern Bengal than in Western Bengal the needs of Western Bengal were much greater than the needs in Eastern Bengal and therefore required the constant attention of the Registrar, and thirdly that money was flowing in rapidly so that the Registrar had to interview the investors and intending capitalists and that he should be there to be in touch with all those persons. Another argument which was advanced was that since the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department had to be in Calcutta it was very necessary that the Registrar, the head of the department, should also be in the same city. But now it has become necessary to consider all these reasons in the light of the facts that I am now going to place before this Council. I may begin by saying that exactly the same arguments were put forward as regards the location of the Agricultural Department permanently in this city and I would ask Your Excellency's Government to consider whether after the recent decision of the Government with regard to this department the office of Registrar of the Co-operative Societies should not be located at Dacca. I have not brought forward this resolution in order to embarrass Government in any way but simply because I feel that the activities of the Registrar of the Co-operative Societies and of the Department of Agriculture are so closely bound up together that it is very necessary that the head of the Department of Co-operative Societies should be in touch with the head of the Department of Agriculture far more so than with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department. We have all heard that one of the means by which Government proposes to introduce a larger amount of weaving or induce weavers to get cotton is by starting Co-operative Societies. My Lord, is it not therefore necessary that the Registrar should be somewhere near the Agricultural Department, so that the two departments may co-ordinate their efforts to bring about the best of results? As regards the reasons that had been given I would presently show that they do not hold good at the present moment. As regards the provincial bank the operations may as well be directed from here. We know that there is a Joint-Registrar at Dacca and I think the duties of the Registrar for the purpose may very well be performed by the Joint-Registrar. As regards the second reason that was given, namely, that the needs of Western Bengal are greater, I submit that we have got two or that purpose for the Western Bengal districts, as against one in the Eastern Bengal districts. It therefore follows that provision has already been made for the needs of Western Bengal. The only question now to be considered is whether the office should be located in Calcutta. As regards the point that the Registrar should be in touch with the Hon'ble Member we all know that the state of things which the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell represented do not now exist as the Registrar has not now got his office in Writers' Buildings but somewhere outside it in a place called Dacre's Lane. Therefore, so far as those little conferences between the Hon'ble Member and Mr. J. M. Mitra which are said to have led to such useful results are now at an end. The reasons for allocating the Director of Agriculture at Dacca have been proved to be untenable by experience. We were told it was practically impossible to move that officer from Calcutta. But it has proved to be quite possible and the system is going on very well in spite of what the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell said. He said that the Director of Agriculture should be in touch with the mercantile firms of Calcutta and it was absolutely essential that he should remain in Calcutta. The mercantile firms have no branches at Dacca, yet they get their informations from the Director all the same. Therefore I would appeal to Your Excellency and to Your Excellency's Government not to take up an unsympathetic attitude in this matter but give it their careful consideration. I think a possible objection may be made to this resolution with regard to the position that is occupied by the Registrar of the Co-operative Societies regarding his office. I know something of the working of the Co-operative Societies and therefore I know that the argument may be based on the fact that the Registrar is now the chairman of the Central Bank. But I may tell the Council that no less than seven Directors of the Bank belong to Eastern Bengal. And if the Registrar has his office at Dacca it would be more convenient for the Directors to meet there than in Calcutta. Western Bengal districts supply only four members. For all these reasons, I submit that the office of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies should be located in Dacca."

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

The Hon'ble Mr. CUMMING said —

"My Lord, Government are entirely at one with the Hon'ble Member in his desire to encourage the co-operative movement in this part as well as in other parts of the Presidency, but this can be done without the transfer of the head of the Department from the headquarters of the administration. Lord Carmichael in 1913, when this matter was suggested, referred to the possibility of the transfer of control in the case of certain departments in which the mass of the business tended for the moment to gravitate to this part fo Bengal. I shall explain shortly that this is the reason why there has been a change in connection with the Agricultural Department.

The Hon'ble Member has referred to the discussion on the subject in 1917, i.e., last year, when the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell pointed out that the mass of the business before the Registrar then concentrated in Calcutta. It is true that the position is not quite the same as last year; but on the other hand, it is not so far different, that there appears to be sufficient justification for the transfer of the Registrar. In the first place, as regards the arguments raised with reference to the provincial bank, the Hon'ble Member says that the bank has not been created. It is true that the provincial bank, as a bank, has not been created. But the federation of central banks, to which he refers, was the association of banks to which my predecessor was referring last year. This federation has been created in the course of the last 12 months; it has its office in Calcutta and is in the immediate personal control of the Registrar. On these grounds, it is desirable that the Registrar should retain his headquarters in Calcutta. In the second place there has been a decentralisation of authority since last year. Since the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell spoke in August 1917, three officers, as the Hon'ble Member has mentioned, have been appointed to assist the Registrar with co-ordinate powers. He is not precisely correct in stating there are two for the Western Provinces and one for East Bengal. The three officers appointed are one for Northern Bengal, one for Western Bengal, and one for Eastern Bengal; and at present there is in Dacca a Deputy Collector on special duty with the special powers of a Joint-Registrar. Surely from this it does not follow that the Registrar should be transferred here, but rather that the necessity for the transfer here has considerably diminished.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-haq; The President.

The further argument that was used by the Hon'ble Member when speaking in support of the resolution was that last year reasons were given why the headship of the Agricultural Department should not be removed from the centre of the administration, whereas it is a fact that the Director of Agriculture has now his headquarters in Dacca. But there is a difference between the two cases; in the case of the Agricultural Department there has undoubtedly been a greater concentration of work within the last year in Dacca, and it is not therefore inappropriate that at present the headship of the department should be at Dacca. But in the case of the work of the department dealing with Co-operative Societies, there has not been such a concentration of work in the eastern districts of the province. As the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell pointed out last year, the Registrar is essentially a touring officer who gives his services to East Bengal as well as to other parts of the province. In fact, one district belonging to the Dacca Division, namely, the Faridpur district, is really under his own personal control at the present moment. I, therefore, submit that there appears to be no justification for permanently locating the headquarters of the Registrar away from the headquarters of the provincial administration; and in view of the fact that the Registrar is represented in Dacca by an officer who has co-ordinate powers with the Registrar, the Hon'ble Mover will realise that the grounds for transferring the Registrar have, as I have stated, very much decreased; and I hope he will perhaps not press his resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said:—

"My Lord, I have very little to add to what I have already stated. I must admit that after all the Government must be allowed to judge where particular officers should be located. We can only put forward suggestions. If, therefore, in this particular matter Government find that there are difficulties in the way of permanently locating this office at Dacca, I would not be well advised in pressing this resolution. Besides, I do not wish to make the location of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies dependent on the location of the office of the Director of Agriculture in Dacca, because I find that there is very little chance of my motion being carried; and, after all, we may lose the Director of Agriculture also. I do not, therefore, wish to press this resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

President's Address.

The PRESIDENT said:—

"It will perhaps be for the convenience of Hon'ble Members if, before we adjourn for the luncheon interval, I make some remarks with reference to item No. 22 which appears on the agenda, in which the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq proposes to recommend to the Governor in Council that a Committee of non-official members be appointed to consider the list of subjects to be transferred to popular control, as suggested in paragraph 238 of the Report on Constitutional Reforms. I am going to suggest, for the consideration of the Hon'ble Maulvi, that he should not move that resolution to-day; and I make that suggestion for two reasons: the first is that the Government have no more control over the non-official members of this Council than the Hon'ble Maulvi has himself; and Government cannot order non-official members to serve on committees against their will. It is perfectly easy for the Hon'ble Maulvi, if he desires to do so, formally to suggest a committee without moving any resolution on the subject in this Council. My second reason is one to which I attach more importance, and it is this: I think it would be more satisfactory from every point of view, if the Hon'ble Members of this Council desire to discuss the Reform Scheme and express their views upon it, that they should be given a special opportunity of discussing the scheme as a whole from every point of view. That being so, I am prepared to summon a special session of the non-official members of Council for that purpose. The only question is the time at which such a session should be held. I suggest for the consideration of Hon'ble Members two alternative dates. I should be prepared, for instance, to summon such a special meeting to take place at the conclusion of the ordinary business of the Legislative Council which will be held during the first week in September; that is one date for your consideration; or again I would be prepared, if that date be not convenient to the majority of members, to summon such a meeting later in the autumn, say some time early in November. There are advantages and disadvantages attached to each of these dates. Hon'ble Members may say that they desire to express their opinions before the Government submit their views to the Government of India; and that is an argument in favour of holding a special session early in September. On the other hand, non-official members of this Council have been asked individually to submit their views to Government, so that the argument which I have just adduced in favour of holding a special session early in September is not necessarily a very cogent one. The arguments in favour of holding such a meeting later are, I think, that it will give Hon'ble Members greater time in which to digest the many complicated proposals which are contained in the scheme and will enable them to express a more matured judgment upon them. But I do not wish to influence Hon'ble Members one way or the other. I am quite prepared, as I have said, to summon a special session either during the first week in September or early in November, and I would suggest that those non-official members who are present here to-day might perhaps meet the Vice-President before we re-assemble this afternoon and tell him what their views are with regard to this question of dates.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-haq.

I would propose that we should now adjourn, and that we should meet again at a quarter before 3 o'clock. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler will be pleased to be here at 2-30 P.M. and discuss this matter with Hon'ble Members who wish to do so."

The Council then adjourned for lunch.

AFTER LUNCH.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 15.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that in view of the distress now prevailing in the country, Government be pleased to sanction an increment on a suitable scale to the pay of all public servants drawing monthly salaries up to Rs. 100 a month.

He said:—

"My Lord, I feel I need not say very much in commending this resolution to the acceptance of Your Excellency's Council. It has been admitted on all hands that the distress prevailing in this country is very acute, and that all public servants drawing a very small pay, say up to Rs. 100 a month, find it very hard to make their both ends meet, and it would be a great relief if Government could see their way to add any

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

increments to their salaries in any way Government might think fit and proper. I am told that action on these lines have already been taken by other Governments and the Government of India specially, and that private companies also and employers of labour have thought to give increments to their servants in view of the distress prevailing. The harder case is that of the menial servants who draw a salary which is not even sufficient for them to purchase a pair of dhoties at the rates prevailing in the country. A pair of dhoti now costs about Rs. 7, and supposing there are six members in the family and each member requires a pair throughout the year, he has got to spend on dhoties something which is equal to his annual income, which leaves barely anything for the maintenance of his family. Officers in the enjoyment of high salaries do not feel so acutely as the poorer servants, whose case I have cited. It is on their behalf that I would urge this resolution for acceptance by Your Excellency's Council. I do not think that it would entail a heavy expenditure, because the increments they would draw would be very small. With these few words, I beg to commend this resolution to the acceptance of Your Excellency's Council."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said —

"My Lord, this resolution is of a type which necessarily presents the Financial Department in a somewhat invidious attitude. We all like to feel that we had done something in the course of the day to help those whom the circumstances of life may have temporarily hit somewhat hard, and the Financial Department shares that amiable weakness with other members of the Council. But, on the other hand, the Financial Department is particularly entrusted with the task of administering to the best of its ability the income and expenditure of the Local Government, and we are bound, therefore, to insist on certain practical possibilities before undertaking fresh expenditure.

In the first place, we have already recognized to some extent the conditions to which the Hon'ble Member has referred, and we have given some relief in the case of the lowest paid servants of Government, who, he will doubtless agree, have the first claim. The Hon'ble Member has put his limit at Rs. 100, we have put ours somewhat lower, and have dealt first with the menial servants, the more humble employees of the chaprassi, farash and peon type. Even before the war, as is well known, the economic conditions in this country were tending to drive up the rates of lower paid labour all round, and that is a very serious problem with which future Local Governments will be faced. These conditions were intensified by the war; but, even apart from the war, we prepared a very elaborate scheme to benefit these subordinates which we had submitted to the Government of India. In contradistinction to the Hon'ble Maulvi's happy anticipation that this will not cost a heavy sum, I may tell him that it will involve an expenditure of something like Rs. 17 lakhs. Although we could not face the full cost of the scheme, we did, in view of war conditions introduce it in part; we have done so by raising the minimum pay to Rs. 10, Rs. 9 and Rs. 8, according to the classification of districts in respect of the relative expense of living. In addition to this, we have given an extra rupee to those who are drawing less than Rs. 12. There is nothing very magnificent in this, but even that comparatively small measure involves an outlay of Rs. 4 lakhs approximately. I leave it to the Council to calculate roughly what it is going to cost if we undertake sweeping relief on the lines of this resolution.

As regards what has been done by the other Local Governments, we have not got full information, but as far as we can ascertain, the Bombay Government has given special relief in the Bombay and Karachi cities. Judging by what we see in the papers, the conditions of these two towns have become abnormal in a very marked degree, the influx of troops and all sorts of labour connected with the war having raised the cost of living to a level far higher than that in other cities. Presumably it was for this reason that the Bombay Government had to undertake special measures of relief. The Government of India seem to have given special allowances to the Post and Telegraph and Railway Departments ; but both of these departments have borne an exceptional strain by reason of the war, and they are both departments whose efficiency cannot possibly be allowed to deteriorate during the war. As far as we know, no Local Government has attempted to do anything of the very wide character of this resolution.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Therefore, Sir, we cannot promise anything to that extent. As I have said, we have done something in the case of the lowest paid servants of Government, and in the course of the year, I have no doubt we shall do more in individual cases as they arise, since specific cases of this description are sure to crop up from time to time. I am afraid, however, that we could not possibly, in the present state of our provincial finances, when economy is being enjoined upon us, promise that we would give something to all in receipt of less than Rs. 100 in recognition of the high rates of living due to the war. The difficulties arising out of the war are shared by us all, and we have got to bear them with what philosophy we can ; but in respect of the clerical classes, in particular, it is to be remembered that, in so far as grain prices have been far lower than the average of the past few years, they have benefited to that extent, even though they are paying more for cloth and other necessaries of life. We do not deny that there is hardship, but we can only relieve it up to a point ; and for the rest, with all sympathy for those who are suffering, I am afraid things must continue as they are."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to fix Rs. 100 as the unalterable limit. It is really for the Government to say where the line should be drawn, and I admit that in this respect the Government would be the best judge of the matter. In addition to what I said I would only bring to the notice of the Government the case of two classes of public servants whose claims for an increment of pay Government have assured us that they would be considered. I refer to the case of the Civil Court peons and clerks of the Registration Department. As regards both of these, schemes have been prepared for an increment of pay, and as far as I can understand, these schemes are being held up owing to the abnormal condition prevailing in consequence of the war. But I would press their claims again on the attention of the Government. As regards the statement that no Local Government have done anything, I would beg leave to point out that as the times are somewhat abnormal, the prevailing conditions in Bengal are also somewhat abnormal. We are all suffering no doubt in consequence of the war and we will suffer patiently because we know that all these sufferings are not certainly of our own seeking. It is due to circumstances over which we can have no control. But at the same time we must remember that this suffering is acutest in the case of those whose income or salary is small. And I therefore submit that those whose pay is of the lowest grade—they have got the first claim on the attention of the Government. I am glad to hear that Government have taken certain action in the matter and will take further action as soon as a sufficient case is made out. I am convinced that the wheels of Government move very slowly. Therefore, it becomes necessary to press this matter on the attention of the Government. It is in their hands that the destiny of these poor men lie. A difference of a few rupees may mean much to them, while it may not mean much to Government and it is they who are the acutest sufferers in the distress now prevailing in the country. I wish everybody knew fully of the extent of the distress that is now prevailing. Everybody says that there is distress, but how many

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq; Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

realize the acuteness of that distress? A pair of dhotis costing Rs. 3 before are now selling at Rs. 8. It may be an increase of Rs. 4 or Rs. 5 only, but it may mean taking away a good substantial portion of an ordinary man's monthly income. It is for this reason that I press this resolution on the attention of the Government although the total expenditure may come up to 17 lakhs of rupees. What I would suggest is this that not only a beginning should be made, but that the beginning should be a substantial one and ways and means must also be found out by Government. It may be by paying occasional bonuses to these people or by any other way. That I leave to Government. I do not wish to say anything further.

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 16.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the orders recently issued by the Government for the retirement from the public service of officers attaining the age of 55 be sparingly used in the case of members of the Provincial Judicial Service so long as the conditions of initial recruitment to that service are not improved.

He said :—

"My Lord, I am told that this resolution of mine has caused something like a furore in the ranks of the munsifs. They think that if the Subordinate Judges are allowed to hold on, it will block the promotion of munsifs and it is for this reason that they fear that what may be good for the Subordinate Judges may be something like an injury to their own interests. If there is any munsif who think so, I am sorry that my resolution should have given rise to that impression. What I mean is that cases of exceptional character might occur and I ask Government to take such cases into their consideration. To begin with, we know that these munsifs are not confirmed in their posts till they attain the age of 32. Even if they are confirmed at an earlier age they cannot complete 25 years' service before they attain the age of 55, and as under the new rules he would have to retire then, he would not be entitled to draw half pension. Of course, he would be entitled to half pension if he has completed his 25 years' service. It may so happen that a Subordinate Judge is compelled to retire at 55 and if he has a few months' more service to complete his 25 years, it would be very hard for him if he is not allowed an extension so as to get the benefit of drawing full pension. I would ask Your Excellency's Government to consider these extreme cases, especially in the judicial service. I expect that when some improvements take place in the judicial service, officers may be confirmed at an earlier age than at present. Then in that case this question would not arise. With these words I beg to move the resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I support the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend. Ordinarily we are not for granting extensions, but there may be occasions to which reference has been made by the Hon'ble Mover where it might prove very hard for an officer if he is not allowed to complete his 25 years of service and to draw full pension. Their cases ought to be considered. I believe Government are also anxious to grant in such special cases certain concessions. Moreover, efficient officers of Government expect that they should be allowed to draw full pension. There are cases in which concessions ought to be given and I support the proposal. It is not necessary to speak much on the subject. As regards members of the Executive Branch since they are nominated, they pass through a probationary period and that is counted towards pension. But the munsifs are not confirmed before they attain the age of 33 or 34. Of course, in their cases the officiating period is counted, but very few of them get an officiating appointment within 3 or 4 years of their service. Under these circumstances I think it is quite reasonable that concession should be shown especially to the efficient and hard-working officers. With these words I beg to support the resolution."

Resolutions.

Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"My Lord, I am afraid I have got to disappoint the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq regarding this resolution ; for I do not think that a strong case has been made out for the acceptance of the Government, nor that by the acceptance of this resolution would the Maulvi Sahib be doing any real service to the judicial service regarding which he wants a certain amount of concession and consideration shown. The new rules have just come into force and the Provincial Government is bound not only to accept them but to make a beginning of a question which has been allowed to go on unchecked for a long time. I think, I may remind the Hon'ble Member that Government have already given their assurance that they will accept the question of the increase of pay in the junior grades as soon as a reply from the High Court is received on the subject. As to using the power of granting extensions more extensively rather than sparingly, as I have already said Government are bound to carry out the new rules under the Civil Service Regulations by which extensions are not to be granted to officers of any branch of the service except where there is an unquestionable public advantage by retaining that officer, or where the officer is really physically fit to continue. The age limit of 55 has been found to be a good working limit for retirement, and therefore there is no reason why exception should be made for one particular service. Every extension granted delays, as the Hon'ble Maulvi Sahib himself knows, promotion of junior men, and if no extensions had been granted, there would now be no munsif over two years' service in the lowest grade. In these days of efficiency Government must also stipulate, like all private individuals, on having the best men available for every service, and I think that this holds good for the judicial branch of the executive, just as much as for the executive branch of the same service. Government cannot make any differentiation in a matter of this kind. Moreover, the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq has said that he wants this clemency to be shown in cases of an extreme nature. I would ask him to leave this to the discretion of the Government. If it is really a case where it so happens that a Sub-Judge has to complete only a few months to get his Government pension and if that officer has really done good service to Government, I think the Maulvi Sahib can rest assured that the Government are not likely to overlook such a case, but Government cannot as a general principle show such leniency to a particular service.

Turning to what the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri has said, I am afraid that I could not follow him very carefully ; but I should like to say that there is some likelihood of there being a demoralising effect on the services by allowing Subordinate Judges more extensions than by disallowing them. I think the munsifs and younger men should be given a chance, and except in extreme cases, Government is bound to carry out the new rules which have only recently been issued by the Secretary of State and the Government of India. For these reasons and with the assurance that the Government will certainly in special cases look into the matter on its own merits, I hope that the Maulvi Sahib will not press this resolution before the Council. Government cannot accept it."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"I beg leave, my Lord, to withdraw this resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 17.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ asked for leave to withdraw the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the annual exodus of the Government to Darjeeling be abandoned.

He said :

"My Lord, as regards this resolution I beg leave to withdraw it without discussion, as there is very little chance of its being accepted."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 18.

18. The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that pending the establishment of Muhammadan Arts Colleges in Calcutta and Dacca, such colleges be opened in hired houses and steps be taken to make them immediately available to Muhammadan students.

He said :—

"My Lord, this is one of the questions that the Muhammadan Members of this Council have tried often and often to press upon the attention of Government, and I feel bound to say that although we have done all that we possibly could to induce Government to take some definite steps in the direction suggested in this resolution, we have still got this grievance that nothing practical has been done, and that there is no sign that anything is going to be done in the near future. I may, however, admit that in certain respects Government have done something to help Muhammadan students in pursuing their studies. For instance, the reservation of a certain number of seats in colleges and hostels ; but I would earnestly ask Your Excellency to consider whether the concessions that have been made so far are really sufficient to meet the needs of the situation. My Lord, so far as the case for a Muhammadan Arts College in Calcutta and in this city is concerned, we have been discussing this even since the year 1912, and we are all agreed that every year the number of Muhammadan students who, after passing the Matriculation examination, seek admission to these colleges has been gradually increasing. I do not think that I will meet with any contradiction from Government when I say that a very large number of Muhammadan students have to give up their studies in consequence of their inability to find accommodation in the existing colleges. I was taken to task for using the expression "a large number of Muhammadan students," but after all a census was taken, and I believe that I can confidently assert to-day in this hall that the number of students who have got to give up their studies for want of accommodation is really very, very large. If I am correct, the question arises whether the case for a Muhammadan Arts College has not been made out. We have discussed the question over and over again and we have been told in reply that the real difficulty in our way is one of funds. I will also admit that so far as this aspect of the question is concerned, I find that at the present moment the funds at the disposal of Government are not abundant, and that unless and until normal conditions are restored, we cannot reasonably ask Government to embark upon a fanciful expenditure. But I would, at the same time, ask Government to consider whether the proposal I am now pressing is not of a much humbler character.

Resolutions.

Maulvi Abul Kasem.

After all, what is it that I want? I want that a college be started in some hired house, meaning thereby that the matter should be left primarily to private enterprise, and that Government should come forward to our help by allowing us some sort of monthly grant Supposing the expenses of a fully equipped college come up to Rs. 5,000 a month roughly, and we raise about Rs. 3,000 by means of fees and donations, we would only require Rs. 2,000 a month or Rs. 24,000 a year from Government. If this is done, we can wait till better times are restored and we can have the genuine article. But if we are told to wait indefinitely till normal conditions are restored, I submit that we would be asked to wait much too longer than human patience can bear. We have waited five years already, and we are still harping on the same string at the present moment. I therefore submit that, so far as this proposal is concerned, there is no very unsurmountable difficulty in the way of Government accepting this resolution; and I therefore confidently hope that Government will be pleased to accept it. I might possibly be told that the Calcutta University Commission is considering the whole question of University teaching in this province, and that it would be somewhat premature to take steps in the direction I have suggested till the decision of the Commission is known.

Now, as regards the decision of the Commission, that again introduces an element of uncertainty into our calculations. We do not know how long we shall have to wait; it may be as long as the war lasts or very much longer; but I would say this much that whatever the decision of the Commission may be, there should be no possible difficulty in our having a college in a hired house and ultimately that college may be established under the rules that are to be framed by the University. I myself do not see any difficulty; and if there are any, I would like to have them pointed out; and if they are reasonable, I would not press my demand on the consideration of Government. But I have asked Government to consider this matter, and personally I do not see any difficulty in the way of it. I might have withheld my resolution till later after we received the recommendations of the University Commission. I reserve my comments till I know the attitude of Government towards the question which I have raised. With these words, I commend my resolution for the acceptance of Council."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, I rise to support the motion which is moved by my friend to the right. I admit that the policy which the Muhammadans have followed some years back has been wrong with reference to Western education, and I think everyone will admit that we have already paid the penalty of our folly; but, I beg to submit, my Lord, just as the Muhammadan student begins to take to Western education and University education, difficulties arise in the way of the student. First, there come University regulations which limit the number of boys in schools and also the course of teaching, by which a Muhammadan student cannot get into any college that he may find near his home, because the subjects which a Muhammadan boy is likely to take up or which will give him a good Muhammadan education as well as a good high education are not taught in every college, and that is the difficulty which a Muhammadan student has to meet with. Under the present rules of the University, some colleges are affiliated in particular subjects of the University, and some of them in other subjects; so that the student has to chose a particular college

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth

to get admission, and the difficulty is that these colleges cannot admit as many Muhammadans as seek admission, because the number of colleges which provide good education for Muhammadans is limited. I therefore think that it is advisable to have a college specially for Muhammadans where subjects which are likely to be taken up by Muhammadan arts students will be taught, and so relieve the other colleges of the difficulty they find in accommodating Muhammadan boys. If my suggestion may not be considered preposterous, I may add that the best way to deal with the question, so far as Calcutta is concerned, would be to add additional classes in the Presidency College, and these classes reserved for Muhammadan boys. This can be done with very little increase in the capital expenditure and also a little increase in the running expenditure as well, because the running expenditure will certainly increase because the additional classes will mean additional professors ; but we will also get some income, as my friend has stated, from the fees, which will come to about Rs. 3,000 a month, the expenditure will be Rs. 5,000, and the balance will be about Rs. 2,000. If I may be permitted, I would suggest that a similar attempt may be made in this city, which looks more or less like a city of deserted houses, and we have got a large number of buildings which are unoccupied, and they can be utilised for the temporary use of the Muhammadan Arts College ; although these buildings were never intended for use as colleges or schools, they might be utilised for such a purpose with a little alteration. It will be a great relief if a college be established and the Muhammadans put there. There was some difficulty as regards hostel accommodation ; our difficulty will be removed if an attempt is made to have these institutions in hired buildings. Why we press for it is that if a college is started in hired buildings, Government will feel keenly the necessity of having a Muhammadan Arts College, and we hope and believe that the establishment of a college building will be expedited. It will then be considered more urgent than it is at present. There is an impression, my Lord, right or wrong, that if Government feel the necessity for it and want to do it, it will be done without any serious inconvenience, and that ways and means could be found as ways and means have been found for many other projects which the other departments have found necessary and have given preference to other schemes. I hope, my Lord, that as this question has been discussed so often, we shall at any rate come to a solution this year and in this city which was primarily intended as the capital of Muhammadan Bengal."

The Hon'ble MR. WORDSWORTH said :—

"My lord, I think it must have occurred to all Hon'ble Members on receiving notice of this resolution that the Hon'ble mover has chosen a peculiarly unseasonable time for urging these demands upon Government. The resolution as placed before us to-day is new in form ; it is, however, a variation of a theme that has frequently been before us, has been discussed in this Council on many occasions, and has received the attention of the Department of Education and of Government for many years. Government's sympathy with the project is well known, and its desire to help is well known ; and I think it is well known also that if the war had not intervened, our plans for ensuring special facilities for the higher education of Muhammadans would have assumed a material form by this time. The war, however, has upset our calculations, has introduced financial difficulties and has introduced difficulties relating to the recruitment of staff and equipment, and no action has been possible for the last two or three years. This suspension of action due to the war did not commend itself to many members of the Council and so the matter was brought to debate in March last, on which occasion Sir S. P. Sinha put forward the view of Government in these words :—'Government were unable to accept the resolution of pressing the institution of a Muhammadan College because we could not get the money and we could not get the staff, and even if we could, it would be necessary, I submit, even then, to wait till we know what the recommendations of the University Commission would be with regard to a matter of this kind.'

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth ;

That was the attitude of Government five months ago, and that attitude was supported by this Council when the matter was pressed to a division. We are therefore entitled to ask whether there is any change in the situation to justify new proposals on a matter so recently dealt with. From Government's point of view, there is none. If strict economy was necessary a few months ago, it is no less necessary to-day, and if there were difficulties in recruiting staff and in procuring equipment of colleges a few months ago, these difficulties exist to-day; and if a few months ago it was considered advisable to wait for the report of the University Commission, it is no less desirable to-day when the publication of that report is presumably a few months nearer. From the Hon'ble Member's point of view, I think that the crux of the situation is, the belief that there is a very great need of additional accommodation for Muhammadan students this year. We have been told in rather vague language of the large number of Muhammadan students who have to give up their education because of their inability to secure admission into colleges. The Hon'ble Member's knowledge in this matter outstrips my own. I have made such enquiries as I have been able to make in the time at my command since I received this resolution, and have been unable to discover any clear evidence in support of the Hon'ble Member's point of view. I have written to a large number of Principals of Colleges in this province; I have consulted personally many others. I have consulted gentlemen who are not Principals of Colleges, but are engaged in educational work. I am a member of the executive body of the Calcutta University. I sit on many governing bodies and other educational committees, and only in one instance this year has any representation come before me about a difficulty of this sort, and this representation when examined was found to be scarcely substantiated by the facts.

On the other hand, I have these figures from the Presidency College. a College justly popular among Muhammadans which offers them great advantages in the matter of fees and great opportunities for the study of those subjects that are of peculiar interest to Muhammadans. This year I am informed that the number of Muhammadan students who applied within the time appointed was 50, 36 applied late; these 86 applicants were considered, and 48 were selected for admission. Of these 48, 12 failed to join in spite of the concessions that were offered, and of those 38 who had already been refused, the Principal found it impossible, when 12 vacancies were left for Muhammadans owing to the failure of these 12 to join, to secure Muhammadans to take the vacant places. This is not perhaps a conclusive argument, but it is indicative of the situation; and we may fairly assume that at the time when these unexpected vacancies occurred, the number of Muhammadan students who had not been admitted in the Presidency College, had been admitted in other colleges in Calcutta or elsewhere. No Calcutta College tells me of any special difficulty or of any specially large number of Muhammadans refused admission, nor is any such evidence forthcoming from Dacca itself. Government, therefore, cannot accept the Hon'ble Member's contention that there has arisen a special need which demands special action at this moment. The resolution, as explained by the Hon'ble Member, is rather surprising. As it reads, it suggests that Government should take action for the opening of temporary colleges in hired buildings, but the Hon'ble Member has explained it as meaning that private colleges should be opened in hired buildings, and that Government should come forward with a grant-in-aid. There is no reason that I am aware of why any gentlemen or any association interested in

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Muhammadan education should not establish their own colleges in hired houses or elsewhere. Whether a grant-in-aid would be given is a matter which can scarcely be argued in this Council. It will depend upon circumstances; upon the probable efficiency of these colleges; upon their financial stability and upon many other considerations, and I would only add the remark that there are certain colleges recently come into existence that have already pressed for Government aid. and that Government have not this year been able to encourage their aspirations. Hired houses might be used for colleges, but it is doubtful whether houses built for other purposes could be easily turned into colleges in such a way that the University would accept them. But supposing all difficulties of accommodation, staff and finances were surmounted, there still remains a difficulty which I do not think can be surmounted in any way. Colleges in Bengal, whether private or Government, must work in affiliation with the University. To secure affiliation a college must apply long in advance, and must show that it is fully equipped to do the work, and if any gentlemen started now to establish a college the earliest date by which they could be admitted to affiliation under the University, would be July of next year. Between this and July of next year many things may happen; one, I hope, will be the receipt of the report of the University Commission; another a considerable relief in the financial situation; and I would therefore put it to the Hon'ble Member, that since a delay is for many reasons necessary, it might be as well to accept once more the position that was accepted in April last, and to await the publication of the University Commission's report, and the return of more favourable financial considerations."

"My lord, I would have gladly accepted the suggestion made by the Director of Public Instruction but for the fact that some of the statements which I made in support of my resolution seem to be challenged by Government. I will begin by saying that so far as the Department of Education is concerned we have no grievances whatsoever, and I may also mention here that I do not wish to embarrass the Hon'ble Members who are very sympathetic, and if we do not get what we want it is because, I am fully convinced, that the facts have not been properly placed before them. I know of a case where a number of students were refused admission in a Government College. Government had to prepare the statistics and the task was entrusted to an officer, who, in his turn, entrusted it to a subordinate Muhammadan assistant, who collected an information which contradicted a statement made at a meeting at which the Director of Public Instruction presided. I mention this facts only to show that fact, and support my argument that figures collected by Government are liable to contain errors. The Director of Public Instruction has taken up the position that all the Muhammadan students who passed the Matriculation Examination and those who passed the Intermediate Examination in Science found seats in existing colleges, but here I must strongly join issue with him. We know the number of the Matriculation passed students and it cannot possibly be that the existing colleges with accommodation for 25 per cent. Muhammadan students were sufficient for them. If he really presses the point. I will prove it to satisfaction that this is not a fact. The late Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam in the year 1910 were so fully convinced of the necessity of a separate Muhammadan Arts College that a scheme was ordered to be made out and a scheme was made out, when the partition was annulled and the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam ceased to exist. Am I to understand that what was necessary in 1910 is not necessary in 1918 although attention has been repeatedly drawn to it by the representations of the community. Am I to understand that the necessity has ceased to exist in 1918? I would say most emphatically that it has not. I do not know whether I should be challenged, but I propose to place these facts before the Director of Public Instruction. Then we are told that economy is necessary. I do most certainly agree. The previous resolution was based on the recognition of an economical necessity. The police budget is extravagant. We all agree that economy is necessary there, but the general complaint is that no economy is practised under that head. I am reminded in this connection of a story. A gentleman was asked to practise economy. He went over his budget and found that the only way he could practise economy was by curtailing the amount which he used to spend on charity. We are asked that in order to practise economy all we have got to do is to cut out Rs. 25,000 meant for a Muhammadan College. I want to put the question seriously to Government that if they are agreed that there should be economy, is this the direction in which economy should be practised? I think that this scheme should be taken in hand now. It is no use arguing as I am prepared to admit that the scheme may possibly have to be postponed in consequence of the recommendations that are going to be made by the Universities Commission. Then we have been told that if the war had not intervened we would have got something. The scheme was prepared by the Eastern Bengal and Assam Government, then came the re-partition which prevented the scheme from being put into operation. Then the proposal was taken up by the Government of Your Excellency's predecessor, and before a scheme could be prepared came the war. Then we again raised the question before Government. I do not know how many obstacles still there are to encounter. But unless Government do really take this matter up in right earnest, there will never be a real solution of the problem.

There is one thing more which I want to press most strongly for the consideration of Government and it is this: How is it that although year after year we are bringing this question to the notice of Your Excellency's Government, sometimes during the Budget discussion, sometimes by moving resolutions and sometimes by putting interpellations until the question has become one of the most pressing questions in this Council going from year's end to year's end, and yet nothing has been done? Your Excellency may know that at the time of the annulment of partition, a solemn pledge was given to the community that something would be done in the matter of education. At that time we thought that we would have the Dacca College and along with it a Muhammadan Arts College at Dacca. I take it that these solemn pledges are pledges which the Government are bound to fulfil. We are told that the present moment is most unseasonable for a resolution of this kind and that I should not have brought it up. Unseasonable indeed! There seems to be a season for everything. There seems to be a season for the establishment of the Patna University and the Bihar High Court. But when we urge anything upon the attention of the Government, we are told that the time is unseasonable. There seems to be a season for everything but no season for improving Muhammadan education. We have been asking for that something for which the Allies are fighting—the desire for the redemption of something like a solemn pledge."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said:—

"My lord, I do not wish to go over trodden ground or bring forward facts and figures; but I think that the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Huq has been carried away somewhat by his enthusiasm and his earnestness in having the scheme now started, has overlooked a fact which the Director of Public Instruction brought out in his speech, viz., that if you were to start a new college even now, the chances were that you could not get affiliation from the University till July, 1919. If that be correct, I think the Hon'ble Mover of this resolution may be easy in his mind that we shall receive the report of the Calcutta University Commission before that; and that being so, I would ask him to consider very carefully whether or not, in the best interests of Muhammadan education, it would be just as well to wait a little longer. Government is not blind to the fact of the growing need of Muhammadan education in the country, and Government would certainly have done more had not the war restrictions come in between; and I think that if the Hon'ble Member will weigh this point in his mind, and when he finds that really and truly the University Commission's report is likely to come up earlier than the affiliation of a new college, I think he would be well advised to wait. That is all I have to say. The Director of Public Instruction, on behalf of Government, has already stated the reasons for which the resolution cannot be accepted."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS ITEM No. 19.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HUQ also moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Muhammadan opinion be invited as largely as possible on the question of legislation to provide for the levy of a voluntary tax on Muhammadans in Bengal to raise funds for Muhammadans education.

He said:—

"My lord, I think it necessary to explain the position which I take up in urging this resolution for acceptance by Your Excellency's Government. We have all felt that for several years past that one of the chief difficulties in the way of Muhammadan students is not merely the want of accommodation in existing colleges, but also the obstacles that naturally arise from the fact that Muhammadan students belong to a very poor community. We also recognise that under present conditions Government cannot give us much substantial aid, and we therefore thought that one of the best courses that we could adopt was to tax ourselves to raise funds for the purposes of Muhammadan education. I might at once be told that if such is our decision, why should we not do it by non-official means among ourselves by providing for it, instead of asking Government to legislate in this direction? The reasons, my lord, are obvious. In the first place, it is very difficult to organise the levy of a tax and its realisation. Secondly, I must admit, that if such a matter were undertaken by private enterprise there would be some chance, at any rate, of funds being misappropriated, if not actually misapplied to improper purposes. We, therefore, thought that the best course under existing circumstances would be to have legislation taken on the lines suggested in the recommendations contained in the Bill which I formally drafted and presented to the Secretary for introduction in this Council in order to levy a voluntary tax on Muhammadans for the purpose of raising funds for Muhammadan education. Before that Bill could be introduced, it was necessary to obtain the sanction of the Government of India, but the Government of India, I was informed, had objected to the introduction of that Bill for reasons which were not communicated to me in detail. The real reason, it seems to me, is based on the language of section 79 of the Government of India Act which enacts that the local legislature of any province may not, without the previous sanction of the Governor General, make or take into consideration any law affecting any tax for the time being in force—I have read from the relevant portion of this section. I thought, my lord, that with the proper interpretation of this section, the Bill that I presented in this Council was unobjectionable. The Government of India having, however, ruled otherwise, it was not possible for me to press upon the Government for permission to introduce the Bill. But what I would suggest by this resolution is that Muhammadan opinion may be unofficially invited, and if we find that Muhammadan opinion is practically unanimous, and that there is a large body of Muhammadan opinion behind this demand, we may have made out a case to go up to the Government of India for a reconsideration of that decision. I do not say that opinions should be invited as if the Bill has been already presented in Council, but what I do respectfully ask Your Excellency's Government is to addrsss the leading Muhammadans and associations and other persons interested in Muhammadan education inviting them to state their opinion clearly on the question of the feasibility of a tax of that character; but as regards the larger question as to whether such a tax would be acceptable to the Muhammadan community, if the Government find that there is a strong body of Muhammadan opinion in favour of it, I think we might then make out a good case for going up to the Government of India for the introduction of my Bill. With these explanatory remarks, I beg to commend my resolution for the acceptance of the Council."

Resolutions.

Maulvi Abul Kasem.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My lord, we are told that in order to take our proper place in the public life of the province we must get ourselves properly educated, but we find that facilities are wanting. And when we want that difficulties may be met we are told that money is not available for the purpose. Now we want to be allowed to tax ourselves and we are not allowed to bring forward a Bill for that purpose in the Provincial Council. I think I am right when I say that at least two Provincial Governments were favourable to a legislation of this kind—I mean the Governments of Bombay and Bengal. My Hon'ble friend here made out a draft Bill and the Legislative Department circulated a notice in which it was stated that the Bill was likely to be introduced at a particular meeting of the Council. But when the agenda paper was issued we found that that item was not in it. We subsequently learned that the Government of India have refused sanction for introduction. The Bombay Government also tried to introduce Mr. Sharda's Bill but the Government of India could not see their way to sanction its introduction. The Government have not a private fund ready for us. We have tried in various ways to raise a fund. First, we wanted to raise money by taxation and, secondly, we have tried to utilize the waqf funds by taking measures by which they could be used for Muhammadan education—the purpose for which they were intended. We have been refused assistance on both occasions and, as my Hon'ble friend has just remarked, we have been told that if the Muhammadans are so willing and so anxious to tax themselves then why not have a voluntary taxation? But, my lord, there are serious difficulties in the way of our doing so. If it is believed that there are 23 millions of Muhammadans who would gladly pay just as they pay Government revenues, then in that case, my lord, it would be putting too much value on the patirotism and public spirit of any community in the world. These men have to pay land revenue and if they fail to do so their estates are in danger of being sold. Is it likely that without some such safeguard the money will be forthcoming? Besides, there will be men of all sorts and dispositions in every community. I do not think the Muhammadan community is an exception to it. Believing that the money will be forthcoming and intending to have the work equitably distributed and also to make it suitable to all persons the only means which we could adopt was to tax the Muhammadans for the purpose of advancing Muhammadan education. I have got a particular interest in the matter because the constituency which I represent is one which is particularly poor but where the desire for education is very great. The Muhammadans whom I have the honour to represent belong to a race who lived by public service in the old days and they are a class who without education have got no other profession to follow. They have now fallen into very bad times and the only means by which they can retrieve their fortune is by getting a thorough and sound education. That education they cannot receive unless some pecuniary assistance is forthcoming. That assistance cannot be forthcoming from Government as their resources are limited. And if we are not allowed to tax ourselves all that we want is that the Government of Bengal may be pleased to ascertain whether a large, an overwhelming body of Muhammadan opinion is or is not favourable to this taxation. I make bold to say that it will be found to be favourable and it is quite apparent from the fact that people have demanded it in our conferences and also by the fact that two members of Provincial Councils had taken the trouble of drafting a Bill. There is a genuine desire for it. And if an inquiry is made it will convince the Government of India that it is a measure which may be allowed to be introduced into this Council. We may be told perhaps that so far as provincial taxation is concerned, it may be one of the questions that will come up before the reformed Council and so it is premature to take up this question now, and that it may be left to the new Council to decide about the taxation. But, my lord, the Government move slowly and by the time the reformed Council can go into this question and no action had been taken in the meanwhile, it will be too late perhaps, so far as the less educated of my community is concerned. Unless they are allowed or in other words unless they are given proper facilities for receiving education, I am afraid they will not be able to take their proper place in, or to share the responsibilities of, the Government under the Reform scheme. So we can hardly afford to wait, and I hope Your Excellency's Government will be pleased to take the matter into their favourable consideration."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My lord, I would like to say a few words with reference to one remark that has been made by the last speaker. He has cited as an example of the unsympathetic and obstructive attitude of Government towards the laudable desire of the Muhammadan community to tax itself in the cause of education, that a Bill of this type in another province was rejected by the Government of India even against the wishes of the local Government. I happened to be Home Secretary at the time when that question was under discussion, and I may tell the Hon'ble Member that he has been misinformed as to the facts, which were those. The Hon'ble Mr. Bhurgri submitted a Bill, desiring self-taxation by the Muhammadan community for purposes of education in Sind; it was supported by the local Government and the then Commissioner of Sind, who, I think, was Mr. Younghusband. Its various aspects came under criticism by the Government of India, with the result that prima facie certain points appeared to be unsatisfactory, and it was referred back to the local Government for further consultation with Muhammadan opinion and examination. By that time there was a new Commissioner in Sind, so far as I remember—Mr. Lucas; and on further enquiry he ascertained that his predecessor had been misled by certain enthusiastic advocates of this taxation, the true facts being that the Muhammadan community as a whole did not desire taxation and did not favour the measure. In consequence of this further report the local Government withdrew its support to the Bill, which then lapsed. It is incorrect to say that the Bill was rejected by the Government of India against the wishes of the local Government."

Resolutions.

Mr. O'Malley.

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"My lord, this resolution is couched in general terms, viz., that the opinion of the Muhammadan community be invited on the question of legislation to provide for the levy of a voluntary tax on Muhammadans in Bengal to raise funds for Muhammadan education.

The Hon'ble mover has, however, explained that what he has in view is not a referendum to the Muhammadans on the general question whether legislation of this kind is necessary or desirable. He realises that there must be concrete proposals showing what is intended, how money will be raised and how it will be spent : in fact, the people must be shown exactly how their pockets will be affected. What he desires is that the views of the Muhammadan community should be obtained not on a general question but on a particular measure, and that is the Bill which I believe he himself drafted and the introduction of which was refused by the Government of India. I gather from the Hon'ble mover's speech that he is not fully aware of the reasons why the Government of India refused to sanction the introduction of this Bill. I propose to tell him the reasons briefly. One of the features of the Bill was that among the Muhammadans who were to be made liable to pay an educational cess, were those paying income-tax ; and it was proposed to levy a super tax of 25 per cent. on the amount they paid as income-tax. The Bill provided that the cess should be levied from all Muhammadans in Bengal ; and this was one of three classes on which it was to be imposed. The Bill, as required by the rules about proposed legislation, was submitted to the Government of India. The Government of India, in exercise of their powers under the Government of India Act, were unable to sanction its introduction, because the Bill affected public revenues by a proposed increase of 25 per cent. to the income-tax ; and the Government of India could not permit the proposed addition of 25 per cent. In consequence of this decision of the Government of India, this Council has not and cannot have seisance of the Bill. In spite of this, the Council is asked in this resolution to recommend to Government that Muhammadan opinion should be invited on a Bill which could not be introduced. I ask, my lord, whether a referendum on a Bill which cannot be introduced can serve any useful purpose. I venture to submit that this is not a practical proposition.

I confess to some surprise at the resolution being moved at all. In the statement of objects and reasons which the Hon'ble Member appended to the Bill, he stated that the Muhammadan community was almost unanimous as to the necessity of a Muhammadan educational cess, and that the Bill was intended to give practical effect to the almost unanimous wishes of the entire community. If this is the case, I fail to see what is the good of Government consulting Muhammadan opinion on the matter. Government, however, have no evidence of any demand from the Muhammadans of Bengal for a voluntary tax for educational purposes, or any proof that they would welcome the imposition of an educational cess. It is true that after the Hon'ble Member had sent in his Bill, a resolution was moved by the All-India Educational Conference at Calcutta in favour of the Bill, but apart from this, Government have nothing to show that such a measure is demanded or would be welcomed by all the Muhammadans in Bengal. Perhaps, what the Hon'ble Member desires is that the District Associations and the Anjumans, which are numerous in this Presidency, should be given an opportunity of publicly expressing views which so far they have not expressed. But it is perfectly open to the Hon'ble Member to obtain their views himself. He can easily get publicity given to his proposals for legislation ; in fact, this debate will give a certain amount of publicity to them Public opinion has ample means of expressing itself, and if it does not choose to avail itself of them, it is not the duty of Government to advertise the proposals, and if I may use such a phrase, beat up public opinion for the Hon'ble Member. This being so, I must, on behalf of Government, oppose the resolution with an uncompromising negative."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, I have followed with great interest, the discussion on the proposal of two accredited representatives of the Muhammadan community, of taxing themselves for the purpose of advancing Muhammadan education. I have observed in public prints statements to the effect that if any portion of the administration of this country is entrusted to the people they will be very loth to tax themselves and all the discredit of failure will recoil upon the Government. But here I find, to my surprise, that two representatives of the Muhammadan community are asking for permission to impose taxation upon themselves for the purpose of promoting education. That shows the real earnestness of the community which they represent.

My lord, an observation has been made by the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler with regard to the introduction of certain Bills in the Bombay Council, and it is this : One Divisional Commissioner found that the Muhammadan community were anxious that Government should permit them to tax themselves, while another Commissioner found that the community were opposed to it. Is it not then the best course to invite the opinion of the whole community saying that such a proposal has been made, what is the opinion of the community on the subject? I think that that is the best way. My lord, I do not know what are the contents of the Bill, but, if I have followed Mr. O'Malley right, the Bill suggests an increase of 25 per cent. on the income-tax and as he says it would encroach on the Imperial revenue. I do not know whether the Muhammadans want an increase of 25 per cent. in the income-tax or to levy an education cess, but if it is stated in the Bill that the money would be spent towards Muhammadan education and if it is brought before the community, they would be free to state whether they accepted it or not. Perhaps they would be more ready to welcome an education cess. It has been stated that it is for the Muhammadan community to express their opinion and not for the Government to advertise the proposal. I find that the All-India Muhammadan Educational Conference asking Government to empower them to impose taxation upon themselves. There have been one or two other Muhammadan public bodies asking Government help on this matter. It may be said that they do not constitute the entire Muhammadan community. But, my lord, is there any objection to ask for a public expression of opinion on the subject or is it that there have been certain matters in the Bill with which Government do not entirely agree? I know of an analogous case where the people wanted legislation but Government would not have it. There was a great difference of opinion between the Government and the people over the Religious Endowment Bill of the late Mr. Ananda Charlu. I know that there is a great demand in the Indian community for years and years together for a Bill to provide for control over their religious endowments. I am speaking from my personal experience extending over a quarter of a century."

The Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY said :—

"Is the Hon'ble Member in order in introducing these arguments?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I think the Hon'ble Member is getting dangerously near the border line. I hope the Hon'ble Member will see that his remarks bear on the particular proposal before the Council."

Resolutions.

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur; Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR continuing said :—

"If the Government would ask for an expression of public opinion especially on an important proposal like this, I am sure they will be in a better position to know the opinion of the community than can be known through public conferences or public bodies which may not represent all sections of the community. It may be asked why Government should advertise? But it is not a question of advertisement. And Government, even before the Reform proposals are given effect to, does not mean the Government of bureaucracy only. I think, therefore, that we can ask Your Excellency to ascertain public opinion on any public subject and especially on an important subject like this on which the Government are not convinced that public opinion has been adequately expressed. I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"I am extremely sorry that the attitude of Government should be so frankly hostile for I felt convinced when I gave notice of the resolution that the recommendation which I was making to Government was of a perfectly innocuous character. I would not have taken up the time of the Council further because I know the fate of my resolution, but that I want to clear up one or two points to which reference has been made in the official reply. It is said that the Bill affects the public revenues. I have considered the terms of the section and I fail to see how the Bill can be said to affect the public revenues of the country. After all, what I propose is that a cess should be imposed under certain conditions and at a certain rate on all Muhammadans residing in this Presidency and all that can be said if this tax is imposed is that it takes away to a certain extent the taxable capacity of a particular section of the people, namely, the Muhammadan community. Now let us consider that in consequence of various requirements the Muhammadan community are to be taxed, say, up to 50 per cent. of their income. But after all if we have imposed all the taxes we propose to levy we are going to leave to the people a certain margin out of their income. And this proposal of mine can be given effect to by taxing only an infinitesimal portion of the income left in their hands for bare sustenance. I therefore fail to see how the proposed taxation can possibly affect public revenues. However, that is the opinion of the Government of India and it must be accepted for the present. I am then told that it is useless wasting our time to invite opinion on a Bill that cannot be introduced. Well, if I thought that the position taken up by the Government of India were unassailable, I would certainly have never come up before Your Excellency's Government. I believe that the Government of India have arrived at a hasty decision and that if further facts are placed before them, they will reconsider their decision and give leave to introduce the Bill in this Council. Although at the present moment the Bill cannot be introduced the reason why I make this proposal is that if we invite public opinion I feel sure we will have collected materials which will enable us to make out a strong case for the reconsideration of the decision arrived at by the Government of India. I have next been told that instead of Government collecting the opinion why not collect the opinion ourselves? I certainly thought of that, but there are certain difficulties in my way. I wrote to several leading Muhammadan gentlemen, 73 in number, about this measure, and the Hon'ble Members will be surprised to hear that not more than five of them condescended to reply to my letter. I met many of them personally and they seemed very enthusiastic, but they did not reply to my letter because they said they could not appreciate the importance of it. We have got to deal with men who have this idea, if I may be excused for saying so, and it is for this reason that I thought if Government were to ask them for an opinion they would certainly give it. Mr. O'Malley has read out the preamble of the Bill which says that the Government are convinced there is a strong concensus of opinion amongst the Muhammadans that this tax should be imposed. But I may be permitted to point out that we have got to anticipate it and without an inquiry it cannot be said that it is incorrect. I am told there is no evidence that the Muhammadans wanted to be taxed and that there is certainly not good evidence for collecting their opinion. It may mean some trouble to Government, but I thought that the Government would be the proper machinery for collecting evidence on this particular point. It would be most welcome to the community that Government should undertake this work. Then I am reminded of the fate of a Bill of a similar character which was attempted to be introduced in the Bombay Council. I know of the case. But as far as I know in Bengal there is a genuine desire that this Bill should be introduced and that is why I want that public opinion should be consulted After all I have tired to place my views before the Council. And I cannot help pressing it to the attention of Government."

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

The resolution was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 20.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that definite steps be taken to organise and develop technical and industrial education in Bengal. especially in connection with the Dacca School of Engineering.

He said :—

"My lord, this again is one of our hardy Dacca annuals. I moved a similar resolution in this very House in the year 1916 when I had the privilege of listening to a very able and instructive speech from the Hon'ble Sir R. N. Mukherjee, who spoke in opposition to my resolution, and brought all his expert knowledge to bear on the question then before the Council. I do not know if it will serve any useful purpose to go over the same ground which we covered on the last occasion. and it is for this reason that I have tried to note down some of the definite proposals which I want to make in connection with the proposal now under discussion. It will be seen, my lord, that this is somewhat different to the proposal which I brought forward in 1916. On that occasion I made a definite proposal, but on the present occasion I leave it to Government to take whatever steps may seem proper for organising and developing technical and industrial education in Bengal, especially in connection with the Dacca School of Engineering. I wish to make a few suggestions. In the first place, I suggest that in the interests of these important branches of study, the question of their control and supervision should be taken out of the hands of the Director of Public Instruction and placed under the Director of Industries. There are various obvious reasons for doing so. We must admit that the time of the Director of Public Instruction is fully occupied with general educational matters and he cannot possibly be expected to devote much attention to the development of technical and industrial education as the needs of the problem demand. Secondly, the Director of Public Instruction, as far as I am aware, has not any officer subordinate to him who can be entrusted with the work of controlling the technical and industrial education of this province. Then the Director of Industries is supposed to be a wholetime officer for the purpose to which technical and industrial education really relate. It is but fair to ask that he should be entrusted with the work. The second proposal that I propose to make is that demonstration shops in technical and industrial institutions

Resolutions.

Maulvi Abul Kasem ; Mr. Wordsworth.

may be opened where artisans and skilled labourers may learn different kinds of industrial work. The third proposal that I make is that boiler examinations be begun in Bengal, and the students from the Sibpur Apprentice Department and the Dacca School of Engineering may be given equal facilities to sit at these examinations. The fourth recommendation that I want to make is for the amalgamation of the three existing joint, technical and survey boards, making one consisting of experts to control all the technical and industrial education in Bengal. The next proposal I want to make is that the electrical and mechanical classes in the Dacca School of Engineering be re-opened. These are principally the main proposals that I propose to make in connection with this resolution.

As regards the Dacca School of Engineering I do not wish to take up the time of this Council by urging the question over again. but I would simply urge this fact for the consideration of this Council, that the question that was raised by the Hon'ble Sir R. N. Mookherjee can be answered at least to some extent at the present stage. One of the points that he raised was that there are no workshops where these persons could get some sort of technical training as well as theoretical, but what he wanted was a large number of workshops where they could learn the practical part, and this dearth of workshops really made the question of the location of a suitable school of engineering in Dacca, so far as technical education was concerned, difficult.

I do not know much about the matter, as I have to speak as a layman, but if the railway workshops can be utilized for the purpose, they will provide sufficient opportunity for the kind of training on which the Hon'ble Sir R. N. Mookerjee laid so much stress. If the railway workshops can be utilised for the purpose, one of the main reasons given by Sir R. N. Mookerjee in opposition to my resolution would certainly fall to the ground. I do not wish to take up the time of the Council, but the importance of the matter must be recognised by all. I do not doubt that the Goverment are prepared to do all that can be done. The only question is whether any steps can be taken in the direction indicated by my resolution."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My lord, I have very little to add to what has been said on this resolution by the Hon'ble mover himself. The attention is one which has engaged the attention of Government for a long time, and I believe that Government are as much anxious as the people of this country to find employment for the young men of the middle classes in Bengal, other than those of a clerk or a lawyer. I believe that in order to secure for them employment, we must give them a proper training and one of the avenues of employment would be that of a mechanic and an electrician, and other professions. Therefore I think that it is a very desirable and reasonable proposal that technical and industrial institutions should be established in Bengal, particularly in connection with the Dacca School of Engineering. We want a good deal of facilities and apparatus and some sort of workshop where students can be given this sort of education. I believe the local people, so far as the formal part of the resolution is concerned, would be only too willing and glad to come forward with their help to make this institution successful. I think Government should take the initiative and leave the organisation in the hands of Government officials.

With these few words, my lord, I beg to support the resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. WORDSWORTH said :—

"My lord, there is great divergence between the terms of the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Maulvi and the definite recommendations into which that resolution has resolved. I think the Hon'ble Member will scarcely expect me to return offhand, on behalf of Government, a definite answer to such definite and technical proposals. I can assure him that these recommendations will be placed in the proper quarter; some of them have long been receiving consideration though they may not mature in the exact form in which they are now framed, and I hope the Hon'ble Mover will be content with that assurance with regard to his specific proposals. As the departments are at present organised, the Director of Industries is not in any way concerned with industrial or technical education; his functions are of a very specific character, and are determined at this moment by specific problems due very largely to war conditions; and I do not think it is possible to contemplate that the functions now exercised by the Director of Public Instruction in the Department of Technical Education should be transferred to the Director of Industries."

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth.

I would refer next to the proposal that the electrical and mechanical classes should be re-opened at the Dacca School of Engineering. In the debate on the Hon'ble Member's resolution of two years ago, the situation was clearly explained by the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Lyon; and it was then pointed out that the facilities granted at Dacca to students for the study of mechanical and electrical engineering were being used to a very small extent. I have the figures here; and I find that in 1913-14, there were only four students in this department out of 266 in the school. In 1914-15, there were only 9 out of 211; and in 1915-16 there were 5 out of 211. The expenditure was considerable; there was at the same time but a small number of students taking these classes at Sibpur, and Government as trustee of the public revenues felt it impossible to continue these classes at such heavy expenditure. Accordingly, this work was concentrated at Sibpur; and it will be remembered that Sir R. N. Mukherjee and other members of the Council also strongly urged this course, because of the peculiar opportunities offered to students who follow their studies in large engineering and industrial centres. Since then, these classes at Sibpur have become very popular; and there is at the present moment a very large demand, a demand indeed almost too large to be met at the present moment. Government, therefore, is doing its best. There are difficulties of staff and the recruiting of competent men is almost impossible at the present moment. There are difficulties in securing additional machinery. If these difficulties obtain in connection with Sibpur where extension might be possible, surely the difficulties would be much accentuated if we endeavoured to re-establish similar classes at Dacca. Further, we are advised at present that the heavy demand on the classes at Sibpur is the demand for the opportunities that Sibpur gives not merely a demand for training in mechanical and electrical engineering, but for training in those subjects under the peculiarly favourable conditions which attach to the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur. It is true that Eastern Bengal students find it more expensive and more inconvenient to follow their studies in Calcutta than in Dacca, and by a natural sentiment which we all appreciate and which in educational work is peculiarly valuable, they would prefer to have the opportunities here; but sentiment and cost are not the only considerations. In the matter of engineering training the opportunities for a satisfactory practical training are a very potent determinative and the extra expense to which Eastern Bengal students who go to Sibpur are put is more than compensated by the additional prospects they have in after life.

For these reasons, and unless there occurs any fundamental change in the situation, Government is not able to take into consideration the re-institution of the teaching of these subjects at the Dacca School of Engineering.

Proposals for the development and improvement of the work of the Dacca School of Engineering are under consideration, as also schemes for the improvement and development of the Civil Engineering College at Sibpur and other institutions. I trust that the Hon'ble Member will be satisfied with the answer I have given, and will see no necessity to press this resolution to a vote."

The Hon'ble MAULVI FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My lord, I can say that I am satisfied with the reply given, and I would beg Your Excellency's permission to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM NO. 21.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that questions relating to the appointment and transfer of Muhammadan Marriage Registrars be finally decided by Government on the recommendation of the Permanent Committee and that the said Committee be reconstituted, if necessary, so as to place it on a workable basis.

He said :—

"My lord, this is a resolution which exclusively concerns the Muhammadan community; but for one or two matters which have given rise to this resolution being pressed in this Council, I would not have chosen to take up the time of this Council by bringing forward a resolution of this character. I know that the orders of Government in this connection have already been put into force regarding the rules for the future appointment of Muhammadan Marriage Registrar and it might seem somewhat futile to move a resolution at the present moment. I think that the resolution of Government has put into force certain rules which provide for the appointment of Muhammadan Marriage Registrars; there are certain reasions why I thought fit to place this resolution before the Council in order to get the opportunity of placing, for the consideration of this Council, certain matters of a somewhat important character. In the first place, the proposals that have been accepted by the Government are that the appointments should be made by the local Anjumans and Muhammandan Associations; and that after the Anjumans have made certain suggestions their recommendations are to go up to Government, and one out of two nominations should be selected for the vacancies. I wonder if Government really took into consideration the fact that most of these Anjumans or Muhammadan Associations are hardle organised institutions, and that they exist only in name. There are somy which come into existence only when the Governor goes to visit a particular locality, in order to have the honour of presenting an address to His Excellency. Disorganized institutions of this kind can hardly be entrusted with the work of selecting persons for appointment in responsible position. It is obvious that if these powers are given to Anjumans, there is always one man who runs the whole show and he will be able to exercise in some cases some sort of nepotism which in all cases should be condemned. Secondly, my lord, the decision of Government was arrived at without any reference to public opinion. No association was consulted and no Muhammadan of any position in this Presidency was consulted, and the Government took this decision on its own initiative without allowing the public to have any say in the matter. The permanent committee which has been recognized for 30 years was not allowed to express any opinion on these proposals. I might be told that a member of the Government who himself is a Muhammadan did introduce this change. I must confess that that argument does not appeal to me at all. I submit that if a member of the Government does propose a certain measure, affecting to a certain extent the rights and privileges of any section of the community or of the people, it is the bounden duty of that member to consult public opinion and to act accordingly. To act on his own initiative, without consulting public opinion, is to act like an autocrat and it is not made the least objectionable because he happens to be an Indian. If he tries to drive a coach and four through our rights and privileges, he is liable to still more condemnation than any European who wants to do so. I therefore submit that this decision, which was taken by Government without consulting public opinion in a matter of this character, is an insult direct to the community, and an insult to the permanent committee. I do not know whether Government could be moved to reconsider their decision, but I have recommended in the resolution itself that the Permanent Committee if necessary be reconstituted so as to place it on a workable basis. I freely admit that the Permanent Committee is a huge body, and is hardly a body which can be of any practical use so far as these questions are concerned; and therefore I recommend that the Permanent Committee be reconstituted, and that after the district associations have submitted their nominations, Government may be pleased to consult the reformed Permanent Committee in finally making appointments. In this way Muhammadan opinion both in the districts as also the representatives from various parts of the Province would be taken before final appointments are made. With these few words I beg to commend this resolution to the acceptance of this Council.

Resolutions.

Maulvi Abul Kasem.

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My lord, it is on very rare occasions that I find myself in disagreement with the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq and unfortunately it is one of those occasions. The Hon'ble Mover has said that the rules for appointing Marriage Registrars have been framed without consulting Muhammadan opinion. So far I agree with him. But the decision taken by Government is a wise decision and it will serve very useful purpose. I do not deny that in some parts of Bengal Anjumans come into existence on the eve of an official visit and for the purpose of presenting addresses to him. I know that there are in this Presidency at headquarters of districts both in Western and Eastern Bengal, Muhammadan Associations which have done good and useful work and even granting that there are Associations which are practically one-man shows—when these Associations are given a certain amount of responsibility in recommending the appointment of Marriage Registrars, they will do better work than they have hitherto done. If it is one-man show then that one man will lose the influence which he now exercises and he will have to make room for other people and the Association would become more active and more popular than they are to-day. I certainly agree with the Hon'ble Mover that these recommendations from these bodies may be placed before the Permanent Committee before being finally accepted by the Government, and that out of the two recommendations by these Committees one may be selected by the Permanent Committee itself. I have no objection to that, but what I want to place before Your Excellency's Government is that so far as the original nominations are concerned I would leave them to the local Associations and I think that if these local Associations are given this and other responsible work they will get some amount of responsible and popular support. By this way they will gradually help in the formation of Muhammadan public opinion in the moffussil and also stimulate activity in Muhammadan public life. On these grounds I would press that the present system be maintained so far as original nominations are concerned, but I want the right of recommendation for the appointment of Marriage Registrars being vested in public working bodies representative of the community. With these words I beg to say that whatever decision Government may take, the present rules should not be departed from."

"My lord, the Hon'ble Mover has recognised that this matter has very recently been under discussion and consideration; that the whole question was examined very carefully last year, and that the views of Government at that time were recorded in a resolution of September 1917. At that time, the Government of Bengal had the special advantage of the advice and experience of a Muhammadan gentleman as a member of the Bengal Government; and in this connection, I must say I do not understand what was the exact relevance of the remarks which the Hon'ble Mover made on that subject. The decision then made, Sir, was that while this Permanent Central Committee should remain, it was desirable and convenient that it should only perform the functions of an Advisory Committee on general questions, while retaining the functions of an examining body; but the duties of the selection of candidates were decentralized among local Advisory Committees which were to be constituted. The decisions then made were embodied in the rules which were published so recently as April last; and, indeed, it was only in June last that the proposals of the Inspector-General regarding the personnel of these Advisory Committees were approved. In making his recommendations, the Inspector-General followed the instructions of Government that where there were suitable Muhammadan Associations they should be recognised, and where such suitable agencies did not exist, local committees were to be formed ad hoc and consulted.

"Now, the Hon'ble Member has raised in this connection two questions, viz., the appointment and the transfer of Muhammadan Marriage Registrars, but the most of the arguments in his speech were directed to the question of appointment. As I have stated, it has been decided that, as a matter of policy, Government should obtain the assistance of these local Advisory Committees for appointments; but as regards transfers, they should be retained in departmental control. The Hon'ble Member apparently desires that the Central Committee should have powers under these two heads. His first argument is that these local bodies are not organised, and that they are unsuitable agencies. The answer is that the Inspector-General has been informed that where an Anjuman is not suitable,or where there is no Anjuman, he should, in consultation with the District Registrar, submit the names of suitable nominees for the local committees. In the second place he has argued that the change was made without consultation with the Muhammadan public, and without consultation with the Permanent Committee; and I am afraid that it is really here where, if I may use the expression, the shoe pinches. I may say perfectly frankly that it is premature to decide whether further changes are now necessary. It was only in June last that the personnel of the new Committees were created and such experience as has been obtained is to the effect that the new arrangement is working more satisfactorily among the Muhammadans than the old one. It has been admitted by the Hon'ble Member that the Permanent Committee is not a suitable agency for dealing with appointments throught the province, and the Hon'ble Member who supports him has urged that, after all, there is a great deal to be said for this decision.

"In the next place, as regards transfers, on which the Hon'ble Member has lightly touched, but which is a subject which is included in the resolution, I may say that the authority to sanction transfers, with which might be included suspensions and dismissals, was at no time specially included by

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Government amongst the functions of the Central Committee. In this case also orders were passed quite recently. Therefore, I must oppose this resolution, on behalf of Government, on the main ground that the present arrangements were settled after careful consideration so lately as September 1917; and that nothing has occurred since that date to justify a resiling from the decisions which were then made.

"I should like, however, to state in this connection that in that same resolution, the Government of Bengal did undertake on the return of normal financial conditions, to appoint two special officers for the inspection of Muhammadan Registration offices in view of the fact that the inspection of these offices is at present inadequate. If such appointments are made, it may be possible to meet the views of the Hon'ble Mover and those who think with him on this subject of Muhammadan Marriage Registrars. But as I have said, Sir, there are good grounds for opposing the resolution as it at present stands."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL HAQ said:—

"My lord, I can well understand the feelings of the members of this Council by having to listen to a discussion at this late hour of the day, especially on a subject which is of no interest except to three of us sitting in this corner. But I feel obliged to say a few words, because I want that the points that have been raised by me in moving this resolution ought to be cleared up whether my resolution be accepted or not. I have been told, as anticipated, that the decision was arrived at by a member of Government who was himself a Muhammadan. That argument however does not carry conviction with me; he might be a Muhammadan or anybody else. The point is not whether the decision which was arrived at was wise or right; but the point is that the decision was arrived at without consulting public opinion on a question of principle which affects a large section of the community. I want to point out to Your Excellency that although public opinion may have been disregarded, we cannot allow this sort of policy to pass without a protest. I maintain that the members of the Permanent Committee who had offered advice to Government for more than 30 years and whose functions and privileges were going to be curtailed, ought to have been allowed to have their say in this matter. Supposing, my lord, the Government want to take away the privileges which we enjoy in this Council, without consulting us, or giving us an opportunity of expressing our opinion. Would it not be a most humiliating position for us if we had allowed that sort of thing to be done?

We are told that there are public associations which may be entrusted with the task of making selections for vacancies. Why was it, my lord, that this decision was taken in the dark and flung upon us in the public by means of a resolution. I object not to the decision, because the decision may have been wise; but I object to the principle of arriving at a decision without consulting public opinion.

My friend, the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, who said that he was going to oppose me on the present occasion has, I am glad to find, unconsciously supported me in the speech which he has delivered. He has stated that the original nominations may be entrusted to the local Anjumans but that the decision may be made on the recommendation of the Permanent Committee. If he reads the Resolution he will find that my resolution refers to the final decision; and he is prepared to agree with me there. I think, therefore, he has in fact supported my resolution.

I am told that the Permanent Committee will still be an examining body; but examinations are held only once a year. I am next told that the District Committees are working satisfactorily. Government may be in possession of the information which we do not know but I may tell this much that it was only yesterday that on setting foot at Dacca I heard that there has already been a squabble and quarrel in connection with the nomination of the Dacca Association and representations have been sent to Government. This is the first result of the introduction of the present system of reforms, by which power has been taken from the Permanent Committee and delegated to District Committees. That is, however, a matter with which Government will have to deal. It is useless to argue the case any further because Government has already made a decision. When Government takes up an uncompromising attitude, to go against Government decision will be to dash one's head against a rock. I do not wish to make any further observations; but I would still press this resolution for Your Excellency's consideration."

The resolution was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—Item No. 22.

THE PRESIDENT said :—

"I think that this item should be formally withdrawn in Council."

The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq accordingly withdrew the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a Committee consisting of non-official members of this Council be appointed to consider the list of subjects to be transferred to popular control, as suggested in paragraph 238 of the Report on Constitutional Reforms and referred to in the Illustrative List II appended to the Report, with instructions to submit their report to the Secretary to the Legislative Council for circulation to members in time for discussion at the September sitting of the Council.

LIST OF BUSINESS—Item No. 23.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that all steps which are being taken or are in contemplation in pursuance of the scheme for the partition of Dacca be postponed.

He said :—

"My lord, the question of the partition of Dacca came before this Council in consequence of the decision arrived at by Government to invite public opinion on this project. It was found that since this proposal was made, public opinion immediately expressed itself. I believe several meetings have been held and several representations made to Government to postpone the question of the partition of Dacca at least for the present. In recommending the postponement of the consideration of this question, I beg to submit for the consideration of Your Excellency's Government certain facts which, in my opinion, ought not to be ignored before any decision is arrived at by Government in this matter. I will begin by saying that I was given an opportunity of giving evidence before the District Administration Committee and there I freely admitted that the administration units should be as small as possible because I freely confess that in my opinion the smaller the administration unit the greater the efficiency in the administration. If that principle be accepted, I also admit that in some cases there are existing administrative units which ought to be partitioned. But the question whether a particular district ought to be partitioned or not is entirely a different matter. But even taking for granted that Dacca is one of those districts which ought to be partitioned, I would submit, as I was told in a previous resolution, that a more unsuitable occasion could not have been found out for taking up that question. In the first place, without going very much into the merits of the question it is necessary that the people should be allowed the fullest possible time and opportunity to consider the forthcoming reform proposals and that no other proposals should be before the public which are likely to distract public attention or to take away from the earnestness with which they should look at all the problems arising out of the constitutional reform scheme which are now before the public. I therefore submit that one of the strongest reasons for postponing the question of the partition of Dacca at present is the outstanding fact that we have before us proposals of a far more weighty character which should be considered in a calm atmosphere free from controversy. It is evident that the question of the partition of Dacca rightly or wrongly, has given rise to controversy and that there should be nothing before the public at the present moment anything of a controversial character. Secondly, we do not know what the effects of the reform will be as regards the position of the District Officer as the head of the unit of administration. We do not know what effect the large principle of administration will have on the position of the District Officer and we do not know what the position of the District Officer—who can be said to be overworked at the present moment and I say this without any reference to conditions—will be in reference to the constitutional reforms but his position is certain to be affected. For these reasons, therefore, if for nothing else, I would strongly urge upon Your Excellency's Government to reconsider the decision for inviting public opinion and to leave this matter alone till we have got through our schemes of constitutional reform and calmer times are restored. It may be said that the matter is of some urgency. So far as Dacca is concerned I do not think it can be said that the matter is of any urgency. Even if Dacca is included in the list of those districts which should be partitioned, I submit that the District Officer of Dacca gets at present proper help in matters of administration from a sufficient number of officers who have been carrying on the work and who can certainly be expected without any appreciable inconvenience or difficulty to carry on the work for some time longer. I do not think that a case of extreme urgency has been made out and I am very strongly of opinion that unless such a case is made out, it should be postponed for the present. With these few words I commend this resolution for the acceptance of Your Excellency's Government. I say nothing as regards the merits of the scheme of the partition of Dacca.

Resolutions.

Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur said :—

"My lord, I beg to support the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq.

The Government Resolution published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 17th July 1918, proposing the partition of the district of Dacca has greatly disturbed the minds of the people of this district. Several persons and some of the Associations and the press have in unmistakable language expressed their opinion against this proposal. They have all been vehemently opposing it since the publication of the District Administration Committee's report.

My lord, my proposal is a very simple one. I do not stand for the final abandonment of the scheme now, though I am strongly in favour of it. I plead only for its postponement. Both the Government and the people will be in a better position after the war and after the action of Parliament on the Reform Scheme, to see the needs and difficulties of the country due to the changed circumstances. Till then the scheme should stand adjourned.

Resolutions.

Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur.

Some of the reasons for which the people oppose the partition and their criticism in respect of the grounds set froth in the Government Resolution in favour of the partition may be summarised below :—

That the larger schemes of partition, such as the partition of Mymensingh and Midnapur, are not yet being carried out on account of financial difficulties. It is not desirable that a proposal for the partition of another district should be taken in hand and thereby create unnecessary discontent among the people while there is no probability of carrying it into effect immediately or in the near future. District partition requires heavy expenditure, both recurring and non-recurring, which the present exigencies of the finance do not warrant.

The financial resources of the present District Board is pretty large and it can take up large works of public utility in connection with education, sanitation, communication, etc., but after the partition each district will have too small an income to undertake any such measure, nor will it be easy for the District Boards to co-operate in a common cause, each being guided by its own necessity.

After the partition a large number of people who are now residing at Dacca or have valuable houses there will have to leave for the new head-quarters to carry out their business, and they or at least those of them who are poor will thus be deprived of the full benefits afforded by such good institutions as the Mitford Hospital, Dacca College, Engineering School, Medical School, Eden Female School, Northbrook Hall Library and proposed Residential University. And many of these people or their ancestors have contributed in some shape or other towards the establishment and development of these institutions. It should also be noted that the general principle followed by the Education Department, enjoins that the students of the district to which the Educational Institution belongs, are given preference in the matter of admission. So it would be difficult for the students of the new district to get admission in the Dacca Institutions ; nor is there any possibility of such institutions being established in the new district.

Some people in every quarter of the district have their houses in Dacca. But after the partition the people within the jurisdiction of Munshiganj and Narainganj subdivisions will have to build new houses in Narainganj where land is not easily available and, when available, it is sold at prohibitive prices. On the other hand, those who will have to leave the present district head-quarter will be compelled to part with their house property at Dacca at a considerably low price. It is also undesirable that the solidarity of the people should be disturbed without their consent.

Bikrampur and Sonargaon are places of historical importance and their connection with Dacca is also historical, and the people of these parganas are natuarlly averse to be separated from that connection, nor is it desirable that the importance of this old historic city should be considered as negligible. I am aware, my lord, that these considerations may be repudiated as sentimental, but my lord, sentiment is a predominating factor in all human affairs. It is distinctly laid down in the Constitutional Reform Report that territorial redistribution should be avoided, when the people are against it and the area is small and people homogeneous. The consent of the people is considered as absolutely necessary when any scheme of partition is proposed.

Resolutions.

Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur.

Your Lordship will see that the people oppose partition on reasonable grounds and it is neither in their interest nor for their convenience that the partition should take place. Let us now see for what expediency the proposal is made. It appears from the Government resolution proposing the partition that it is necessary for administrative convenience as suggested by the report of the District Administrative Committee. The time and circumstances which guided the said Committee to make this and similar other suggestions have vastly changed. The Government policy of administration and the public opinion have also undergone enormous changes and the administrative principle which then held good, does not hold good now. There may be people both at the present and the proposed headquarters who oppose or support the partition on the ground of personal interest, but their number is very small and their opinion is not worth much, but the opinion of the general public ought to carry weight.

The policy of creating small districts is not liked by the people, as we have seen in the case of Mymensingh when the partition of that district was finally settled. That district is nearly three times as big as Dacca in area still the people thought that it should not have been divided, if division was necessary, into more than two districts. Though it pleased the Government to divide that district into three and though the people may yield to the inevitable, the discontent will rankle in their hearts for a long time to come.

The reasons given in favour of the partition do not appear to be convincing. The district is small in area comprising 2,777 square miles while the average area of an Indian district is 4,430 square miles as mentioned in the report on the Indian Constitutional Reform. If the partition of districts is carried out on this principle then the number of the districts in Bengal will shortly be more than double, entailing enormous administrative cost. All the sub-divisions of the district of Dacca, including those in contemplation, are connected either by railway or by water channel and the district officers have already been supplied with steam launches. If there be still any difficulty of communication these may be better overcome when the district is undivided and can spare more money for the purpose. Division will not make communication easy.

Munshiganj subdivision is mentioned as "the most advanced rural tract in India". I, my lord, have the honour to belong to that subdivision and I am thankful to the Government for the compliment; but I am unable to follow the argument that this is one of the reasons for partition. We often see that advanced people are more docile and amenable to reasons than those who are not so, and the district officers are not likely to have much administrative trouble from that quarter. Even if Munshigunj Subdivision is considered as a criminal subdivision this may be met by posting permanently a Superintendent of Police there as at Serampore which has not been raised into a district. The people of Dacca were never reconciled to the partition of Bengal and it is impossible that they will willingly agree to the partition of their own district. Large number of petty estates complexities of land tenure and volume of ligitation be easily dealt with by increasing the number of officers. If according to the Government resolution, the Civil Court officers can carry out the civil administration from Dacca, I do not see why the executive cannot do so by dividing the jurisdiction. In Mymensingh the Sadar subdivision is too big and there are two subdivisional officers, one in charge of the northern part and the other the southern part and the work is going on smoothly. Narainganj which is proposed to be the headquarter of the new district is only ten miles from Dacca and there is also railway communication. It will make very little difference to the people whether the administration is conducted from Dacca or from Naraingang. But western Bikrampur being nearer to Dacca the people of that quarter will be inconvenienced to go to Naraingang if their headquarter is located there. Dacca City, which is under the control of a municipality with a non-official Chairman, does not appear to be a source of great trouble to the District Officers. The formation of village unions has reduced the work of the District Officer and further reduction is expected when Village Courts will be created. Non-official Chairman of the District Board is shortly expected which will materially relieve the District Officers of a very important charge. A further relief is sure when the Local Self-Government Bill is passed into law. The Constitutional Reform Scheme which is now on the parliamentary anvil unmistakably indicates that the administration will gradually by stages pass within a short period from the hands of the officials to the people. His Excellency the Viceroy and the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State apprehend in their report on the Indian constitutional reform that they may be blamed for having left no room for official activity.

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

My lord, it is not expedient in the interest of the country to increase the administrative expenses if they can be helped. The large schemes of rural sanitation and popular education have to be taken up without delay. Village Committees will soon be established throughout the province. All these require money. Under the new financial arrangements of the Reform Scheme the policy of Imperial grants to provinces will come to an end. The income tax and general stamps will soon be purely Indian sources and Bengal will get no share of them. There practically exists no other elastic source of revenue for the province, Bengal will financially be in a very bad position. No scheme of additional expenditure should therefore be undertaken with a light heart. It should not be said that Your Excellency's Government have without sufficient and strong reason increased the financial burdens of the province.

Under all these circumstances it is clear that the work of the District officers has been considerably reduced and if they consider their charge to be still heavy it is only temporary, for further reduction is shortly expected after the introduction of the Reform Scheme. It is therefore desirable that the Government will not force partition on an unwilling people permanently for a temporary cause.

On these grounds I beg to urge that the consideration of the proposal be postponed till after the war and the final settlement by the Parliament of the Indian Constitutional Reform, when both the Government and the people will be in a better position to discuss the matter calmly and dispassionately and it may be that the Government will not then consider the partition at all necessary."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

My lord, when I arrived yesterday at Dacca I found that there was a volume of opinion against the partition. I have not had an opportunity of going through the arguments for or against the partition, but so far I am certain that this is not the suitable occasion for the partition of the district of Dacca. It would indeed be a wise policy if the subject of partition be postponed at the present moment, and I would only urge upon Your Excellency's attention that the partition of Dacca may be postponed until the Reform Scheme is introduced, and we have an opportunity to understand what the position of the Magistrates would be under that scheme.

Resolutions.

Babu Kisori Mohan Chaudhuri; Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

The Hon'ble BABU KISORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

My lord, I rise not with a view to add to what has already been submitted by several representatives but with a desire simply to support the contention of the Hon'ble Movers who are intimately connected with the district of Dacca and who are fully interested in this matter. The proposition is not for the abandonment of the partition of the district, but Your Excellency is only asked to postpone it for some time. It is hardly the time when Government could undertake a thing like this. As regards the partition of Midnapur and Mymensingh much progress could not be made on account of the lack of funds, and I do not see any reason why another partition should be taken up and, in fact, against the wishes of the people. That is a position which we submit for Your Excellency's consideration. There is also no special urgency so far as we have been able to see. The partition indeed is a question in the interests of the efficiency of the administration and Government are no doubt the best judges to decide that point. The partition of a district is always distasteful to the persons who are specially concerned, and if the solidarity of the people is disturbed there ought to be some special reasons for it. As I have already said, the proposition is not for the abandonment of the scheme but simply for its postponement in view of the present situation and also in view of the coming reforms, and I hope and trust that this prayer will be considered and further progress in the matter will be postponed for the present. With these few words I beg to support this resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My lord, I beg to support the resolution of my friend the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq. This question of partition is bound to be looked at from different points of view. The people of Dacca and the people of Narainganj will necessarily look at the matter from opposite and interested points of view; but there are two other subdivisions and they are even more interested than the people of Dacca or Narainganj because Dacca has its headquarters and Narainganj will also have its headquarters; but none of these subdivisions will have any. Be that as it may, it appears to me that this proposal is not without serious disadvantages and these disdavantages I would like to place under three heads. (1) Financial; (2) those caused by the wrecking of associations which have been formed in the last three centuries or more around Dacca and the interests created in Dacca during this long period; and (3) the difficulty under which our friends in Dacca shall be placed if the partition proposal is carried into effect. The last one appears to me to be very important, as I am deeply interested in the question of local self-government. Dacca will have after the proposed partition only her mutilated Councils, whether it be the local bodies, or whether it be the Municipal or other boards, that may be formed there. It will have to work with only half her men, half her money and half her resources. That is certainly putting them in very great disadvantage, particularly at their time of trial upon which the confirmation of the powers that are going to be conferred upon us, will depend. During this period of trial they will have to work under these disadvantages if the proposal for partition be carried into effect. My lord, there is a point of view that largeness of size is a great disadvantage, but largeness of size means a larger number of men, and that would be an advantage. It all depends upon what point of view you look at the matter because a large number of men means larger resources, a larger amount of work, larger interests, and when it is said that for more efficient administration, smaller units are necessary, I do not think that I can agree with all my heart to such a proposal. I would think a small size is also a disadvantage. There is a claim for greater attention and that has reference only to the official classes. I know that the official classes are always hard-worked; but, my lord, to put it in a slightly informal way—for which I may be pardoned—I have greater faith in an arrangement of groups under one able officer than to divide our resources and men into small parties under different commands. Larger resources mean greater work. We want a genuis at the centre, and I feel and I know that that in the Civil Service officers like Mr. Hart and Mr. Rankin are capable of doing everything that they are wanted to do, provided of course that they have got resources and they are allowed to do what they want despite the conclusions of a Commission which may have been arrived at. Therefore, I want mature consideration—my contention is this—that the District Administration Committee worked under the disadvantage of not having a prescience or an idea of what the state of things was going to be in the near future. When they brought up this scheme, they wanted to provide for the state of things which then existed and also the conditions which existed at that time. They did not know that in the meantime two of the noblest of Englishmen, Mr. Montagu and Lord Chemlsford, would draw up a scheme for constitutional reforms for the whole of India, some of which would completely revolutionize the ideal of government in certain matters. If they had any idea of this, their proposal might have taken a different turn. However, these are disadvantages so far as I can make out. The first is money, it will involve a considerable sum as initial expenditure and also as recurring expenditure. The second is the wrench to the associations and interests which exist in Dacca, and the third the disadvantages under which our friends in Dacca who are deeply interested in local self-government will be placed after the partition. On the side of advantages, we have the contention that the officers might be relieved of their work; this, however, I am again constrained to say, is not very creditable to the officers themselves, because I know even now they devote their whole attention to their work, and it matters very little whether two or three officers are placed under one District Magistrate, and divide the work among themselves, or whether the District Magistrates divide the work among themselves and devote their attention separately. I am no believer in overwork; but I believe in organization; and if we were to compare great things with small—when General Foch is now leading so many millions of men—I do not see why our District Magistrates should not be able to manage one district like Dacca, provided, of course, he has got the men and resources at his disposal.

"Under the circumstances, my lord, I believe that there is at least a case for postponing the partition of Dacca for some time, and as I have said, if we were to wait for five years after the adoption of the Montagu-Chelmsford schemes, they should have time enough to justify their existence as local bodies; otherwise it would be a great injustice to them, because after all we shall be tried according to the results that we can show in our local bodies; and with Dacca crippled in this way, I believe Dacca and the whole of Bengal will be at a greater disadvantage on this point.

"With these few words, I appeal to Your Excellency and your Excellency's government to postpone this matter for some time."

The Hon'ble Mr. Hely Hutchinson said :—

"My lord, I am sorry that I find myself unable to agree to the resolution. The objections to the partition scheme come from two points of view: firstly, that the partition of Dacca is not urgent, and, secondly, that if it is made, there will be difficulties in carrying it out.

"Well, as to the question of urgency, the partition which was considered by the District Administration Committee and which has subsequently been considered by the Bengal Government since the publication of the report on Constitutional Reforms, has been decided by both these bodies as urgent. I think therefore, that the claim for urgency is established. Apart from that, there is no doubt from my own experience here that the Government officials have a great deal of work to do; and the establishment of subdivisions at Narsingdi and Joydebpur seems a very reasonable action, whatever is done about partitioning the district. When it comes to the question of difficulties which will have to be met, if the district is partitioned, I do not think that we can get a partition which will please all people. It is certain to please some people, while it will displease others. We have so far heard objections from people who would be displeased. Living as I do at Narayangaj, as far as I can make out, there is no difference of opinion there between the Europeans and Indians as regards the scheme; they are both strongly in favour of the change. At Narsingdi also I found opinion in favour of the change. The problem, it seems to me, is that the present scheme makes districts of the shape of a salamander: a partition into districts north and south of the Dhalassery would make a more normal territorial division and more in consonance with the habits of the people. There is however no site for a capital south of the Dhalassery. On the whole, my lord, it seems that the division suggested by the Government of Bengal is the best and that it had therefore to be carried on as soon as possible. I should certainly protest against any resolution involving postponement, which does not state to what time the partition should be postponed."

Resolutions.

Mr. Kerr.

The Hon'be MR. KERR said :—

"My lord, I think it will perhaps clear the air to some extent if I begin by explaining what exactly the position of the Dacca scheme is. As the Council is aware, this is the third of a series of partitions which were proposed by the District Administration Committee in 1913. The Committee put Mymensingh and Midnapur at the top of the list as the most urgent. The Mymensingh and Midnapore schemes have been completed and submitted for sanction, and we are awaiting final orders on them. Meanwhile, a good deal of work has been done in connection with the Dacca scheme. The sites proposed by the District Administration Committee have been surveyed and levels taken, and rough estimates of the cost have been prepared. The practicability of the Committee's scheme has been proved by thorough local enquiries, and certain modifications have already been made in their proposals. At this stage, following the usual practice in such cases, Government have put forward a definite scheme for examination and criticism; and we published a resolution on the 17th of July last, asking for opinions to be sent in by the 31st of October. When we get these opinions, Government will proceed to reconsider the whole matter in the light of the opinions received, and will make such modifications as may be necessary in the plans and estimates. Then we shall send up the Dacca scheme for the sanction of the Government of India and the Secretary of State. I have said enough to show that there is a good deal of work still to be done before we start putting the Dacca scheme into execution. There is no chance of any money being provided in the budget for the financial year, beginning on the 1st of April next, and, so far as we can see at present, there is no prospect of any work being begun for at least two years from now.

"The Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar has asked for a postponement of the scheme. From what I have said, it will be seen that there is no chance of the scheme being proceeded with at once. But what the resolution asks us to do, is a very different matter. The first resolution asks us to postpone all steps which have been taken or are in contemplation in pursuance of the scheme and the next one recommends to the Governor in Council that the consideration of the proposal to partition the district of Dacca be postponed till after the war. I understand that the Hon'ble Members who have moved these resolutions would like us to drop thinking about the scheme altogether for the time being. We cannot agree to that for the reasons I shall now state.

Resolutions.

Mr. Kerr.

"The Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul Haq gave us two reasons for postponing the consideration of these schemes for the present. The first is, as I understand him, that the people of Dacca are busy thinking about the constitutional reforms and that they are unable at the same time to think about the partition of their own district. Well, I know Dacca pretty well. I have been here nearly every year, since 1912, and I think that this is a libel on the intelligence of the people of Dacca. I have people coming to see me every day. They talk to me about the reforms and the partition scheme, and they do not seem to me to muddle the two things up at all. I think that this theory that the Dacca people are incapable of entertaining more than one idea at a time, may be disregarded.

"The next reason which the Hon'ble Member has urged, is more important; he says that we should drop these partition schemes until we know what the effect of the constitutional reforms is going to be on the work of the District officers. I do not claim to know much about politics, but I do know something about administration, and I think that the Council may take it as certain that whatever other effect the scheme of constitutional reforms may have, it will certainly have the effect of increasing the work of the District officer to a very great extent. It will do so for two reasons. In the first place, the reforms will change the character of his work; and in the second place, they will add very greatly to the volume of his work. The authors of the report have explained very clearly how the first cause will operate. They say that the utility of the public official in India will gradually undergo a change; instead of continuing to the same degree as now to be the executive agency of Government he will stand aside from the work of carrying out orders and assume the position of skilled consultant technical adviser and an inspecting and reporting officer. And then they go on to say that the life of the Indian Civil Servant will be more difficult, because it is harder to convince than to direct; to prevail in consultation than to enforce an order. This opinion will be endorsed by everybody who has had any practical experience in the work of administration. Whether an officer is authorised to pass a decision himself, or whether he has to submit his recommendations to a higher authority, his work up to a certain point is the same. He has to get all the facts, to consider the probable effect of alternative courses of action, and then to select one of the different courses of action open. Then if the decision rests with him, he has merely to pass the order, and often it is sufficient if he signs his name. But if he has got to persuade somebody to agree with him, he has to begin all over again. He has got to think who the people are who are to be persuaded or advised, he has got to consider their point of view, and what their objections are likely to be, and he may have to get over prejudices or preconceived opinions: so that if a man advises or recommends, his work will often be double that which he would have to do if the decision rested with him. That is one way in which the reform scheme will very greatly increase the work of the District Officer. The other way is by actually increasing the number of things the District Officer will have to do.

"Some Hon'ble Members have referred to the question of village unions. They say that the village unions will lessen the work of the District Officers. I do not think there can be a greater fallacy than that and if any Hon'ble Member asks Mr. Hart for his opinion he will find it very different. These village unions are doing work which has hitherto not been done or imperfectly done, and this imposes a very considerable strain on the District officer in the matter of references and applications for funds and various other ways in which they ask for the District Officer's advice or help. It involves more touring on the District Officer's part to visit them and keep them up to the mark, and give them help and encouragement, and this alone means more inroads on valuable and scanty time. There are many other ways in which the District Officer's work will be increased in the near future. "Take, for instance, the question of electorates to which I have given some attention during the past few weeks. If electorates are going to be formed on a broad basis as proposed in the Scheme of Constitutional Reforms, the amount of work involved in preparing the electoral roll will be enormous. The work in connection with elections is very considerable, even at present where there are only small electorates of 100 or 200 persons. If you are going to form electorates composed of several thousands, the work which will have to be done will be very great. This work is not work which can be taken over by local bodies; it is work which in all countries is done by permanent officials of Government and it is on the permanent officials that the work will fall in India. So I say that the work of the District Officer, taken as a whole, will increase largely on the introduction of the Constitutional Reforms, and if reasonable efficiency in the public services is to be maintained, the necessity of partitioning these big districts, will be very much greater when the Reforms are introduced than it is at present.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Another point is that this resolution which asks us to drop all consideration of this problem comes rather too late. It might have been in time if this advice had been given to us before the 17th July. I think it would have been wrong even then, but before we published our resolution it would have been possible to ask us not to think about this partition scheme. Now that the resolution has been published, it is impossible to live in Dacca and not to think of partition schemes. The visitors who come to see me daily discuss the matter freely. Some object to any partition scheme at all; some of them, like the Hon'ble Member, agree that partition is desirable, but want some modification in the scheme described in the Government resolution. There is nothing to object to in that. They are of course all people interested in the matter, and their object is to find a scheme which will cause the least inconvenience to themselves, or will be of the most benefit to themselves. Am I to tell the visitors who come to see me, not to talk of partition schemes because some Hon'ble Members think that all consideration of partition must be dropped? Every morning the Dacca Herald is delivered to me. Am I to be deprived of the pleasure of reading that organ of public opinion because it contains criticisms on the partition scheme and suggestions for alternate schemes? The advice given to Government in these resolutions is not practicable. There is no intention, as I have already said, of pushing on with this scheme until everybody concerned has had the fullest opportunity of expressing his opinion and until Government has carefully considered these opinions. But we cannot agree to drop all consideration of the matter, and if this is what the resolutions ask us to do, we must oppose them."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My lord, I have listened very attentively to the reply of the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr and I am sorry that I have to confess that I have not been convinced that the recommendation made in my resolution ought not to be accepted by Your Excellency's Government. To begin with, we have been told that a case has been made out of sufficient urgency for steps to be taken in pursuance of the scheme of partition of the district of Dacca. The Hon'ble Mr. Hely Hutchinson has said that, the Government officials are doing a large amount of work, and that secondly, the District Administration Committee had come to the conclusion that the case of the partition of Dacca was one of some urgency. Now, as regards the present district officials being over-worked, I think I may only point out to him that if they do a large amount of work their predecessors

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

in office used to do so for about a century or more and I do not think that it is going to be suggested that the predecessors in office of the present-day officials were simply a race of lotus-eaters or at any rate they did not work as the present officials. As a matter of fact, even the district of Mymensingh, which is perhaps the largest administrative unit in India, has been run ever since the beginning of British rule or ever since the period when the province had been parcelled out into districts. If a single member of the service felt the weight of the work at Mymensingh, he never complained that it was work which could not be undertaken by one man and which was work of such a character from which he would fly away. The province of Bengal, for instance, was, for a long period of time, too heavy a burden for one Lieutenant-Governor; but every Lieutenant-Governor who took upon himself the task of administering Bengal, always faced the situation. If a thing like that could go on for 70 years I feel that we may reasonably expect this thing to go on for some years to come. I submit, therefore, my lord, that although the present officials in Dacca are over-worked, their predecessors in office were as hardworking as they are, and there is absolutely no reason to think that the present officials would be men of a weaker physique and that they would break down in consequence of the strain.

"As regards the conclusion of the District Administration Committee, I think that is no doubt entitled to weight. I do not at the present moment wish to say anything so far as the report is concerned because the consideration of that question whether Dacca ought to be partitioned or not is a matter on which there may be differences of opinion but what I am not convinced of is that the urgency, even if there is any, is not of such a character that the partition ought to be made in defiance of public opinion. After all, public opinion has got to be taken into consideration. For whom, my lord, are you going to partition districts if it be not for the efficiency of the administration and if it be not for the benefit of the people for whom you duplicate the work? I think, my lord, you ought to make the people feel that there is a responsible and sympathetic Government ever ready to take into consideration their needs. It may be that the people are not well advised in opposing this scheme; but they are at present convinced that this measure should not be taken. We are told that some work has already been done and that sites have been selected. I do not know whether something else has been done. My lord, after all this has been done, the question which occurs to me is why was this done without consulting public opinion. As regards taking up the question of the partition at once, I find that something is done and then we are told to keep quite and after a time elapses and something more is done we are told that so much has already been done and that Government cannot find any way out of it. It is really making us consent to the steps which have been taken by Government towards partition gradually and slowly; although, as a matter of fact, we have really been forced to take up the position. I therefore submit, my lord, that although something may have been done nothing serious has at least been done and things may be allowed to lie for the very simple reason that public opinion seems to be very much against the scheme. Then, my lord, there is the question of expense to be considered. I was only just a short while ago told that the requirements of economy have got to be considered and that we should always practise the utmost economy of expenditure owing to the present financial stringency. I would like to convince Your Excellency that the scheme for the partition of districts is bound to be the most expensive one. Then, why take up this expensive project in the face of this opposition from the public and in the face of the fact that money can better be utilised in other ways. We might be told that there is difference of opinion as to why money can be well spent on other schemes and since there is difference of opinion I submit that this matter ought not to be taken up at once.

Resolutions.

Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur.

As regards my observation that the people of Dacca are now only too busy thinking about the constitutional reforms to consider the parttition scheme, the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, said that it would be a libel on their intelligence if we suggested that their brain was not capable of taking up this question as well when they were considering the scheme of constitutional reform. But, my lord, it is no question of brain being capable of keeping one or two things at the same time; and certainly intelligent men can have half a dozen subjects in their brain and consider them all at the same time; but the point to be considered is whether at the present moment the question is of a really controversial character. Is it not reasonable to ask that, for a consideration of questions like the constitutional reforms, we really require a calm atmosphere and that public time and attention should not be disturbed by having to consider schemes which also vitally affect them and which have got to be simultaneously considered with the problems that will be raised in connection with the scheme of constitutional reforms. After all, my lord, the people of Dacca are human beings and they may be burdened if, with constitutional reforms before them, they are also asked to consider the scheme of partitioning their own district which vitally affects them and which is a thing which infringes with the problems of their daily life. They ought to be pardoned if, in view of the problems raised by the question of partition, they give secondary consideration to the question of constitutional reforms. It is for this reason, my lord, I submit that the question of constitutional reforms. is already engaging the attention of the people of Dacca and that they should not be further distracted by throwing upon them the consideration of the question of partition which affects them vitally. I think, my lord, that even amongst the non-official members who have spoken on this resolution have spoken very strongly in respect of this proposal. I do not mean to suggest that the Dacca people are very wise in raising the protest against the scheme of partition. It may be that they are absolutely wrong, but that is a matter that has got to be decided later. But right or wrong, they have expressed their opinion in the pariticular way and in the most unmistakable terms. I, therefore, beg most respectfully to ask Your Excellency to consider whether, in the face of this volume of opinion; in view of the fact that the measure is sure to entail a large amount of expenditure at a time when we are urged to practise the utmost economy in view the fact that we have larger problems to consider; our attention should not be distracted by problems which even though of a partially important character is not of less importance. We simply ask that the proposals for the partition should be postponed just for a short time. I do not mean to say that the people should not be asked to consider it at the present moment; but I think a short postponement is absolutely necessary; and if this is done, I do not think that the present officials of the district will very much complain against that. I do not wish to take up the time of the Council by further observations; but I beg respectfully to press this resolution for Your Excellency's acceptance. After all, if not for anything else but out of deference to public opinion which has been most unmistakably expressed, I would ask Your Excellency to consider whether this matter should be further proceeded with."

The resolution was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 24.

The following resolution, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur was held to be covered by the debate on the last resolution (Item No. 23) and was deemed to be withdrawn :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the consideration of the proposal to partition the district of Dacca be postponed till after the war.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 25.

The Hon'ble BABU BROJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that provision be made for the exemption of bonâ fide Ayurvedic medicines from the operation of the Bengal Excise Act.

He said :—

My lord, the grateful thanks of the Indian community in general and the Ayurvedic practitioners in particular are due to Your Excellency's Government for having withdrawn the prosecution. I take it my lord, that this act of grace on the part of Government is an indication that they are quite as much alive as the people are to the interest and welfare of an ancient healing art.

Prosecutions have from time to time been started at the instance of local Excise officers against Ayurvedic practitioners, on the ground that some drugs manufactured by them may be technically classed among Excisable articles. Most of them have proved unsuccessful, but the broad question as to whether these medicinal preparations should or should not enjoy a sort of immunity from the operation of the Excise law has remained unanswered.

The recent Dacca case has, I understand, been withdrawn at the instance of Government and not on account of any defect inherent in it. This may be taken almost as a declaration of the Excise policy of Government so far as Ayurvedic medicines are concerned. And my object in bringing forward this resolution is to discuss the desirability of a formal exemption being made in favour of Ayurvedic medicines generally which will settle a vexed question once for all.

My lord, I believe there is a provision in the present Bengal Excise Act which gives discretionary power to Government to exempt any Excisable article from the operation of the Act. If recourse is taken to this discretionary clause in the present instance, the action of Government will not, I am afraid, commend itself to the Ayurvedic practitioners and the people. For exemption under this clause will involve a declaration that the medicines exempted are as a matter of fact Excisable articles. And as the Ayurvedic system is practised mostly by high caste Hindus, such a declaration may be considered by them to be a slur upon their profession and to degrade them to the same level with the manufacturers of ordinary intoxicants belonging to a lower caste in society. Moreover, there are people among the orthodox Hindus and Muhammadans who would never think of using medicines which might by implication be classed among intoxicants. These may be matters of sentiment, but Government should respect the sentiments of the orthodox community.

I therefore, venture to suggest that specific exemption should be made by an amendment of the Act itself, and I think this suggestion of mine will receive serious consideration at the hands of the Government. In reply to some questions of mine at the last meeting of the Council, it was stated that the Indian Excise Committee of 1905, in their draft Excise Bill had a distinct clause exempting bona fide medicines from its purview. This clause even appears in the Bill as introduced in the Bengal Council in 1909 But the Select Committee, by a majority, omitted the clause. I find that the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler was one of the official members of that Select Committee, and the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur was perhaps one of the minority who desired the retention of the clause. It is our good fortune to-day to have Sir Henry Wheeler as Member in charge of the Excise Department. And my earnest appeal is specially directed to him to re-insert the clause left out by the Select Committee in 1909, adding such safeguards to prevent any evasion of the law as may be necessary. There is a similar provision in the Bombay Abkari Act, which has been in force for the last 40 years. And if the Excise administration has been carried on smoothly in Bombay during this period in spite of such a provision, Government would be running no risk if they were to insert a similar section in the Bengal Excise Act.

Resolutions.

Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

My lord, I am aware that the exemption I am thinking of may embrace the entire system of medicine, and not the Ayurvedic system alone. If that be the effect of an amendment of the Excise Act, I for one will have no objection. But I do not claim to speak for any other system than the Ayurvedic. It is a system which has done great service to suffering humanity for centuries. Indeed, it is one of the most precious assets of Aryan culture which has been handed down to us. The late Surgeon-General Sir Pardey Lukis in one of his public utterances observes :—"The longer I remain in India and the more I see of the country and the people, the more convinced I am that many of the empirical methods of treatment adopted by the Vaids and Hakims are of the greatest value ; and there is no doubt whatever, that their ancestors knew, ages ago, many things which are nowadays being brought forward as new discoveries". My lord, this ancient and wonderful system of treatment craves protection at your hands, so that it may be left unfettered as in the past, to bring relief to the sick and stricken."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, the object of the resolution is to exempt bonâ fide Ayurvedic medicines from the operation of the Bengal Excise Act. Looking into the history of Excise legislation, I find that the Act of 1905 was amended in 1909 and that lastly a few sections of the Act of 1909 was modified and amended by Bengal Act VII of 1914. The previous Acts defined liquor as intoxicating liquor. But in the present Act liquor is defined as any liquor containing spirit or alcohol. This definition is very illegal. So far as the preparation of kaviraji medicines is concerned the system is based upon certain principles. Before the operation of the Act of 1914 it was thought that the definition of intoxicating liquor in the Act of 1909 was quite sufficient for the purpose of allowing the kavirajes to prepare their medicines, but under the present Act of 1914 I see that a kaviraj has been prosecuted for preparing his medicines. They have complained to Your Excellency and they have reasons for complaints. If you look at section 62 of the Bombay Abkari Act, you will find that the bonâ fide preparation of such medicines has been exempted. The Bombay Act has been in operation for a very long time. Section 90 of the Bengal Act exempts certain medicines under certain conditions. The Eastern Bengal Excise Act of 1910 also exempts certain medicines under certain conditions. If the Council considers that the definition of the word "liquor" as explained in the present Act of 1914 is a hardship, then I submit to Your Excellency that there should be a modification of that definition, for in that case every man might be subject to prosecution. That could not have been the intention of the legislature. This point also came up before the Courts in 1917. My lord, if the intention of the legislature was really to exempt bonâ fide kaviraji medicines, I submit that it is a case for the consideration of the Council whether the definition of the liquor in the existing Act should be modified or not. Hardly any notification is necessary now. The whole question is whether the definition of liquor should be amended. The kavirajes have to prepare their medicines

Resolutions.

Babu Radha Charan Pal Bahadur ; Sir Henry Wheeler.

according to certain formulaê laid down in the shastras and they will have to use alcohol and the definition would operate very harshly on them. I, therefore, submit that it is neceseary to exempt bonafide kaviraji medicine from the operation of the Excise Act."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, I do not quite understand whether the proposal is that the Act should be amended. From certain speeches I understand that there is also a proposal that the Act should be amended. I was in Council when the Act of 1909 was passed. I was also in the Select Committee. In the original Bill of 1908 a clause (clause 84) was inserted on the recommendation of the Indian Excise Committee that the Bill should not apply to medicated liquors in the hands of medical men except in so far as the Local Government might direct. Then in the Select Committee that clause was withdrawn and another clause was substituted, and that clause is now section 90 of the Bengal Excise Act. It lays down that 'the Local Government may, by notification, either wholly or partially, and subject to such conditions (if any) as it may think fit to prescribe, exempt any excisable article from all or any of the provisions of this Act, either throughout Bengal or in any specified local area, or for any specified period or occasion or as regards any specified class of persons.'

I find that a notification was subsequently issued in 1915. Unfortunately I have not got it in my hands as the Gazettes are not available here. I find in the newspapers that there was an agitation among the kavirjes owing to the prosecution of a kaviraj at Dacca for stocking rohitashtak, but I learn that Government have been pleased to direct the withdrawal of the prosecution. When the clause I have mentioned was withdrawn in the Select Committee and the present section 90 was inserted we were under the impression that a notification would be issued exempting indigenous medicinal preparations resembling alcohol from the operation of the Act. I find however that a prosecution was started against a kaviraj although the Government have been pleased to withdraw the prosecution. I do not know whether the existing notification exempts kaviraji medicines. If not, then Government will be pleased to take steps to issue a revised notification. As regards the amendment of the Act, I know that the Bombay Act exempts indigenous preparations of medicine and I agree that the Government of Bengal should have a similar provision inserted in the Bengal Act. When the existing Act was before the legislature some opposition was made against the proposal to delete that section, but the Hon'ble Mr. Macpherson assured us that the substitution of clause 85, which is now section 90, would meet the circumstances of the case and there would be no hardship. But unfortunately our experience has been quite otherwise. I hope something will be done to allay the apprehension which has been raised in the minds of the kaviraji community. With these words I support the resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"Sir, it is not the intention or policy of Government to bring within the purview of the penal provisions of the Excise Act bonâ fide Ayurvedic preparations; to that extent, it may be said that I might forthwith accept this resolution, and, indeed, as it is verbally framed, I do, on the understanding that the word 'provision' is interpreted in the sense that we are already making provision, as I shall shortly explain to the Council. That sense does not, however, include an amendment of the Excise Act which some Members have adumbrated as desirable.

I should like to explain the provision which we propose to make and the circumstances of the case, inasmuch as a certain amount of misconception

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

has arisen about it, and a certain amount of feeling has been engendered in kaviraji circles.

There are four main points which I would like the Council to bear in mind.

The first is that it is the case that under the guise of medicinal preparations unscrupulous men have sold and do sell to others liquids which are, to all intents and purposes, alcoholic drinks. I make no insinuation against the vast body of kavirajes who, no doubt, according to their lights, are conducting an honourable profession in an honourable way. But that advantage is taken, as I say, to evade in this way the operations of the Excise Act admits of no possible doubt. I have looked into recent cases, and can offer a few examples. For instance, I find that a case was decided in the High Court in which it was actually discovered that owing to the sale of this kind of beverage, the transactions of the neighbouring licensed shops fell off, and the High Court said that it was absurd to call a preparation which contained such a high percentage of alcohol, a medical preparation. I find another case in which as much as two maunds of wash for distilling such a liquid were discovered ready, not, as we might expect, in anticipation of an epidemic, but in anticipation of the Durga Puja festival. In another case, I find that a kaviraj had been selling alcoholic drinks to confidential customers for over three years; while in another case a preparation, which contained as much as 82·5 per cent. of alcohol, was used by the public as an intoxicant. These, Sir, are typical examples.

Further, we have an authoritative pronouncement of the Excise Commission of 1905-06—the most weighty body which has looked into Excise matters in recent years—that legal action was required in view of the increasing use of medicated preparations as intoxicants. On the first point, then, that the law can be evaded in this way, I do not think that there can be any question.

Secondly, it is obvious that in the interests of the Excise revenue which we derive from the taxation of alcohol, we must check such abuses.

Thirdly, there is not the slightest doubt that, at any rate since 1909, such a check has been the intention of the law.

Fourthly, although kavaraies appear to think that they are labouring under a grievance, it is rather the case that exception has been made in their favour, in so far as alcohol contained in their preparations evades paying duty, while alcohol contained in imported drugs or drugs manufactured in this country is taxed; therefore, it is not the case that any special disability exists in connection with their medicines which does not apply to those of western origin.

These are the four cardinal points of the case; but I shall have to explain a little more in detail what the legal position is.

Under the old Excise Act of 1878, it was doubtful whether a successful prosecution against a so-called medicinal preparation would lie, and in 1896, a conviction was set aside in the High Court on that ground, although in 1899 the High Court made the eminently sane remark, which I have already quoted, that you could not claim exemption for an alcoholic drink merely by calling it a medicinal preparation. However, it may be said that the law was at any rate doubtful up to this point. But in 1905-06 the Excise Committee, to which I have already referred, definitely made a pronouncement as to the use as intoxicants of medicated articles, and, in their model Bill, recommended a provision which would prevent such a practice. Their method was to exempt the import, manufacture, possession, sale or supply of any bonâ fide medicated article for medicinal purposes, by medical practitioners, chemists, druggists or keepers of dispensaries, but to enable the Local Government, by notification, to prohibit throughout the province, or within any local area, the import, manufacture, possession, sale or supply of any such article, except under prescribed conditions. Some Hon'ble Members have to-night quoted this provision for a general exemption in favour of these medicines, but have omitted the very important proviso empowering the Local Government to notify prohibitions. The Committee fully recognised that malpractices might exist; it is true that they suggested a general exemption; but they proposed to guard against malpractices by notification.

When we came to the amendment of our own Excise Act in 1909, it is perfectly true that, first of all, a section on the lines of the Excise Committee's Bill was contemplated. But when the Bill went to Select Committee it was decided to adopt the contrary expedient, namely, to bring these preparations within the purview of the Excise Act, but in order to safeguard bonâ fide preparations, to give the local Government power by notification, and subject to conditions, to exempt excisable articles from the operation of the Act. Such a provision finally went through the Council without objection from anybody.

In 1910, the Eastern Bengal Government, which had then become a separate province, legislated, following the precedent of the Excise Committee, but my point is that in the essential intention of controlling these malpractices both Acts were at one. The only difference was in the method of so doing.

In 1912, it so happened that our Act was found defective in another particular, viz., the definition of 'liquor', and when they came to amalgamate the old Act with the Eastern Bengal Act, our predecessors again amended the Act to meet that difficulty, and at the same time once more emphasised the intention of the Legislature (again without objection on anybody's part) that medicinal preparations containing alcohol should be brought within the Act unless exempted as bonâ fide medicines. There is not the least doubt about that now being the law, as shown by a High Court ruling of 1917 which remarks: 'to say now that a preparation containing alcohol is not within the provisions of the Bengal Excise Act, simply because it is a medicinal preparation or may be used for medicinal purposes, would be to stultify the Court and ignore the plain purpose of the Legislature.'

I have given these details because I wish to disabuse the Council of the idea that anything has been done lately to change the law in any sense. What has happened is that the Excise authorities recently instituted a prosecution, of which details have been given in answer to a question in this Council, and they were perfectly within their rights in instituting that prosecution. However, it attracted a certain amount of notice in the press, and appeared to alarm the Ayurvedic practitioners Consequently I gave an interview in Calcutta a little while ago to certain representative kabirajes, and after talking to them decided to withhold the prosecution until we discovered a way out of the difficulty.

We have since been discussing what the way should be, and there are one or two points which, I admit, are to be said in favour of the kabirajes. The first thing is that they do make up their own medicinal preparations, which negatives the idea of enforcing a centralised manufacture in bond of medicines containing alcohol. Secondly, they prepare their drugs from ancient formulæ to which they consider themselves bound to adhere. That is a fact which deserves to be taken into consideration. Thirdly, if they were to use rectified spirit in their preparations, I understand that it would be opposed to the prejudice of many of their patients who do not regard as obnoxious alcohol which is produced in the course of the manufacture of drugs themselves. These three points may influence us in making what is really an exception in favour of kaviraies, from the general law which renders liable to duty alcohol contained in western medicines. We have been discussing this matter with the kabirajes, and the Excise Commissioner, Mr. Moberly, has, I think, hit upon a line which shows us the way out, that is to say, it is possible to draw a distinction between what are called, I believe, aristas and other preparations in which the alcohol is arrived at by distillation. I understand aristas are preparations—I see the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar, who is a scientific expert, has his eye on me, and I apologise for a very unscientific presentation of a technical matter—in which by the mixture of certain ingredients the alcohol is generated by fermentation and is not arrived at by distillation. As far as the Excise Commissioner has ascertained, we have never prosecuted in the case of these aristas, and we could make an exception in their favour. Another good reason for doing so is, I am told, that these aristas are far too unpalatable for use by anybody as a pleasant beverage.

What we propose to do is to proceed by way of executive instruction as to how the Act is to be interpreted. Of course, under the law as it stands, we could notify a long list of things which are not to be the subject of prosecution. But there are difficulties in doing this. In the first place, these formulæ do not exist in any standard book, and probably are not even known to any one individual; secondly, there are a very large number of such formulæ, and all would have to be tested and classified. Thirdly, we might not even then arrive at a complete list, and if we were to get out a list it might be susceptible of abuse by persons calling a thing by one name, while, in reality, it was something entirely different. We have, therefore, decided to discard the idea of trying to notify what is exempted. We prefer to proceed by executive instruction, and the general outline of the instruction, which we propose to issue is somewhat on the following lines:—

'The manufacture by kabirajes of the Ayurvedic medicinal preparations known as "asab" or "arista" should not be interfered with on the ground that the finished preparation contains alcohol (provided that the finished preparation is produced by the admixture of sugar, treacle or molasses, or honey with other ingredients and the fermentation of the whole, and that no process of distillation is used in its production), unless the Chemical Examiner for Customs and Excise reports that the preparation is now reasonably a medicinal preparation. The formula under which the preparation is said to be prepared and a reference to the work from which it was taken should, if possible, be forwarded to the Chemical Examiner along with the sample. Should the Chemical Examiner for Customs and Excise report that the preparation is not reasonably a medicinal preparation, or should it be found that any such preparation is being used as an intoxicating beverage, notwithstanding a report from the Chemical Examiner that it is reasonably a medicinal preparation, the facts should be reported to the Excise Commissioner. These instructions do not apply to the manufacture by distillation of Ayurvedic preparations (such as Mrita Sanjibani Sudha) or to the preparation of wash for the manufacture of such distilled preparations.'

Mr. Moberly has interviewed representative kavirajes in this city, and we are considering whether a working compromise can be arrived at on such a basis. Another point put forward by the kavirajes is that we should get representative men from among their number to act on a Board in an advisory capacity as to what is a legitimate medicine and what is not, and we shall try, to meet their wishes to some extent in that respect. Mr. Moberly will now see other representative kavirajes in Calcutta, and finally in the light of his discussions with them, we shall try to bring out an instruction on these lines. That is the provision we contemplate, and in this sense we have no objection in accepting this resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJENDRA KISHOR RAY CHAUDHURI said :—

"I beg, my lord. to thank the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler for the kind assurance he has given ; and I am very grateful to your Lordship's Government for accepting this resolution."

The resolution was then put and carried.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 26.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that immediate effect be given to the recommendations of the Public Services Commission that in the executive branches of the Provincial Civil Services "not more than 50 per cent. of the vacancies should be filled by promotion from the subordinate services.

He said :—

"My lord, my intention in moving this resolution is to remove partially an anomaly which is a source of dissatisfaction and discontent in an important section of our public service. The Sub-Deputy Collectors nowadays have to do the same work and discharge the same duties as the Deputy Collectors and in headquarters they are often seen to act in place of Deputy Collectors. In the sub-divisions the work of the Sub-Deputy Collector is still more onerous. Not only has he to try criminal cases but various departments including the Sub-Treasury are entrusted to him. The risky nature of treasury work is well known. Sub-Deputy Collectors are after being vested with first class powers and doing their work to the entire satisfaction of the Government. Still they are ill-paid, the pay they are entitled to. being even insufficient to enable them to maintain the dignity of their position. Hence the present anomalous position of the two services merely tends to create a discontented body of public servants.

The question of the two services was discussed in detail before the Royal Commission on the Public Services in India. In reply to a question about his experience of the officers selected by the different methods of recruitment for the Provincial Civil Service, Mr. H. L. Stephenson, then Financial Secretary to the Government of Bengal, said :—'The principal point is whether the recruitment shall be mainly direct or from the subordinate service. The principles adopted by the Public Services, Commission of 1886 favour direct recruitment as the normal method ; the advantages are that a better class of men can be obtained for a service where the initial pay is Rs. 250 than for one with an initial pay of Rs. 100 and that for the higher status and work of the Provincial Service it is desirable to directly recruit young men rather than to take men of a more advanced age who have spent part of their youth in a Subordinate Service.' Then he said :—'The class of men who enters the Subordinate Service now differs very little from the Provincial Service recruit and he does work that does not vary much in kind from that of the higher service ; and the prospect of promotion undoubtedly attracts a better class to the lower service.' As a matter of fact the difference in qualifications between members of the two services has disappeared and the discrepancy in pay and prospects is a source of constant irritation. The Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell advocated a radical remedy by proposing the amalgamation of the Subordinate Executive Service with the Provincial Civil Resolutions.

Mr. Kerr.

Service. I quote the following with approbation from his written answer submitted for the consideration of the Commission on the Public Services :—

'Taken as a body, there is very little difference between the two services in the matter of the qualification of the recruits. In fact those entering the Subordinate Executive Service are often superior to those entering the Provincial Civil Service. It is most galling to a man to see another man, whom he has surpassed at the University, placed at once in a position to which he himself can only attain after many years of drudgery. The two services should be amalgamated, the lowest grade being placed at Rs. 200 per mensem. The total annual vacancies would then be 22. I would fill up the vacancies as follows :—

Open competition among candidates nominated by District Officers ...	9
Promotions from other services (Settlement Kanungoes, etc.) ...	8
Governor's cadetships	5
Total ...	22'

I give my whole-hearted support to the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell's recommendation about the amalgamation of the two services. And I am sure the proposal will be duly considered by the Government of India along with the recommendations of the Commission. But for the present—till those recommendations are given effect to, I would propose the adoption by the Government of Bengal of the proposal to fill up 50 per cent. of the vacancies in the Provincial Civil Services by recruiting from the Subordinate Service.

That candidates of equal or superior qualifications enter the Subordinate Service when they cannot enter the Provincial Service is admitted. And it is also admitted that they do so in the hope of being promoted to the Provincial Service.

The Commission asked Mr. Stephenson—'As to the qualifications of the Provincial and the Subordinate Services they are drawn from the same class ; but in your experience is there a class of men who would take a post in the Provincial Service but who would refuse an offer of one in the Subordinate Service ?'

His reply was emphatic—'Undoubtedly they are drawn from the same class to this extent that very much the same class of men will enter both, but the men who enter the Subordinate Service only do so with the hope of getting into the Provincial Service by promotion. They would none of them be content to enter the Subordinate Service as a career.'

Thus it is admitted that if the chances of promotion are remote discontent in the Subordinate Service which is now manned by men who are equally competent to enter the Provincial Service will ensue. And if 50 per cent. of the vacancies in the Provincial Service is filled up from the Subordinate Service some justice will be done to the members of the Subordinate Service and the arrangement will serve as an incentive to the able and educationally qualified men in the service to discharge their duties even more assiduously to qualify them for promotion.

With those words I beg to move the resolution for the consideration of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. KERR said :—

"My lord, when I first saw the Hon'ble Member's resolution, I had some difficulty in making out what he was driving at, and my difficulty has not been removed by his speech. The facts of the case are briefly as follows : Our present Bengal rule which is a rule of at least six years' standing, and

Resolutions.

Babu Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur.

probably older, is that out of the number of appointments in the Provincial Service, ordinarily 35 per cent. are filled by the promotion of officers who are already in Government service. The Royal Commission on the Public Services found that other provinces were not so virtuous as Bengal in this respect and that in Madras, appointments, in the executive line, are made almost wholly by promotion, and mainly so in the Punjab, Burma, and the Central Provinces and Berar. The Commission said :—

'We are impressed by the advantage which are secured for services recruited in India under the system of direct recruitment. We accordingly advise that in the executive line 50 per cent. be laid down as the maximum amount to which promotion from the lower ranks should be permitted to extend.'

Well, the Hon'ble Member has embodied the words of the Royal Commission in his resolution. But as I understand his speech his meaning is diametrically opposed to that of the Commission. What he means apparently is that at least 50 per cent. of appointments should be filled by promotion from the Subordinate Services. The Hon'ble Member will correct me if I am wrong, but I think this is the only inference that can be drawn from his speech. What the Royal Commission said and what the resolution says is that not more than 50 per cent. of appointments should be made by promotion, and by no possible construction of the English language can the resolution be made to bear the meaning put upon it by the Hon'ble Member. In these circumstances, it is no use discussing the points which the Hon'ble Member has raised regarding the recruitment of the Subordinate Services and so forth. All these questions are in the melting pot in connection with the reforms advocated by the Public Services Commission, and to a considerable extent in connection with the constitutional reforms. It is no use going into them at this time of night especially as they do not arise on the resolution. All that I have to say is that the resolution, as it stands, is already in force in Bengal, and on the understanding that this is what is meant, or rather because this is the only meaning which it can bear, Government are prepared to accept the rosolution."

The resolution was then put and carried.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 27.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITTRA BAHADUR also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that four days of the Durga Puja holidays, namely, Saptami, Maha-astami, Navami and Dasami, be observed as closed holidays in the different departments of the Bengal Secretariat and its attached offices in so far as the attendance of Hindu assistants is concerned.

He said :—

"My lord, it is not necessary for me to make a speech in support of this resolution. My intention is that these days which are observed as Hindu holidays should be observed as closed holidays. There is a sentiment amongst us that these days should be observed strictly as holidays. There are many hallowed associations around these days, and it is very difficult for those Hindu assistants, unless ordered by their masters, to absent themselves from office. In this view, I put the resolution before the Council.

Resolutions.

Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri; Mr Donald; Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur; the President.

Now, there is one other matter which I ought not to lose sight of, and that is, that Government business cannot be stopped. Consequently it is necessary that arrangements should be made for the purpose of conducting business in the office. But, my lord, I was just enquiring whether there are any Muhammadan assistants available for the purpose. I have been told that there is a number of Muhammadan assistants, but whatever it may be, it is for the Hon'ble Member to consider the point. It must not be argued hereafter that this point was not mentioned. There is a considerable amount of discontent among the assistants if they are made to attend on these holidays. With these few words, I beg to commend the resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU KISORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My lord, I support the proposal put forward by my Hon'ble friend. I do not wish to say anything more."

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD said:—

"My lord, the Hon'ble mover has moved the resolution that Government offices should be closed entirely on the four days of the Durga Puja, but he has himself admitted that some arrangement must be made for the conduct of urgent work. As regards these four days, I find that they are observed as closed holidays in every office except the several departments of the Civil Secretariat. In the Civil Secretariat, we have to arrange for some clerks to be present to look after urgent work, and the orders laid down by the Government of India many years ago are that, if possible, where assistants have to observe certain religious ceremonies, they should not be called upon to work at all on these days. Every step is taken to employ on these days for the conduct of urgent work as many clerks as possible of other religious persuasions—Muhammadans if available, or Christians or others.

It is quite possible that these holidays occur sometimes when the Government is in Darjeeling, and not many Muhammadans go to Darjeeling; but, as far as can be done, non-Hindus are employed on these occasions. After all, the days are observed practically as holidays, and those clerks who have to attend do so for only a portion of the day. That is the position and I hope it meets the Hon'ble Member's difficulty."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, I appreciate the difficulty which Government feel in this matter. On the assurance that the Hon'ble Mr. Donald has given that arrangements will be made for exempting Hindu assistants from attending on their holidays, I beg to withdraw this resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Gentlemen, I have ascertained from the non-official members, who are present here to-day, that a special meeting for the purpose of discussing the Reform Scheme would be more convenient in November than during the first week in September. But, at the same time, a hope has been expressed that the official views of the Government of Bengal upon the Reform Scheme should not be communicated to the Government of India until after the discussion has taken place. The Government of India have asked the Bengal Government for their views by the 1st of November. I am not in a position, therefore, to give any assurance upon that point. All that I can do is to give an undertaking that a report of the discussion which takes place shall be forwarded to the Government of India, with the comments of the local Government upon it.

"Under these circumstances, and in view of the fact that there are a large number of non-official members who are not present here to-day, I am requesting the Secretary to the Legislative Council to communicate individually with every non-official member, explaining the position and asking for his views as to whether the special meeting should be held in the first week of September or postponed till November. I hope that the views of all the non-official members will be received by the end of this week, and if the majority desire to have the discussion in September, I will do my best to get a notice out to Hon'ble Members, in order that they may have as long a time as possible to draw up such motions as they may desire to move in connection with the scheme."

ADJOURNMENT.

"The Council was then adjourned sine die."

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR AUGUST 1918.

I. Character of the season.—The rainfall during the month was greatly in excess of the normal everywhere excepting in Howrah, Jalpaiguri, Tippera and Noakhali where the fall was slightly below the normal. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II Progress of agricultural operations.—Harvesting of autumn paddy and jute was in progress. Transplanting of winter paddy was nearly over. Weeding commenced.

III. State of standing crops.—The standing crops were not faring well owing to excessive rainfall and floods.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of winter rice are unfavourable owing to scanty rainfall at the time of transplantation followed by excessive rains and floods during the period of growth. The outturn of autumn paddy and jute is expected to be tolerably fair on the whole.

V. Damage to standing crops.—Considerable damage was done to the standing crops by the abnormal rise of rivers in Eastern Bengal, the districts of Rajshahi and Bogra being the worst sufferers.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was fair. Cattle-disease was found to be prevalent in the following districts:—Nadia, Murshidabad, Burdwan, Bankura, Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Cooch-Behar and Mymensingh.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—Fodder was insufficient in Sirajganj subdivision in Pabna and Kishoreganj subdivision in Mymensingh.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month under review, the prices of common rice rose in all districts excepting six where they remained unchanged. The price varied from 7 seers 10 chitaks a rupee at Comilla to 15 seers a rupee at Natore.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of agricultural people was reported to be fair.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 12th September 1918.

Summary.—During the week moderate rain generally fell throughout the province. Transplanting of winter paddy is nearing completion. Weeding continues. Harvesting of autumn paddy is well advanced. Harvesting, steeping and washing of jute are in progress. The prospects of standing crops generally, except in the flood-affected areas, in some of the districts in Eastern Bengal are fair. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 3 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

The 23rd September 1918.

No. 1.—Notification—In exercise of the power conferred by section 6 of the Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876 (Bengal Act III of 1876), the Governor in Council is pleased to declare that, after the 31st December 1918, the water of the Damodar river, after it first enters the Presidency of Bengal, will be applied for the purposes of the projected Damodar Canal.

2. The course of the Damodar river after it first enters the Presidency of Bengal is as follows :—

The Damodar river first enters the Burdwan district at its junction with the Barakar, a few miles south of the Barakar police-station. It then flows in a south-easterly direction past Raniganj and Andal, forming the boundary between Burdwan and Bankura for about 45 miles, and enters the district of Burdwan near Khandaghosh. The river here takes a sharp bend to the north-east, and after passing close to the town of Burdwan turns due south and eventually leaves the district near the village of Mohanpore. It then enters the district of Hooghly from the north between the villages of Shahpore and Habibpore and flows south winding alternately from west to east and separating the Arambagh subdivision from the rest of the district. From above Rajabalhat for a distance of 8 miles it forms the boundary between the districts of Hooghly and Howrah. Including the 8 miles along the boundary the total length of the river in the district of Hooghly is about 28 miles. It then enters the district of Howrah near the village Akna and then flows south to Amta, below which it receives the Gaighatta creek on its right bank. Leaving Amta it follows a winding southerly course to Bagnan and then flows to the south-east, falling into the Hooghly opposite Falta Point. Its total length within or touching the district of Howrah is 45 miles.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

General Letter No. 16.

To

THE DISTRICT JUDGE OF

Dated Calcutta, the 2nd September 1918.

SIR,

urt: artment. I am directed to inform you that the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Judges have decided that in regard to civil appeals and applications the following practice shall be adopted in the office of the Appellate Side of this Court in calculating the time taken for obtaining copies:—

(1) The time taken by an applicant for a copy in supplying the amount of stamps and number of folios required for a copy shall not be excluded from the prescribed period of limitation as time requisite for obtaining the copy under section 12 of the Limitation Act.

(2) The time taken in supplying the stamps and folios shall not include—

(i) The day on which the application for a copy is made, and if information as to the amount of stamps and number of folios required cannot be supplied on that day, then the period from and including that day up to and including the day on which the applicant has to appear for the purpose of receiving such information.

(ii) Any holiday or holidays immediately following such day or period.

(iii) The day on which the stamps and folios are supplied by the applicant.

2. The new practice will come into force with effect from the 1st January 1919, and I am to request that you will be so good as to post up in your Court a notice to this effect for the information of suitors and the legal profession, and to cause similar notices to be posted up in the Courts subordinate to you.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

N. G. A. EDGLEY,

Registrar.

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

Notice under section 63 (2) of Bengal Act V of 1911.

PLAN OF PROPOSED PUBLIC STREETS NO. XXIV (LINTON STREET AREA) AND NO. XXV (GORACHAND ROAD AREA) (REVISED).

Notice is hereby given, under section 63 (2) of Bengal Act V of 1911, as amended by Bengal Act III of 1915, that the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta has prepared a revised plan of Proposed Public Streets No. XXIV (Linton Street area) and No. XXV (Gorachand Road area) in Ward No. XX, which were originally published on the 10th October 1917 and 14th November 1917, respectively.

The revised plan provides for a main road 100 feet wide immediately north of Improvement Scheme No. VIII (Park Street extension) connecting Proposed Public Streets No. XXIII (Outer Circular Road) and No. XXVI (Entally Park Avenue) and for the laying out of several new roads of a width of 40 feet and is one of a series of alignments published by the Board for the development of the area bounded by Lower Circular Road and the Eastern Bengal Railway and linking up Improvement Scheme No. VIII (Park Street extension) and Proposed Public Streets No. XXIII (Outer Circular Road) and No. XXVI (Entally Park Avenue).

The Proposed Public Street will pass through the following Municipal holdings:—

Names of Streets		Number of Municipal Holdings
Linton Street	...	2A, 2B, 4, 6, 16, 18 to 22, 24, 26.
Gorachand Road	...	7, 8, 16, 17, 32, 33, 34, 35-1, 36, 37, 46, 46-1.
Ostagar Lane	...	5, 6, 7.
Jannagore Road	...	7, 7-1, 8, 9, 10, 21, 25-1.
Kasaipara Lane	...	9, 10, 11, 11-1, 11-2, 11-3, 12, 13, 14.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Simla, the 12th September 1918.

No. 1114.—In supersession of the notification of the Government of India, Home Department, No. 2252, dated the 21st August 1888, as amended by Notification No. 404, dated the 19th May 1898, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish the following rules under which certificates of age and qualification under Regulation 2 (i) will be issued to natives of India who are candidates for the examinations for the Indian Civil Service held in England.

The Regulation in question runs as follows:—

"2. No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners—

(i) (A) That save as hereinafter provided he is a British subject.

(B) That if he (being a British subject) or his father or his mother was not born within His Majesty's Dominions and allegiance then at the time of his birth his father was a British subject or the subject of a State in India, and that such father still is or continued to be until his death a British subject or the subject of such State in India:

Provided that a ruler or subject of any State in India in respect of whom the Governor-General in Council has made a declaration under section 96-A, of the Government of India Act, 1915, as amended by section 3 of the Government of India (Amendment) Act, 1916, may be considered eligible."

General Rules applicable to all Candidates.

I. A candidate for admission to compete in England for the Indian Civil Service is required before leaving India to obtain a certificate of age and qualification under Regulation 2 (i) signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides; or, should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides.

Note.—In the case of a candidate who has proceeded to England without obtaining a certificate, the certificate may be granted to his father or guardian provided that the latter produces the requisite evidence, and when making the application states when the candidate went to England, and where he has been residing during his stay in that country.

II. In order to obtain a certificate a candidate is required, if resident in British India, to prove the date and place of his birth and his qualification under Regulation 2 (i) before the Magistrate of the District in which his family resides, or, if resident in a Native State, before the Political Officer of the State in which his family resides.

III. A candidate must, if resident in British India, signify to the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division in which his family resides, his desire to compete, not less than three months before the date on which he proposes to go to England. If resident within a Native State, he must signify his desire in like manner to the highest Political Officer accredited to the State within which his family resides. The officer to whom the application is made shall forward it for the purpose of inquiry to the Magistrate of the District or Political Officer of the State in which the applicant's family resides.

IV. The Magistrate or Political Officer to whom such application has been forwarded shall call upon the candidate to appear and give evidence of the date and place of his birth and of his qualification under Regulation 2(i) within one month. He will carefully examine into the value of the evidence given, and forward a summary of it, with certified copies of all documents tendered, and his comments and opinion, to the officer who forwarded the application to him for inquiry.

V. The documentary evidence which a candidate may be expected to produce comprises:—

(a) The horoscope.

(b) Family books.

(c) Tradesmen's account books showing entries relating to the birth.

(d) The record of admission in the registers of the school in which the candidate was educated, and the record of the candidate's age at various periodical school examinations.

(e) If the candidate is matriculated, a certified copy of his application to the Registrar in Form A

Oral testimony of persons acquainted with the candidate's family or otherwise able to give relevant evidence will also be taken; and the candidate is required to comply, to the best of his power, with any requisition the Magistrate or Political Officer, as the case may be, may make in order to clear up any doubt as to the purport of the documentary proof.

VI. Any declaration of age made after the application of these rules on the occasion of seeking admission to any University examination, educational institution, or Government Office, or otherwise recorded in a formal and deliberate manner, will be taken as conclusive evidence in disproof of the subsequent assertion by the same person that he is of different age to that so declared or recorded.

Rules to apply to candidates born in His Majesty's Dominions.

VII. Where the date and place of birth have been formally registered in a register kept by any public officer in British India, an extract from the register duly certified by the proper official shall be accepted as sufficient proof of the date and place of birth.

VIII. In the case of a candidate who, and whose father and mother were born in His Majesty's Dominions—

If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted, he will issue a certificate in the following form setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate :—

I hereby certify that..........., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below* and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the.........day of...........19 , at.............., a place within His Majesty's Dominions.

Neither his father nor his mother was born outside His Majesty's Dominions.

* (Here enter details.)

IX. In the case of a candidate who, or whose father or mother, was not born within His Majesty's Dominions (excluding candidates who are subjects of Native States)—

If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted, he will issue a certificate in the following form setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate :—

I hereby certify that......, who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below† and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the......day of.........19 , and further, having ascertained that he‡ / his father / his mother was born outside His Majesty's Dominions, I hereby certify that his father was at the time of his (the candidate's) birth a British subject§ / a subject of.........State in India and that such father still is a British subject / continued to be till his death a subject of such State in India

‡Strike out as required.

§Strike out as required.

Strike out as required.

(†Here enter details.)

X. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, finds reason to believe that the evidence brought forward is not such as to justify the grant of a certificate in the form set out in Rule VIII or Rule IX above, the certificate will be refused and the candidate will be unable to obtain admission to the Competitive Examination for the Indian Civil Service.

XI. In the case of a candidate who is a subject of a Native State—

If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth and nationality correctly, he will forward the papers with his observations including any as to the nationality of the candidate's father and mother, to the Government of India who will consider whether a declaration of eligibility shall, with the approval of the Secretary of State, be issued under section 96-A of the Government of India Act, 1915.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.
PUBLIC DEBT.

Simla, the 14th September 1918.

No. 2490-F.—His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor-General in Council has resolved to borrow funds for the public service by the issue of Treasury Bills in the following manner:—

On and after Tuesday, the 17th day of September 1918, Treasury Bills will be issued at the Banks of Bengal, Bombay and Madras in denominations of Rs. 5 000, Rs. 10,000, Rs. 25,000, Rs. 50,000, Rs. 1 lakh, Rs. 5 lakhs, and Rs. 10 lakhs, and for terms of six months, nine months and twelve months to be reckoned from the date of issue of the bills. The rates payable for the bills will be notified from time to time. The rates in the first instance will be—

For six months' bills—Rs. 97 annas 12 per cent.

For nine months' bills—Rs. 96 annas 6 per cent.

For twelve months' bills—Rs. 95 annas 2 per cent.

2. The Governor-General in Council reserves the right at any time to vary the rates payable for any class of bills, to fix a limit to the amount of bills to be issued in any week, or to discontinue issues of any class or classes of bills.

3. The bills will be repayable at maturity at the Presidency Bank of issue.

4. The bills will be in the following form:—

"This Treasury Bill entitles or order to the payment of Rs. at the Bank of Bengal/Bombay/Madras out of the revenues of the Government of India on the day of 1919."

If the name of the payee be not filled in, the bill will be paid to the bearer; it will otherwise be payable to the payee or to his order

5. Treasury Bills can be obtained during banking hours at the head offices of the Banks of Bengal, Bombay and Madras, as the case may be, on payment of the necessary amount by cheque, cash or otherwise.

PART IB.

Orders by the Governor of Bengal in Council.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Calcutta.

No. 2314M.—The 20th September 1918.—The following amendments, made by the General Committee of the Corporation of Calcutta under clause (26) of section 559 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899 (Bengal Act III of 1899), in the by-laws published under Notification No. 1396M., dated the 10th December 1910, at pages 201-203 of Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 21st idem, have been confirmed by the Corporation and sanctioned by the Governor in Council in accordance with the provisions of section 566 of that Act, and are published for general information, in accordance with section 570 of the said Act :—

Amendments.

1. For By-laws 1 to 9 in Part I of the said by-laws substitute the following by-laws :—

1. (1) Every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house constructed after these by-laws come into force must conform to the standard type-plans annexed hereto.

(2) Copies of the said type-plans shall be supplied at the Municipal Office to any applicant on payment of one rupee for each copy.

2. Every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house must be paved with artificial stone or some other suitable impervious material approved by the Chairman.

3. (1) The floor of every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house must incline to a channel or gutter, sloping towards and draining directly into a gully-pit communicating with a sewer situated immediately outside the stable, shed or house :

Provided that, in the unsewered area,—

(a) such channel or gutter must drain directly into a cess-pool similarly situated, the contents whereof shall be removable, and

(b) such cesspool must be constructed of bricks set in cement and cement-plastered, or of some other suitable impervious material approved by the Chairman and must be so constructed as not to admit rain-water.

(2) The slope of the floor must be made so as to incline away from the heads of animals, and, in the case of floors of stables, sheds or houses hereafter constructed and accommodating two rows of animals must be made so as to incline outwards.

4. Every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house must have, for purposes of light and ventilation,—

(a) an opening, of not less than 18 inches in width, on all sides, below the junction of the eaves and the walls of the buildings, as shown in the annexed type-plans, and

(b) such other openings as may be required by the Chairman.

5. Every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house must have one storey only, and there shall be no construction, arrangement or fixture permitting of any lofts or sleeping places, either over the roof or, within the interior, over the stalls for horses or cattle:

Provided that—

(a) the Chairman may sanction the erection of an upper storey if the floor thereof be constructed of impervious material to his satisfaction, and

(b) an appeal shall lie to the General Committee in any case in which the Chairman refuses such sanction.

6. (1) The internal arrangements of every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house must be so constructed and placed as to leave—

(a) in the case of a stable—

(i) a clear superficial floor space of at least 40 square feet (excluding the space occupied by the trough and drain), and

(ii) a clear lateral space of at least 5 feet for each animal; and

(b) in the case of a cattle-shed or cow-house,—

(i) a floor space of at least 10 feet in width for each row of animals, and

(ii) a lateral space of 3½ feet for each animal, allowing a clear standing space of at least 22¾ square feet for each animal and being railed off to a distance of 3 feet from the manger for every two animals.

(2) Such additional accommodation must be provided for calves as may be approved by the Health Officer.

7. The walls of every stable, cattle-shed or cow-house must be at least 8 feet in height from the level of the floor up to the junction of the eaves with the walls.

8. (1) No cattle-shed or cow-house shall be so constructed as to provide for the storage of milk or milk-vessels therein.

(2) For every cattle-shed or cow-house in which milch-cows or milch-buffaloes are kept there shall be provided a separate shed or place for the temporary storage of milk and milk-vessels.

(3) Such shed or place shall not communicate directly with any stable, cattle-shed or cow-house, and shall not, without the special permission of the Chairman, be placed within a distance of 15 feet from any connected privy or 25 feet from any service-privy or urinal.

9. (1) Every stable, cattle-shed and cow-house on a new site must have a minimum open space of 10 feet on all sides:

Provided that, if any side of any stable, cattle-shed or cow-house abuts on a street, square or any other open place dedicated to public use and not likely to be built upon, the width of such street, square or open place shall be taken into account in calculating the necessary 10 feet space on that side.

(2) On and after the 1st day of April 1919, the site of a proposed stable, cattle-shed or cow-house shall, for the purpose of this by-law, be deemed to be a new site unless it has been occupied by a licensed stable, cattle-shed or cow-house within a period of twelve calendar months from the date when the erection of such stable, cattle-shed or cow-house is commenced.

10. By-laws 1, 4, 8 and 9 shall apply only to stables, cattle-sheds and cow-houses in which animals are kept for sale or hire, for sale of the produce thereof, or for any other purposes of gain or profit.

11. Renumber by-law 10 as by-law 11 and alter the numberings of all the subsequent by-laws in accordance.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF PRIVATE CANDIDATES FOR THE MATRICULATION EXAMINATION OF 1919.

THE following rules for the guidance of private candidates for the Matriculation Examination are published for general information.

2. Private students are those who have not attended any recognized or unrecognized school for, at least, one year previous to the examination. The term "private students" includes bonâ fide school masters.

3. Private students must appear at the Test Examination of one of the following institutions on the dates mentioned against it :—

Name of School.	Dates of Examination.
(1) Comilla Zilla School	2nd, 3rd, 5th, 6th and 7th December 1918.
(2) Noakhali Zilla School
(3) Chittagong Collegiate School ...
(4) Rangamati High English School ...

Each private student will pay a fee of Rs. 3 to the head of the institution in which he appears for the Test Examination. No private student will be admitted to the Test Examination, unless he is accompanied for the purpose of identification by some person known to the Head Master of the institution at which he appears.

4. Application for permission to appear at the Test Examination must be sent in time to reach this office not later than the 6th November 1918, The information to be given and the documents to be appended, in original, are the following :—

(a) Name of the school in which the candidate last studied.

(b) Transfer Certificate, in original, granted to the candidate by the Head Master of the school in which he last studied ; or

(c) In the case of a candidate, who previously appeared at the Matriculation Examination, Registrar's receipt, in original, for the fee paid.

(d) Age of the candidate. No candidate, who has not completed the age of 16 years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination, will be allowed to appear at it.

(e) In the case of school masters, a certificate of good conduct from the Secretary of the school in which he is serving or from the Deputy Inspector of the district concerned.

(f) A certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect that the candidate has prosecuted a regular course of study and has been subject to proper discipline and that he has not read in any school since the last Matriculation Examination.

(g) A statement by the candidate giving the following facts :—

(i) Residence.
(ii) Father's name.
(iii) Second language besides English.
(iv) Vernacular language for composition.
(v) Vernacular language from which translation is to be made into English in the first English paper.
(vi) Which of the following subjects he has taken up :—

(1) Additional Mathemathics.
(2) Additional paper in the classical language.
(3) History.
(4) Geography.
(5) Elementary Mechanics.

(vii) The name of the school at the Test Examination of which the candidate wishes to appear must be stated. Candidates of the plains districts will not be allowed to appear at the Test Examination of the Rangamati High English School.

5. The Inspector on being satisfied will countersign and return the application, which will then be the candidate's passport for admission to the Test Examination.

6. Every candidate must deposit his fee for the Test Examination with the Head Master of the institution in which he intends to appear, at least 15 days before the date of that examination. The Head Master will deposit the amount realized by him into the local Treasury and forward a copy of the Treasury chalan to this office. He should also submit to this office an account of the charges incurred by him (including remuneration to examiners) for conducting the examination of private candidates, together with vouchers in support of the charges, on receipt of which the Director of Public Instruction will be moved to sanction the expenditure.

7. The Head Masters of the institutions named in paragraph 3 above should direct private students who satisfy the test to appear before them in due time with their applications for admission to the Matriculation Examination and to sign them in their presence. They will then grant the necessary certificates and forward the application to the Inspector for countersignature, after which they will be sent by the Inspector direct to the candidates.

8. In no circumstances should the fee for the Matriculation Examination be sent to the Inspector's office. It should be sent to the Registrar by the candidates themselves, together with the countersigned applications.

9. Private students must understand that the Test Examination of any school other than those named above will not be accepted by the Inspector.

10. The Matriculation Examination will be held on the 2nd March 1919, and following days.

11. Applications and fees for admission to the Matriculation Examination must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 18th January 1919.

ABDUL AZIZ,

Offg. Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division.

CHITTAGONG, the 5th September 1918.

N.B.—A student, who failed to pass, or appear at, the annual examination for promotion to class X at the end of the session 1917 and then left the school can, under no circumstances, be allowed to appear at the Test Examination.

RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF PRIVATE CANDIDATES FOR THE INTERMEDIATE AND B. A. EXAMINATIONS, 1919.

Boná fide teachers of schools recognized by the University, or of any other schools approved for the purpose by the Syndicate, who have served as such for a full period of three academical years preceding the examination, will be admitted to the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations as non-collegiate students.

2. Applications for permission to appear at the abovementioned examinations must be submitted in the printed form prescribed by the University to the Inspector of Schools for signature, on or before the 10th January 1919, with the following papers :—

(1) Registrar's orders showing that the candidate's name has been registered as a University student.

(2) Permission of the Senate allowing the candidate to appear at the examination.

(3) F. A. certificates by candidates for B. A. Examination or Matriculation certificates by candidates for the Intermediate Examination, and also Registrar's receipts by candidates who were admitted to a former examination.

(4) Certificates of good character, length of service and diligent and regular study from Secretaries of the schools in which the candidates may be serving.

3. No candidate shall be admitted to the abovementioned examinations, who has been enrolled as a regular student of a college during the twelve months previous to the date of the examination at which he applies for permission to appear.

4. The Intermediate and B. A. Examinations of 1919 will be held on the 18th March and 3rd April 1919, respectively, and the following days.

5. Applications and fees for admission to the abovementioned examinations must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 3rd and 19th February 1919, respectively.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM BY THE INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS, BURDWAN DIVISION.

University Matriculation Examination, 1919.

PRIVATE STUDENTS.

1. Private students are those who have not attended any recognized or unrecognized High English schools for at least one year previous to the examination. The term "private students" includes school masters.

2. Private students must appear at the Test Examination to be held on Monday, the 2nd December 1918, and the following days at the Hooghly Branch School.

Each private student will have to pay a fee of Rs. 6, which should be remitted to the Inspector of Schools, Burdwan Division, Chinsura, along with his application for admission to the Test Examination by the 9th November 1918, after which date a fine of Rs. 2 will have to be paid for each week's delay. Under no circumstances will the admission fee be refunded. No private student will be admitted to the Test Examination unless he is accompanied, for the purpose of identification, by some person known in the office of the Inspector of Schools, Burdwan Division, or to the staff of the Hooghly Branch School.

3. Applications must be submitted through the Head Master of the school in which the applicant last read. The Head Master, in forwarding the application to this office, should note whether he recommends the application or not. If he does not, his reasons should be stated. The application of no candidate is to be forwarded who did not leave school from the first class, or who had not been declared fit for promotion to that class. The information to be given and the documents to be appended (in original) are the following:—

(a) The name of the school in which the candidate last studied.

(b) The transfer certificate (in original) granted to the candidate by the Head Master of the school in which he last read; or

(c) In the case of a candidate who previously appeared at the Entrance Examination, the Registrar's receipt (in original) for the fee paid.

(d) The age of the candidate is not required in cases (b) and (c). No candidate who has not completed the age of sixteen years on the first day of the Matriculation Examination is eligible.

(e) In the case of school masters, a certificate of good conduct from the secretary or proprietor of the school in which the candidate is serving.

(f) A certificate from a respectable gentleman to the effect that the candidate has prosecuted a regular course of study and has been subject to proper discipline, and that he has not read in any school since the last Matriculation Examination held in April 1918. Detailed information is needed under this head. The person granting the certificate should state his social or professional position.

(g) The names of subjects in which the candidate wishes to be examined.

4. The fee for the Matriculation Examination has NOT to be sent to this office. It should be sent to the Registrar by the candidates themselves, together with the countersigned applications.

5. The address of each private student should be supplied to this office.

6. The Matriculation Examination in 1919 will be held on the 3rd March 1919 and following days. Applications and fees for admission must reach the office of the Registrar on or before the 18th January 1919.

Intermediate and B. A. Examinations.

1. Deputy Inspectors of Schools, Sub-Inspectors of Schools and bonâ fide masters of English schools, who have served as such for the full period of three academical years preceding the examination, will be admitted to the abovementioned examinations.

2. Candidates for the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations must produce certificates of character and length of service from the secretaries of their respective schools. Candidates for the B. A. Examination must forward with their applications their F. A. certificates, and those for the Intermediate Examination their Entrance or Matriculation certificates. Those candidates who were admitted to a former examination must produce the Registrar's receipt in addition.

3. Under section 19 of the Indian Universities Act, candidates for the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations are informed that their applications for admission to these examinations will not be considered unless they enclose with their applications to this office the sanction of the Senate to appear at the said examinations. Candidates who have applied for or have obtained the special permission of the Senate for the purpose are required, under section 9, chapter XV of the Revised Regulations, dealing with the registration of University students, to apply at once to the Registrar for the registration of their names as University students. No person will be deemed a "University student" unless and until his name has been duly registered, and none but "University students" will be eligible for admission to any University examination other than the Matriculation

4. The printed form of application should be carefully and correctly filled in and submitted to this office on or before the 12th January 1919, together with other papers, as mentioned in rules 2 and 3, after which no application will be received.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned lots of land no longer required by Government, situated along the Bhairab-Tangi Branch of the Assam-Bengal Railway, in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at Dacca Collectorate, at 11 A.M., on 21st day of October 1918, corresponding with the 4th of Kartik 1325 B.S.

The purchasers of the several lots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway land, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in case of original sale.

4th.—The lots of land will be sold to the highest bidders subject to the payment of usual rent to their immediate superior landlords.

5th.—The sale will become final on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioners confirming it and a regular conveyance will then be granted to the purchasers.

Dacca, the 19th August 1918.

S. G. HART, Collector.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Burdwan-Howrah Chord Railway, in the district of Burdwan, will be put up to sale at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, the 30th October 1918, corresponding with the 13th Kartic 1325 B. S., at Memari.

The purchasers of the several plots of land will be subject to the following conditions :—

1st.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway boundary, or to plough the land nearer than three feet from the same.

2nd.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount must be paid down at once.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount must be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale shall be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the lot again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4th.—The plots of land will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

5th.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt by the Collector of the orders of the Commissioner confirming the sale.

MOTHURA NATH BANERJEE, Collector, under Act I of 1894.

Burdwan, the 15th September 1918.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Nadia, will be put up to sale at the Nadia Collectorate, at noon, 6th November 1918, corresponding with 20th Kartic 1325 B. S., Wednesday.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

Conditions of sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to the existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force ; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

CALCUTTA,
The 15th February 1918.

(2396—1)

In the Court of the Sub-Judge of Rangpur.

MONEY EXECUTION CASE No. 526 OF 1918.

Dhirendra Nath Ghose, original decree-holder, Herombo Nath Bandopadhyaya, decree-holder by assignment, decree-holders, versus Suniti Bala Debi and another, judgment-debtors.

Claim, Rs. 5,989-9-9.

Schedule of property.

EIGHT ANNAS share of pargana Bamondanga, situated within the police-stations of Kotwali, Mahiganja, Sundargunge, Jaldhaka and Lalmonirhat, in the district of Rangpur, bearing tauzi No. 1 of the Rangpur Collectorate, save and except the taluk Joydeb Kishamot Nrisbingha, taluks Habu, Alal, Rajbollobh Kishamot Romakanta, Eknath, Debottor, Nagar Gajaghanta. The aforesaid 8 annas share is subject to two mortgages, one by virtue of an indenture, dated the 5th March 1907, for Rs. 1,60,000 principal and interest thereon, in favour of Srimotis Dhara Sundari Debi Choudhurani and Sarojini Debi Choudhurani, widows of late Sarat Chandra Roy Choudhuri, of Bamondanga, and another by virtue of another indenture, dated the 10th April 1904, in favour of Aga Muhammad Baker Ispahani, for Rs. 20,000 and interest thereon. In respect to the half of the former mortgage money the said Dhara Sundari Debi Choudhurani has got a decree in suit No. 166 of 1909 in the Subordinate Judge's Court at Rangpur, the amount decreed in the suit being Rs. 89,346-3-5 as claimed and Rs. 3,312-2-6 as costs, and the appeal against that decree, No. 303 of 1911, having been decided and case remanded by the Hon'ble High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal and an appeal to the Hon'ble Privy Council is pending at the instance of Srijukta Suniti Bala Debi, judgment-debtor, in this case. The present decree-holder has purchased the half of the interest created by the said mortgage from Sarojini Debi Choudhurani aforesaid by a sale-deed, dated the 4th October 1912, the principal money due in respect to the said half share being Rs. 80,000 and interest thereon at the rate stipulated for in the bond.

The Government revenue on the said 8 annas share including the taluks Joydeb and others named above as excluded from the present sale (for which no separate account has been opened) is Rs. 33,491-12-5 only.

The above mentioned property will be sold at public auction on the 8th November 1918.

B. G. CHATTERJEE, Sub-Judge.

Notice.

THE Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund which is provisionally managed and assisted by Government has for its object the provision of monthly pensions for the maintenance of the widows and children of subscribers and is open, with certain exceptions, to all active and pensioned members of the Uncovenanted Service of Government (except those serving under the Government of Bombay), and to Local Fund servants earning pensions from Government. Some of the special features of the Fund are—(1) that widowed daughters incapable of remarriage or children labouring under such mental or bodily infirmities as incapacitate them from earning their livelihood or preclude the possibility of marriage (in case of a daughter) are admitted to its benefits; and (2) that subscribers to the Widows' and Daughters' branches are entitled to a refund of 30 per cent. of the premia paid, should the nominees predecease them after five years of admission. The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries, Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

STARRED QUESTIONS.

The following questions which had been starred were put and answered :—

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

*1.

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the following details regarding the supply of seed potatoes by the Agricultural Department each year from 1912 to 1917?

(a) (i) How many foreign seed potatoes were purchased by the Agricultural Department;

(ii) what was the actual expenditure; and

(iii) how were they distributed and with what results?

(b) (i) What quantity of seed potatoes were supplied from the Calcutta market;

Questions and Answers.

(ii) at what price per maund were they purchased in Calcutta; and (iii) at what rate had the buyers to pay for them?

(c) (i) What quantity was actually purchased each year at Darjeeling and what quantity was supplied to the buyers?

(ii) at what price were potatoes purchased at Darjeeling and at what rate were they supplied to buyers; and

(iii) what were the items of extra charges over the market price of potato at Darjeeling and how much was charged per maund under each head?

(d) (i) What was the total expenditure incurred each year for the potato supply, and how were they met?

(ii) what amount was advanced each year by the Agricultural Department for this purpose and from what grant;

(iii) what amount was advanced each year by the Divisional Commissioners and District Boards for the cultivators and whether this was realised and refunded;

(iv) what amount was advanced each year by the Co-operative Banks and what quantity of potatoes was supplied through each Bank in each year;

(v) what amount was actually advanced, each year, directly by the growers and how much was thus obtained from each district each year; and

(vi) is there any special grant in the budget of the Agricultural Department for supplying seed potatoes to cultivators? If so, what was the grant for each year? If there is no such special grant, from what grant was the expenditure for potato supply met?

(e) What were the names of the contractors who supplied seed potatoes to the Agricultural Department each year and what were the conditions of the contracts with them?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"The compilation of the figures asked for involves very considerable labour. Government have considered it sufficient to have information compiled only for the years 1916 and 1917 instead of for the 6 years for which figures have been asked.

(a) (i) (ii) (iii) No foreign seed potatoes were purchased or supplied.

N.B.—A seed store charge was added in 1917 on the orders of Government to meet the cost of rent and establishment for seed stores.

Questions and Answers.

(c) (i) In 1916. 3,545 maunds 25 seers and in 1917, 2,800 maunds 39 seers were purchased and supplied to buyers. These figures do not include the potatoes brought by dealers and rejected on selection as unfit for seed.

(ii) Potatoes were purchased in Darjeeling in 1916 at Rs. 7 to Rs. 9 per maund and in 1917 at Rs. 7-4 per maund. Rupee 1-8 per maund above the market rate was paid on the condition that the Department might select the potatoes.

(iii) Rates to buyers—

1916	Nil by Commissioners. The District Board of 24-Parganas advanced Rs. 500, of which Rs. 50 are outstanding.
1917	Nil by Commissioners. The District Boards of Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri each advanced Rs. 1,000. Of these advances, Rs. 840 are outstanding in Dinajpur and Rs. 400 in Jalpaiguri. The District Board of 24-Parganas advanced Rs. 700, of which Rs. 443 are outstanding.

(iv) In 1916 Rs. 6,720 were advanced by Co-operative Banks in Dacca Division. In 1917 Rs. 1,868-13-3 were advanced by Co-operative Banks in Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions. The quantities of potatoes supplied through individual Banks were as follows :—

(vi) There is no special grant for potatoes. The expenditure was met from the head ' Other demonstrations and experiments.'

(e) No contractor was employed. Tenders were invited in 1916 and one was accepted. The tenderer demanded an advance which was refused and he declined to supply. The difficulty in working with a contractor is due to the fact that Darjeeling potatoes are peculiarly liable to rot, and rigid selection is necessary."

*2.

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table the following information in connection with the distribution of selected Kakya Bombai jute seed and selected Indrasail paddy seed in 1917 and in 1918 separately?

(a) Regarding the supply of jute seed :—

(i) what quantity of jute was distributed each year, how much was grown on the Government farms and how much was procured from outside;

(ii) what was the cost of purchasing jute seed;

(iii) how many cloth bags were required for the distribution of jute seed; and what was the size of each bag, and what was the cost of purchasing or preparing them;

(iv) what was the total amount spent for packing and despatching the jute seed bags and how much was paid as railway freight; and

(v) how many bags were distributed in each district?

(b) Regarding the supply of Indrasail paddy :—

(i) what quantity of Indrasail paddy was distributed in 1917 and also in 1918;

(ii) what was the cost of purchasing the paddy seed;

(iii) how many gunny bags were required for distributing the paddy seed and what was the size of the bag and how much was paid for each of them;

* 3.

Will the Government be pleased to state the decision of the special committee appointed in April, 1904, under Bengal Government Resolution No. 236 T.—M. to examine the working of the septic tank installations in Bengal in respect of the following matters :— Report on the septic tank installations special committee of 1904.

(a) whether the report submitted by the committee was complete and final? If not, the reasons for the submission of a provisional report; and

(b) the conclusions of the committee regarding—

(i) the bacterial analysis,

(ii) the survival of pathogenic bacteria, and

(iii) the extent of pollution caused by effluents (from septic tank latrines) discharged into the Bhagirathi in the districts of Hooghly, Howrah and 24-Parganas which have not been bacteriologically purified by up to date scientific methods?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" A copy of the report of the Special Committee appointed in 1904 is laid on the table. The Hon'ble Member's attention is invited to paragraphs 4, 8—11 and 14 of the report."

* 4.

Will the Government be pleased to state the extent of pollution by effluents (from septic tank latrines) which are now discharged into the rivers in the district of Dacca? Pollution of Dacca rivers by septic tank latrines.

* Not printed in these Proceedings.

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"Government have no information as to the pollution of rivers in the Dacca district by the effluents of septic tank installations, but they are advised that pollution from this source, if any, must be of very small extent and that there is extensive fæcal pollution from other sources."

By the Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR :—

* 5.

Purchase of the Police Hospital in Amherst Street by the Marwari community.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the offer of the Marwari community has been accepted by Government regarding the purchase of the Police Hospital, Amherst Street, Calcutta?

(b) If not, are the Government considering the desirability of causing an inquiry to be held by the Surgeon-General to the Government of Bengal and the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, regarding the sanitary condition of the buildings in Amherst Street and the Dullunda House, with a view to reconsider the matter for the location of the Police Hospital, Calcutta?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) The offer has been accepted.

(b) The question does not arise. The Amherst Street hospital has been condemned by the Surgeon-General as entirely unsuitable for the purposes of a police hospital. The Dullunda buildings will only be used temporarily, pending the erection of a new hospital on a site at Bhowanipur, which has already been acquired."

Cases of pocket-picking in certain sections of the Calcutta Tramways Company.

(a) Are the Government aware that a large number of cases of pocket-picking takes place in the Kalighat, Chitpore and Harrison Road sections of the Calcutta Tramways Company?

(b) Are the Government aware that a large number of carriages of tram-cars have only one exit and no entrance?

(c) Is it a fact that female passengers who travel by the Kalighat section are caused much inconvenience owing to the overcrowding of passengers near the exit of such cars?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of causing an inquiry to be made by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, into the matter with a view to introducing the Bombay system in regard to the exit from, and entrance into, the cars, as soon as possible?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Cases occur in all sections and are not confined to the sections named. They are most numerous at the tramway termini.

(b) It is a fact that a large number of tramcars have only one exit, which is also used as an entrance.

Questions and Answers.

(c) Yes. All passengers suffer some inconvenience when the cars are overcrowded.

(d) The Commissioner of Police will be asked to communicate with the Tramways Company on the subject, but it would be impossible for them to alter the construction of their cars or to secure new cars at present owing to the war."

(a) Is it a fact that passengers, especially by steamers, at Goalundo, are put to great hardship for want of a suitable rest-house there? Rest-house for passengers at Goalundo.

(b) If so, do the Government contemplate taking steps for the erection of a suitable rest-house for such accommodation?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) No representations have been made to Government or to the Eastern Bengal Railway or to the Inland Steamer Companies that passengers are put to great hardship for want of a suitable rest-house at Goalundo.

(b) Inasmuch as the railway terminus at Goalundo and the steamer ghat are not at any fixed site but may be at any point on the river bank within a stretch of 10 to 15 miles of the river, it is obvious that the construction of a rest-house, at any one particular site, would be of little or no use. Government do not intend to take any action in the matter."

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if there is any possibility of a railway connection at an early date between Nator station on the Eastern Bengal Railway and Rampur-Boalia, the headquarters station of the Rajshahi district, for which repeated representations have been made to Government? Railway connection between Nator station and Rampur-Boalia

(b) If not, are the Government considering the desirability of sanctioning the construction of a tramway line by the Rajshahi District Board either direct or under a guarantee system for the immediate relief of the people of Rajshahi?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" (a) When proposals for railway development north of the Ganges were last under consideration by the Secretary of State, they included a railway connection between Nator on the Eastern Bengal Railway main line and Rampur-Boalia. As regards this particular connection, the Secretary of State decided that further examination in detail was required. A reconnaissance survey for a line of railway on a 2′ 6″ gauge from Rampur-Boalia to Nischindpur via Nator has since been sanctioned, to be carried out by the agency of the Eastern Bengal Railway; but the Government of Bengal are not aware of the result of that reconnaissance. In the circumstances, there does not appear to be any likelihood of the construction in the immediate future of a railway between Nator and Rampur-Boalia.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons why there has not been any progress made in this matter in these two districts of the Dacca Division?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) and (b) No Union Committees have been established in the districts of Mymensingh and Bakarganj, chiefly because the District Officers have been so overburdened with work that they have not had time to organize them."

Cases instituted against one Jaharuddin of Burirchar in Bakarganj.

Will the Government be pleased to state the exact number of civil and criminal cases instituted every year by the Nawab of Dacca's estate against one Jaharuddin, tenant of Burirchar in Amtali thana in Bakarganj district, since Mr. Meyer's incumbency as Agent at Barisal and the exact amount spent yearly and the cost decreed against and realised from Jaharuddin in such suits?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" Litigation with Jaharuddin's father commenced in 1894 or more than ten years before Mr. Meyer took charge. Jaharuddin or his sons were convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment in four criminal cases before Mr. Meyer's incumbency. Since then Jaharuddin has been convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment in five criminal cases. These criminal prosecutions were instituted in consequence of Jaharuddin and his relatives obstructing the authorities or committing other criminal acts in open defiance of legal orders of courts. Jaharuddin is said to be undergoing at present a term of three years' imprisonment in a case not directly connected with the estate. Many civil suits were filed against Jaharuddin by the estate, but the particulars asked for cannot be furnished as the accounts of the Ailah cutcherry for 12 years have been deposited in the Court of the Subordinate Judge, Dacca; nor, in the opinion of Government, will it serve any public purpose to furnish more details of Jaharuddin's career of lawlessness and defiance of authority. (a) When was the first year survey class re-opened in connection with the Dacca School of Engineering, and how many students have been on its roll since then? The Dacca College of Engineering.

(b) What is the present number of students on the rolls of the different classes at the Mainamati Land Survey School?

(c) Is it a fact that the passed students of the first year survey class at Dacca have to join the Mainamati school for further study? If so, do the Government consider this arrangement suitable for the Dacca students?

(d) Have the Government ascertained how far it is possible for survey students at Dacca to prosecute their further studies thus at Mainamati at a comparatively heavy cost?

(e) What percentage of the first year students at Dacca have joined or are likely to join the Mainamati school for further studies?

(f) (i) Are the Government considering the desirability of opening the second year survey class at Dacca from the next session?

(f) (ii) What net additional cost would this entail?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) The class was re-opened in July 1917. There were 24 students on the rolls in July 1918.

(b) The number in the first year class is 17 and in the second year class 9.

(c) On the completion of the course at Dacca, students are eligible for admission to the second year class of the Survey School at Mainamati, provided they satisfy a test as to their qualifications in English. This arrangement is considered suitable.

(d) No difficulty is apprehended, and the cost of studying at Mainamati is not heavy.

(e) The information is not available as the final examination at Dacca will not be held till September, 1918.

With reference to the answer to my unstarred question No. XXXVI of the 4th September, 1917, will the Government be pleased to state in how many instances during the last twelve months, sheds and waiting-rooms at the steamer stations in Eastern Bengal and screened accommodation for 3rd class female passengers and latrine arrangements for inter-class female passengers on board steam-vessels have been provided? Accommodation for female passengers on steamers.

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

" Owing to the scarcity of materials and the abnormal rise in prices, the Inland Steamer Companies have not been able to take up any programme for the construction of sheds or waiting rooms at steamer stations in Eastern Bengal. Screened accommodation for 3rd class female passengers has been provided for the 10 steamers employed on the Khulna-Narayanganj Mail Service and the Khulna Express Service, and it is hoped that further progress in this direction will be made shortly.

The Companies report to Government that they do not consider it feasible to arrange latrine accommodation for females in the space allotted to inter-class passengers. The present latrine accommodation is, however, clean and sanitary. As stated in answer to the Hon'ble Member's question No. XXXVI on the 4th September, 1917, latrines for inter-class female passengers have been provided in the designs for new steamers."

(b) Is it a fact that Sanitary Inspectors are recruited from Overseer classes? If so, for what reason?

(i) the names of those schools applications from which for grants-in-aid were rejected during 1917-18;

(ii) the period of their existence before applications for grants-in-aid were submitted;

(iii) whether, notwithstanding the Government reply that the grants-in-aid allotment at the disposal of the Inspectress of Schools had been hypothecated for existing schools, new grants-in-aid were made during 1917-18, and if so, what were the special reasons therefor; and

(iv) the exact amount of travelling allowance drawn by the Assistant Inspectress of Schools for zenana work and for Muhammadan education, as shown in the travelling bills, for visiting other than Muhammadan girls' school and zenana work during the official year 1917-18?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

(i) and (ii) The following statement gives the information asked for :—

Name of school.	When started.	When application for grant-in-aid was first received.
1. Giridharipur Girls' School ...	June 1917	December 1917.
2. Chanak Girls' School	February 1917	May 1917.
3. Barisha Girls' School	March 1916	June 1917.
4. Karuli-Katipara Girls' School ...	1845	May 1917.
5. Tamluk Mission Girls' School ...	1903	June 1917.

Nos. 4 and 5 are not of recent origin, as was previously stated under a misapprehension.

(iii) A supplementary grant was sanctioned during the latter part of the year 1917-18, out of which new grants were given to some of the most deserving schools

(iv) A sum of Rs. 40-14 only was drawn by the Assistant Inspectress of Schools for zenana work and Muhammadan education for visiting schools other than Muhammadan schools and zenana work during the official year 1917-18.

(f) Are the Government aware that a memorial has been addressed to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division making certain allegations in regard to this matter? Has any inquiry been made into them? If so, with what results?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) In a petition signed by four gentlemen, of whom three were unsuccessful candidates at the last general election of the Kalna Local Board, it was alleged that the Circle Officer had manipulated the preparation of the register of voters and exercised his official influence to secure the election of his own nominees.

(b) Babu Ashutosh Deb, Circle Officer of Kalna, prepared the voters' list. Applications for correction of the register were sent to the Subdivisional Officer, of which some were enquired into by him and some by the Circle Officer It is not a fact that the Circle Officer rejected most of the applications.

No. 2253-2259G., dated Calcutta, the 25th April, 1918.

From—The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,

To—The Inspector / Inspectress of Schools, Presidency Division. / Burdwan Division. / Dacca Division. / Rajshahi Division. / Chittagong Division. / Presidency and Burdwan Division. / Dacca Circle.

I AM directed to address you on the subject of the points to be noticed in inspection notes on High English Schools for the purposes of recognition by the University of Calcutta.

2. It appears that in many inspection reports some of the important points are not at all touched upon or not dealt with properly. It will facilitate matters if the reports are drawn up strictly in accordance with the heads of information indicated in the University Regulations. It is also desirable that the inspecting officers should devote special attention to the points noted below, several of which are frequently overlooked altogether :—

(1) The managing committee should consist of not more than 10 members, be representative of various communities, meet regularly, have a set of rules approved by the Divisional Inspector of Schools for guidance and have control over the school property, i.e., the property of the school must be vested in the committee by a deed of gift.

(2) Staff.—The number of teachers should be sufficient to allow each teacher one free period per day while the Headmaster should not teach for more than 20, preferably 18, periods per week.

There should be arrangements for translation from Sanskrit and Persian or Arabic into English.

The list of staff should invariably show the length of service (a) as a teacher and (b) in the school.

Questions and Answers.

For a school comprising classes III to XX (with no extra section) the following should be the minimum scale of staff :—

		Rs.
(a)	Headmaster, B.A. (Honours)	75—5—100
(b)	Assistant Headmaster, B.A.	65—3—80
(c)	Assistant Master, F.A.	45
(d)	Ditto	40
(e)	Ditto	35
(f)	Ditto	30
(g)	Assistant Master, F.A. or Matriculate with at least 5 years' experience	25
(h)	Assistant Master, Matriculate, with at least 5 years' experience	20
(i)	Head Pandit, Sanskrit Title	25
(j)	2nd Pandit, Normal Final passed	20
(k)	Maulvi, Final Madrassa passed	25
		405—445

Note—

(i) One of the B.A.'s must have taken Honours in English.

(ii) One of the English teachers should be a B.Sc. or I.Sc.

(iii) Wherever possible and necessary one of the F.A.'s should be a Muhammadan capable of taking translation from Arabic or Persian into English.

(iv) In no High English School should there be more than 2 matriculates on the staff.

(v) On no consideration should the pay of a teacher in the High English School fall below Rs. 20 per month.

(3) Buildings must have pucca plinth, be well lighted and ventilated. The surroundings must be unobjectionable and equipment adequate.

Note—

Lighting and ventilations should proceed from the longer side of the room, if possible; boys should on no account sit facing the light.

(4) Furniture.—Desks must be provided in all classes at 1 foot 8 inches per boy.

(5) Accommodation should be provided at the minimum rate of 10 sq. ft. per boy in every class room. The area in sq. ft. and the number of boys accommodated in each class room should invariably be shown.

(6) Sanitary arrangements.—The standard to be aimed at should be :—

	Per 100 boys.	Staff.
(i) Latrines	1	1
(ii) Urinals	2	1

(7) There should be a regular monthly allotment of Rs. 5 for library. Up to 250 boys the scale should be Rs. 5 per month with Re. 1 extra for each 50 boys.

(8) Games should be properly organised and drill taught in all classes according to the curriculum.

(9) The residences of boys living with unrelated guardians should be regularly supervised at least once a quarter by members of the staff and reports submitted to the Headmaster.

Hostels and messes should provide accommodation at the minimum rate of 60 sq. ft. per boy, must be well ventilated and lighted and have a resident superintendent in each.

(10) Finances.—Where the fee income is inadequate to maintain an efficient scale of establishment, subscriptions must be definitely guaranteed : an endowment or reserve fund of at least Rs. 5,000 is desirable : the amount of surplus balance should be invariably stated and it should be deposited in a reliable Bank—preferably in the Postal Savings Bank.

3. Finally I am to request that your recommendations under each of the above heads should be definite and clear.

(a) Are the Government aware that in the Hare School there is only one Maulvi who has to teach Arabic, Persian and Urdu to the first, second, third and fourth classes?

(b) Are the Government aware of the difficulties which Muhammadan students undergo in studying Persian and Urdu in that school?

(c) Is it a fact that repeated representations have been made by guardians and students, and also by Head Masters to secure the appointment of another Persian teacher?

(d) Is it a fact that sometimes it happens that the present Maulvi has to take up as many as three or four classes at a time?

(e) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking steps to remove the grievance of Muhammadan students in this matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) One Maulvi has to teach Persian and Urdu but not Arabic in the first four classes.

(b) Yes.

(c) It is understood that representations have been made to the Principal of the Presidency College.

(d) Yes.

(e) The appointment of another Maulvi is under the consideration of the Director of Public Instruction, and his recommendations are awaited by Government."

(b) Is it a fact that Urdu students are refused admission below the fourth class in consequence of there being no provision for the teaching of Urdu?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of taking steps to provide for the teaching of Urdu in the lower classes of the Hare School?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) Yes.

(b) and (c) It is not the policy of the Education Department to allow Hindi or Urdu to be used as a medium of instruction in Government high schools other than specifically Muhammadan high schools in Bengal, and instructions were accordingly issued to the authorities of the Hare School by the Director of Public Instruction in 1915 to discourage the admission into class 5 and the classes below it of boys whose vernacular is Hindi or Urdu. Publication of an offending passage in the Indian Daily News.

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the following passage in a leaderette in the Indian Daily News in its issue of the 27th July :—

"Not far away the wayfarer descries an Arab with clear-cut features and a world of mysticism in his eyes gazing down into a gutter as reverently as if it were his Prophet's tomb"?

(b) Are the Government aware that the comparison suggested is regarded by Muhammadans as extremely blasphemous?

(c) Are the Government aware that the passage in question has seriously wounded the religious feelings of the Musalman community?

(d) Are the Government aware that the matter is attracting attention all over India and creating widespread excitement?

Questions and Answers.

(e) Are the Government aware that a public meeting under the auspices of the Bengal Moslem League was held at the office of the Indian Association on Sunday, the 11th instant, at which the people present gave vent to the feelings of resentment against the paper?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Press Censor brought the matter to the notice of Government? If so, on what date?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state whether any action has been taken against the paper under the Press Act? If not, why not?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Yes.

(b), (c) and (d) Government have received representations from various Muhammadan associations complaining that the feelings of the Muhammadan community have been wounded by the paragraph.

(e) Yes.

(f) The Press Censor first brought the matter to the notice of Government on the 14th August in connection with some articles which had appeared in certain Muhammadan newspapers, but the paragraph in the Indian Daily News had attracted the attention of Government before that date.

(g) Government have carefully considered the paragraph together with the explanation which was published in the Indian Daily News of the 22nd August, and are satisfied that the passage in question was not intended to hurt the religious feelings of the Muhammadan community. It was copied in all good faith from another journal, and cannot under any ordinary construction of the English language be regarded as intentionally offensive. It was part of an article, apparently meant to be complimentary, describing, in somewhat journalistic phraseology, the presence in Paris of certain Muhammadans from Africa. Whatever criticisms it is open to as regards its wording, the local Government accept as bona fide the explicit disclaimer by the journal of any intention of wounding the religious susceptibilities of any one. While Government have every wish to safeguard from unwarantable attack the religious sentiments of the Muhammadan, or any other community, they can only conclude that much of the resentment aroused by this incident is based on a misunderstanding, and they are advised that the passage complained of does not infringe the Press Act and that no case for action under that Act would lie."

(a) Are the Government aware that the Subdivisional Officer of Kalna canvassed for the election of Babu Jogesh Chunder Mitter, Sub-Registrar and a nominated Commissioner, as Chairman of the Kalna Municipality?

(b) Is it a fact that the Subdivisional Officer used undue influence with the accountant of his office to obtain the vote of his son, an elected Commissioner, for Babu Jogesh Chunder Mitter?

(c) Is it a fact that the Subdivisional Magistrate requested the Rev. Dr. Muir, M.D., of the Kalna Mission, to ask his assistant, a nominated Commissioner, to vote for Jogesh Babu and that the Rev. Dr. Muir refused to do so?

(d) Is it a fact that the District Magistrate did not approve the election of Jogesh Babu and did not allow him to hold office?

Employment of clerks in Intelligence Branch offices.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether applications were entertained both from Indians and Anglo-Indians for the posts of confidential clerks in the different District Intelligence Branches under the Government of Bengal?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement containing the names of the applicants—

(i) who were outsiders, and

(ii) who were already in trusted service of Government, with their respective qualifications?

(c) Have the applications of the Indians been rejected?

(d) If so, what is their number and the reasons for such rejection?

(e) Is it a fact that even after the appointments of Anglo-Indians, there were several cases in which their services had to be dispensed with for bad work?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state the number of Hindus, Muhammadans and Anglo-Indians employed as confidential clerks in the different District Intelligence Branches under the Government of Bengal?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a) In the original advertisement which was issued in July, 1917, applications were invited from Europeans and Anglo-Indians only. In a further advertisement issued in December, 1917, no such restriction was made.

(b) The applications of all rejected candidates have been destroyed and the information is not available.

(c) Yes.

(d) As the applications were destroyed, the information is not available. The reasons for rejection were that the men who were rejected were not considered so suitable for the posts in question as the men who were selected.

(e) The services of three clerks were dispensed with as they were found unsuitable.

(f) At present 33 confidential clerks are employed in district intelligence offices. They are all Europeans or Anglo-Indians."

(b) Have these rules received the sanction of the Government of India?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state the date of such sanction?

(d) Have the Government any information regarding the method of working of the septic tank latrine installations under the Factories Rules in force in other provinces of India?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state whether sub-rules (1), (2) and (3) of rule 19 of the Bengal Factories Rules are similar to those which are in force in other provinces of British India?

(f) If not, will the Government be pleased to state where they differ?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) No. Such sanction was not required.

(c) The question does not arise.

(d), (e) and (f) It is understood that in no other province do the rules under the Indian Factories Act contain provisions as to the working of septic tank latrines."

Stock of dhotis and saris in various firms, etc., in Calcutta and elsewhere.

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a copy of the statement contained in the statistics taken by Government in July last regarding the stock of dhotis and saris (for use for females only) in the various firms and shops in Calcutta and elsewhere?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The recent census of piece-goods was undertaken at the request of the Government of India, to whom the result was duly communicated, and the publication of the detailed figures rests primarily with them. It is believed that the returns received were not altogether complete, as some owners were in ignorance of the requirements of the order and others, possibly, deliberately evaded it. The actual stocks in hand were probably, therefore, somewhat larger than those returned, but allowing for the reduced rate of consumption now prevalent under the influence of high prices, it is estimated that there were in hand, and to arrive within the next few months, dhotis and saris sufficient for 12, and grey goods sufficient for 6, months. The estimate which has been hazarded in some sections of the press that stocks for two, or even three, years are available is certainly an exaggeration. However, since the census, it is understood that a considerable amount of forward business has gone through and to that extent the position has changed for the better."

(ii) in how many cases lady wards of the Court took advantage of the services of the Lady Adviser during 1917-18?

(b) Do the Government propose to ascertain from lady wards if they require the services of the Lady Adviser?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) (i) The Lady Adviser is appointed for the help of purdanashin ladies and minors under the Court of Wards. Her duties towards them are to serve the ladies in any direction in which they may need advice or sympathy, and to help them in their personal difficulties, and in regard to the health and the education of themselves or their children.

(ii) Figures for 1917-18 are not yet available: the following are the figures for 1916-17 :—

(a) Consultations on visits paid by Lady Adviser	...	271
(b) Consultations on visits paid to Lady Adviser	...	53

In view of the approaching expiration of the contract with the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway Company, are the Government considering the desirability of directing that the work of eliminating the 147 dangerous crossings on the public cart road be taken in hand immediately and of refusing to renew the contract until this work has been completed? Renewal of contract with the Darjeeling Himalayan Railway.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :—

"It is understood that the Government of India have decided not to exercise their option to purchase the railway and as a result the contract between the Railway Company and the Secretary of State continues in force for a further period. In these circumstances the question of making the improvement of level crossings a condition for the renewal of the contract does not arise."

SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTION.

The Hon'ble MR. IRWIN asked the following supplementary question :—

"Are the Government aware that these crossings constitute a very serious menace to the lives of pedestrians and others crossing the lines?"

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"The matter of the improvement of the level crossings on these lines has been and is under the consideration of Government, and it is hoped that in no distant future some improvement will be made ; but a complete improvement is still hardly practicable."

By the Hon'ble MR. H. R. A IRWIN :—

(a) With reference to the European man power question, are the Government considering the desirability of appointing small local committees in each district to inquire and advise what individuals can be spared for service?

(b) Are the Government aware that there are a certain number of married men and others who would volunteer, for I.A.R.O. service, if a scheme of adequate provision for those dependent on them were announced?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Inquiries are being made by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Indian Tea Association, the Calcutta Trades Association, and the Indian Mining Association and other bodies have been asked to co-operate. The question of additional local committee will rather arise when it is known what cases have not been covered by the inquiries already instituted.

(b) Statements to this effect have appeared in the newspapers, but Government have no precise information regarding the number of men who would be obtained by the adoption of this expedient. The inquiries now in progress should throw some light on the point."

XXXVII.

(a) Are the Government aware that Babu Purna Chandra Datta, lately Chairman of the Kalna Local Board in the district of Burdwan, and other residents of the Kalna subdivision, submitted a memorial to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division in which some allegations were made against the conduct of Babu Ashutosh De, Circle Officer of Kalna, and Babu Kumud Behari Mallick, Subdivisional Magistrate of Kalna, in connection with the Local Board election?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state if an inquiry has been made in the matter, and if so, by whom and with what result, and whether the applicants were given an opportunity to prove their allegations?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"(a) A petition dated 20th June, 1918, signed by Babu Purna Chandra Datta and three others, making certain allegations against Babu Ashutosh De, Circle Officer of Kalna, in connection with the Local Board election held in February, 1918, was received by the Commissioner.

(b) An inquiry was made by the Commissioner, who found that the allegations contained in the petition were groundless."

Non-entry of Gopats in record-of-rights.

(a) Are the Government aware—

(i) that many public gopats have not been entered in the record-of-rights recently prepared by the Settlement authorities in the Munshiganj subdivision in the district of Dacca, and (ii) that the omission has involved some Union Committees in litigation?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if any steps are intended to be taken to preserve the public gopats in that subdivision from encroachment?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"The procedure followed in recording footpaths in the Dacca settlement is described in paragraph 263 of the final report of the Settlement Officer, a copy of which paragraph has been supplied to the Hon'ble Member. A public footpath is not easy to define. Government understand that certain Union Committees have taken action with a view to asserting rights of easement over paths not recorded as public, and that the Dacca District Board has taken action for the demarcation of public footpaths in Munshiganj subdivision in order to prevent encroachment. Government do not contemplate taking any action in this behalf."

XLI.

(a) Are the Government aware that the District Board of Dacca issued a circular to all Union Committees authorising them to levy taxes under section 118 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 for works connected with sanitation drainage and water-supply only?

(b) Is it a fact that some Union Committees spent the sum or a part of the sum thus levied by taxation for the construction and repairs of roads? If so, are the Government considering the desirability of taking steps to prevent the diversion of the money raised by taxation from one purpose to another?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) A copy of a circular issued by the District Board in 1917-18 is laid on the table.

(b) In 1916-17, previous to the issue of that circular, 13 Union Committees spent Rs. 2,983, realised by local taxation, on reclaiming and improving village paths. In 1917-18, the sum spent on village paths from funds realised by local taxation amounted to Rs. 469; and only 4 Union Committees acted contrary to the instructions contained in the circular. It is reported that steps have been taken to prevent the recurrence of such an irregularity."

Copy of the circular referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY to question No. XLI asked by the Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA at the Council Meeting of the 3rd September, 1918.

To—The Chairmen of all Union Committees.

The attention of all Union Committees is drawn to the fact that local taxation can only be imposed to meet the expense of providing sanitation, conservancy, drainage or water-supply. Taxes may not be imposed for the purpose of making or repairing roads.

In submitting applications for sanction to the levy of taxation under section 118 C of the Local Self-Government Act, Union Committees should forward a statement in the following form :—

	Rs.
Estimated cost of works of—Sanitation Conservancy
Drainage
Water-supply
Total Rs. ...

	Rs.
Funds available for these purposes from other sources

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what constructive schemes have been undertaken under the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880 (Ben. Act VI of 1880), since the year 1912? Constructive schemes under Bengal Act VI of 1880.

(b) Are the Government aware that the present Act is of no practical use to the landholders so far as small schemes are concerned?

(c) Is there any proposal to enact a simpler Act for small local schemes?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) No schemes have been undertaken under the Bengal Drainage Act, 1880, since the year 1912.

(b) Government are aware that the Act is not entirely suitable for small schemes.

(c) The subject of amending the law with a view to providing a simpler procedure for dealing with small schemes is under the consideration of Government."

(a) Are the Government aware of the restriction imposed by section 188 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, under which co-sharer landholders are debarred from proceeding under section 105 of the same Act? Restriction under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

(b) Are the Government aware that this restriction has been adversely affecting the interests of the landholders in the settlement proceedings now in progress in various districts of Bengal?

(c) Do the Government propose to make an inquiry into the matter with a view to effect some solution of the difficulties experienced by the landholders in this respect?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

" (a) Yes.

(b) Yes.

(c) Government do not propose to take up this question before a general amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act is taken up."

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the amount originally estimated to be recovered as settlement costs from the district of Rajshahi in the current official year?

(b) Are the Government aware of the present economic condition of the people of Rajshahi resulting from the extensive loss of bhadoi crops and the falling of prices of jute?

(c) Do the Government propose to make any reduction in the estimated amount of settlement costs to be recovered this year?

(d) What is the amount of the land revenue of the district of Rajshahi?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR :—

"(a) Rupees 7 lakhs.

(b) Government are aware that recent abnormal rain and floods have damaged the bhadoi crops in part of Rajshahi district. The average price of jute in Rajshahi district at the end of August is reported to be Rs. 8 per maund compared with Rs. 4-12 at the same period of 1917.

(c) The question of revising the estimated recoveries of settlement costs will be considered as usual in December, and due consideration will be paid to agricultural conditions.

(d) Rupees 10¼ lakhs."

THE CALCUTTA HACKNEY-CARRIAGE BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, presented the report of the Select Committee on the Calcutta Hackney-Carriage Bill, 1918.

He said :—

"My lord, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Calcutta Hackney-Carriage Bill, 1918.

The Committee, though unable to present a unanimous report, have been able to meet most of the criticisms which the circulation of the Bill elicited.

The Committee, by a majority, considered that the control of hackney carriages should be transferred from the Corporation to the Commissioner of Police in Calcutta, and alterations have been made in the Bill with a view to give effect to this transfer.

In this connection, I would like to refer to the statement made by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur in his Note of Dissent. He said that, as stated by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, the Fire Brigade would not be made over in exchange to the Corporation, and I may point out that this is a misapprehension. What I did actually say when I moved for the appointment of the Select Committee was as follows: 'I may, however, point out to the representatives of the Corporation in this House that Government cannot entertain their proposal of transferring the power from the Commissioner of Police to the Corporation as regards the Calcutta Fire Brigade. This question does not arise as it is beyond the scope of the Bill.'

The Calcutta Hackney-carriage Bill, 1918; the Bengal Prevention of Adulteration Bill, 1918.

The Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

What I meant by 'being beyond the scope of the Bill' was that Government could not consider the question of the transfer of the Fire Brigade in connection with the question of the present Bill which deals with an entirely different matter. Other municipalities will have to be consulted about the proposal to transfer the Fire Brigade; and Government cannot, therefore, at present say anything on the question. We are prepared to consider it on its merits and apart from the present Bill.

Turning now to the provisions of this Bill, I may say that provision has been made in the Bill to meet a distinct difficulty of hackney carriages plying for hire in small and contiguous municipalities. Clause 2(b), as revised in the Select Committee, read with 82A will enable hackney carriage registered in one town to ply in adjacent towns without being registered in those towns.

With a view to stop the growing evil of the use of hackney carriages for immoral purposes, we have inserted a new sub-clause (r) in clause 51, making the use of a carriage an offence punishable under the Act.

In order to ensure the better treatment of horses we have inserted a provision in clause 71 regulating the use of horses in hackney carriages.

For reasons of public safety, a new clause 79 (a) has been inserted in the Bill requiring disinfection of a hackney carriage or palanquin used in conveying persons suffering from any dangerous infectious disorder or a corpse.

To prevent harassment of passengers, particularly pardahnashin ladies, a new clause 79B has been inserted prohibiting the arrest of a driver of a hackney carriage or the bearer of a palanquin or the seizure of the carriage or palanquin when it is actually used for the conveyance of the passenger, until some arrangement is made for the passenger to proceed to his destination.

The other alterations made by the Select Committee do not call for any special comment.

With these remarks, my Lord, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee."

THE BENGAL PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION BILL, 1918.

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, moved for leave to introduce a Bill to make provision for the prevention of adulteration of food in Bengal.

He said :—

"My Lord, I beg leave to move to introduce a Bill to make provision for the prevention of the adulteration of food.

When Sir S. P. Sinha introduced the Bill to prevent the adulteration of ghee within the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Corporation, he stated that it was at the time impossible for us to introduce a measure which would include not only Calcutta but also the mufassal, and if we were to wait for such a Bill to go up to the Government of India we certainly could not expect to introduce that Bill and much less to pass it until at any rate the ensuing cold weather. It is the very Bill, to which Sir S. P. Sinha made a reference in his speech, that I have the honour to introduce to-day. The necessity for the Bill has arisen from the fact that the adulteration of food, particularly of articles of common consumption, such as milk, ghee, mustard oil, etc., is prevalent in Bengal and that the existing law has entirely failed to check the evil. The only provisions of the law that are of general application in regard to the adulteration of food are those contained in sections 272 and 273 of the Indian Penal Code. These sections penalise the adulteration of any article of food or drink so as to make such articles noxious as food or drink, and the sale of such noxious article. The use of these sections is the only preventive for adulteration of food outside municipalities, and they can only be put into force where the adulteration has the effect of making the food noxious. In municipalities, section 251 of the Bengal Municipal Act penalises the sale to the prejudice of the purchaser of any article of food which is not of the nature, substance or quality of the article demanded by such purchaser. Section 251D provides for the compulsory purchase of any article of food for the purpose of analysis. But section 251 is the only provision for dealing with the vendor if the analysis proves that the article is adulterod. As explained by Sir S. P. Sinha in introducing the Calcutta Amendment Bill for the prevention of the adulteration of ghee in Calcutta, the section last named is directed more to the punishment of fraud than to the prevention of adulteration, because under the section if a man says 'What I am selling to you is not a pure article,' there is no question of his committing any breach of the law ; but if he perpetrates a fraud by giving an impure article when he is asked for a pure article, then and then only does he become amenable to the provisions of the law. The question of taking legislative action to supplement these provisions of the law has been long debated. As long ago as 1886, the Government of India consulted the local Governments as to the desirability of special legislation to prevent the sale of adulterated articles of food. The replies of local Governments indicated a general belief that the existing provisions against adulteration in the local Municipal Acts were not insufficient and that in any case no immediate legislation was required. The Government of India concurred in those conclusions, and there the matter rested for about a quarter of a century. Times have altered, and there is now, I think, a general concensus of opinion that the existing law is not sufficient to cope with the evil. In 1911, the All-India Sanitary Conference expressed the opinion that the existing powers under the various Municipal Acts for the prevention of the adulteration of food and drugs were inadequate, that the adulteration of food was extensive, and that action should be taken to prevent it. This Government examined the question so far as Bengal is concerned, and as the result of their enquiry, it was found that the provisions of the existing law were inadequate, and that the adulteration of articles of food, such as milk, ghee and oil, has assumed such proportions as to be a menace to the health of the people. This Government, therefore, urged that legislation should be taken. The Government of India agreed to legislation being introduced in the local legislature in respect of the adulteration of food, but deprecated special legislation for drugs which they considered could be left to the operation of the Indian Penal Code.

The Bengal Prevention of Adulteration Bill, 1918.

The Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

Since then Bengal Act I of 1917 has been passed as an emergency measure for the prevention of adulteration of ghee in Calcutta. The Bill I now have the honour to introduce goes further, for it is a measure dealing not only with the prevention of adulteration of ghee, but also of articles of food and drink generally. Its object in brief is to ensure the purity of staple articles of food most liable to adulteration, and in accordance with the decision of the Government of India drugs have been excluded from its scope.

The Bengal Prevention of Adulteration Bill, 1918.

The Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

I would first explain that Calcutta does not come under its operation, as the Calcutta Municipal Bill which was introduced in the Council on the 20th November last contained special provisions dealing with the same subject. These provisions, so far as they relate to the adulteration of ghee, were moreover included in the Statute Book by Bengal Act I of 1917. The Bill is applicable then to Bengal outside Calcutta, and it is intended that it should apply, in the first place, to municipal areas where there are health officers or sanitary officers. These have been appointed for all municipalities of any considerable size. If found necessary, it may be extended later to large hâts, bazars and other trading centres. Accordingly, the power of extension of the Act has been made as general as possible.

Turning to the specific provisions of the Bill, the term 'adulterated' has been defined, the definition being similar to that in Bengal Act I of 1917. Under clause 4, power is taken to the local Government to define the normal constituents of food, and to declare what deficiency in any of these constituents and what addition of extraneous matter or proportion of water in any article shall raise the presumption that the quality of the article has been reduced, lowered or injuriously affected thereby. By this means effect can be given to the results of scientific research in the future without recourse to additional legislation. As in the case of Bengal Act I of 1917, the main principle of the Bill is that a person who sells food or manufactures food for sale must himself take the responsibility that such food is not adulterated. This means that the vendor must satisfy himself before he buys an article of food that it is pure. Under clause 5, however, which prohibits the sale of food which is not of the proper nature, substance or quality, the vendor is safeguarded if he sells an article which he purchased with a written warranty to the effect that it was the same in nature, substance and quality as that demanded by the purchaser, or if he sells it in the same state as he purchased it, or if he sells a food which is the subject of a patent in force in the state required by the specification of the patent. Again, in recognition of the difficulties which retail dealers in the mufassal may have in getting food analysed, clause 6, which refers to the sale of food which is not of the prescribed standard of purity, provides that the vendor may plead a warranty in defence. This provision, without jeopardising the purity of the article, shifts the responsibility from the small to the large dealer or manufacturer who has facilities for obtaining analysis.

The Bill also prohibits the storing of adulterants in any factory where ghee, mustard oil, etc., are manufactured; and powers have been taken for the appointment of public analysts whose certificates will be taken as sufficient evidence of the results of analysis in a court of law. It is believed that, in practice, it will be possible to make use of the services of duly qualified officers under the Sanitary Commissioner for this purpose. Clause 10 of the Bill empowers properly authorised persons compulsorily to purchase food required for submission to a public analyst, while clause 11 authorizes, with certain safeguards, a private purchaser to submit for analysis food purchased by him. Persons duly authorized are also empowered to take samples of food or its components during the process of manufacture or while in transit, or when stored or exposed for sale. The division of samples into three parts has been made compulsory on the analogy of the English law.

In view of the harmful results of the use of skimmed milk for feeding infants and of the fact that enquiry has shown that skimmed milk is used for this purpose in Bengal, provision has been made that tins or other receptacles containing skimmed milk shall bear labels indicating both in English and Bengali that the milk has been skimmed and is not suitable for infants' food. Specific provision has also been made for the regulation of butter which, it is believed, is also adulterated to a large extent. In order to give local authorities an interest in the working of the Act. it has been provided that all fines to be realised under it and all other sums which may be utilised for the purposes of the Act shall be credited to local funds."

The motion was put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 4.

THE BENGAL JUVENILE SMOKING BILL, 1917.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLA-AL-MAMUN SUHRAWARDY moved that the Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1917, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar, the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood, the Hon'ble Major-General Robinson, I.M.S., the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, the Hon'ble Rai Priya Nath Mukharji Bahadur and the mover, with instructions to submit their report after two months.

He said:—

"My Lord, when introducing the Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill last year, I had ventured to express the hope that it would receive the full support of public opinion. I was not disappointed. I had the satisfaction of finding that the Bill had the sympathy of the Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha and the cordial support of veteran Members of the Council like the Hon'ble Babu Debender Chunder Ghose, the Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray, the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Majumdar, the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur and the Hon'ble Dr. Sarbadhikari. I have now before me the collection of opinions on the Bill, and I note with satisfaction that it has the support of general public opinion behind it. In addition to that, I have received many letters from gentlemen of position and influence who are in full sympathy with the principles of the Bill. Of these I need only refer to that from Mr. J. D. Biswas, the Honorary Secretary of the Anti-Smoking Society, Bengal. He informs me that the Society has submitted to Government a memorial in support of the Bill consisting of '107 sheets supported by about 50 schools and colleges of Bengal, and containing about 2,000 signatures of well-known medical men, lawyers, missionaries and men in other professions interested in the welfare of the juveniles and representing various grades of society and Districts of Bengal.'

This being the case, I am confident that the Hon'ble Members will have no hesitation in allowing the Bill to proceed to the Select Committee.

Opinions on the Bill were invited by Government from the Chairman, Calcutta Corporation; the Commissioners, Presidency, Burdwan, Rajshahi, Dacca and Chittagong Divisions; the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and a number of Associations and public bodies.

Of the six Government officials—the Commissioners of the five divisions and the Director of Public Instruction—all are more or less opposed to the Bill. But a little examination will show that their opinions are merely personal and individual and entirely opposed to the views of representative men and local bodies consulted by them. For instance, the Director of Public Instruction records his dissent from the opinion of the majority of the officers consulted by him who consider legislation necessary and desirable. The Commissioner of the Presidency Division has no doubt that legislation of the kind is quite unsuited to India. But his view again is opposed to that of the majority of persons and local bodies consulted by him. The Commissioners of other divisions also more or less oppose though the majority of persons and local bodies consulted by them cordially support the principle of the Bill. It seems all Commissioners, like poets and mystics, think alike and invite public opinion only to express their dissent from it.

The Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1917.

Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy.

Turning now to the Calcutta Corporation, I must confess that its attitude towards the Bill is not quite clear to me. The Estates and General Purposes Special Committee (consisting of the Chairman, the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, Mr. Phelps, Babu Ramtaran Bannerjee and others) at their meeting held on the 8th January 1918, declared themselves in favour of the Bill generally. But, at the meeting of the Corporation held on the 23rd January 1918, an amendment was moved to the effect that in the opinion of the Corporation the proposed legislation to discourage smoking amongst juveniles was unnecessary and undesirable. But after much heated and irrelevant talk the mover of the amendment accepted the suggestion of the Chairman (who agreed with Mr. Jones that the amendment moved was too drastic and that it was scarcely becoming of that meeting to undertake the defence of tobacco), that if the Corporation did not wish to approve the Bill they could say that the proposed legislation will not work satisfactorily in practice and will not attain the object aimed at. Now, from the extract from the proceedings of the Minutes of the Corporation meeting held on the 23rd June 1918, it is perfectly clear that the saner and soberer members of the Corporation are in favour of the Bill. Personally, I would not attach any importance to the opinion of a dealer in cigarettes who confesses that as a business man it would be to his interest to oppose any restriction that may tend to check the progress of the tobacco trade in general, or to the utterances of that champion of tobacco who after 52 years of hard smoking congratulates himself on his good health in his 73rd year. I do not know whether smoking has something to do with the confusion of ideas which distinguish his speech. On his own confession he started smoking in his 21st year and he need not have apprehended that the Bengal Juvenile Smoking Act was intended to apply to him in his second childhood.

Nor do I think anyone who knows him will take seriously that other defender of tobacco—the stormy petrel of the Corporation—who, for want of better occupation has discovered in the Corporation the forum for the exhibition of his oratorical powers.

Of the associations and public bodies six emphatically support the principle of the Bill and consider legislation of the kind actually necessary and desirable. Three oppose the Bill and the attitude of the remaining may be described as that of benevolent neutrality.

The associations which are clearly opposed to the Bill dismiss the whole subject in one sentence without assigning any reasons. 'They do not consider any such legislation necessary or desirable.' Now as these associations have not said much, I have not much to say about their views, but I must confess I am curious to know the reasons for their admirable brevity of expression. Absorbed in commercial pursuits, have the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the European Association discovered in brevity of expression and summary rejection of the Bill, the safest and surest way of saving time? Or is this an instance of that habitual indifference to all questions affecting the welfare of the Indian people with which the non-official European community is generally charged?

My Lord, I believe I have made out a strong case for the reference of the Bill to the Select Committee. I hope I have made it abundantly clear that the preponderance of Indian public opinion is in favour of the Bill. The measure before the House is primarily one for the Indian opinion. I earnestly trust that the European Members of the Council, official and non-official, will not stand in the way of a measure in whose favour Indian public opinion has clearly declared itself and thus frustrate Indian efforts at social reform.

The Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1917.

Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy; the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

It is well known, my Lord, that the United Kingdom, Japan, many of the British Colonies and American States have passed similar measures for the protection of children. I remind the Council that even with regard to Indian I cannot claim any kind of priority or originality for the introduction of the Bill. Indeed, some of the Indian States like Baroda, Patiala, Nabha, Mysore, Faridkote, Maler Kotla and Hyderabad have already forestalled me. Since the introduction of my Bill in the Council, the Punjab Juvenile Smoking Bill has passed into law.

Before I conclude, my Lord, I take the liberty of quoting a passage from the speech of a member of the House of Representatives in Tokio during discussion on the Japanese Juvenile Smoking Bill in December 1899 :—

'If we expect to make this nation superior to the nations of Europe and America, we must not allow our youths in the common schools (who are to become the fathers and mothers of our country in the near future) to smoke. If we desire to cause the light of the nation to shine forth over the world, we ought not to follow the example of China and India.'

My Lord, I need not take up the time of the Council any further. I know I have got many powerful allies here, chief amongst whom is that militant knight, Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, President of the Anti-Smoking Society. I commend my Bill to their care."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

" My Lord, it is my duty to explain to the Council the attitude of Government towards this motion. It is one of strict neutrality. Government will neither support nor oppose it. They wish that there should be frank and free discussion, and official members of the Legislative Council will, therefore, be at liberty to speak as they like on the motion. They are, however, asked to abstain from voting, as Government desire the decision to rest entirely with the non-official representatives. If the motion is carried, Government will press for certain amendments in the Select Committee, and, if necessary, at subsequent stages of the Bill. The modifications which Government consider essential if the motion to refer the Bill to a Select Committee is carried are—

(1) The age limit of 21 is primâ facie too high and should be reduced to 16.

(2) Provisions similar to those contained in sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 43 of the English Children Act, 1908, should be inserted in the Bill. In other words, Government consider that the provisions of the Bill about cigarettes should also apply to tobacco and smoking mixtures, with the exception recognised in England that a person shall not be guilty of an offence for selling them to a person apparently under the age of 16 years, if he does not know and has no reason to believe that it is for his personal use. The Bill, as it stands, guards against the sale of cigars, cigarettes, biris, pipes or cigarette papers, but not against the sale of tobacco other than cigarettes. There is a similar omission as regards the power of seizure. Government are of opinion that in this matter the English law should be followed if the Council decides that legislation is necessary.

The Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1917.

The Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan; Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur; Mr. Kerr.

(3) The power to seize cigars, etc., referred to in clause 6 should be expressly confined to police officers (including constables) in uniform. Power should, at the same time, be taken to authorize any other person to exercise the right of seizure. The object of this latter provision is to leave Government free to decide as to the class of officers or persons on whom this duty may be suitably imposed, and, lastly, there should be a clear provision as to the person who should have the power of initiating proceedings.

These are all the remarks, on behalf of Government, that I have to make at this stage. As I have already said, that while official members are to abstain from voting, any member of the Government desiring to express their own opinion on the merits or otherwise of the Bill are welcome to do so along with their non-official colleagues."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I give my cordial support to the Bill. I entered the Council when the Hon'ble Member had delivered a portion of his speech and I could catch only one or two of his observations which had reference to the Calcutta Corporation. He said that the sober portion of the Corporation supported the Bill. I do not think there exists any such division as a sober and unsober portion in the Corporation. They are all sober and they have given their sober support to the Bill.

The Bill, I find, is to apply to Calcutta in the first instance. And I also find that my Hon'ble friend, the mover, in constituting the Select Committee has perhaps overlooked that the Calcutta Corporation has got a claim to be represented on the Committee. There are two members of the Corporation in the Committee—one is Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari who, I take it, has been selected because he is the President of the Anti-Smoking Society and the other is Mr. Arden-Wood as the representative of educational interest and not as a member of the Corporation. Barring these two gentlemen, there are no other members of the Corporation on the Committee. I therefore beg leave to suggest a name which I think will be quite acceptable to the Council—a gentleman who took a very straight and frank course in the discussion of this Bill in the Corporation—I mean Mr. Payne, the Chairman. I followed the discussion in the Corporation with great interest, and I may say without hesitation that he is a worthy person to be included in the Select Committee and that he would be of considerable help to my Hon'ble friend. I, therefore, would move an amendment that Mr. Payne's name be added to the Select Committee."

The Hon'ble MR. KERR said :—

"My Lord, I should like to take advantage of the permission granted by Your Excellency's Government to make a few observations on this Bill, not as a hide-bound bureaucrat, but in my much more important capacity as the father of a family. As such, the Bill interests me very greatly and there is a good deal that I could say about it. I shall, however, confine myself to two points : first, the scope of the Bill, and, secondly, the machinery which is provided for carrying out its provisions.

As to the scope of the Bill, I think it must have struck every father of a family, as it has struck me, that it is extremely narrow. The Bill deals with what is called juvenile smoking, which is nowhere defined though it talks of cigarettes, cigars, pipes and biris. As the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has stated, the Bill does not mention tobacco at all. Now, surely,

The Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1917.

Mr. Kerr.

this so-called juvenile smoking is not the most serious or the most frequent form of juvenile sin known to those who have experience of children. There is the well-known practice of children putting their thumbs into the inkpot and then sucking them—a practice which, I am told by the highest medical authority, is very much more deleterious to the internal organs than any amount of juvenile smoking. Then, there is the well-known practice of little boys playing about with cricket balls in the neighbourhood of expensive panes of glass, a practice which is dangerous, not so much to the small boys themselves, as to the people in the neighbourhood, and is also very expensive for those who have to pay for replacing the panes of glass. I need not give further instances. Any member of this Council, who is the father of a family, can add to the list for himself. I would suggest to this Council that before embarking on legislation of this kind, it would be well to appoint a large and representative Committee to consider the whole question of juvenile sin and to suggest remedies.

I now turn to the question of machinery, which is dealt with in clause 4 of the Bill. The machinery there provided consists of police officers, members of the Preventive Service, members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and teachers in educational institutions. And I say that this machinery, like the scope of the Bill, shows a very narrow outlook. I must admit that the Hon'ble Member has done pretty well in roping in the whole of the police force; that gives him about 25,000 men from the Inspector-General and the Commissioner of Police down to the last joined recruit and includes the officers of the Intelligence Branch and the Criminal Investigation Department whose detective abilities and special training would be usefully employed in work of this kind. But after we have disposed of the police, the rest of the machinery shows a sad falling off. Members of the Preventive Service and members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals do not number more than a few hundreds; and I do not quite see why they should be considered to have special qualifications for work of this kind. But what are 25,000 men against the whole of the juvenile population of Bengal? There are plenty of people who have nothing to do and are quite ready to interfere with the bringing up of other people's families and who would be only too pleased if they were asked to undertake functions under this Bill. It seems to me, too, that the Bill should make more use of official agency. It will be seen that the function of the officers who are employed under the Bill is to seize cigarettes and such things and make them over to their immediate superiors for disposal. The immediate superior will presumably in most cases finish smoking the cigarette himself. Anyhow, the point is that an official always has an immediate superior in his near neighbourhood, and consequently the official class seems better suited than any other class to undertake functions under this Bill. I thought only this morning of one manner in which the official population might be usefully employed in regard to a measure of this kind. The popular impression is that the officers who accompany Your Excellency to Darjeeling have nothing to do when they get there, and perhaps if we undertook some important public service of a striking character, the opposition to the Darjeeling exodus might be overcome and even the Hon'ble Maulvi Fazl-ul-Haq might be reconciled to it. I suggest that Secretaries and their Hon'ble Members might go out in pairs and patrol the Darjeeling streets, where there is plenty of juvenile smoking. The Secretary would seize the cigarette and make it over to his Hon'ble Member. I might go out with Sir Henry Wheeler and Mr. O'Malley would go out with the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan; in this way, we should provide free smokes for our Hon'ble Members, besides performing a useful public service. I only put this by way of suggestion. I say that the machinery proposed in the Bill is very narrow and requires further consideration before this Council can safely legislate on the subject.

Resolutions.

The President ; Mr. Payne ; Dr. Abdulla-al-Mamun Suhrawardy ; Mr. M. Asraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri.

My main objection to the Bill, however, is one of principle. The children in whom the Hon'ble Member is interested are apparently addicted to this habit of juvenile smoking. The children in whom I am interested are not in the least addicted to juvenile smoking, but they are addicted to those other practices which I have mentioned, and to other practices which I have not mentioned. Now, the effect of this Bill will be to give the Hon'ble Member the services of the whole of the police force in bringing up his family, whereas I shall get no assistance from the Bill at all. I am a taxpayer just the same as the Hon'ble Member, and I ask the Council whether it is reasonable that there should be this enormous differentiation in favour of the Hon'ble Member. If these public functionaries are to be employed in assisting parents to bring up their families, surely their services must be distributed in a fair and reasonable manner; otherwise there will be great heartburning and jealousy. As I understand the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur, I have no vote on this Bill. I do not quite know why I have no vote. As I have said before, I am both a taxpayer and a father of a family. However, there are plenty of people who have no votes in this world, so I do not complain about this. All I say is that if I had a vote. I should vote against the Bill."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"I think it would be an advantage to the Council if they had the views of the Hon'ble Member who is in charge of the Bill upon the amendment which has been moved and also the views of the Hon'ble Member who is the subject of the amendment. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Member has ascertained from the Hon'ble Mr. Payne whether he would be willing to serve on the Committee. But perhaps the Hon'ble Mr. Payne himself will say whether he is willing to serve."

The Hon'ble MR. PAYNE said:—

"My lord, I should be willing to serve if I am elected."

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLA-AL-MAMUN SUHRAWARDY said :—

"I shall be very glad to have the Hon'ble Mr. Payne in the Committee.

About a certain remark made by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, I must say that I know the members of the Corporation are all sober men."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The amendment before the Council is that the Hon'ble Mr. Payne's name should be included in the list of members of the Select Committee."

The motion was then put in the following modified form and agreed to :—

That the Bengal Juvenile Smoking Bill, 1917, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar, the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, the Hon'ble Mr. Arden-Wood, the Hon'ble Major-General Robinson, I.M.S., the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, the Hon'ble Mr. Wordsworth, the Hon'ble Rai Priya Nath Mukharji Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. Payne and the mover, with instructions to submit their report after two months.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 5.

Resolutions

(under the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest).

The Hon'ble MR. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that in future, wherever practicable, suitable Muhammadan officers be appointed to be managers of the Muhammadan estates under the Court of Wards.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

He said :—

"My lord, at first sight this seems to be a racial question. Some Hindu friends of mine have pointed it out to me, and I thought I had better explain it. It has got nothing to do with racial question at all. I have raised this point only because in my opinion Muhammadans are best suited for this particular purpose in these particular estates. The original idea of taking the estates under the Court of Wards was—I speak subject to correction—this : that Government would be sure to get their revenue and would be able to see that the estates do not go to rack and ruin. These are unlike the estates in the hands of the receivers who do not care about the co-sharers or heirs of the estates. But in the case of the Court of Wards they look into the affairs of the estates and they look into the education and upbringing of the minors, that is, how they should be brought according to the manners and customs of Muhammadans in case of a Muhammadan family. In the management of smaller estates the Court of Wards managers stand in the place of pater familias—that is they have got to see what tradition the particular families in their charge should keep up to, what sort of society the minor should have, who should be allowed to come near the minor and who not. These things are very difficult for a Hindu manager to find out. There may be many relations, and the manager may not know whom to exclude from the society of the minors. There may be relations who have got some ulterior motives to become the minors' friends Now all these things a Muhammadan manager will be able to find out more easily than a Hindu manager. Then about the education of boys. A Muhammadan manager will be able to spot out a suitable Muhammadan teacher for the boy, while a Hindu manager will have to go by only the educational qualification of the teacher. The character of the boys must be formed from the very beginning so that they may be good citizens afterwards. One gets more education in society than in schools. Then about the question of marriage. When the wards attain the marriageable age they must be married. A suitable match should be found ; a suitable family with which alliance can be made. In these matters ladies play an important part. A Hindu manager may not know which family is suitable and which not, or he might not be able to convince the ladies about the suitability of a family. All these can be performed if a suitable Muhammadan is appointed as the manager. There is another thing—it is the dealing with the ladies. When the boys are to be sent to schools the first opposition will come from the ladies. They will say if his father and grandfather had done well without going to school, why should the boy be sent. If a suitable Muhammadan is appointed, he will be able to convince the ladies. I have found all this from personal experience. The ladies may talk to a Muhammadan from behind the purdah. That may not be the case if a Hindu officer is appointed. Therefore this is not a racial question. This resolution has only been proposed for the benefit of the Muhammadan wards and I commend this to the attention of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"My lord. I can understand the point of view of the Hon'ble Member who has put forward this resolution ; but, at the same time, I personally deplore the tendency to denominationalism which it indicates. I may say at once that Government are not prepared to accept the resolution in the form in which it stands at present ; but, as I shall explain, Government are prepared to go a considerable way to meet the Hon'ble Member.

What are the facts ? In the first place, it should not be overlooked that although the Court of Wards may, under the Act which constitutes it, receive orders and instructions from Government, yet the Court of Wards Act of 1879 gives full statutory powers to the Court of Wards,—not to Government,—to entertain such establishment as may be considered requisite for the management of an estate. The Hon'ble Member has referred to some particular matters affecting Muhammadan wards, their education, their upbringing and their marriage, and he spoke as if the Manager were in all cases the guardian of Muhammadan minors; but I can assure him that this is not so. I can certainly assure the Hon'ble mover that both the Court of Wards and the Collector do endeavour to obtain the advice of Muhammadans in all matters which affect the personal concern of Muhammadan minors.

Resolutions.

Mr. M. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri; Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

In the second place, how many cases are affected by this resolution? The total number of estates belonging to Muhammadans which are at present under the Court of Wards is only nine. One of these is managed by a Muhammadan, five by Hindus and two by Europeans, and in one the Manager has not yet been appointed. Out of the seven estates which are managed by non-Muhammadans, four again are small estates which, for reasons of economy, are managed jointly with Hindu estates. It is evident, therefore, that there are only three Muhammadan estates which can reasonably be covered by the Hon'ble Member's resolution.

In the third place, the Court of Wards as a trustee is bound to appoint the most suitable candidate available, and in doing so, the Court has, in the past, given full and sympathetic consideration to the wishes of proprietors. To aid in the selection of candidates, the Court maintains a register of applicants for managerships. I find that out of the 83 names which are now on the register, there are only three Muhammadans. It is, therefore, a fair inference that the number of Muhammadans who offer themselves is extremely small. It may be said at once that the Court of Wards is in sympathy with the object which the Hon'ble mover has in view, and that in accordance with its usual practice it does pay special attention to the claims of Muhammadan candidates as Managers of Muhammadan estates; but it cannot bind itself to appoint a Muhammadan in all cases, or as the resolution reads, wherever practicable, as this may not be expedient or indeed may be opposed to the wishes of the ward, even if a suitable Muhammadan can be found.

I may state, on behalf of the Court of Wards, however, in connection with the three estates, to which I have already referred, that if in the future the management of any of them becomes vacant, the Court of Wards will be quite willing to give preference to a Muhammadan applicant over a Hindu with equal qualifications.

In view of this statement of facts, perhaps, the Hon'ble Mover might see his way not to press the resolution; or, in the alternative, if he were prepared to add the words 'and desirable' after the words 'wherever practicable', Government would be prepared to accept the resolution in its amended form. The resolution would then run as follows:—

'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that in future, wherever practicable and desirable, suitable Muhammadan officers be appointed to be managers of the Muhammadan estates under the Court of Wards.'

I suggest these two alternatives to the Hon'ble Member."

The Hon'ble Mr. M. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI SAID:—

"I accept the amendment."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said:—

"I submit, my Lord, that due notice has not been given of this amendment to the Council according to the rules.

Resolutions.

The President: Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The rule is as follows. Any Hon'ble member can object to an amendment being moved unless due notice has been given. But the President has got power, if he thinks it desirable, to suspend that rule. It is not clear whether the Hon'ble Member objects to the amendment being moved".

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"I think due notice of that amendment should be given and therefore according to the rules, I object to the amendment being moved at this stage. I want to speak something on this amendment if your Lordship will permit me before the question as a whole is taken up."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member is now making an objection to the amendment being put and if he wishes to say anything on that point he may do so. But he must confine his remarks to his reasons for my not putting the amendment to the Council."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"As the notice of the amendment now proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming was not given to us, we are not in a position now to state our objections very fully. On that ground I oppose the amendment at present."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"In view of the fact that the mover of the resolution is prepared to accept the amendment, I do not consider that the Hon'ble Member's objection should prevail. Therefore, in exercise of my power, I suspend the rules and allow the amendment to be put before the Council. The amendment is now before the Council."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"I oppose the original resolution as well as the amendment. I may say that no case has been made out for moving that resolution. In the first place, the speech of my Hon'ble friend does not disclose any ground for the acceptance of the resolution. In the motion the Government are requested to make a sort of ruling that in future whenever practicable and desirable, suitable Muhammadan officers should be appointed to certain posts. I do not at all object to Muhammadan officers being appointed to any post, but I object to a resolution being framed in a sectarian spirit. We are not of course willing to hamper the wishes or the advancement of the Muhammadan community in any way. But it is against the declared policy of Government to decide such matters in a sectarian spirit. It has been stated my lord, that there are nine Muhammadan estates under the Court of Wards, two or three of which are managed by Muhammadan Managers, five by Hindu Managers and for the remaining estate, the manager has not yet been appointed. The appointments are in the hands of Government who are not unfriendly to Muhammadan interests and the appointments are filled up, I have no doubt, having due regard to the claims of Muhammadans. I therefore fail to see any urgent reason for moving this resolution. Another reason has been put forward and it is this : that the education of the wards would be better conducted by Muhammadan officers who could also act as their guardian tutors. There are big estates, my lord, belonging to both Hindu and Muhammadan zamindars which are administered by European officers and I do not think that as yet any difficulty has arisen with regard to the education of the wards or the social prestige of the family in these estates. In cases affecting social or educational matters, the Manager always consults the wishes of the family or seeks the advice of a representative member of the community connected with the family and acts accordingly and there has been no difficulty in this connection. I do not think any case has been made out for passing this resolution and I oppose it, not for the purpose of opposing Muhammadan interests but because we as a Council, should not pass a resolution on sectarian lines.

Resolutions.

Mr. Ashraf Ali Khan Chaudhuri; The President; Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The Hon'ble Mr. ASHRAF ALI KHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My lord, I can assure the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur that I am not going to mix the two functions of guardian-tutor and manager into one. My Hon'ble friend says he has no objection if in the interest of the estate a Muhammadan officer is appointed. He was not opposed to Muhammadan interest. In small estates they cannot afford to keep a manager and again a guardian-tutor. If they have to appoint a guardian-tutor they would get an ordinary man on Rs. 50 or Rs. 100, but if there is a Muhammadan manager he can at the same time do or help in the work of the guardian-tutor of the ward. Therefore, it is in the interest of the minor and the estate that a Muhammadan Manager should be appointed. A Hindu officer is not expected to know the idiosyncracies, the manners and customs, which play an important part in the upbringing of a Muhammadan boy and make a good citizen of him There are nine estates in Bengal of which two are managed by Europeans, five by Hindus and one by a Muhammadan. There may be cases where it is desirable and practicable to get the services of an Indian Civil Service man. I have no objection to that—those estates may be very big—that is not the point. There is no knowing that in future there will not be more Muhammadan Estates under the Court of Wards. My resolution, as amended by the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming, does not say that there should be a hard and fast rule for appointing Muhammadans. All I want is that where the Muhammadans are required they should be there. It was said that no complaints are made. From the very beginning the Hindus were there. Some of the wards are educated and some not. Those who are educated have perhaps got nothing to complain of and those who are not educated cannot complain owing to their ignorance. I think I have made out a very strong case and I would press it to the Council."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"To the original motion an amendment has been made that the words 'and desirable' be inserted after the words 'wherever practicable.'

The question that I have to put to the Council now is that the amendment be made."

The motion was then put in the following modified form and agreed to :—

"This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that in future, wherever practicable and desirable, suitable Muhammadan officers be appointed to be Managers of the Muhammadan estates under the Court of Wards."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 6.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the Local Government may be pleased to recognise the Calcutta Medical School and College of Physicians and Surgeons, Bengal, for the purposes of the Schedule

Resolutions.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

to Bengal Act VI of 1914, in order that the holders of certificates granted by the said school may be entitled to have their names entered in the register of registered practitioners.

He said:—

"My Lord, the Bengal Medical Act which is known as Bengal Act VI of 1914 was passed by your Lordship's Government in 1914. It was an Act to provide for the registration of Medical practitioners in Bengal. In the Schedule to the Act we find the persons who are entitled to have their names entered in the Register and among others we find—

Every person who has been trained in a Government Medical College or School in India or in a Medical School in India not maintained but recognised by the Local Government, for the purposes of this schedule, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, and holds a diploma or certificate, granted by the Government, or granted by a Medical School not maintained by Government but recognised as aforesaid, declaring him to be qualified—

(a) to practise medicine, surgery and midwifery, or

(b) to perform the duties of military Assistant Surgeon, Hospital Assistant or Sub-Assistant Surgeon.

In 1916, an Act was passed by the Imperial Legislative Council being Act VII of 1916, to regulate the grant of titles implying qualifications in Western medical science, and the right to confer degrees was specified in the Schedule to that Act as well as by such other authority as the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India authorize in this behalf; and in the Gazette of India of the 12th January 1918, we find the following notification:—

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Indian Medical Degrees Act, 1916 (Act VII of 1916) the Governor-General in Council is pleased to authorize the institution now known as the Calcutta Medical School and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Bengal, situated in Belgachia (Calcutta) to grant certificates of attendance and proficiency to such students as shall have passed the fourth year examination of the said institution prior to the 16th March 1918, subject to the following conditions, viz.:—

(1) that such students shall have completed their second year's tuition prior to the 16th March 1916, and shall have passed the second year examination of the said institution held in March 1916;

(2) that such students shall have passed the third year examination of the said institution prior to the 16th March 1917; and

(3) that the said institution shall, prior to the 16th June 1918, furnish to the satisfaction of the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal, evidence that such students have passed the fourth year examination of the said institution.

It will be seen that under the notification of the Gazette of India, the Calcutta Medical School and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Bengal situated at Belgachia has been recognised by the Government of India as a College authorised to grant certificates of attendance and proficiency to certain students of the College. Under the rule as it now stands the students of the said Belgachia College are not authorised to have their names entered in the Register of Registered Practitioners because the said College has not been notified in the Calcutta Gazette as one recognised by Government. This is no doubt very anomalous, but still the anomaly exists. As under the Bengal Medical Act of 1914, medical practitioners who have not got their names entered in the Register of registered practitioners are deprived of certain valued privileges and as the Belgachia College has now been recognised by the Government of India as a College competent to grant certificates of proficiency to certain of its students, I hope your Lordship's Government will also recognise the said College by notifying the said fact in the Calcutta Gazette.

Resolutions.

Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

The Belgachia Medical College before its affiliation to the Calcutta University in 1916, consisted of a non-affiliated school department and a non-affiliated College Department. It was in 1914 that the school department was closed and the old College Department was replaced by a first grade University College and this after a series of negotiations with the Government. Fresh admissions both in the old school department and College Department were stopped, but it was understood that all existing students would be given legitimate facilities to qualify themselves. I ought to mention here that in the case of students of the College Department with a five years' curriculum, the last batch of students were admitted in 1912 and in the school department with a four year's curriculum, the last batch were admitted in 1913. These students at the time of their admission either in the College or in the school department, never thought of the passing of the Bengal Medical Act of 1914 nor did they ever think that an Institution known as the Bengal Medical Faculty would be created, to add to their difficulties. The Medical Degrees Act was passed in 1916 by the Government of India. The effect of the passing of this Act was to deprive all privately managed medical institutions such as the Belgachia Institution of the power of granting diplomas or a registrable certificate. The Government of India have, as I have already stated, by a notification in the Gazette of India authorised the Belgachia College to grant certificates of attendance and proficiency to certain students of the College who have got their admissions before 1914. I move that the said school may be recognised by your Lordship's Government by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette so as to bring the institution under the provisions of the Bengal Medical Act of 1914 and thus enable certain qualified students to register their names under the said Act.

When the Medical Act was passed in England in 1858 all the so called medical practitioners, whether properly or irregularly qualified, were declared entitled to be registered by Section XVII and Schedule B of the Act and by Section XLVI of the same Act the general Council were empowered to dispense with any provisions of the Act in favour of, among others, such medical students as had commenced their professional studies before the passing of the Act.

The Bengal Medical Act of 1914, stands in the way of a number of students who got admission as students of the Belgachia School and College before the passing of the Act, even if they passed the necessary examination of the school and college and obtained certificates of proficiency under the Indian Medical Degrees Act of 1916 of having their names entered in the register of Registered Practitioners. But if the said School and College be recognised by Your Lordship's Government by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, the bar now standing in their way will be removed.

My resolution only aims at recognizing the certificates of proficiency of those who have passed from the Belgachia School and College after 1914, i.e., after the passing of the Bengal Medical Act, and not those who have done so before the passing of the Act.

Resolutions.

Sir Nilratan Sarkar; Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur; Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

I know, as a matter of fact that some of the diploma-holders of the Institution are working with credit to themselves and satisfaction to the College authorities as House Surgeons in the Albert Victor Hospital attached to the Belgachia Medical College, but they will be placed at a great disadvantage in competition with their fellow practitioners who have the privilege of having their names entered in the register of Registered Practitioners. The concession I ask for is one that in justice and in all fairness ought to be conceded. I hope Your Lordships' Government will see their way to accept my resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My lord, I think it my duty to support this resolution. The case of these poor students is very hard indeed. They took their admission into the Calcutta Medical School and College of Physicians and Surgeons, Bengal, with the idea that they would eventually be permitted to go up for the State Faculty Examination; but before they were there for two or three years they learnt to their great disappointment that it would not be possible further to go up for these examinations. Some concession was granted for two years, but that concession did not apply to the case of these students. The Resolution of this Council of January last might have given them an opportunity if that Resolution had been given effect to wholly. But only one portion of it was given effect to. Their number is not large, in fact only about thirty. The College of Physicians and the Calcutta Medical School have now been merged into one College which is affiliated to the Calcutta University. So, there is no possibility of the multiplication of this class of students. I pray that the concession asked for in this resolution may be granted to the poor students."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, I beg to support the resolution moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray. There can be no doubt that these poor students have been stranded in a difficult situation. They have been receiving their education in a school and they are now told, on account of the passing of the Act of 1918, they are not entitled to get registration. Now if the Council recommends that their names be registered, that may be another step. The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray has referred to certain precedents, namely, the procedure that was observed in England on account of the passing of a certain Act. All these matters demand the consideration of the Council and also whether any effective step can be taken for the purposes of having them registered. I solicit the Council to consider that if there be any legal difficulty, I submit, it can be obviated by the extraordinary power which your Excellency possesses and this Council possess and have these students registered as practitioners. The final school test may be considered as the standard of qualification and there is no necessity of making them pass other examinations in order to see whether they are fit and competent to be registered as practitioners. These are my views, my Lord, as regards this motion".

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My lord, I fully support the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend. The demand is a very modest one. Only a limited number of students have been put to great difficulty through no fault of theirs. I fully sympathise with them. It is not necessary to repeat the arguments that have already been submitted before the Council. I support those arguments, and I hope the concession will be granted.".

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My lord, this is one of the troublesome Resolutions connected with the administration of the two Medical Acts, and is in a way an echo of the Resolution that was moved in this Council last January. When I say 'troublesome Resolutions', I mean that it is difficult briefly to explain what is a somewhat technical subject and it is not easy for persons—non-technical persons—not fully acquainted with all the aspects of the case, to appreciate technical details and difficulties. I am afraid, therefore, I shall have to recapitulate to some extent the old history of those Medical Acts, as passed both by the Bengal Legislative Council and that of the Government of India, although it must be already known to some Hon'ble Members, and although, in fact, some actually took part in the local legislation.

In the old days there was no special legislation dealing with medical degrees at all, neither did the necessity of having such legislation attract the attention of Government till about the years 1905-07 when the matter came to a head in Calcutta in this way. In the early eighties there had been one non-official medical school in Calcutta, but between 1905-07, owing to disagreement between the promoters of that school, certain of them on various occasions split off and founded other institutions, with the result that towards the end of that period, Government found itself confronted in Calcutta with three more non-official schools competing with one another and giving a so-called medical education which was not of any recognised satisfactory type. I do not wish to revive old animosities or bitterness by repeating the criticisms advanced against these schools. Some of them were commonly styled "diploma-shops," that is to say, so-called schools where, by the payment of certain fees, students could, at the end of a certain period, obtain a so-called medical diploma, though it in no sense connoted a degree of training possessed by men fully qualified in Western medical science. Government, finding itself, therefore, faced with this situation, proposed legislation as far back as 1908 ; and I lay stress upon this date in order to refute the statement that is sometimes made that all this legislation came upon the unhappy boys studying in those schools as a bolt from the blue. It was nothing of the kind ; the question of this legislation regarding medical registration was in the air for years. As I have said, the Local Government actually proposed legislation in 1908. It went up to the Government of India, who at that time said that if we wanted to legislate it might excite a certain amount of opposition. They advised us to try and get all these medical bodies to come together and found a first class non-official medical school which could secure a proper recognition. For about three or four years the local Government strove in negotiation with the promoters of these schools to come to such an arrangement. I was Medical Secretary at that time and actually took part in those negotiations, which, however, failed, as the people who were interested in individual institutions could not agree as to which was practically to absorb the others. Therefore, all that time the matter remained undecided, until we came to 1913, when the local Government again proposed the legislation which ultimately became the Bengal Medical Act. It was introduced in December 1913 and passed in 1914. I again call the attention of the Council to the dates. Shortly afterwards the Government of India, in September 1915, introduced the Indian Medical Degrees Bill, and that was passed into law in March 1916. Therefore, the medical legislation in this country of the particular kind with which we are now concerned, consists of two Acts—one is the Bengal Medical Act of 1914 and the other is the All-India Act of 1916.

I will now explain what these two Acts purport to do. Our Act of 1914 created a Medical Council, consisting of professional men, to regulate the efficient conduct and practise of that section of the medical profession which follows Western methods. The Medical Council was entrusted with the framing of a register of medical men who were recognised as holding satisfactory qualifications, after scrutiny of the applicants for registration. The fact of ultimately being put on the register gave an enhanced status to the registered practitioner as compared with the non-registered. That is what the Act of 1914 did, and the degrees recognised were either those which are recognised as registrable under the English law or which are conferred by the Universities, etc., of this country. Such degrees were specified in a schedule appended to the Act. Later, the Act of 1916, which applied to all India, enacted that no person who is not authorised, and no institution which is not recognised, should grant degrees purporting to say that the holder is qualified to practise Western medical science; and that anybody who uses a colourable imitation of the well-known degrees. such as M.D., L.R.C.P., etc., shall be liable to prosecution, the intent being that such degrees should connote a definite standard of efficient medical education, and that people should not be allowed to deceive the public by using somewhat similar letters, usually accompanied by qualifying words which might not ordinarily catch the eye, which might lead the ordinary layman to take them as degrees of the established Universities. These, then, are the two existing Acts, and I would emphasise one matter in regard to them, that neither of these two Acts prevents a person from practising medicine. That is a point which is often overlooked when we hear about these poor students: they can practise tomorrow; only unless they can satisfy the standard of the Acts, they cannot represent to the public that they are what they are not.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

Now, this being the law, we come to the particular recommendation of the Resolution, which asks us to recognise this Calcutta Medical School, commonly known as the Belgachia Institution, for the purpose of the schedule of the Act of 1914; that is to say, we are to recognise it as an institution which is entitled to grant a degree, or a title, or a certificate of qualification, of a standard equal to the others which are included in the schedule to that Act; and the section which has a particular bearing on the action which we are asked to take is section 18. When we started, we put into our schedule the existing efficient institutions, but obviously other new institutions of a perfectly efficient type might subsequently come into being. Therefore, the Act took power to put them in the schedule, and the section says that if the Medical Council are satisfied that such an institution is of an efficient type, they can recommend its inclusion to the Local Government. It is under that section that we are asked, as a Local Government, to include this Belgachia Institution in the schedule.

Now, as to the procedure proposed. The procedure of the Act is one dealing with a professional subject. It rightly puts the judgment on a professional subject into the hands of professional men; they examine the qualifications of each institution, and certify to the Local Government, whereupon the Local Government acts. I submit that this is the wise method of coming to a decision on a subject involving professional qualifications. But, departing from that wise procedure of the Act, Government is now asked to intervene in the interests of a particular institution, sweeping aside this recognised body of the Medical Council which is its accredited adviser in these matters. I put it to the Council that that is a political departure of a bad type, merely as a matter of procedure.

There are, however, other objections on the merits. As I have already said, what we are asked to do is to say that the Belgachia School is an institution which can give a registerable degree. Now, at no time has the Belgachia Institution ever granted a title or a certificate of qualifications which has been accepted as a sufficient guarantee of an efficient medical education; neither has it done so even since the days of its affiliation. It is not an examining body even now. Its students have never gone up for any recognised degree examinations of its own, and this institution has never given a title or certificate which would enable us, even if we wanted to do so, to put it in the schedule. What Belgachia used to grant before the days of the Medical Degrees Act of 1916, were those degrees to which I have referred as colourable imitations of the better known degrees. That was, of course, stopped by the Act of 1916, and it is a very relevant point that when our Act of 1914 was before the Council, amendments were actually moved, suggesting that the Belgachia diplomas should be made registrable, but they were negatived. That is to say, the matter was considered at the time and decided against Belgachia. However, as I have explained, before the Act of 1916 they gave diplomas of a kind, and the Hon'ble Member who moved this Resolution does not seem to appreciate that if we give effect to it all these diplomas will at once become registrable. Therefore, we should be in the ridiculous position of having enacted legislation especially to prejudice these diplomas which are regarded as of an undesirable type, and then having got that legislation through Council, and in spite of it, of saying that these diplomas shall be registrable. That position is surely absurd, and if that is so as regards these old diplomas, it is more so as regards the new certificates, and the argument really disposes of the second part of the resolution, which turns on the use of the word 'certificate,' because a diploma connotes something higher than a certificate. It follows as a matter of course that if you cannot properly register a diploma, you cannot properly register a certificate. But as this word 'certificate' has been introduced, and may lead to misunderstanding, I must take up the time of the Council in explaining further details.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

After the Act of 1914 was passed, the State Medical Faculty instituted an examination of its own carrying a registrable qualification. When that Act was under discussion in this Council, it was urged that it would be very hard luck if persons who were already in practice were not allowed to appear at that examination. It was said that we were going to take away the means of livelihood from these men through no fault of their own, and in order to meet their case, a "transitory clause" was enacted, which, for a period of two years, allowed people to go up for the Faculty Examination on a certificate that they had undergone a full course of training in any medical college or school. That is the kind of certificates which were granted, but although the transitory clause was meant primarily for existing practitioners, the Government of our predecessors allowed those persons to benefit by it who were not actually in practice in 1914, but who between the years 1914-16, passed out of the Belgachia Institution. However that does not affect the fact that the certificates which were then given were certificates, for the purpose of the transitory clause, of having undergone a full course of training. It is inaccurate to describe these certificates, as they have been described to-day, as having been recognised by the Government of India as efficient qualifications. I find that the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri said in January last, when this subject was debated, 'that this' (the notification of 1918) 'shows that the Government of India are also satisfied that students passed out of the Belgachia Medical College are fit to practise Western Medical Science under the Indian Medical Act of 1916.' I submit that it shows nothing of the kind, and that such a statement is entirely contrary to facts. These certificates that were first given by the Belgachia Medical School were given, I repeat, in order merely that those who held them could go up for the Faculty examination.

But, Sir, there was another kind of certificate that came in through another channel, and I would like to explain that also. When the Government of India legislated in 1916, we had the same arguments advanced that it was very hard on the boys who were then in these unrecognised schools, if we passed this Act, that they would not even be able to get the so-called diplomas to which they looked forward. The Act was passed by the Government of India. I was then on the Imperial Council, and the Government of India recognising that these were cases somewhat analogous to those which the Local Government had previously recognised here, and that men who were at that time in the third and fourth year classes could not very well start afresh, gave an assurance in Council that, although they could not admit such documents as registrable, they would allow efficient schools to give for a period of two years, certificates to boys in the third and fourth year classes. That concession, therefore, introduced certificates of a somewhat different kind to those which we gave in connection with the Faculty examination, although the form was the same, and the reason for confining it to the third and fourth year students was that it was a concession which it was desirable to keep within as narrow limits as possible, while men who were then in the first and second year classes could go and get an efficient medical education elsewhere. This procedure of certificate was recognised by the notification of the Government of India issued in January, 1918, authorising the institution, now known as the Calcutta Medical School, and College of Physicians and Surgeons of Bengal, to grant certificates of attendance and proficiency to students who had passed the fourth year examination of that institution during a period extending up to the 16th March 1918, subject to certain conditions. It may be said 'Why did this notification only come out in 1918, while the Act was passed in 1916?' I have already told the Council how, on somewhat similar lines, Bengal had been issuing certificates for the purposes of the Faculty examination. In 1917 the Government of India wrote and asked whether Belgachia wanted to issue the certificates conceded in connection with the Medical Degrees Act; we said that they were already issuing certificates, and that these would suffice. The Government of India thereupon called for the form of certificate in use, and held that without a validating notification it infringed the provisions of section 3 of the Act of 1916. That is how the notification came to be issued only in January 1918, although it referred to a previously existing state of things. The important point is that such a certificate of the school is not a title or a qualification at all. It could not be so, because no body can grant such a qualification unless it is included in the schedule of the Act of 1916, which Belgachia admittedly is not. I hold in my hand a specimen of these certificates, and it merely certifies that the holder of it has undergone a proper training and has passed an examination. This does not indicate a recognised qualification. I have endeavoured to explain to the Council that these certificates are not certificates of the kind which would enable us to put Belgachia into the schedule. It is quite inaccurate to say that they have ever been recognised by the Government of India as such, and they are intended for an absolutely different object. "

That, Sir, being the position, I hope that I have made it clear that we could not act under this Resolution, while even if we could, we are being approached through a wrong channel, and we are asked to do a thing which will stultify the whole of the legislation we have undertaken since 1914. The arguments of January 1918 have again been used. It is said 'It is a small concession, why not grant it for the benefit of a few students?', apparently intending that in a moment of weak good nature we should allow them to have it. But I have explained the objections of principle and the impossibilities which are involved. As regards the allegation of hardship. I have already explained that these students can go out and practise in the bazaar to-morrow; the only thing they may not do is to represent themselves as being what they are not. A concession was made to them in order to allow them an opportunity of going up for the Faculty examination. As a result of the debate in January last, we extended that concession and practically they were given two more chances. If they went to a school, knowing full well that these restrictions on medical degrees were in the air as far back as 1908, they have no right to come before us now and say that they have been badly treated because, in the face of what they knew, they chose to stay in an institution which could not give them a registrable degree; they have to suffer from the consequences of what they themselves chose to do.

When the Resolution in January last was discussed, I was not present in Council, and if I had been present, I would certainly have spoken against it. That Resolution, however, merely asked us to allow these students to go up for the Faculty examination; the present Resolution asks us to put them forthwith in the register, although they possess no qualification which we have ever recognised as connoting a qualification which entitles the holder to registration. To that extent the proposal is even more open to objection than its predecessor, and I am sorry that I cannot advise this Council to approve of it."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said:—

"My lord, I feel some diffidence to take any part in the discussion of this resolution because as a layman I think I am hardly competent to take part in it. But emboldened by the example of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler, I venture to take part in the discussion. Sir Henry Wheeler although a layman has to take part in the discussion in discharge of his duty as the member in charge of the department concerned. I have also a duty to perform, namely, I have to vote on the Resolution according to my judgment and I therefore, feel that I ought to point out the difficulties in the working of the Act which occur to me so that any other official member who takes part in the discussion may explain those difficulties to us. In the first place the difficulty that I feel is this: This Act was passed by the Bengal Council in 1914 and if this Act had laid down that future students would come within the operation of this Act no difficulty would have arisen. It is said that the Act was in the air from the year 1908. But that is hardly a sufficient reason for we often have legislative proposals which are dropped. If students who had entered the Belgachia Medical School and had paid their fees and had some sort of medical education—if they were allowed to appear at the examinations then why not students who entered the school one year afterwards but before the Act was passed? One reason why we are compelled to deal with this question now is because this anomaly did not occur to our predecessors, the members of the late Council who passed the Act of 1914. Ordinarily in passing Acts lagislator take good care not to interfere with any vested interest and I find that in the English Act provisions were introduced which safeguarded against complaints of this nature. That being so, a diploma of a Medical School was either good enough or not good enough. How is it that other students can have their names registered?"

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said:—

"They could not get their names registered—not unless they passed the Faculty examination."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter said:—

"I meant students who passed before the Act was passed. But if I am wrong that argument falls. The main point is that when these students entered the Belgachia School the Act was not in force and for that reason find some difficulty in accepting the reasons of my Hon'ble friend."

Resolutions.

Babu S. N. Ray ; Sir Henry Wheeler.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, Sir Henry Wheeler is right in saying that this is an echo of a resolution which was passed in this Council in January last. The resolution which was passed was this :

'This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the last batch of students of the Belgachia Medical School admitted in the year 1913, and those who failed for the first time in one or two subjects in the Faculty Examination held in November 1916, be granted an opportunity to appear at the Licentiate Examination of the State Medical Faculty of Bengal as has been previously allowed in the case of other students.'

So this resolution resolves itself into two parts ; (1), that the last batch of students who got their admission in the Medical School before 1913 be allowed to appear ; and (2), that the plucked students be allowed to appear. Government allowed the plucked students to appear at the examination, but did not allow students who were admitted to the school in 1913 to appear. Now I hear that the boys ought to apply, instead of coming to the Council, to the State Medical Faculty. Why, the resolution was passed by this Council to admit both the students of the Belgachia Medical School who had got admission before 1913, as well as the plucked students to appear in the examination, but only a portion of it was accepted by Your Lordship's Government. The boys are willing to subject themselves to the prescribed examination even now if Your Lordship pleases to grant them that privilege ; but as Your Excellency's Government are unwilling to allow them to appear in that examination, they will try to get this privilege by some other way. Now it appears that the Government of India by its notification, dated 12th January 1918, recognised the Belgachia Institution as one of the medical schools competent to grant certificates of proficiency. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler has said that a squabble had been going on between three rival medical schools since 1908 ; that might be true, but the Government of India having recognised only the Belgachia School as the school which is competent to grant certificates of proficiency by this notification, viz.,—

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER :—

As a statement of facts that is inaccurate ; they have also recognised the Medical School.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY continuing :—

I have already placed the notification. This notification must be read along with section 3 of the Act of 1914. This section was passed by the Government of India and it runs as follows :—

'The right of conferring, granting, or issuing in British India degrees, diplomas, licenses, certificates or other documents stating or implying the holder, grantee or recipient thereof is qualified to practise Western medical science, shall be exercisable only by the authorities specified in the schedule, and by such other authority as the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, and subject to such conditions and restrictions as he thinks fit to impose, authorize in this behalf.'

Then, in the Gazette of India of the 12th January 1918, it was notified that in exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Indian Medical Degrees Act of 1916, the Governor-General in Council was pleased to authorize the Institution now known as the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Bengal situated in Belgachia, Calcutta, to grant certificates of attendance and proficiency to such students as shall have passed the fourth year examination of the said Institution prior to the 16th March 1916, subject to certain conditions mentioned in that notification. Now, if any certificates have been granted to these students they are certainly certificates of proficiency, and according to section 8 of the Act of 1916, the holders of such certificates are qualified to practise Western medical science. So, these students of the Belgachia School have got certificates which show that they are qualified to practise Western medical science and having got these certificates they come before Your Excellency's Government to have their names registered under the provisions of the Schedule to the Bengal Medical Act. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler has said that these students can go and practise medicine in the bazaars, and that there is nothing to prevent them from practising, only that they are not allowed to put on degrees such as L. R. C. P. S., etc. But as a matter of fact they are not allowed to practise like those who have got these registered qualifications. I know from personal experience, and I am in a position to state this. About three years ago I had been to one of the Mills at Titaghur and the Mill Manager of Messrs. Bird & Co. told me, that he had a doctor there who had been serving with satisfaction for the last 10 years under him. Under the Medical Act which had been recently passed, he would not be able to keep him any longer in his service, as under the Government rules the Civil Surgeon attend the Mills once a month or once in three months, and all the labourers there have to show certificates from a recognised Doctor. The old doctor was a recognised doctor all along, but after the passing of the Medical Bill his certificate has been found to be insufficient, and they have to get rid of this man and got another man who had the qualifications required by this new Act. So that it is not a fact that doctors who have got certificates of proficiency from the Belgachia school will be entitled to practise in the same way as other doctors who have got registrable qualifications. These students want to appear at this examination, but Your Lordship's Government will not allow them to appear. What are they to do? Nobody knows why, my Lord, the first part of that resolution was not accepted. This is all that I have to say, in reply to the remarks of the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler."

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler; Babu S. N. Ray; The President.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, I have no wish to retraverse the arguments which I have already adduced. If I have not been able to convince Hon'ble Members by what I have said, nothing more that I can say will do so. But I must again point out that the final arguments of the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray are fallacious, while, if they were correct, an unfortunate consequence is hanging over the members of the Managing Committee at Belgachia. If, despite my explanation, the Hon'ble Member still maintains that these students hold certificates that they are qualified to practice Western medical science, and if that contention is valid, then in so far as Belgachia is not legally empowered to give any such qualification, I feel it my duty to warn the members of its Committee that they are individually liable to a fine of Rs. 500."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"Before the division is taken, my Lord, I should like to say a few words."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"You cannot address the Council after the question has been put."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"I do not wish to speak upon the question, my Lord, but upon the right of voting by official and non-official members."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"If the Hon'ble Member wishes to put a point of order he may."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"It is this, my Lord. On the last occasion when a similar resolution was moved by my friend the Hon'ble Babu Kisori Mohan Chaudhuri, the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan voted with us, and the Government was defeated. I ask your Lordship to allow the members to vote as they like. I can cite a precedent for it. Only a few months ago in the Imperial Council, His Excellency the Viceroy allowed the official members to vote as they liked on the Income Tax Bill. Why should not a similar indulgence be shown to us now?"

The PRESIDENT said :—

"So far as the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan is concerned, he can exercise his own discretion as he likes. I do not wish to restrict his discretion."

A division was then taken with the following result :—

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 7.

The Hon'ble MR. H. R. A. IRWIN moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Government be pleased to appoint a small expert Committee with as little delay as possible to inquire into the abuses and difficulties in connection with the circulation of the one-rupee notes in Bengal, or to take such other steps as may be deemed advisable to minimize the hardship and loss incurred by the poorer classes in Bengal in using the notes who have no means of getting their just grievances remedied.

He said :—

"With the object of obtaining the assistance of Government in the endeavour to remedy a grievance which is causing very considerable hardship among the poorer classes whilst at the same time not taking up the valuable time of the Council by unnecessary discussion, I brought the matter of the illegitimate hindrance to the free circulation of the new one-rupee notes before Your Excellency's Government at the Council Meeting of July last in the form of a question rather than by resolution, which occupies time. I respectfully requested Government to consider the desirability of taking such steps as might be deemed advisable in putting a stop to the illegal practice of demanding discount from ignorant people on Government Currency notes. The reply I received is as follows :—'The custom of charging a small discount for changing notes for larger amounts or silver rupees unfortunately prevails in regard to notes generally, although doubtless in respect of notes of so small a denomination as one rupee, it especially hits the poorer classes. There have been also reports as to the unpopularity of recent issues of small denominations and possibily they are not yet circulating freely. It is hoped that matters may improve when the novelty of those issues wears off and the practice of charging discount, which is much to be reprehended will be discouraged as far as possible.' I cannot help characterising this reply, my Lord, as unsatisfactory, and as during the last two months matters have grown worse rather than better, I have been urged to bring the subject up again and this I now do in the resolution I have read. I fully appreciate the great difficulty Government must be experiencing in the matter of currency at the present time but surely we may expect some assistance in putting a stop to illegal extortion, more especially when it seriously obstructs the object Government is endeavouring to promote, namely, the free circulation of these new notes. It is in mufassal districts, especially, that the hardship complained of is most acute. The more out of the way the locality and the more ignorant the individual, the greater imposition and I do not think those residents in Calcutta or large cities are in a position to know the extent to which the very poor classes are victimized. The answer to my question which I quoted before says:—'There have also been reports as to the unpopularity of recent issues of small denominations and possibly they are not yet circulating freely.' As regards the latter supposition, I may give one very recent instance from my personal experience. On Saturday last, for my ordinary weekly payment to coolies, I drew Rs. 3,010-6-6 from my local banker and this amount was received and paid out in the following currency:—Five-rupee G. C. notes Rs. 500; one-rupee G. C. notes, Rs. 2,348; silver rupees Rs. 6; small silver coins Rs. 125; copper coins Rs. 31-6-6. I obtained this sum in exchange for a Calcutta draft on which I myself paid Rs. 11-4 discount. Now, allowing that a discount of one pice per note was charged to the possessors on only half the number of notes, it represents an aggregate loss of Rs. 19-12 defrauded from these coolies on one estate only and in one week only! Is it any wonder that there are 'reports as to the unpopularity of recent issues of small denominations?' The difficulty I complain of does not consist, however, of the matter of discount only. In the course of circulation from hand to hand it is naturally quite unavoidable that these flimsy bits of paper should become very much soiled and in this state, even though not defaced or mutilated, they are frequently refused by shopkeepers and others when tendered for payment. There is, and must be, a certain amount of quite unavoidable loss in connection with these small notes. A coolie receives a one-rupee note and tucks it into his or her waistband and goes on with the work in hand. It comes on to rain and in a short time the note gets soaked and reduced to a state of unrecognizable pulp. The possessor, of course, has to bear the loss but, as I have said, I think every endeavour should be made to minimise it as far as possible. I want to quote from the paper in which I read it that 'The Government of Bengal has issued a warning against people who refuse to accept currency notes except at a discount.' I accept this as a fact but I have not seen any warning or notification myself and how it has been promulgated I do not know; possibly it has been affixed to notice boards at kacharis or police-stations. But if one in my position has no knowledge of it, how can it be expected that ignorant villagers in out-of-the-way rural places can be aware of it? Such a notification, to serve a useful purpose, should be made public by beat of drum in every bazar and hât, and the rural police should post up notices, printed in the vernacular, in every village in the province. I am quite aware, my Lord, that there is another side to the question, namely, that of the small shopkeeper. A coolie receives, say, five one-rupee notes for work done, and he goes to five small shops in succession buying a few pice worth of articles at each, tendering a one-rupee note and expecting to get fourteen or fifteen annas as the case may be at each. If everyone acted in a similar manner it would be impossible for the shopkeeper to carry on, as he could not possibly provide sufficient change, but this difficulty would wear off if the present suspicion as to the full value of the note, the solvency of Government, and the legality of charging discount, could be dissipated. I think, too, that much larger quantities of small coin, the one or two-anna nickel pieces, should, if possible, be coined and put in circulation. I have heard it stated by a Government officer that fewer eight-anna pieces might be coined as they are not wanted, but this is not my experience. I think that if larger quantities were available they would be more freely used and bound to relieve pressure. But, my Lord, I had no intention of suggesting a remedy for the difficulty I complain of. I am not an expert in such matters but surely amongst the many fianancial experts at the command of Government, some means can be suggested whereby the poorer classes may be protected from illegal extortion. There is one difficulty to overcome and that is to get sufferers to give specific instances of cases in which they have been mulcted of discount. They will complain generally but when asked to mention names

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin.

Resolutions.

Babu B. C. Ray; Mr. Hely Hutchinson.

will evade it and put up with the loss rather than incur the animosity of the shopkeepers. Personally, I think that the loyal manner in which the small notes have been accepted with scarcely a murmur is very creditable to the people; and I respectfully urge that Your Excellency's Government will take every step possible to reduce friction and minimise loss to the public."

The Hon'ble BABU BHABENDRA CHANDRA RAY said :—

"My Lord, the thanks of the Indian community are due to the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin for having brought up the present question for discussion to-day. The grievances of the poorer classes in the interior with regard to the new rupee-notes have been ventilated in the press for some time, and the attention of Government has often been drawn to them. But we do not seem to be anywhere near the remedy as yet. It must be admitted that the problem is a difficult one; but it has got to be solved all the same. The Hon'ble Mover has suggested the appointment of an expert Committee to go into the whole question. I hope it will count among its members representatives of the Indian community, for they are expected to know where the shoe pinches.

Connected with the question of the rupee-notes, there is another matter, my Lord, to which I take this opportunity to draw the attention of Government. It is the shortage of small coins in many of the District towns and in the interior.

I have received reports from the mufassal that the distress in this connection is becoming quite acute. It appears that in some places change cannot be obtained for paper money and the rupee, except at a premium. Tradesmen have sometimes to turn away customers owing to shortage of change. Even the Government District Treasuries find it difficult to cope with the demand for the coins of smaller value. Business is suffering greatly on this account and the people are being put to serious inconvenience. My Lord, something should be done immediately in the matter, and the assistance of the mufassal post-offices may be of great value in keeping up a uniform supply of small change.

I do not know, my Lord, whether the present position in Bengal is to be attributed to any disturbance in the general condition of currency and exchange in India. But it has given rise to much silly speculation, particularly among the ignorant classes in the interior. Your Lordship's Government should, for all these reasons, take prompt steps to ease the situation and dispel public anxiety."

The Hon'ble MR. HELY HUTCHINSON said :—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble Mover has dealt with the question, I think, very largely from the point of view of the tea districts. The community I represent deals chiefly in jute, and I wish to assure Your Excellency's Government that the European dealers in jute are doing, and will continue to do, everything they can, to assist Government in dealing with the present currency difficulty.

I find, however, that in considering this matter it is very difficult for me to confine myself to matters which affect Bengal only and do not affect the currency question as a whole, which is an Imperial concern. I hope Your Excellency will excuse me if, in attempting to deal with this question, I touch on matters which are Imperial rather than Provincial and with which this Council is not concerned.

The difficulties, I think, must be painfully obvious to the Controller of Currency and those who have to deal with it. For one reason or another, there is a shortage of silver, of one-rupee notes and small coins; and you are compelled by force of circumstances to try and popularise a paper currency among a people who are essentially hoarders and do not normally use banks and have no pockets. This is a wet country and a hot country; and if you give a note to a man who has to go out into the rains or who lives, as the raiyat does, in a great deal of water in the jute districts, it is very difficult for him to keep the note in good condition. It is not therefore surprising that the raiyat does not wish to keep it on his person. When it comes to hoarding it you are up against white ants, fire and water which affect notes much more than rupees. In addition to that, as far as the jute districts are concerned, we have the high price of jute, and that must to a certain extent, I think, upset the calculations which have been made as to the amount of currency, whether paper or silver, which will be required to finance the jute crop, and maintain a constant flow of jute into the Calcutta market.

Resolutions.

Mr. Hely Hutchinson.

When it comes to abuse, I find myself in great difficulty to say what is an abuse. In a previous announcement of Government it was said that money-changing was a custom of the country. The average rate for money-changing was, I think, one pice in the rupee. Can you, therefore, say that money changing is an abuse when money is changed at a rate of one anna or even two annas in the rupee? When you come to the question of a man charging discount if he is paid in notes rather than in rupees, can you blame the shop-keeper for wishing to be paid in rupees rather than in notes, and at the same time not blame the raiyats for wishing to be paid in rupees rather than in notes?

I think a mistake was made, and a serious mistake too, in trying to introduce these notes into the jute districts without any previous publicity. I know that in a great many cases, the first time that the raiyat knew of the notes was when it was offered to him in payment of jute, and he said, 'what is this; why should I be paid in paper?' At first he refused and after a good deal of moral persuasion that this note was worth 16 annas and after a good deal of grumbling, he took it; and when he went to the bazár, he found that it was not worth 16 annas and only 15 annas. I think, therefore, that a good deal of trouble might have been avoided, if, before the notes were introduced, something had been done by beat of drum in the villages or some such steps, to give the raiyats some warning and to popularise the notes in that way. It is very difficult to draw a general conclusion as to what is going on. The circumstances in the different districts vary tremendously; in some districts the discount rate is 12 per cent., in some it is 6; but my own belief is that the present position is not very encouraging. I do not believe that anybody takes a note except with the intention of getting rid of it as quickly as possible. I think that the shortage of small change is an evidence of that belief. I further believe that the raiyats will take notes when they have the prospect of the immediate payment of rents, as they have at the present time; but when the Pujas are over and when they have no longer any kists to pay, they will not be so ready to take notes with the prospect of hoarding them until the next kist falls due, or in cases where they have made a large profit on their jute, of hoarding them for an indefinite period.

As to the remedies, I believe myself that publicity through the agency of the Collectors or through the Village Unions and Panchayats and possibly through the thanas will do a lot of good. Then Government will have to consider whether they should, try and introduce any co-ordination in the action of the various Collectors. The reports we have had from our jute districts show a tremendous variation. In the Dacca district some attempt was made to obtain publicity by beat of drum and some attempt has been made to change notes through the post-offices to the extent of five rupees per person per day. In Serajganj, I had a report that Government was financing discount shops at some jute centres at the rate of 2 pice in the rupee; I cannot vouch for the truth of that; and I believe Government have got the information whether this was done or not. I think that Government ought to take some kind of action, though what it ought to be is somewhat difficult to say, against the people who are deliberately depreciating the value of the notes in the mufassal by charging discount, and who are thus pandering to the feeling that the notes are less valuable than the rupees. This has been done not only by the discount profiteers who rush out to the mufassal with twenty or thirty thousand rupees from Calcutta or elsewhere, but also by a certain number of jute merchants who have brought up rupees in their luggage from Calcutta and introduce them for the same purpose. It is doubtful whether Government should take action against the hoarding of small change. In some cases there is deliberate hoarding. I have also heard of cases where a cooly who gets five one-rupee notes changes them at different shops and comes back home with a pile of small change. These cases make the small change question complicated but it is difficult for Government to take action.

I would, however, lay stress on two points, viz., publicity and co-ordination. I doubt myself whether a Committee will do much good. In order to get information, it will have to spend a great deal of time in going round to all the various districts, and I believe that Government have the machinery for getting all the information that is required; I believe further that they can get information quicker than any Committee. But I do think that unless Government definitely say how they propose to take action—and action not of the laissez faire or wait-and-see type—this resolution should be pressed to a division."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I fully agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin that an expert Committee should be appointed. In the mufassal I know great difficulties are being felt in changing one-rupee notes and somehow or other they have become very unpopular; shopkeepers are not willing to accept them even in part payment of price of articles and sometimes these notes are to be changed from the poddars and other big shopkeepers who charge a discount of half an anna in the rupee. In Rajshahi I know that there is a great difficulty in changing notes. I do not think that there is any scarcity of copper coins, but that there are no proper arrangements or no proper facilities for the ordinary people to change these notes. We believe that such facilities could be afforded in the post-offices by deputing one or two persons and granting them some commission for changing these notes. In the sadar towns whenever necessary they can take the copper coins or small silver coins from the treasury and afford facilities to the ordinary people in changing it. The inclination to avoid the note comes from the fact that one is obliged to pay half an anna in the rupee whenever he wants to change it and poor people feel a great difficulty in paying this discount. The Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray tells me that in the mufassal a discount of one anna is being paid. It is for this reason that the one-rupee notes have become so unpopular. I do not agree with the previous speaker that a Government enquiry will do no good. My idea is that the reasons ought to be ascertained and it should be seen what facilities could be afforded for changing these notes. If there is no difficulty in the head-quarters, I believe there will be no difficulty in the mufassal towns. At least in hâts and big markets there may be big shopkeepers who have plenty of copper coins or silver coins, so that when one is under the necessity of changing one-rupee notes he should not pay any discount. Ordinarily in changing notes of higher value it is not at a discount but sometimes at a premium, that is the ordinary law of supply and demand. When one is under the necessity of procuring

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

a note of higher value and such notes are not available, he has to pay some discount. But in the case of one-rupee notes it is different; there is no inclination on the part of the shopkeepers and ordinary suppliers to take these notes simply because they are not in a position to change them without difficulty. Consequeutly the poor people suffer a good deal when they have to pay a discount of half an anna or one anna in the rupee. I therefore think that an enquiry should be made into this matter, and I heartily support this resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, this is a matter about which there is very little difference of opinion between any of us as to the facts. We are all painfully conscious of what the facts are, and are fully aware of them; they are one of the unfortunate results that have arisen out of the war, and in dealing with these inconveniences of the war, I would ask the Council to remember that Government is not callously indifferent, but that nothing that any Government can do will entirely eliminate these hardships. The whole world is suffering, and I would remind the Council that the opinion is prevalent in many parts of the world, that India is suffering these hardships less than other countries. That, however. does not carry us much further by way of consolation, even although the cause of the hardship is self-evident. As has been admitted this afternoon, the discounting of notes is no new thing. It has always gone on to a certain extent, but it is probably more common than usual recently, owing to the shortage of silver, while it now touches the poorer classes owing to the issue of smaller denomination notes; that is to say, whereas richer people might perhaps pay a small discount on a Rs. 50 note without great demur, the poorer man is harder hit in paying discount on a note of one rupee. The only real remedy is to increase our outturn of silver coin; the shortage of silver is the cause of all this trouble, and until the facilities for the encashment of notes can be increased, I do not see how we can get rid of these hardships of discounting.

I think some of the speakers this afternoon have rather spoken as if Government had done absolutely nothing in the matter. This is scarcely correct. Turning to the root cause, the shortage of silver, this is an Imperial matter. and I think that any one telling Finance Department of the Government of India that they have done nothing towards meeting the difficulty of the shortage of silver, would be greeted with a sad smile. The Government of India have naturally been unable to publish on the housetops all the daily fluctuations of their currency difficulties; but they have issued communiqués, and they have made known what they have done to increase the stock of silver, culminating, as we know, in the recent negotiations with the American Government which have resulted in placing at their disposal very much larger stocks of silver. Therefore, in this and in other ways, they have been endeavouring to meet the main difficulty. We also have been trying to do our best. Here again, the movements of currency within the province are not exactly a provincial affair; they are controlled by the Accountant-General and the Controller of Currency. These two officers have had constantly before them in recent times the problem of how to finance the different district treasuries with silver for the encashment of notes. Mr. Gubbay, Controller of Currency, tells me that during the last few months he has sent no less than 50 lakhs of rupees to different treasuries for this purpose. He is fully conscious of the difficulties and is trying to meet them. Apart from that, Collectors have been issuing a number of notices thus seeking to meet the point, mentioned by the Hon'ble Mr. Hely Hutchison, of publicly explaining the facts. We too sent out a general warning at the beginning of August, in the hope of minimizing these evils by the publication of a Government announcement on the subject. I have here a vernacular notice which one Collector has issued regarding facilities for the encashment of dirty notes, and we know that in many districts a great deal has been done to endeavour to bring home to the people what the position is. I do not deny, as Mr. Hely Hutchison has pointed out, that we may be able to do more, and this is a point to which I will certainly be only too glad to pay more attention. In another district—Dacca—the District Officer has been trying to put more cash at the disposal of the post-offices in order to help people in a small way to cash notes and get rupees, and I have reports from other officers of Government who have been working on similar lines.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

As regards what the Hon'ble Mr. Hely Hutchison mentioned as to the difference of practice in different districts, I think that his remarks are deserving of further enquiry. I know there has been a certain amount of difference of practice; for instance, in reports which I asked for in connection with this Resolution, one point is raised in which there seems to be a difference of opinion, as to whether, when the amount of cash available is limited, it is better to get it into circulation by giving it to the large employers of labour or purchasers of raw produce such as jute, or whether it is better to give it out in small amounts to the post-offices, just as the Collector of Dacca has been trying to do. The present Accountant-General holds that the latter is the better suggestion; the Collector of Mymensingh has been trying to give rupees to the bigger men to pass into circulation. Something may usefully be done to clear up differences of practice of this kind, by systematizing action more than is the case at present, and I will look into the point. But on receipt of this resolution I received reports from Mr. Gubbay and Mr. Tomkins, and I do not think the position is quite as bad as might have been gathered from some of the speeches this afternoon. Out of 26 districts it is said that notes are in circulation at par in 17. I do not pretend that in every bazar of these 17 districts everybody is getting full value for his notes and that no one is getting less than 16 annas, but I read the report as meaning that the difficulty is not acute in the majority of districts, and that is also borne out by other reports from Collectors, which show that the problem at the present moment is most difficult in the jute districts. I take it from the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin that the trouble is also acute in the tea districts. Collectors, however, say that the situation is improving, and we have direct evidence that if we can push out more silver it will improve much more. The real problem is how to get more silver. That being so, Sir, with every desire to find a remedy, I am doubtful whether the specific recommendation contained in the Resolution to appoint a small Committee of experts would serve any useful purpose. We know the facts; we know that discount is being charged on notes at rates much higher than before; we know that the ryots in many places do not like these small notes, and we know that there are certain features peculiar to this country which make the small paper note a somewhat unpopular medium of circulation; we know all this, but the question is how can we offer a remedy without going into the silver question which is outside our control. The currency problem is an Imperial concern, and if we go up to the Government of India, they will only say that we must take our share with the rest of the country. We know that special remedies have been adopted in special parts of the country; for instance, gold mohurs are in circulation in the Punjab, very few of which, as far as I know, have come down here, but the whole matter is an Imperial one to be regulated in the interests of the country as a whole. Therefore, Sir, I do not think we shall gain much by a Committee though I am perfectly willing to have a Committee if the Council wishes it. It may be helpful in focussing the facts before those who control the currency problem, in the hope that they may see some way of giving us greater facilities than they do at present; but I fear that they will tell us that, in the main, the silver question is the root of the difficulty. and that while they are tackling that to the best of their ability and with regard to the whole of India they cannot promise to tackle it for us specially to an extent which will entirely remedy the difficulties from which we suffer. I, therefore, put it to the Council that the appointment of a Committee of enquiry will not add very much to the information which we now possess."

The Hon'ble SIR DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said :—

"My Lord, I do not know what course the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin will adopt after Sir Henry Wheeler's statement and whether a Committee of experts will be appointed or Government will move of its own motion. But I desire to draw the attention of the Council to the fact that it is not the one-rupee note alone that suffers in this way. The new two-and-a-half rupee note stands in exactly the same position and sometimes gives rise to greater difficulties, for the loss involved is greater. Although there is a slight difference in the appearance and the size, mistakes are often made by the poorer people who suffer more than the educated people. Therefore, whatever steps are taken with regard to the one-rupee notes, should also be taken in respect of the two-and-a-half rupee notes. We do not bring in the question of five and ten-rupee notes because they have been in use for a long time and people like the long suffering eel have got used to paying discount on them."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I desire to thank the Hon'ble Mr. Irwin for bringing up this matter before this Council. I may say this, that he has done a great service by bringing up this resolution which concerns a large mass of the poorer sections of the people, whose grievances have, from time to time, been expressed in the columns of newspapers and also in this Council. My Lord, I am not an expert and do not wish to traverse the grounds that have already been urged by other speakers, but there are one or two points which I wish to submit for the consideration of the Council. If an expert Committee be appointed. will the Government kindly consider the desirability of changing the character of the one-rupee note, of which the paper is so very thin that it wears out after changing half-a-dozen hands? What my friend Sir Sarbadhikari has said is that the poorer people cannot make out the difference between the one and two and-a-half-rupee notes, because the size is practically the same. There is not the same difficulty with regard to the five and ten-rupee notes, as the size is different. Furthermore, the poorer people do not often deal with larger sums than Rs. 10. It may be urged that the size of 50, 20 and 100 rupee notes is the same; but the poorer people seldom handle these notes. The two-and-half and one-rupee notes are handled by them every day, and the size being the same the illiterate people are misled and further as these notes are not of good paper they are easily damaged and no one will take them. May I enquire, my Lord, whether some other coin, say, nickel coins, like the one-anna and two-anna pieces could not be substituted for the rupee note? We are now getting some nice brilliant two-anna nickel pieces which are not damaged or easily soiled. I submit that an expert Committee, although it may be precluded from taking up the larger question of currency, may perhaps go into this particular question and thus minimize the hardship which is felt by the poorer classes. This hardship is not only felt in the mufassal, but also in Calcutta.

Having regard to these facts, I think perhaps an expert Committee might help us in finding out some solution and in recommending some substantial quality of paper, if not the substitution of some suitable metal coin."

Resolutions.

Mr. Irwin ; Sir Henry Wheeler ; Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur.

The Hon'ble MR. IRWIN said : —

"My Lord, I do not quite gather from the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler's speech whether he proposes to accept the resolution or not. I have no wish to press it upon the Government inasmuch as I have given them a loophole. I have recommended the appointment of a small expert Committee, or that Government should take such other steps as they think fit in order to minimize the hardship on the poorer classes. If the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler can give us an assurance that Government will take such other steps that they may deem advisable, I am quite prepared to withdraw the resolution."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, the attitude of Government in this matter is that we do not think ourselves that much good will result from enquiries by a special Committee, but if it is the general desire of the Council that a Committee should be appointed, we certainly do not wish to oppose it. Its members can certainly meet and discuss the matter, even though we are not sanguine of the results. As regards the facts, there is not very much difference of opinion, and if the Council wants a Committee, then so far as Government is concerned, it can have it. Apart from that, the only other measures that we can take is to press on District Officers the necessity for greater activity in popularising the circulation of notes and explaining the facts. We can suggest greater co-ordination in the practice of different districts, and we can go up to the Government of India and say : 'These are our difficulties ; can you give us any more silver, and can you tackle the currency problem in such a way as to afford further relief?' But I am perfectly willing to consider any other suggestions that can be made ; and if anyone can put forward any remedies, I will be glad to examine them."

The Hon'ble MR. IRWIN said :—

"My Lord, under the circumstances, after hearing what the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler has said I would suggest that a small Committee may be appointed. It will have the effect of giving more publicity to the matter from which some benefit might accrue."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 8.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Head Masters of Government schools in class VII and class VIII of the Provincial Educational Service be admitted to the benefit of a local allowance of Rs. 50 per month at an early date.

He said :—

"The resolution is meant to benefit Head Masters of Government High Schools in Provincial Educational Service and not the Head Masters of Training schools.

Evidently in view of the very heavy responsibility attached to the office of the Head Masters of High schools, Government in January 1915 sanctioned to them a 'duty allowance' of Rs. 50 a month ; but, for reason best known to the authorities, Head Masters in Provincial Educational Service have not been admitted to the benefit of the Government order.

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth

They are admittedly the ablest Head Masters in the Province, and for their proved efficiency they have been placed in charge of the biggest and most important schools in their respective divisions; they have been taken into the superior service and thus the maximum limit of their monthly salary has been raised from Rs. 150 to Rs. 700, but most of these officers having been promoted to Provincial Educational Service in the evening of their career they can hardly expect to rise above its 7th grade, before their retirement.

In respect of pay, class I of Subordinate Educational Service correspond to class VII of the Provincial Educational Service and class II of the former to class VIII of the latter; but in respect of promotion, the higher classes of Subordinate Educational Service consisting as they do of old officers, offer much greater advantages than the lower classes of Provincial Educational Service in which the officers are mostly very young. Thus a Provincial Educational Service officer placed at the bottom of class VIII will take much longer time to get promotion to class VII than one in Subordinate Educational Service from class II to I. Added to this is the 'duty allowance' which is also counted towards the pension. So that the Head Master who is taken into the Provincial Educational Service in his old age is a great loser in his retirement as much as in the last days of his service.

With a view to remove the injustice it is now recommended that all Head Masters of Government High schools in classes VII and VIII of the Provincial Educational Service be admitted at an early date to the benefit of the duty allowance of Rs. 50 a month like those in Subordinate Educational Service with effect either from the 1st January 1915 or from the date of their appointment to the Head Mastership, whichever is more just. I may add here that this does not refer to the Head Masters of Training schools who, as general Superintendents of the hostels attached to the institutions under their charge, gets a monthly allowance and free quarters; their exclusion from Government order granting a 'duty allowance' of Rs. 50 a month to each of the Head Masters of Government schools in Subordinate Educational Service does not, therefore, constitute any grievance; moreover at the time of their appointment to the Provincial Educational Service, they were allowed to supersede many officers.

With these words, I beg to move this Resolution for the consideration of Your Excellency's Council."

The Hon'ble MR. WORDSWORTH said :—

"My lord, the resolution and the Hon'ble Member's speech have drawn attention to an anomaly to which we have been fully alive and which we have been long endeavouring to remove. The Hon'ble Member has, however, disguised the main question by emphasising an incidental, and we hope temporary, feature of the case. If we have, in the same work two services, one higher and one lower, so adjusted that the maximum pay of the lower exceeds the minimum pay of the higher, if our policy is to choose from the lower for promotion to the higher men of experience and ability, and if the higher service offers steady opposition to recruitment to it otherwhere than in the lowest grade, then it is inevitable that there should occur from time to time anomalies. These anomalies are in the situation and they are quite independent of the allowances to which the Hon'ble Member has referred and for the grant of which to certain officers in the higher service he has pleaded. It may make the case clearer if I put my general statement into concrete facts. We have two classes of Government High schools—those attached to colleges and those independent schools at district headquarters. We have two services—the Provincial Service which for this case relates only to Head Masters in grades between Rs. 200—500 and the Subordinate Service in which the pay is Rs. 50—250. And it is the fact that schools attached to colleges have been regarded as more important and are supposed to confer a greater degree of prestige on their Head Masters than those independent Zilla Schools at district headquarters. That has been recognised in our organisation. Head Masters of Collegiate schools are placed in the Provincial Service. Head Masters of other Government High schools are placed in the Subordinate Service and therefore it has happened, not frequently, but occasionally, that a Zilla school Head Master who may perhaps be drawing the full pay of his grade, that is Rs. 250 has been appointed to the post of Head Master of a Collegiate school, and has had to commence in the last grade of Rs. 200. That is the situation which we have long deplored and we have long deplored the difference of esteem in which the Head Masters of these two classes of schools have been held. For more than ten years it has been the steady view of the Educational Department that this distinction in prestige should be removed by placing all Head Masters of Government High schools in the Provincial Educational Service. Steps to this end have been taken as part of the larger scheme for the betterment of the whole of secondary school education in this province and this scheme has been put forward and we have made some advance. Only recently we have received despatches from the Government of India and the Secretary of State which show that the case is receiving attention, although I cannot say that the end is in sight. Therefore three years ago when an opportunity was given us by an unexpected windfall from the Government of India, we decided to do something to show our appreciation of the work of the Zilla school Head Masters. as a temporary measure, by giving them a duty allowance. I should mention that promotion in the Subordinate Service is very largely governed by seniority, whereas selection for the post of Head Masters is governed by seniority as also other considerations. So it may happen and so it does happen that the Head Master of a Zilla school finds himself inferior in pay to some Assistant Masters. Pending an opportunity of recognising their superior position by a grant of superior status we secured the consent of the Government of India to a special duty allowance of Rs. 50 a month for Zilla School Head Masters. This allowance was granted in 1915 and is not only a recognition of the arduous duties of Head Masters, but it is also a compensation for the absence of higher status which we think should attach to the post of Zilla school Head Masters and which will so attach in the near future. We have secured this allowance for Zilla School Head Masters as a compensation for not being in the Provincial Service. There are hardly any difficulties and the present Resolution is scarcely one which the Government can accept in its present form. Difficulties have been rare. There have one or two occasions in which Head Masters found themselves in an awkward position. But I am proud to say that when an offer had been made to a master so situated of the alternative of higher status without an increase of pay or perhaps even on less pay in the Provincial Service or lower status with perhaps higher pay in the Subordinate Service, the choice was for the higher status. I am proud that this has been the case and I am proud to believe that this would be the case with the majority of men who are now serving us in the Zilla schools.

Resolutions.

Mr. Wordsworth.

"I will ask the Hon'ble mover, on behalf of the Education Department, to accept the assurance that, although their special duty allowances are granted on the understanding that the Head Masters shall not put them forward as obstacles to transfer, deputation or other adminstrative conveniences, the Educational Department is not likely at any time to transfer a master to a post of greater prestige and equal or less pay except with his own consent. I can assure the Hon'ble mover also that if the offer is made, we shall certainly find that the Zilla school Head Masters concerned will gladly accept the higher responsibility and higher prestige. I trust, therefore, that the Hon'ble Member will not press his resolusion to a division."

Resolutions.

Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, I have listened to the statement made by the Hon'ble Member. The point which I have raised before the Members of the Council is a very simple one. True it is that they have got a higher status ; but, as I put it, they are now in the evening of their lives, and therefore, although we are thankful to the Education Department for promoting them to the higher status, still it is a matter for Government to consider whether under the circumstances a few officers who are now old, and who have got promotion, cannot claim the consideration of Government for a duty allowance of Rs. 50 a month. Now, this is a simple issue which I have put before your Lordship's Council. The question is that they are very glad that they have got promotion from Rs. 250 to Rs. 700 ; they are old officers, they cannot enjoy a higher pay in life, and consequently it is a matter of deep consideration for Government to consider whether these few officers, seven or eight in number, are not entitled to claim for an increase even in the shape of a duty allowance or so of Rs. 50 a month.

I am, therefore, obliged to trouble the Members of the Council with the simple point which I have raised, and I trust the Council will consider the point."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 9.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that, with a view to the proper working of the septic tank latrine installations, the Government do take into consideration the revision of "the Bengal Factories Rules, 1912," now in force in Bengal, in the following manner :—

(1) add to clause (viii) of rule 19(1) the following sub-clause—
"(c) it has been certified by the Inspector of Septic Tank Latrine Installations that the requirements referred to in sub-clauses (a) and (b) have been duly complied with"; and

(2) in rule 19(2), for the word "may", in the two places where it occurs, substitute the word "shall".

He said :—

"My Lord, according to the recent circular letter issued by the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, to the Chairman of all Riparian Municipalities, I understand that the water of the Bhagirathi now contains a very large amount of pollution derived from human excreta and it has now been rendered dangerous to use it for drinking purposes and also for cleansing dishes and plates or other vessels used for food, unless the water has first been filtered or boiled. Neglect of these precautions will expose persons to the risk of contracting cholera, typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhœa and other water-borne diseases.

It is very painful for me to recollect the sad incident which took place in our town some years prior to the introduction of the filtered water-supply within the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality. Let me bring to Your Excellency's notice that Mr. Bernard, I.C.S., our beloved Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, his amiable wife and sister-in-law, all suddenly died of cholera on account of the fact that the plates and dishes on which they took their meals were washed with the water of the Hooghly, contaminated with the poisonous bacilli!

Before entering at some length upon the subject-matter of my resolution, I would like to give you a very brief account of the circumstances under which a special Committee was appointed by the Government of Bengal in April, 1904, to examine the working of the septic tank installations in this province.

This was rendered necessary on account of the rapidly increasing number of septic tank latrines which have been erected, specially in connection with the jute mills on the Hooghly river, complaint having been made of the pollution of the river by the discharge of effluents from these tanks.

Resolutions.

Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur.

Report of the Committee was published in December, 1904, wherein it is written in page 2 under paragraph 4 that "The Committee are not in a position to give a complete and final report."

A number of conclusions were put forward, some admittedly of a provisional character.

Speaking generally, it was believed that means could be found for improving the chemical composition of the effluent, but the danger arising from bacterial pollution would still remain. Suggestions were made that effluents should be used as feed-water for boilers, or carried well out into the mid-stream away from the banks, by suitable pipes.

On the requisition of Government, Dr. G. F. Fowler, D.SC., F.I.C., Consulting Chemist to the Manchester Corporation Rivers Committee, arrived in Calcutta on the 14th January, 1906, and he submitted a report on the septic tanks in Bengal and the purification of sewage, which was published in 1907. I quote the following lines from this printed report for the information of Your Excellency's Council :—

'Now, of all the pollutions that rivers are subjected to, by far the most serious is the addition of sewage, specially in a country like India, where unfiltered river water, taken very near the edge, is the drinking supply of thousands.

'The purest water in the Hooghly in every sense of the term is to be found in the middle of the stream; this water is very pure and shows very little contamination of a dangerous character.

'There is a zone of pollution extending along both banks due to matter put into the river.

'This pollution is largely represented by great increase in the group of bacilli that may be called fæcal in origin, and therefore it is a serious contamination.

'The septic tank effluent is largely responsible for this pollution.

'As the number of septic tanks are on the increase, the amount of pollution will also increase.'

Let me quote the following lines from the valuable book, 'A Manual of the Principles of Sewage Treatment' by Professor Dunbar, Director of the Institute of State Hygiene, Hamburg, which has been translated into English by Dr. H. T. Calvert, M.SC., PH. D., F.I.C., Chief Chemical Assistant, West Riding of Yorkshire :—

'The tank effluents are always putrescent and give rise to foul smells by the escape of gases when they are agitated.'

Again, 'the biological treatment is usually more difficult with septic tank effluent than with fresh sewage.'

'At Hamburg contact beds would be filled six times a day with fresh sewage without yielding an unsatisfactory effluent, whereas they would only take septic sewage twice a day.'

Mr. G. B. Kershaw, who was for more than twelve years Engineer to the Royal Commission on sewage disposal, in his famous work on 'Modern methods of sewage purification' has stated that 'the recent typhoid epidemic at Lincoln arising from a polluted water-supply shows that, even in case of large towns, one weak spot in an apparently satisfactory system may be the direct cause of considerable loss of life and great expense. It is unfortunately the case that the incidence of disease is most marked in the poorer districts of a community, where the inhabitants are least able to resist it.'

Resolutions.

Babu Siv Narayan Mukharji.

"'Life' is called in Bengali language 'Jibon' and 'Jibon' also means 'Water.' In a tropical province like Bengal, pure water is a most valuable asset to one's life and Your Excellency is aware of this lamentable fact that many millions of the people on both sides of the Hooghly river are without a filtered water-supply and consequently they are obliged to draw their supply of drinking water from the sacred Bhagirathi.

It is laid down under the Bengal Factories Rules of 1912 that 'the effluent from a septic tank latrine installations shall not be discharged into any river unless—

(a) it is clear, free from fæcal odour and non-putrescible, and nitrification has definitely commenced, and

(b) it has been sterilized by the addition to each gallon of five grains of fresh chlorinated lime.'

It does not require additional arguments to adduce that some sort of precaution has become urgently necessary, having regard to the present dangerously contaminated condition of the water of the Hooghly, whether, as a matter of practice, the requirements under the Factories Rules referred to above are strictly observed. Therefore I move this Resolution for the kind consideration of Your Excellency's Council."

The Hon'ble BABU SIV NARAYAN MUKHARJI said :—

"My Lord, I hold in my hand two copies of the results of chemical and bacteriological examination of unfiltered water of the Ganges recently supplied to the various Municipalities. Bearing, as they do, the signature of the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, these reports assume a character the correctness of which it is impossible to call in question. What we find in them is that the water tested was found to 'contain countless bacteria in ·1 c.c., and showed non-resistant type fæcal bacilli in ·01 c.c., indicating that it contained such a large amount of fæcal pollution, probably derived from human excreta, as to render it dangerous to use it for drinking purposes, unless it has first been filtered or boiled.' 'Neglect of these precautions.' continues the report, 'will expose persons to the risk of contracting cholera, typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhœa and other water-borne diseases,' and conclude with the following warning : 'In every case the attention of the whole population should be called, if necessary by beat of drum, to the present dangerously contaminated condition of the river water.'

It would, I feel sure, be no revelation to the Hon'ble Members if, with Your Lordship's permission, I were to make the assertion that the Ganges adds to its character of usefulness a degree of sanctity in the estimation of the Hindus not unlike that of the Tiber and of the Nile in the pristine days of Rome and Egypt. It supplies drinking water to the inhabitants of all riparian towns and villages. For all culinary and other household purposes its water is generally used not only by people living on its banks, but by men from the interior, who, after immersion in it on auspicious days and festive occasions, carry its water home for purposes of worshipping their household deities. The feeling of gratefulness in the Hindus has at all times found expression in their readiness to deify propitious and ministrant forces of Nature. It is to this spirit that the apotheosis of the Ganges is to be attributed. 'To the simple,' writes Sister Nivedita, 'the Ganges is completely mother! Does she not give life and food? To the pious she is the bestower of purity and as each bather steps into her flood he stoops tenderly to place a little of the water on his head, craving pardon with words of salutation for the touch of his foot.' 'The incomparable Ganges!' exclaims Oscar Browning, 'worthy of all the worship which has been paid to it'. In a truly poetic vein he adds: 'He who has once been conquered by the fascination of its waters will not cease to yearn for them so long as he lives.' I am afraid I shall be repeating a truism when I say that the old law-givers of India were not blind to the part played by water in the human economy, nor to the necessity of preserving its purity. We find in the Institutes of Vishnu the broad general injunction: 'A man must not throw any impure substance into water.'

Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

'Rivers,' according to Dr. Parke, 'are capable of a certain amount of self-purification by natural means.' 'River waters,' writes Sir Pardey Lukis, 'are constantly liable to pollution by men and animals. If it were not for the beneficent purifying work of oxygen, rivers in this country would soon become little more than open sewers.' But a vast sewer the river has become by the discharge into it of the effluents from the septic tanks of about 40 mills in this part of Bengal alone, each mill employing three to four thousand workmen and coolies. We can never believe that the pollution of this sacred river can ever be regarded with equanimity by any Indian, far less by any Hindu gentleman, even if expert opinion had gone to show that the septic tank effluents were chemically pure and bacteriologically innocuous.

Looking back to the genesis of the septic tank movement in this Province we find that at the instance of the Sanitary Board a Committee was appointed in April, 1904, to report on the working of the then existing septic tank installations in the Bengal mills, and on the 'means which should be adopted to render the system efficient and free from objection.' The resolution further directed: 'If discharges into the river is permitted the Committee should report the conditions which they consider necessary in order that this may be done without detriment to the public health.' Now, Sir, the discharge into the river was permitted with the result that, in spite of widespread opposition at the time, mostly on religious, yclept sentimental grounds, and in spite of the apprehension entertained about the effluents from septic tanks proving dangerous for want of proper precautionary measures and sufficient safeguards, the abuse has been allowed to continue for nearly a decade and half till it has reached alarming proportions. I fully understand that this is a strong indictment against septic tank installations; but it is for this Council to determine whether it is well-merited or not. I do not know which of the three systems of septic tank installation mentioned in Messrs. Notter and Firth's excellent treatise on Hygiene is in vogue in the several mills in this Province, but the fact remains that the filtrates or effluents from the several tanks have become highly objectionable from a hygienic and sanitary point of view. In England the Rivers Pollution Acts of 1876 and 1890, prohibit the pollution of any stream or river by allowing crude sewage to flow into it. Here in India, though the system of septic installations has been introduced to prevent pollution, doubts are entertained as to whether complete care is taken to go the whole hog so far as the processes connected with the chemical treatment of sewage are concerned. I have under the circumstances no hesitation in appealing to the benevolent sympathy of Your Lordship's Government, and trust that the revision of the Bengal Factories Rules, 1912, as recommended, will be effected. I have under the circumstances great pleasure in supporting the motion of the Hon'ble Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur."

The Hon'ble SIR NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, the resolution moved by my Hon'ble friend involves two important questions of sanitation: first, the question of the disposal of the sewage, and second, the question of river pollution.

As regards the question of the disposal of sewage by what is called the anaerobic method, most of the authorities are agreed that if that method is followed with proper precautions, sewage might be considerably purified.

Resolutions.

Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

But the method consists of a series of chemical, mechanical and biological processes, each of which requires the constant attention of some competent assistants. Dr. Fowler, who, as we all know, is an expert in these matters, in a paper which he read before the International Congress of Hygiene and Demography in Berlin in 1909, insisted upon three important conditions, amongst others, for the attainment of successful results: first, a particular temperature; second, a particular quantity of water; and third, an efficient condition of the mechanical arrangements. He said also, in connection with temperature, that whereas in the tropics there are in the temperature certain favourable conditions for the early purification of the offensive substances, there is also some source of danger in the high temperature prevailing there; and, as regards water, he insisted upon a minimum quantity of five gallons per head of the users. Then, as regards the effluent, he advocated, as he indicated by experiments, subsequent percolation and filtration; and he said that after four repeatitions of the filtration process of the same liquid, he could reduce the objectionable bacilli from one million to 449 colonies. This shows that even after very careful filtration, they are not altogether removed from the effluent. Then he had to fall back upon chemical antisceptics and he advocated hypochlorites. At that time, he was not whole-hearted in his support as regards the addition of these chemicals for this particular object; he suggested in fact that every effort should be made to produce an effluent by ordinary filtration processes of the highest possible purity. It would be unsafe to assume in the absence of the exact knowledge that the complex effluent imperfectly oxidised by natural agencies could be rendered harmless by the action of hypochlorites. Then he says that the admission of hypochlorite of lime might also have injurious effects on the microscopic or plankton life of the river, the results of which are not easy to foresee.

He insists upon the effluents being produced in properly constructed and properly managed installations, and further their being treated for a period of two hours in an isolation tank before admission to a stream.

His conclusion was :—" Where there is danger of bacterial pollution at the outfall, it is advisable where possible to utilise the effluent for flushing latrines. When the procedure is impossible sterilisation by hypochlorites can be accomplished and if certain precautions are taken no difficulties need arise at the outfall on this account.

It will be admitted that a complicated plant like what is described by Dr. Fowler is likely to go wrong at least in some parts in the course of time; and it requires constant care and attention to keep it in efficient order. Further, nothing like the laborator precision observed by Dr. Fowler could be expected in a big plant installed anywhere.

Now, as regards my second point, viz., that of river pollution, I may be permitted to state that after careful observations I found that the river water is highly polluted particularly in the portion of the river lying between Hooghly and Barrackpur, from which different samples of water were taken and examined bacteriologically during the last fortnight. The examinations showed a very bad state of pollution. In some samples, we could find five hundred colonies of bacilli growing in the course of the 24 hours. There were two of the worst kinds that produce disease. The observations were confined to the particular area, I mean the area extending from Hooghly on one side to Palta on the other. I am perfectly convinced that the water there is unsuitable for drinking purposes, in fact it is dangerous.

As regards the sources of this pollution, there must be many. There was an enquiry held regarding the matter in 1909. I have carefully read Major (now Lieutenant-Colonel) Clemesha's report. I quite agree with him when he attaches the blame to some of the khals and creeks carrying sullage from the interior into the river. I agree also as regards the pollution caused by the boatmen and the brickfield coolies. I do not, however, see how he forgot to say anything. good, bad or indifferent, as regards about eighty septic installations on both sides of the river at that time. Be that as it may, I do not myself say that the septic tanks in the mills are solely responsible for the miserable state of the river at the present time, as there are many other sources of infection. But, at the same time, I believe that it is time that a thorough enquiry should be held into the state of things in this country; and in the meantime, to be on the safe side, where the margin of safety is so slender, I should certainly pray that the effluents of the septic tanks in the mills should be deviated away from the river and used for other purposes. There are various purposes for which this effluent could be utilised. I might mention some of them; at least when the water looks quite pure, it may be safely used for feeding the boilers. I know, of course, the coolies in the mills would object to this; but if the effluent be first allowed to flow into something like a big basin or tank and then it is pumped from the other side of the tank, I think the objection would disappear. Then, it may also be used for irrigation; I admit, however, that this is only possible for eight months in the year. Then again when sufficiently oxidised the effluent need not be very offensive and if it is collected in big tanks, it may form a very good pond for fish culture. That is the biological method adopted in many parts of the world for the disposal of sewage. On a small scale it prevailed in old towns like Dacca, where there were cess-pools in which there were always some big fish growing.

Resolutions.

Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

Then drainage of the riparian area is one of the most important questions that will confront us within a short time.

As regards the tank scheme, it may appear rather strange, but it has been carefully calculated that a tank one acre in area would be sufficient for the sewage of a population of six hundred persons; and if such sewage has been previously subjected to a liquifying process in anaerobic tanks, one such tank should suffice for the sewage of ten times this population. However, these are questions which are to be decided by experts and I can only suggest. The question of river pollution is becoming a very urgent question. and it is my prayer that a Commission be appointed to investigate into the whole thing. I am as much interested in the industrial development of the land as in the public health of the Province; I believe that industrial development and public health must co-operate with one another for the good of the Province, and ultimately for the good of humanity. None of these can be neglected; factories will multiply in the near future. It will not do to say that we do not want to accommodate the factories in the interests of the public health; on the other hand difficult problems of sanitation in connection with factories must be solved, without neglecting important sanitary questions."

[At this stage the Hon'ble Member had to conclude his remarks, he having reached the time-limit.]

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR of Burdwan said :—

"My Lord, at this hour of the day, it is not my intention to detain the Council for very long. But I shall make some general observations on some of the points raised by the speakers at the end of my speech. I should, however, at the very outset say that Government are ready to accept the second amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Member. It is already the duty of the Septic Tank Inspector to inspect septic tanks and latrine installations, and there can be no objection whatever in changing the rule so as to make it clear that this is one of his prescribed duties.

Resolutions.

Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

As regards the first amendment, I am inclined to think that the Hon'ble Mover has perhaps not fully understood the object and scope of the rule, which he has just read out. This rule simply lays down the condition which must be fulfilled and the breach of which renders the occupier and manager of the mill liable to prosecution and punishment. There is no need whatever for the certificate that these conditions are being fulfilled. If the Inspector finds at the time of his inspection that the rule is being observed and that the effluent is clear, odourless and properly sterilized, there is no need for further action. If, on the other hand, he finds that the rule is not being observed, he makes a report and administrative action is then taken. For instance, notices are issued to the mills ordering them to make proper arrangements for the purity of effluent, or the Magistrate is directed to give a warning, or if the mill authorities do not take that warning, a prosecution may be instituted. It will make no difference if the Inspector is required to give a certificate to the effect that the effluent is clear, free from odour and sterilised by chlorination. Such a certificate would not only be superfluous, but might even be positively mischievous, for the mill manager having his certificate might become careless and not see that the effluent is regularly purified. Again, such a certificate might not have a continuing effect. It would only refer to the state of things as the Inspector found them at the time of his visit. It would be no guarantee that the effluent was properly sterilised after his visit. Government, therefore, while sympathising with the object of the Hon'ble Mover, which is to secure the purification of effluent, do not consider the amendment necessary. Government are anxious that there should be no pollution from septic tanks, and while the matter is receiving the close attention of Government they fail to see how the amendment proposed can serve any useful purpose, and on this account they are unable to accept this part of the motion.

Now I wish to turn to certain points raised by the Hon'ble Mover of the resolution as well as subsequent speakers. The Hon'ble Mover very justly points out the present state of the river Bhagirathi near the place where he hails from. On the other hand, in moving this resolution, he has laid more stress on the fact that the present condition of the river water is largely, if not mainly, due to the pollution caused by the septic tanks. Now, my lord, that is not the fact. In reply to an unstarred question by the Hon'ble Siv Narayan Mukharji at this very meeting in which he asked whether such contamination is due mainly, if not largely, to the discharge from the septic installations in the several jute mills on both banks of the river, Government has replied that so far as they are aware they are advised that this is not so. We all know that all along the river banks from Hooghly down to Serampore, there are unfortunately epidemics of cholera. But I would have been a little more cautious if I had been the Chairman of the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality in making this accusation, in view of the fact that it has already been brought to the notice of the Government that the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality, possessing, as it does, a water-works, was unable to work it or worked it in such a way that for the neglect of that alone there was an epidemic of cholera in Hooghly-Chinsura.

My lord, the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar has pointed out in his able speech—to which I shall make some reference later on—that the river water is unsuitable for various reasons. The sources of pollution are many—sullage coming through khals and creeks; due to boatmen, due to coolies working on the brickfields—and all these combine to make the present state of the water of the Bhagirathi undesirable as it is to be found between Barrackpore and Hooghly.

Another thing, Sir, has been mentioned by the Hon'ble Babu Siv Narayan Mukharji. I am sorry, however, my Lord, that I could not follow his speech thoroughly. Evidently the circular which was recently issued by the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, warning the people living on the banks of the Resolutions.

Rai R. C. Pal Bahadur.

Bhagirathi, not to use this dangerously contaminated water, has led to a certain amount of misunderstanding and misapprehension. As I have already said, Government as at present advised do not think that any serious, or, in fact, any contamination is due, to any extent, to the discharge from the septic tanks. That being so, I think the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal was perfectly justified in issuing a circular to these rural municipalities, especially those near the riverside, to warn people against the dangerous condition of the water. It is possible that the language used by him might have been misunderstood by some people, and that the condition of the river having been notified to the people by beat of drums might have caused some unnecessary excitement. Be that, however, as it may, the main point is that while I have already agreed, on behalf of Government, to accept the second part of this motion, I have explained why Government are unable to accept the first part of the motion, and I think it my duty to disabuse the minds of those Hon'ble Members who have spoken on the subject as well as the other members of Your Excellency's Council of the fact that the contamination of the Bhagirathi, although it does exist, is due to other reasons than the septic tanks. We are in a position to say that in certain cases there may have been leakages owing to certain septic tanks not having been properly worked; but it is no doubt that the present condition of the river is due to several causes combined, and not to the septic tanks, as is the general idea that some of the members have got in their minds.

I shall now turn to some of the points raised by the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar. I do not propose to discuss at any length the question he has raised about the Commission or Committee; on the suggestion he has made of utilising the effluent for feeding boilers or for purposes of irrigation or for making fish culture out of the septic effluent. This is a matter which will no doubt receive the attention of Government in due time; but as it is beyond the scope of this resolution, I shall dismiss it for the moment. There is no doubt that the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar can do a great deal with effluents; but at present we have got to keep the septic tanks that we have in proper order; and I may assure the Council that the matter is receiving the closest attention of Government. I hope, therefore, that the Hon'ble Mover of this resolution will accept the proposal made by the Government on the subject."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, I have listened with great interest to the instructive speech of the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar. I find that he has discoursed at length on the subject of river pollution and I believe that my friend—I may be permitted to suggest—will some day bring up a resolution particularly with reference to this matter so that we might press the necessity for the appointment of a Committee.

With reference to this resolution itself, what I find is this, that the Hon'ble Member in charge seems to be disinclined to accept the first part of the resolution. When I came to this Council, I had not a copy of the Factory Rules with me, but I have now got a copy, and I do not know what possible objection there can be to accepting the first part of this resolution. There is a rule, viz., 19 (3) which enjoins that the effluent from a septic tank or latrine shall not be discharged into the river unless certain processes which are given there are gone through. My Hon'ble friend has suggested that there should be an Inspector who shall personally see that it is properly treated before it is discharged into the river. It may be suggested that the mill authorities will look to that, but with regard to that, my lord, I may state that we have got municipal rules in Calcutta which require the owners or occupiers of houses to do certain things and the authorities do not always rely on the assurance of the owners or occupiers on the present case, also I do not think that we should rest content with mill owners' assurances."

The MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN (interrupting) said :—

"My lord, there are Inspectors who inspect septic tanks."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My lord. I know that there are Inspectors, but the object of this amendment is that on every occasion before the contents are discharged into the river, the Inspector should see that they have been properly treated. My lord, it may entail some additional cost, but it will not press very heavily on the rich jute mill owners on both sides of the river. I do not see, therefore, what is the harm in adopting this suggestion. When Government has framed its rule, all we want, on behalf of our community, is that it this process is regularly gone through before the effluent is discharged into the river. Government should not leave it entirely to the mill assistants with casual inspections by the Inspector Your Lordship is perhaps well aware that there is a large volume of public feeling against the installation of septic tanks and the discharge of their effluent to the river. It is an old old cry ; and there is a strong public feeling that many of the diseases, specially the epidemics such as cholera, dysentery, etc., and other waterborne diseases, are due, I do not say mainly but to a large extent, to the discharge from the septic tanks. I know, my lord, that one of the ex-Members of the Executive Council of this Presidency, viz., Raja Kisori Lal Gossain, from his place in the British Indian Association urged upon the attention of Government the necessity of closer attention to this matter, if not the closing or at least the diversion of the contents of septic tanks to the fields. The grievances of the people have been pressed on many occasions on the attention of Government. I hope at least the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, who, although now annexed to the Government, belongs primarily to us, will take the matter into his consideration and will induce the Government to remove this danger to the people by instituting proper control over the septic tank installation until some measure is devised to divert the contents as suggested by the Hon'ble Sir Nilratan Sarkar."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My lord, in moving this resolution I have come forward to represent the grievances of those people who live on the two sides of the river. These are not imaginary grievances which I have put before the Council. Every morning or every evening when people go to bathe in the river they feel this difficulty. These considerations led me to come to Your Excellency's Council and to represent the grievances of the people by submitting a resolution. The resolution is, as I have said, a very modest one. You have Inspectors of Septic Tank Installations. The Inspector is required under the rules to submit a certificate, but then his certificate is simply to the effect—I recently inspected the factory noted above. He goes occasionally, inspects the factories and mills, and submits a report. I wish, my lord, that that certificate should be given before the actual nuisance is committed. I expected that the Government Member in charge, the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, would sympathise with me and allow this, a very modest resolution, to be passed.

Now, so far as the merits of the resolution go, it appears that the resolution only says that an Inspector should carefully see that the requirements of that section, viz., section 19, are complied with and nothing more. It is the duty of the Inspector to do it, and I press upon the consideration of the Government Member in charge, the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, to consider whether these duties should not be performed in the way suggested in my resolution. It is for these reasons that I moved this resolution. There you have the Inspector and you require him to submit a report. Why not do it in such a way that there will be greater control over the working of the septic tanks? Of course, we understand,

Resolutions.

The President; Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur;
Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

my lord, that the Mill Manager or Superintendent inspects the work; but my view was—and I still retain it—that the Government Inspector should actually see that the work was properly done. According to the suggestions made in my resolution, there will be some control over the pollution of the river water. Larger questions have been discussed in the Council, and I am sorry to find that the Chairman of the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality has been rebuked for the neglect of his work. I do admit, my lord, that there has been neglect on the part of the Chairman of the Hooghly-Chinsura Municipality; but in moving this resolution I never expected a review of the work of the Chairman from the Hon'ble Member in charge, because before the water-works were introduced in Hooghly there was an outbreak of cholera. Since the introduction of water-works, I submit, there have been no such epidemics."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN (interrupting) said :—

"That is not a fact. What I said was that even after the introduction of the water-works, owing to the stoppage of water-supply due to some defects in the water-works, cholera broke out."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Member will have an opportunity of replying later on."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR (continuing) said :—

"My lord, I will not deal with this question. The Hon'ble Member will perhaps excuse me for referring to the observations which he made. But whatever it may be, that is the resolution I have submitted before the Council.

As regards the second part of the resolution, I am thankful, my lord, to the Hon'ble Member in charge for his kindly allowing this part to be accepted because it will be of some help. The resolution suggests that the inspection should be made as a matter of course and not as a matter of option. I do not like to waste the time of the Council by discussing further on the merits or to go back upon the remarks which have been made by the Hon'ble Member in charge, and I only pray that this Council will consider the first part of my resolution."

The Hon'ble MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

My lord, I am not quite clear whether the Hon'ble Member wishes to press his resolution. As I have stated, the Government are quite willing to accept the second portion of his resolution, but I should like to make a few observations. I have already said that the attention of Government has been drawn to these septic-tank installations; that the Government are going to give their closest attention to this matter, and that the reason why Government do not wish to accept the first portion is because they think it to be superfluous and that by the acceptance of the wording it might easily be possible for some of the mill-owners to evade the very thing which the Hon'ble Member wished to be rectified.

Now, as regards the rebuke that I am guilty of having given to the Hon'ble Mover, I think that I was justified for the simple reason that the Hon'ble Mover was not only trying to point out to this Council that cholera and other epidemics which unfortunately prevailed in Hooghly and the adjoining places were mainly and solely due to the construction of the septic tanks, but what is more, he wanted to prove that cholera broke out in Hooghly before the water-works came to be installed there; whereas, as a matter of fact, Government have got authoritative opinion that for the water-works not having been properly worked by the Municipality, of which the Hon'ble Member happens to be the Chairman, the Municipality was really responsible for an outbreak of cholera. I think, therefore, that I was perfectly justified, on behalf of Government, in mentioning that matter to the Hon'ble

Resolutions.

The President.

Mover in my speech. Government are quite willing to accept the second portion, as I have already stated."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has explained that Government are quite prepared to act upon the second of the two amendments proposed in his resolution. They are not, however, prepared to act upon the first of the two amendments Two courses are, therefore, open to the Hon'ble Mover—either to withdraw his resolution or else to press his resolution to a division."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"May I be allowed to put the two parts of the resolution separately? If the Government does not accept the second portion, because I press for the first portion, I shall have no other alternative but to withdraw the resolution."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"As I have already mentioned the Government are prepared to act upon the second part and that has been clearly stated. With regard to the first part of the resolution, Government are not prepared to act upon it and I understand that the Hon'ble Mover desires a division to be taken upon it.

I would put it more clearly. If the Hon'ble Mover wishes to take a vote upon the first portion, it will not alter the decision of Government. The Government are prepared to act upon the second part. The only effect, so far as the Government are concerned, of the division will be to decide whether the Council as a whole or a majority of the Council are in favour of acting upon the first portion."

A division was then taken with the following result :—

APPENDIX A.

(Referred to in the Answer to Question No. XXXIX.)

Conference of Presidents of Panchayats and Chairmen of Union Committees.

Dacca, 28th July, 1917.

REPORT OF PROCEEDINGS.

The Conference was convened at the request of many Presidents of Panchayats and Chairmen of Union Committees with the object of discussing various important matters relating to their work. All the Presidents and Chairmen of Dacca District were invited and also such members of Panchayats and Union Committees as expressed a special wish to attend. The Government officers present included the Subdivisional officers and Circle officers of the district, the Director and other officers of the Agricultural Department, and the Deputy Inspector-General and several other Police officers. His Excellency the Governor of Bengal, the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell and Sir Henry Wheeler, Members of the Executive Council, Mr. L. Birley, C.I.E., and Mr. L. S. S. O'Malley, I.C.S., were also present during a part of the proceedings. The total number of persons present is estimated at over 800.

The proceedings were held in a large open godown at the farm-steading of the Government Farm at Manipur, Dacca. Before the ordinary business commenced the Panchayats had been met outside the Farm by the Director and other officers of the Agricultural Department, who conducted them round the Farm explaining the nature and objects of the work in progress.

The Conference opened with a brief speech by the Chairman welcoming the Presidents and thanking them for their invaluable help in the administration of the district. The Chairman also pointed out that time was limited and requested the speakers to be brief, to keep strictly to the point and to base their remarks on their own actual experience.

1. The first resolution was proposed by Babu Lal Mohan Bhattacharjya, President Panchayat and Chairman, Hasara Union, and run thus :—

"It should be permissible for a Union Committee to grant, once a year, a bonus to a dafadar or chaukidar who has rendered specially useful service in connection with Union Committee work. The amount of such bonus should be not less than Rs. 12 and not more than Rs. 30."

The mover said that from his experience of last year's work he found the help of the chaukidars very useful for the supervision of the Union Committee roads and reserved tanks, for the service of notices of meetings and notices of sales of pounds and in many other ways. The formation of Union Committees has increased the work of the chaukidars without giving a corresponding increase in their pay. Chaukidars should therefore get an increment of pay; but this cannot be given from Chaukidari funds. It would, therefore, be a stimulus to Union Committees if they were authorised to grant a bonus to chaukidars who have done useful work for the Committees.

Babu Hara Lal Saha, President Panchayat of Amta Union, supported the resolution but suggested that the fines realised from chaukidars should be utilised for the purpose of rewarding them for their service to Union Committees.

Babu Aswini Kumar Chaudhury, President Panchayat of Harirampur Union, and Rai Saheb Pramatha Nath Ghose, President Panchayat of Jaslong Union, agreed with the President Panchayat of Amta.

Mr. D. M. Sen pointed out that there was some misapprehension in the amendment proposed by the President Panchayat of Amta. He remarked that the Union Committee fund was quite separate from the Chaukidari Reward Fund, which is maintained from the fines of chaukidars.

The general feeling was in favour of the resolution as drafted.

2. The second resolution was proposed by Babu Debendra Kumar Bose, President Panchayat and Chairman of Union Committee at Dhipur, and was as follows :—

"That when necessary a clerk should be appointed to assist the Chairman in the work of the Union Committee and the President in the work of the Panchayat; that the pay of the clerk should not exceed Rs. 10 per month and should be met from (1) any grant given by Government for that purpose, (2) the funds of the Union Committee."

The mover began by saying that the double functions of Chairman and President have increased the clerical work in a Union. The Chairman is required to correspond frequently with the District Board, to regulate the office work of the Union Committee according to the Circulars and orders received from the D. B., to check accounts, etc., while as President he has to regularly keep notes of processes served, to report the result of local enquiries under section 202, Criminal Procedure Code, to compile jute forecasts, etc. All this work certainly makes a clerk necessary. He proposed that in all Unions where Union Committees have been established one-third of the clerk's pay should be met from Union Committee funds and the balance should be provided by Government and that in those Unions where there are no Union Committees the whole may be met by Government. The resolution was supported by Babu Prakash Chandra Gupta, Member of the Jinardi Union Committee.

Rai P. M. Basu Bahadur, President Panchayat and Chairman of Betka Union, suggested that the pay of the clerk should be at least Rs. 20, which would enable a really good man to be engaged and his services should be utilised as Tehsil Panchayat. He added that a bad or inferior man would be only a source of trouble to the Chairman.

Rai Sahib Pramatha Nath Ghose suggested Rs. 15 as the pay of the post and objected to the transfer of the work to the Tehsil Panchayat and to the abolition of the post of Tehsil Panchayat.

Babu Jogesh Chandra Sen supported Rai P. M. Basu Bahadur's proposal but suggested Rs. 15 as the pay of the post.

Babu Man Mohan Chakravarty, President Panchayat of Bahar, objected to the Tehsil Panchayat being paid a fixed salary instead of commission.

Babu Nishi Kanta Mukherji remarked that Rs. 10 to Rs. 15 ought to be sufficient as men are available in villages on this pay, e.g., Postmasters. He added that the clerk should be altogether separate from the Tehsil Panchayat.

Mr. S. G. Hart, Chairman of the Conference, said that after consulting the opinion of the various Committees as to local conditions the most fitting arrangements could be made. There would be no need for hard-and-fast rules.

3. The third resolution was proposed by Babu Lal Mohan Bose, President and Chairman of the Union Committee, Rajanagar, viz. :—

"That section 22 of the Chaukidari Act should be amended by inserting after the words 'ten per cent.,' the words 'or with the sanction of the District Magistrate not exceeding 12½ per cent.'"

The mover said that in realising Chaukidari tax the Tehsil Panchayat has to visit every rate-payer's house and has to devote almost his whole time and attention to the work. It is the practice in villages that rate-payers never go to the Tehsil Panchayat's house to pay their taxes. But indiscriminate issue of distress warrants in every case of default would cause great hardship to poor people who are generally ignorant of law and procedure. Ten per cent. on the collections is rather low remuneration for the whole time services of a Tehsil Panchayat. He proposed that the present legal maximum should be raised to 12½ per cent. with a reservation that this extra 2½ per cent. may be granted in Unions where the collection is over 97 per cent. of the assessment.

Rai Saheb P. M. Ghose, President Panchayat of Jaslong Union supported the resolution.

The feeling of the meeting was strongly in favour of increasing the remuneration of the Tehsil Panchayat.

4. The fourth resolution was proposed by Babu Kali Kumar Banerjee, President Panchayat and Chairman of Union Committee at Baherak :—

"Panchayats should uniformly adopt the principle of first making a list of all persons in the Union who can afford Re. 1 a month and levying the balance from the remaining assessees proportionately to their income and property within the Union."

The mover remarked that in order to make a fair assessment, it is desirable to have an accurate account of the circumstances and property to be protected of all persons in the Union and in order that the wealthier people may be assessed according to their circumstances and that the poorer people may get equitable relief, the principle should be followed of first ascertaining the people who are most well-to-do or who pay income-tax and then assessing the remaining residents according to their circumstances.

Rai Saheb P. M. Ghose proposed an amendment that as the law provides that every one who is able to pay half an anna per month should be taxed, the assessment list should be prepared by first ascertaining who can pay half an anna per month and then proceeding upwards ending with the wealthiest persons.

Mr. D. M. Sen, Subdivisional Officer, North Sadar, pointed out that under the Local Self-Government Act the Committee can impose assessment up to Rs. 60 per annum and that there is a likelihood of the maximum assessment under the Chaukidari Act also being enhanced.

Appendix.

5. The fifth resolution ran thus :—

"That cordial co-operation between the Police and the Panchayats being essential to good district administration, it should be ordered that, though the Panchayats should be the eyes and ears of the Police, they are not to be treated as subordinates but as fellow-workers for the common good and the Thana officer should be their friend and guide."

The resolution was proposed by Babu Nripati Ranjan Ray, Chairman of Subhadya Union Committee, who said that the Police are necessary for preserving peace in the country but the proportion of Police officers to the population in Bengal is only 1 per 2,000. Unless the Panchayats, as representatives of the people, co-operate with the Police, it is impossible for the Police to detect criminals and to preserve the peace. If the Panchayats work as the eyes and ears of the Police then only can the Police preserve peace in the country. He added that Police officers are brothers, friends and kinsmen and there will be no real co-operation if the Panchayats keep aloof from the Police. He also said that co-operation did not mean subordination. Police officers are public servants and are bound to s rve the public. They, on their part, ought to be grateful for the great help they receive from the Panchayats.

Maulvi S. Siddiq, President Panchayat of Atabo, supported the resolution saying that the common object both of the Police and of the Panchayat is the same and as it is impossible for a Sub-Inspector to have full information concerning everything in his vast elaka it is incumbent on the Panchayat to co-operate with the Police.

Rai Saheb P. N. Ghose supported the resolution. Babu Hara Lal Saha, President Panchayat of Amta, objected to the word "guide" in the resolution as being inconsistent with the first part of the resolution which says that the Police are to co-operate with the Panchayats.

Mr. S. G. Hart, as Chairman of the Conference, remarked that Panchayats have not the same experience and are laymen in the work in which Police officers should be considered as experts as they devote to that work the whole of their time and thought. It is therefore right that Panchayats should look to the local Police officers for guidance.

6. The President Panchayat and Chairman of Tetuljhora Union proposed the sixth resolution, viz. :—

"That the functions of the Panchayat and of the Union Committee should be combined in a single body of which the majority of the members should be elected."

The mover remarked that with the amalgamation the collection work would be combined in the same person which will accelerate the collection both of Chaukidari and of Union Committee taxes. It would also enable the Committee to allot to such member a separate area, like a Headman's area, in which he would be responsible for all work connected with roads, wells, etc. The work of the Union Committee would thus be divided among the members instead of it being all done by one or two men. Panchayats have not been elected heretofore, and one advantage of amlagamation would be that the majority of the Panchayats would be elected by the people. Another effect would be that the chaukidar would work under one person only, which is impossible where the President Panchayat and Chairman are two separate persons.

Babu T. C. Chakravarty of Saturia in supporting the resolution remarked that amalgamation would obviate the friction which will be inevitable with two separate bodies in the same Union.

The resolution was unanimously accepted.

7. Rai Saheb Pramatha Nath Ghose, President Panchayat of Jaslon Union, proposed the seventh resolution, viz. :—

"That Panchayats should be invested with power to try petty civil and criminal cases, provided that such powers should not be exercised unless a quorum of at least three members is present."

The mover advocated the system of Village Courts and said that unless more power is given to Panchayats they are practically useless."

Babu A. K. Chaudhury, President Panchayat of Harinarayanpur, supporting the resolution said that by local trial of cases expenses will be reduced and touts will be deprived of opportunities of mischievous interference. The Panchayats will be well acquainted with the parties and with the touts; so it will be easy for them to find out the truth. The mover also suggested the conferment of powers on Panchayats to try civil suits up to the value of Rs. 50.

Babu Debendra Kumar Bose supported the resolution.

Babu Jogendra Nath Banerjee, President Panchayat of Aralia Union, supported the resolution and suggested that no Pleaders or Mukteers should be allowed to appear in Village Courts.

Appendix.

Rai Saheb Pramatha Nath Ghose remarked that Pleaders and Mukteara must be allowed to appear as all accused persons should be given an opportunity of defending themselves.

The feeling of the meeting was strongly in favour of the establishment of Village Courts.

8. Rai Saheb Behari Lal Dhar, President of Matuail Union, proposed the eighth resolution :—

"That Panchayats should be empowered to order persons to remove water-hyacinth from waterways passing through or by the side of their land; on their failure, to have the work done, and realise the cost from the defaulters."

The Rai Saheb described vividly the troubles caused by these aquatic weeds and the damage done to the crops and to the fish. He advocated legislation on the above lines which he thought should be widened by inserting after the word "land", the words "or from beels in their possession", and the words "or from the person in possession or any one or more of the co-sharers in joint possession of the beel" after the word "defaulters."

The resolution was supported by Babu Nishi Kanta Mukherjee, President Panchayat and Chairman Autshahi Union. He deprecated the present dilatory methods of law courts in combating the nuisance and urged legislation empowering Panchayats to get the nuisance removed by the owners themselves.

Rai R. C. Guha Bahadur proposed an amendment to the effect that the khals by the sides of District Board and Local Board roads should be cleared by the District Board or Local Board.

Rai Saheb P. N. Ghose, while supporting the resolution, remarked that all Kachuri (water-hyacinth) throughout the district should be cleared on one particular day, just as the census is taken, otherwise if any village is cleared one day, the next day it will be choked with Kachuri brought in from neighbouring villages.

Babu Jogesh Chandra Sen remarked that the work might very well be done by volunteers.

Mr. S. G. Hart, Chairman of the Conference, agreed with Rai Saheb P. N. Ghose and said he looked forward to a time when there would be a day set apart for clearing Kachuri which would be called the Kachuri Day, like May Day, Arbor Day and other annual festivals, and on that day school-boys, officers, and every one would take a holiday from their ordinary pursuits and all join together in clearing away every particle of water-hyacinth from the pools and streams.

9. Resolution :—

"That one model Lower Primary school for boys and another for girls should be established in every Union in the district."

This was proposed by Munshi Abdul Rahman Bhuyan, who remarked that as the majority of the cultivating class are illiterate some provision for education should be made in every Union on the lines of this resolution.

Babu Girija Kanta Mazumdar, President Panchayat of Kolia Union, supported the resolution.

10. Munshi Ahmed Ali, President Panchayat, Kalagachia, proposed—"That in consideration of the large amount of time involved in compiling statistics for jute forecasts, Government should be moved to sanction an annual grant of Rs. 5 to each Union in jute-growing areas."

In moving the resolution Munshi Ahmed Ali stated that the compilation of the jute forecast involves at least ten days' hard labour on the part of the Panchayats and they should be given some pecuniary consideration for this serious loss of time.

11. Resolution :—

"That where a public thoroughfare has, by omission, not been entered as such in the Settlement Record, it is advisable that the Union Committee should record a resolution declaring the pathway to be, by established user, a public thoroughfare and should then take steps to reclaim and preserve it."

This resolution was proposed by Rai Pyari Mohan Basu Bahadur, President and Chairman, Betka Union, who, in doing so, remarked that the Settlement Department has shown in the cadastral maps only some of the more important pathways and that there have been many omissions. In cases of omission the Union Committee should be empowered to reclaim the paths, this being specially necessary in Munshiganj subdivision.

Appendix.

He suggested that any such halot (pathway) should be demarcated by iron pegs after a resolution has been passed by the Union Committee declaring it to be a public thoroughfare.

Mr. S. G. Hart remarked that it is well known and admitted by the Settlement Department that many public thoroughfares have not been recorded in the Settlement maps and records. If a formal resolution is passed by a Union Committee to the effect that a certain pathway is by established user a public thoroughfare, this will help very materially to establish the fact for practical and even for legal purposes.

12. Resolution :—

"That Union Committees should be empowered to pass bye-laws to enforce the clearing of jungle and the cutting of branches of trees overhanging public paths and waterways."

This resolution was proposed by Rai Ramesh Chandra Guha Bahadur, President and Chairman, Bajrajogini. In doing so he remarked that the prevalence of overhanging branches and of Mander trees has gradually narrowed the village roads and pathways till they have become almost impassable and shrouded in darkness even at midday. In some places this has become a serious nuisance and Union Committees should be authorised to clear jungle and overhanging branches and to pass bye-laws for that object.

13. Resolution :—

Proposed by Babu Rajendra Kumar Datta, President Panchayat and Chairman, Fatulla: "That when sending a criminal case to a member of a Panchayat for local enquiry it should be permissible for the Magistrate to order what amount, if any, should be paid to meet the Panchayat's actual travelling expenses, the payment being made to the Panchayat through the Court.

The mover remarked that President Panchayats are doing their honorary duties at the sacrifice of much time and labour and if the expenses of going out to make local enquiries have to be met by them it becomes a serious hardship especially to the more capable Presidents to whom more enquiries are entrusted. He suggested that at the time of ordering a preliminary enquiry the Court should estimate the cost and order the parties to deposit that amount.

The resolution was supported by Babu Kulada Kinkar Bhoumik, President Panchayat of Gala.

Babu Kali Kumar Banerjee, President of Beherak Union, remarked that his practice, when making enquiries, is to use boats supplied by the parties, usually the plaintiff. He suggested that a mileage allowance should be given to the Presidents during the rains.

Babu Aswini Kumar Chaudhury, President of Harirampur, suggested that whenever a case is sent to a President for enquiry the parties should deposit Rs. 3 as preliminary costs.

The general feeling of the Conference was that the actual expenses incurred by Panchayats in making magisterial enquiries should be recouped.

14. Resolution :—

"That the Madaripur system of whole-time dafadars should be extended to Dacca district."

This was proposed by Mr. J. N. Banerjee, President of Joydebpur, who strongly urged the introduction of the dafadari system on the lines followed in Madaripur, where it has been a great success. He added that the increased power of the dafadar would need be accompanied by increased powers for the Presidents which are very urgently wanted.

Babu Srish Chandra Choudhury, President of Nawabganj Union, suggested that poor gentlemen living in the village may be appointed dafadars and also that the name dafadar may be changed.

Some one in the audience urged that dafadars' pay should not be increased as this would make the chaukidari tax still more heavy. On Mr. J. N. Banerjee's explaining that half the increased pay of the dafadars would be met by Government, the resolution was carried unanimously.

15. Resolution :—

Proposed by Babu Jatindra Nath Chakravarty Bidyabhusan, President Panchayat of Suapur. "That under the control of the thana Police and the supervision of the Panchayat working in co-operation, the system of patrolling by chaukidars should be made more effective. Chaukidars should be provided with up-to-date lists of all the Dagis and bad characters in their own and all the adjoining Unions (including Unions of other thanas). Every night they should go round their beats and take special care to look up persons of bad or doubtful character and watch their doings on dark nights. The dafadars should be provided with bull's eye lanterns instead of ordinary hurricane lanterns."

Appendix.

The mover remarked that in his Union by the system of patrolling described in the resolution he had detected and caught red-handed many criminals. He added that hurricane lanterns supplied to dafadars are not suitable for patrolling as they scare away the bad characters who take precautions when they see the light. Bull's eye lanterns are required for night-patrol work.

16. Rai Ramesh Chandra Guha Bahadur, President and Chairman of Bajrajogini Union, in a forcible speech urged that at present great difficulty is experienced in realising taxes from persons who lock up their houses. Most of the well-to-do people of Munshiganj Subdivision live away from their villages in the pursuit of their avocation. Being well off they cannot be exempted from taxation. They make no provision for the payment of their taxes but lock up their houses ; and even though there is moveable property within, it cannot be distrained for the realisation of the taxes. The result is a deficiency in the Union Chaukidari fund which has to be met from the pocket of the President Panchayat, which is most unfair. The trouble arises from the fact that there is no provision in the law for the realisation of taxes of assessees who lock up their houses.

The speaker moved the following resolution : That a new section to be numbered 27A, should be inserted in the Chaukidari Act to the following effect :—

"On receipt of a report attested by the collecting member and the President of Panchayat that the moveable property of any defaulting absentee cannot be distrained except by breaking open the house of the defaulter, the District Magistrate or the Subdivisional officer may issue an order, authorising the President for that purpose, to break open or cause to be broken open, in his presence, any door or window of the house."

Rai Saheb Pramatha Nath Ghose suggested that the certificate procedure might be followed in such cases.

Babu Lal Mohan Bose, President of Rajnagar, suggested that the procedure sanctioned by the Municipal Law for realising arrear taxes should be followed.

The general feeling of the Conference was strongly in favour of action to enforce payment of taxes by absentee defaulters.

17. Proposed by Lalit Mohan Sen, President of Aminpur : "That a section should be inserted in the Local Self-Government Act enabling a Union Committee to elect one of its members to be Vice-Chairman."

The mover pointed out that there is provision for a Vice-Chairman in all other local authorities, such as Municipalities, District Boards or Local Boards. Nowadays when the Chairman is absent from the Union for some time the work of the Committee comes to a standstill and nothing can be done until the Chairman returns.

This closed the discussion.

18. Mr. Milligan, Director of Agriculture, then addressed the meeting thanking the Presidents for their help in popularising the new varieties of paddy and jute which the Department is introducing. Mr. Milligan clearly explained the system by which it is hoped to effect the distribution of seed of the new varieties into every Union, every village and every field where the conditions are suitable.

At the Director's request many of the Panchayats rose and testified to the excellent results obtained in their Unions from seed supplied by the Agricultural Department.

19. His Excellency the Governor then arrived and addressed a cordial speech of encouragement to the Presidents.

20. The Conference then dispersed, many of the members on their way taking the opportunity to further examine the experiments and demonstrations in progress on the Government Farm.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 5th September 1918:—

NO. 17 OF 1918.

A Bill to provide that marriages between Hindus of different castes are valid.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide that marriages between Hindus of different castes are valid; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may called the Hindu M riages Validity Act, 191 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British Indi

Marriages between Hindus of different castes not to be invalid

2. No marriage among Hindus shall be inva by reason that the part thereto do not belong the same caste, any c tom or any interpretati of Hindu law to the contrary notwithstanding.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the Hindu law as interpreted, marriages between Hindus of different castes are held illegal. This interpretation, besides being open to question, has caused serious hardship in individual cases and is calculated to retard the progress of the community. The Bill, therefore, seeks to provide that such marriages shall not be invalid.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council on the 4th September 1918 :—

No. 14 OF 1918.

A Bill further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Provincial Insolvency (Amendment) Act, 191 .

Amendment of section 2, Act III of 1907.

2. In section 2, sub-section (1), of the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following amendments shall be made, namely :—

(i) the definition of "available act of insolvency" shall be omitted ;

(ii) to the definition of "property" the following words shall be added "but does not include property held on trust for any other person ;" and

(iii) the following definition shall be added, namely :—

"(h) 'transfer of property' includes a transfer of any interest therein and any charge created thereon."

Insertion of new section 3-A in Act III of 1907.

3. After section 3 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Power of Court to decide all questions arising in insolvency.

"3-A. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Court shall have full power to decide all questions of priorities and all other questions whatsoever, whether of law or of fact, which may arise in any case of insolvency coming within the cognisance of the Court, or which the Court may deem expedient or necessary to decide for the purpose of doing complete justice or making a complete distribution of property in any such case."

Substitution of new sections for section 6, Act of 1907.

4. For section 6 of the said Act the following sections shall be substituted, namely :—

Exemption of corporation, etc., from insolvency proceedings.

"6-A. No insolvency petition shall be presented against any corporation or against any association or company registered under any enactment for the time being in force.

Conditions on which creditor may petition.

6-B. (1) A creditor shall not be entitled to present an insolvency petition against a debtor unless—

(a) the debt owing by the debtor to the creditor, or, if two or more creditors join in the petition, the aggregate amount of debts owing to such creditors amounts to five hundred rupees, and

(b) the debt is a liquidated sum payable either immediately or at some certain future time, and

(c) the act of insolvency on which the petition is grounded has occurred within three months before the presentation of the petition.

(2) If the petitioning creditor is a secured creditor, he shall in his petition either state that he is willing to relinquish his security for the benefit of the creditors in the event of the debtor being adjudged insolvent, or give an estimate of the value of the security. In the latter case he may be admitted as a petitioning creditor to the extent of the balance of the debt due to him after deducting the value so estimated in the same way as if he were an unsecured creditor.

Conditions on which debtor may petition.

6-C A debtor shall not be entitled to present an insolvency petition unless—

(a) his debts amount to five hundred rupees ; or

(b) he has been arrested or imprisoned in execution of the decree of any Court for the payment of money ; or

(c) an order of attachment in execution of such a decree has been made, and is subsisting, against his property :

Provided that a debtor in respect of whom an order of adjudication made under this Act has been annulled, owing to his failure to apply, or to prosecute an application for his discharge, shall not be entitled to present an insolvency petition without the leave of the Court by which the order of adjudication was annulled. Such Court shall not grant leave unless it is satisfied that the petition is founded on substantially different facts from those contained in the petition on which the order of adjudication was made.

Court to which petition shall be presented.

6-D. Every insolvency petition shall be presented to a Court having jurisdiction under this Act in any local area in which the debtor ordinarily resides or carries on business, or personally works for gain, or if he has been arrested or imprisoned where he is in custody :

Provided that no objection as to the place of presentment shall be allowed by any appellate or revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the Court by which the petition was heard at the earliest possible opportunity, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice.

Verification of, and procedure for, admission of petition.

6-E. Every insolvency petition shall be in writing, and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for signing and verifying plaints, and the procedure laid down by the said Code with respect to the admission of plaints shall, so far as it is applicable, be followed in the case of such petitions." V of 19[illegible]

Amendment of section 10, Act III of 1907.

5. In section 10 of the said Act, for the words "if he were alive," the words "far as may be necessary for the realization and distribution of the property of the debtor," shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 11, Act III of 1907.

6. To section 11, sub-section (1) of the said Act, the following clauses shall be added, namely :—

"(f) A statement whether the debtor has on any previous occasion filed a petition to be adjudged an insolvent, and—

(i) if such petition has been dismissed, the reasons for such dismissal, or

(ii) if the debtor has been adjudged an insolvent, concise particulars of the insolvency including a statement whether any previous adjudication has been annulled owing to his failure to apply, or to prosecute an application for his discharge."

Amendment of section 12, Act III of 1907.

7. In section 12 of the said Act, after sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :—

[16. of "(4) The Court, when making an order under sub-section (1) shall, unless for reasons to be recorded in writing it otherwise directs, appoint an interim receiver of the property of the debtor, or of any part thereof, and may direct him to take immediate possession thereof or any part thereof, and the interim receiver shall thereupon have such of the powers conferable on a receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as the Court may direct. If an interim receiver is not so appointed, the Court may, at any subsequent time before adjudication, likewise appoint an interim receiver of the property of the debtor or any part thereof, and the provisions of this sub-section shall apply accordingly."

Amendment of section 13, Act III of 1907.

8. In section 13 of the said Act, clause (2) shall be omitted, and in the proviso to the said section, the word and figure "clause (2)" shall also be omitted.

Amendment of section 14, Act III of 1907.

9. In section 14, sub-section (1), of the said Act, the word "and" where it occurs at the end of clause (b) of that sub-section shall be omitted, and after clause (c) the following clause shall be added, namely :—

"(d) in the case of a petition presented by a debtor that he is unable to pay his debts."

Amendment of section 15, Act III of 1907.

10. (1) In section 15, sub-section (1), of the said Act for the words "Where the Court" the words "In the case of a petition presented by a creditor, where the Court" shall be prefixed.

(2) After sub-section (1) of the same section, the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :—

"(1A). In the case of a petition presented by a debtor, the Court shall dismiss the petition—

(i) where the Court is not satisfied with the proof of the right to present the petition, or of the fact that the debtor is unable to pay his debts, and

(ii) where the Court is satisfied that the petition is grounded on substantially the same facts as were the grounds for a previous petition by the debtor leading to an order of adjudication which was annulled owing to his failure to apply, or to prosecute an application, for his discharge."

Amendment of section 16, Act III of 1907.

11. In section 16 of the said Act, the following amendments shall be made, namely :—

(1) In sub-section (1) the words "and the debtor is unable to propose any composition or scheme which shall be accepted by the creditors and approved by the Court in the manner hereinafter provided" shall be omitted, and after the word "adjudication," the following words shall be added, namely :—" and shall specify in such order the period within which the debtor shall apply for his discharge."

(2) In sub-section (2), the following words, namely :—" and (b) the insolvent, if in prison for debt, shall be released"; and "or person" shall be omitted.

(3) In sub-section (7) after the word "adjudication," where that word occurs for the second time, the words "the period within which the debtor shall apply for his discharge" shall be inserted.

(4) After sub-section (7) the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :—

"(8) The Court may, if sufficient cause is shown, extend the period within which the debtor shall apply for his discharge."

Insertion of new section 16-A., Act III of 1907.

12. After section 16 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Protection order

"16-A. (1) Any insolvent in respect of whom an order of adjudication has been made may apply to the Court for protection, and the Court may on such application make an order for the protection of the insolvent from arrest or detention. [Cf. s. 25 Act III of 1909.]

(2) A protection order may apply either to all the debts of the debtor, or to any of them as the Court may think proper, and may commence and take effect at and for such time as the Court may direct, and may be revoked or renewed as the Court may think fit.

(3) A protection order shall protect the insolvent from being arrested or detained in prison for any debt to which such order applies, and any insolvent arrested or detained contrary to the terms of such an order shall be entitled to his release :

Provided that no such order shall operate to prejudice the rights of any creditor in the event of such order being revoked or the adjudication annulled.

(4) Any creditor shall be entitled to appear and oppose the grant of a protection order."

Amendment of section 24, Act III of 1907.

13. In sub-section (1) of section 24 of the said Act, for the words "All persons" the words "When an order of adjudication has been made under this Act, all persons" shall be substituted ;

And in sub-section (3) of the same section, after the words "other creditors" the words "who have proved their debts" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 27, Act III of 1907.

14. In section 27 of the said Act the following amendments shall be made, namely :—

(1) In sub-section (1) the words "whether before or" shall be omitted. [Cf. s. 28 (1), Act III of 1909.]

(2) In sub-section (7) the words and brackets "(if any)" shall be omitted.

(3) In sub-section (8) for the word "adjudge" the word "readjudge" and for the word "adjudged" the word "readjudged" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 34, Act III of 1907.

15. To section 34, sub-section (1), the following shall be added, namely :—

"and before he had notice of the presentation of any insolvency petition by or against the debtor."

Amendment of section 37, Act III of 1907.

16. In section 37, sub-section (1), the words "or of any interest therein" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 38, Act III of 1907.

17. In the proviso to section 38 after the word "adjudication" the words "and is boná fide" shall be added.

Amendment of section 43, Act III of 1907.

18. In section 43 of the said Act, the following amendments shall be made, namely :—

(1) In sub-section (1) after the word "debtor" the words "on the making of an order under section 12 (1) and" shall be inserted ; and for the words "give such aid in the realisation of his property and the distribution of the proceeds among his creditors" the words "do all such acts and things in relation to his property" shall be substituted.

(2) For sub-section (2) the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely :—

"(2) A debtor shall, if adjudged insolvent, aid to the utmost of his power in the realisation of his property and the distribution of the proceeds among his creditors."

Insertion of new sections 43A, 43B, and 43C in Act III of 1907.

19. After section 43 of the said Act the following sections shall be inserted, namely :—

Offences by debtor.

"43A. If a debtor whether before or after the making of an order of adjudication,

(a) wilfully fails to perform the duties imposed on him by section 43, or to deliver up possession of any part of his property which is divisible among his creditors under this Act, and which is for the time being in his possession or under his control to the Court or to any person authorised by the Court to take possession of it, or

(b) fraudulently with intent to conceal the state of his affairs or to defeat the objects of this Act,

(i) has destroyed or otherwise wilfully prevented or purposely withheld the production of any document relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under this Act, or

(ii) has kept or caused to be kept false books, or

(iii) has made false entries in or withheld entries from or wilfully altered or falsified any document relating to such of his affairs as are subject to investigation under this Act, or

(c) fraudulently with intent to diminish the sum to be divided among his creditors or of giving an undue preference to any of his creditors,—

(i) has discharged or concealed any debt due to or from him, or

(ii) has made away with, charged, mortgaged or concealed any part of his property of what kind soever, he shall be punishable on conviction by the Court with imprisonment which may extend to one year.

Procedure on charge under section 43.

43-B. (1) Where the Court is satisfied that there is ground for inquiring into any offence referred to in section 43A, the Court shall direct that a notice be served on the debtor in the manner prescribed in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for service of a summons, calling on him to show cause why a charge or charges should not be framed against him.

(2) The notice shall set forth the substance of the offence, and any number of offences may be set forth in the same notice.

(3) At the hearing of such notice and of any charge framed in pursuance thereof, the Court shall, so far as may be, follow the procedure for the trial of warrant cases by Magistrates prescribed by Chapter XXI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and nothing in Chapter XXIII of the said Code relating to trials before High Courts and Courts of Session shall be applicable to such trial.

(4) Any number of offences under this section may be charged at the same time.

Criminal liability after discharge or composition.

43 C. Where an insolvent has been guilty of any of the offences specified in section 43-A he shall not be exempt from being proceeded against therefor by reason that he has obtained his discharge or that a composition or scheme of arrangement has been accepted or approved."

Amendment of section 44, Act III of 1907.

20. In section 44, sub-section (1), of the said Act, after the word "adjudication," the words "and shall within the time appointed by the Court" shall be inserted, and after sub-section (5) of the said section, the following sub-sections shall be inserted, namely :—

"(6) If the debtor does not appear on the day fixed for hearing his application for discharge or on such subsequent day as the Court may direct, or if the debtor does not apply for an order of discharge within the time appointed by the Court, the order of adjudication shall be annulled, and the provisions of section 42 (2) and (3) shall apply accordingly.

(7) Where a debtor has been released from custody under the provisions of this Act, and the order of adjudication is annulled under sub-section (6), the Court may, if it thinks fit, re-commit the debtor to his former custody, and the jailor or keeper of the prison to whose custody such debtor is so re-committed shall receive such debtor into his custody according to such re-commitment, and thereupon all processes which were in force against the person of such debtor at the time of such release as aforesaid shall be deemed to be still in force against him as if such order had not been made"

Amendment of section 45, Act III of 1907.

21. In section 45, sub-section (1) of the said Act, after clause (c) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(d) any liability under an order for maintenance made under section 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898."

Amendment of section 46, Act III of 1907.

22. In sub-section (1) of section 46, after the words "aggrieved by" the words "a decision come to or" shall be inserted;

And in sub-section (2) of the same section after the words "aggrieved by" the words "a decision come to by the District Court in the exercise of powers conferred by section 3-A, or" shall be inserted; and for the figures and word "48, sub-section (2)" the figures and letter "48 A" shall be substituted.

Substitution of new section for section 48, Act III of 1907.

23. For section 48 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

Summary administration.

"48 When a petition is presented by or against a debtor, if the Court is satisfied by affidavit or otherwise that the property of the debtor is not likely to exceed in value two hundred rupees, the Court may make an order that the debtor's estate be administered in a summary manner, and thereupon the provisions of this Act shall be subject to the following modifications:—

(i) unless the Court otherwise directs, no notice required under this Act shall be published in the local official gazette;

(ii) on the admission of a petition by a debtor, the property of the debtor shall vest in the Court as a receiver;

(iii) at the hearing of the petition, the Court shall inquire into the debts and assets of the debtor and determine the same by order in writing, and it shall not be necessary to frame a schedule under the provisions of section 24;

(iv) the property of the debtor shall be realised with all reasonable despatch and, thereafter, when practicable, distributed in a single dividend;

(v) the debtor shall apply for his discharge within six months from the date of adjudication; and

(vi) such other modifications as may be prescribed with the view of saving expense and simplifying procedure:

Provided that the Court may at any time direct that the ordinary procedure provided for in this Act shall be followed in regard to the debtor's estate, and thereafter the Act shall have effect accordingly."

Insertion of new section after section 53, Act III of 1907.

24. After section 53 of the said Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—

Disqualifications of insolvent.

"53A. (1 Where a debtor is adjudged or re-adjudged insolvent under this Act, he shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be disqualified from—

(a) being appointed or acting as a Magistrate;

(b) being elected to any office of any local authority where the appointment to such office is by election, or holding or exercising any such office to which no salary is attached; and

(c) being elected or sitting or voting as a member of any local authority.

(2) The disqualifications which an insolvent is subject to under this section shall be removed and shall cease if—

(a) the order of adjudication is annulled under sub-section (1) of section 42 of this Act, or

(b) he obtains from the Court an order of discharge, whether absolute or conditional, with a certificate that his bankruptcy was caused by misfortune without any misconduct on his part.

The Court may grant or refuse such certificate as it thinks fit, but any order of refusal shall be subject to appeal"

Repeal of certain words in sections 12, 27 and 44, Act III of 1907.

25. The words "by publication in the local official gazette and" and the word "other" where they occur in section 12, sub-section (2), section 27, sub-section (1) and section 44, sub-section (1), shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907 (III of 1907), which contains the law of Insolvency in force in British India outside the Presidency-towns and the town of Rangoon. The Act came into force on the 1st January, 1908, and since then with the exception of a few unimportant amendments made in 1914, it has not been amended. Ten years' experience of the practical working of the Act has brought to light many defects which have from time to time provoked criticism from most of the Local Governments and not a few of the Judges who have had to administer its provisions. Numerous suggestions for the amendment of the Act on various points have also been received from time to time from the commercial communities and members of the legal profession.

2 The chief indictment of the Act is that it lends itself to the protection of fraudulent debtors, that it subjects an undischarged insolvent to little or no practical inconvenience, and that its provisions for the punishment of fraudulent insolvents are not effective in practice.

3. One of the principal defects in the existing law arises from the fact that the conduct of the debtor in many cases never comes under the scrutiny of the Court. The stage at which the misconduct of the debtor should come before the Court, and at which most of the provisions affecting a fraudulent insolvent would operate, is when he applies for his discharge. But there is nothing in the Act which requires him to apply for his discharge, and in practice such applications are rare. To remedy this unsatisfactory state of the law, it is proposed to include in the Act provisions which will compel an insolvent to apply to the Court within a prescribed period for his discharge, or to lose the protection afforded by the insolvency proceedings. The Court will have power to extend the prescribed period and, when the adjudication order is annulled owing to the failure of the insolvent to apply in time for his discharge, a fresh petition on the same facts will be barred. These proposed changes are effected by the proviso to proposed new section 6C in clause 4 of the Bill, new sub-section (1A) (ii) in clause 10, the amendments in clause 11 (1), (3) and (4), and the amendments in clause 20.

4. It is now settled law that under the Act, as it stands, it is not open to the Court to reject the petition of a debtor on the ground that the application is an abuse of the law. While admitting that the object of an insolvency law is to deal with all insolvents, whether honest or not, and that no applicant who is in fact insolvent should be liable to have his petition dismissed in limine, it seems reasonable that the Court should have discretion as to the amount of protection to be afforded to a petitioning debtor in each individual case, the debtor being required to show that he is in fact unable to pay his debts, and that he has not concealed his property. These changes in the existing law are effected by the amendment in clauses 9 and 10 (2) and by clause 12, which inserts a new section 16A as to protection orders on the lines of section 25 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909.

5. A further defect in the Act is the absence of provisions sufficiently defining the power of Courts to decide questions of law and fact arising in insolvency proceedings. In certain cases, e.g., those mentioned in sections 18 (3), 36 and 37, the Court is empowered to pass orders, and section 47 defines the general powers of the Court in regard to proceedings under the Act, but nowhere is a general power conferred on the Court to deal with and decide important questions of law and fact (e.g., a question of title to property) which may arise in the insolvency proceedings. This question has recently been the subject of conflicting decisions in the Allahabad and the Calcutta High Courts. In Nilmoni Chowdhri v. Durga Charan Chowdhri (22 C. W. N., 704), the Calcutta High Court dissenting from the Allahabad High Court held that the Insolvency Court has no such power, and that a question of title to property should be tried in a separate suit. It is obviously desirable that this conflict between the two High Courts should be terminated, and having regard to the prevalence of benami transactions in India and the importance of arming Courts with adequate powers for the speedy realisation of assets in the interests of creditors, the Government of India are of opinion that the Court should be given full power to decide all questions raised in insolvency proceedings. Clause 3 of the Bill accordingly enacts a provision on the lines of section 7 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

6. Proceedings instituted against fraudulent insolvents are frequently infructuous. This is largely due to the lack of precision in the Act as to the procedure to be adopted by the Court which desires to take action. The wording of sub-section (2) of section 43 is unduly vague, regard being had to the fact that it constitutes a criminal offence, and experience has shown that it frequently creates difficulties. It is proposed that the penal provisions of existing section 43 should be amended on the lines of section 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, and that the procedure to be followed on a charge should be defined on the lines of section 104 of that Act. It is proposed to embody these provisions in the two separate sections 43-A and 43-B inserted by clause 19 of the Bill, which also inserts a new section 43-C containing provisions similar to those of section 105 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. It seems desirable to make it clear that a dishonest insolvent who has been guilty of an offence under the Act can be proceeded against even after he has obtained his discharge, or after a composition submitted by him has been accepted.

7. The summary administration of petty insolvencies is now largely governed by rules made by the High Courts under section 51 (2) (c) of the Act, but it seems desirable that the Act itself should contain more detailed provisions than at present, and that further simplification of procedure should be effected. It is proposed therefore that, in addition to any further modifications to be made by rules, section 48 should contain certain definite provisions, and it is thought that, if these changes are made, it would be well to confine summary administration to cases where the assets do not exceed Rs. 200 instead of the existing limit of Rs. 500, and to reserve a discretion to the Court to direct the ordinary procedure to be followed in cases where it thinks such a course desirable.

8. These amendments will, it is hoped, go far to check the abuses rendered possible by the defects in the existing law.

9. Opportunity has been taken to effect certain minor amendments in the Act, and an explanation of the reasons for the changes proposed will be found in the Notes on Clauses.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 2.—The expression "available act of insolvency" is not used anywhere else in the Act, and a definition therefore seems unnecessary. No such definition is to be found in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. The amendment in the definition of "property" makes it clear that trust property is not to be dealt with under the Act as property of the insolvent. It is proposed to include a definition of the expression "transfer of property" on the lines of the definition in section 2 of the Presidency Towns Act.

Clause 4 is principally a drafting amendment. The opportunity has been taken to split up section 6 into five separate sections with a view to re-arrange its different parts in their logical order. New section 6A merely reproduces existing section 6 (6). New section 6 B deals with the conditions on which a creditor may petition and reproduces existing section 6 (4) and (5). New section 6C deals with the debtor's petition and reproduces existing section 6 (3) with the addition of a proviso which is a corollary to the amendments in clauses 11 and 20 of the Bill regarding the annulment of an order of adjudication.

New section 6D reproduces existing section 6(2) with the addition of a proviso which is designed to cure a defect. Section 6(2) lays down where an insolvency petition is to be presented, but does not contain any saving in the event of the petition being presented in the wrong Court. The point was raised in Madho Pershad v. Watson (18 C. W. N., 1050), where the insolvent successfully presented an appeal on the ground that the petition had been presented in the wrong Court. The proposed proviso is intended to stop this loophole in the existing law.

New section 6E merely reproduces existing section 6 (1).

Clause 5 amends section 10 to make it clear that the object of continuing proceedings on the death of the debtor is for the purpose only of realising and distributing his property.

Clause 6.—This amendment appears to be necessary in view of the proviso to section 6 C in clause 4 and section 1A (ii) in clause 10.

Clause 7.—Section 13 (2) gives power to appoint an interim receiver at any time between the admission of the petition and the order of adjudication, but the Act is silent as to the powers of an interim receiver. It is considered desirable that an interim receiver should normally be appointed when the petition is admitted, and should be armed with such of the powers conferable on a receiver under the Code of Civil Procedure as the Court may direct (cf. section 16 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act). It is thought, however, that these provisions would come more appropriately into section 12 of the Act.

Clause 8 is consequential to the amendment in clause 7.

Clause 11.—The first amendment is consequential to the first amendment in clause 14.

The amendment of section 16 (2) is consequential to clause 12, which inserts a new section as to protection order.

The other amendments in this clause are explained in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Clause 13.—The first amendment is one of drafting, and the second is designed to obviate the necessity of sending notices to creditors who have not yet proved their debts and thus to shorten the proceedings.

Clause 14.—Both section 16 (1) and section 27 contemplate the possibility of a composition or scheme before adjudication. The Presidency Towns Insolvency Act in section 28, on the other hand, only contemplates a composition after adjudication. Under the English law a composition can be made (1) after the receiving order and prior to adjudication, or (2) after adjudication. But under the Indian law there is no receiving order procedure at all, and the order of adjudication is made on the hearing of the petition. It is very doubtful whether under the Provincial Insolvency Act the Court would have before it the necessary facts to justify it in dealing with compositions or schemes prior to adjudication. It is therefore proposed to follow in this respect the procedure under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act and allow compositions and schemes only after adjudication. This is effected by the first two amendments.

The third amendment in this clause is a drafting one—cf. sub-section (7) of section 27.

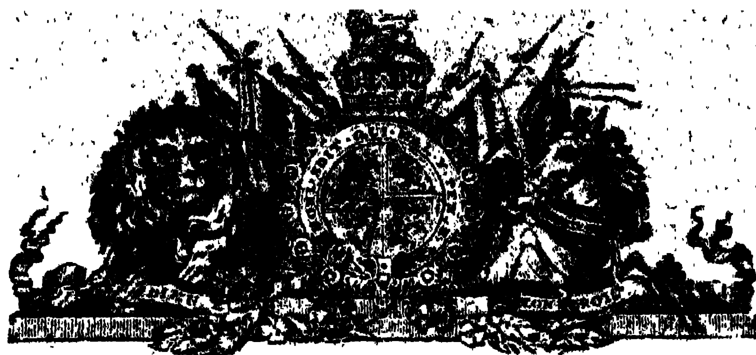
Clause 15.—As it stands, section 34 would not prevent the whole of the debtor's property from being sold for the benefit of an individual creditor after the filing of the petition and before the order of adjudication is made. The amendment prevents this and brings the section into line with section 53 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act.

Clause 16.—This amendment is consequential to the proposed definition of "transfer of property" in section 2.

Clause 17 makes it clear that the transactions referred to in section 38 are bonâ fide transactions. There appears to be no doubt that this is the intention.

Clause 18.—Apparently the duties imposed on the debtor by sub-section (1) of section 43 arise as soon as the Court has made an order under section 12 (1). It seems desirable to make this clear. It is difficult to see how the debtor can be under any obligation to assist in the distribution of his property, unless he is adjudged an insolvent. It is proposed therefore to amend the concluding part of sub-section (1), and to relegate to a separate sub-section the provisions which impose on the debtor the duty of aiding in the distribution of his property. Clause 18 effects these changes.

Clause 21.—The effect of existing section 45 is to release a discharged insolvent from liability under an order of maintenance made under section 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and in this respect the section is in conflict with section 45 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. It is proposed to bring it into accord with the latter Act.



Clause 22.—In view of the power which the proposed new section 3A would confer on Courts exercising insolvency jurisdiction, it is proposed to provide specifically that decisions in the exercise of this power shall be appealable.

Clause 24.—Under the Indian law no statutory disabilities attach to the position of an undischarged insolvent. It is doubtful whether public opinion in this country is at present inclined to attach much disgrace to a person in this position, but it appears desirable that the sense of the community should be stimulated by providing certain statutory disqualifications in addition to those already imposed, e.g., by the Regulations relating to members of the Legislative Council. A parallel provision is to be found in section 32 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1883 (46 & 47 Vict., c. 52).

Clause 25.—These amendments are introduced with a view to curtail the excessive number of notices which are at present required to be published in the Gazette.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal for 1918.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17 the area under jute to which this forecast relates represents 87·8 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Season.—As stated in the Preliminary Forecast, the weather, although favourable at sowing time, was too wet for the crop in its early stages. The rainfall in July was below normal in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, but in excess in most of the jute-growing tracts in Eastern and Northern Bengal. The August rainfall was again heavily in excess of normal throughout the Presidency. The general result of the wet season was an almost constant water-logging of the jute fields and an early rise of the rivers

Condition of the crop.—Owing to the unfavourable season the crop outturn is on the whole a poor one, especially in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, where large reductions in area have had to be made from the figures of the Preliminary Forecast on account of crop failures. In Eastern Bengal early harvesting on the lower lying areas, with a consequent cutting of much immature jute, was necessitated by the early rise of the rivers. The season in Northern Bengal was unfavourable owing to excessive rainfall and persistent water-logging.

Acreage.—The area under jute is returned at 2,249,026 acres, a decrease of 163,401 acres on last year's final figures. The decrease is attributable to the low price obtained for last year's crop and the heavy carry over.

Outturn.—As in previous years, the percentage figures are calculated on the basis of Divisional normals, which remain as follows:—Dacca and Chittagong 3·7 each, Rajshahi 3·5, Presidency and Burdwan 3·2 bales per acre.

The total outturn of the Bengal crop is returned at 6,390,934 bales of 400 lbs. each against 7,948,956 bales in last year's forecast, a decrease of 1,558,022 bales.

APPENDIX I.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal, 1918.

DISTRICT.	ESTIMATED AREA UNDER JUTE.		ESTIMATED OUTTURN AS A PERCENTAGE OF THE NORMAL YIELD PER UNIT OF AREA.		ESTIMATED TOTAL YIELD.		Date by which harvesting generally commenced, and whether that date was early, normal or late.	REMARKS BY DISTRICT OFFICERS.
	Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.	Last year.	This year.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Acres.	Acres.			Bales.	Bales.
24-Parganas ...	68,801	44,425	99	73	218,780	103,777	Middle of August. Normal.	The decrease in area, as compared with last year's estimates, is due to unfavourable condition of the jute market as also to excessive rainfall during the sowing time. Since the submission of the first forecast a considerable area under the crop has been totally destroyed by excessive rainfall. Hence the low outturn.
Nadia ...	70,089	50,273	59	61	131,981	98,132	Latter part of August. Normal.	Continued low price of jute in the past years is mainly responsible for the continued decrease in area. Unfavourable weather conditions served also to decrease the outturn.
Murshidabad	26,476	12,169	78	57	65,988	22,282	Middle of August ...	The large decrease in area, as compared with the preliminary forecast figures, is due to exclusion of areas abandoned owing to scarcity of rain at sowing time. There have been excessive rains later on. These reasons account for the low outturn.
Jessore ...	84,706	52,034	99·6	73	270,265	121,551	August. Normal ...	Continuous rainfall since the time of sowing affected the growth of the crop and caused damage to some extent. Hence the low outturn.
Khulna ...	27,727	22,805	105	98	93,161	70,057	First week of September. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to the fall in the price of jute last year. The outturn has fallen below the normal on account of heavy rain this year.
Burdwan ...	6,451	5,605	90	80·6	18,578	14,456	Middle of August to first week of September.	The decrease in area is due to the low price of jute last year. The outturn is below the normal, owing to excessive rainfall.
Midnapore ...	14,557	10,535	90	80·93	41,963	27,336	End of August. Normal.	Unfavourable weather and low price of jute at the sowing time account for the decrease in area. Heavy rainfall in June retarded the growth of the plants, which told upon the outturn.
Hooghly ..	33,728	27,255	101·6	87·8	109,758	76,520	Middle of August. Early.	The decrease in area is due to (1) low price of jute last year and (2) want of rain at the beginning. The decrease of outturn is due to the growth of the crop being hampered by heavy rainfall.
Howrah ...	13,366	7,266	104	84·99	44,375	19,761	Middle of August. Early	The decrease in area, as compared with the preliminary forecast, is due to the fact that owing to unfavourable weather conditions at the beginning of the season, some of the areas already sown with jute were resown with paddy. The outturn is estimated to be below the normal for the same season.
Rajshahi ...	81,094	71,300	88·5	80	249,784	208,040	Middle of July. Early	The decrease in area is due to the low price of jute last year. The crop is much below the normal owing to late sowing and damage done by heavy rains and floods, especially in the Nowgong and Nator subdivisions. About 12 per cent. of the area sown has been damaged by floods.
Dinajpur ...	61,700	60,000	84·3	85·7	182,015	179,970	Beginning of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to low prices of jute. The weather was favourable at the sowing time, but excessive rainfall later on affected the growth of the crop. Hence the outturn falls short of the normal.
Jalpaiguri ...	52,500	45,890	83	80	152,250	128,492	Middle of August. Normal	The low outturn is due to the heavy rainfall after the sowing season.
Darjeeling ...	2,582	2,000	85·7	75	7,686	5,250	Last week of July. Normal.	Weather conditions were not favourable.
Rangpur ...	256,381	200,173	81	78	728,754	546,472	August. Normal ...	The decrease in acreage and consequent decrease in outturn are due to the low price of jute in 1917-18; the cultivators, moreover, did not pay proper attention to the crop and the jute was not properly weeded, nor were the fields manured this year. The incessant rains during May and June also retarded the growth of the crop.

	Acres.	Acres.			Bales.	Bales.
Bogra ...	64,785	66,438	82	75	185,928	174,400	Middle of July. Normal	Heavy rains in June and July caused some damage, and floods in July, August and September washed away or destroyed jute of about 2½ per cent. of the total area sown.
Pabna ...	117,600	105 102	95	81·4	390,840	299,435	Middle of July. Early	The area has been increased by 17,669 acres over the preliminary forecast after further careful enquiry and checking of the work of the Panchayats. The decrease in outturn is due to heavy rainfall in May and June, which impeded weeding operations, and drought in July, which stunted the growth of the crop. The crop in low lands has also been damaged by floods.
Malda ...	34,000	29,000	88·5	80	107,000	81,200	End of July. Normal	Incessant rains during the weeding time hampered the operations and affected the growth of the crop. Some damage was also caused by the floods. Hence the low outturn.
Dacca ...	262,083	292,452	103	79·7	999,584	862,734	Early in July. Early	The decrease in yield is due to excessive rainfall after sowing, which retarded growth of the plants, and to sudden rise of rivers, which necessitated premature harvesting.
Mymensingh	579,604	577,922	102·7	81	2,207,157	1,733 766	Middle of July. Normal.	The falling off in outturn is due to excessive rain and high floods.
Faridpur ...	200,000	218,100	93	81	691,000	656,620	First week of July on low lands. Rather early.	The reasons for the outturn falling below the normal are— (1) Heavy rainfall in June retarded growth of the crops. (2) Premature harvesting on low lands due to abnormal rise of river water.
Bakarganj ...	57,000	50,227	100	88	211,000	164,320	Early in July ...	The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather at the sowing season. The reasons for the outturn falling below the normal are— (1) Late sowing for want of timely rainfall. (2) Heavy rains after sowing. (3) Premature harvesting necessitated by sudden rise of rivers.
Chittagong ...	200	200	90	81	666	600	First week of September.
Tippera ...	228,318	227,521	78	77·8	661,012	656,208	Beginning of July. Rather early.	In Brahmanbaria the crop has been damaged by incessant rains during the growing period and on account of the Meghna floods. In these areas the late-sown crop had to be cut early on account of rapid rise of the rivers.
Noakhali ...	32,520	37,500	70	70	84,436	97,500	Middle of July. Normal.	The increase in area over the estimates of the preliminary forecast is based on the result of enquiry. The continuous excessive rainfall since the end of April has retarded the growth of the crop. Hence the low outturn.
Total for Bengal.	2,376,247	2,219,212	......	......	7,853,956	6,348,829	......
Add for Cooch Behar.	36,180	29,814	......	......	95,000	42,105	End of July. Normal	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute. The weather was not favourable at the time of sowing. The operations were, therefore, very late. Subsequent heavy rainfall has done much harm to the crop by retarding weeding operations.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1918.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17 the area under jute to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates represents about 9·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Acreage.—The final district returns of the seven jute-growing districts of the Province show an area under jute of 150,988 acres or in round numbers 151,000 acres as compared with 150,600 acres reported in the preliminary forecast and 223,300 acres reported in the final forecast of last year. The large reduction in area in Purnea, the most important of the jute districts, was due to the low price of jute last year and to the anticipated low price this year owing to large stocks remaining in the district, which have now been mostly cleared.

Weather conditions.—In March the rainfall was below the normal in all jute-growing districts. In April and May it was above the normal everywhere except in Balasore, where it was in slight defect during the former month. In June the rainfall was above the normal except in Balasore, where it was slightly below the normal. In July the rainfall was below the normal in all jute districts except Muzaffarpur, and in August it was above the normal in Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Purnea and the Santal Parganas and below the normal in the remaining three districts. Weather conditions have not been favourable in the important districts of Purnea and Cuttack on account of excessive rain during the period of growth.

Outturn.—In the important districts of Purnea and Cuttack the outturn of the crop has been reported at 75 and 65 per cent. of the normal, respectively; Balasore reports an outturn of 80 per cent., and Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur and the Santal Parganas report 100 per cent.

On the basis of the area and percentage outturn reported by the District Officers and taking three bales as the normal outturn per acre, the total gross outturn of the crop for the Province this year comes to 340,509 bales or in round numbers 340,500 bales.

The average import of raw jute into this Province from Nepal during the last three years was equivalent to 63,429 bales. This figure added to the figure for the Province arrived at gives a total for Bihar and Orissa of 403,938 bales or in round numbers 403,900 bales.

Rainfall has been favourable for this crop in the Sadar subdivision and not favourable in the Bettiah subdivision. A normal outturn is expected, i.e., the same as last year. There is no change in area in the Sadar subdivision, but there is a decrease of 100 acres in the Bettiah subdivision, which is due to the fact that last year advances were granted by factories, whereas no such advances have been allowed this year.
	Muzaffarpur ...	1,942,324	1,627,000	1,700	2,300	1,800	110	100	6,900	5,400	August and September.	The weather was favourable. The general prospects of the crop were good. There has been a slight decrease in area this year.
Bhagalpur ...	Bhagalpur ...	2,661,020	1,684,100	3,800	2,272	2,588	100	100	6,816	7,764	August. Harvesting not yet begun in Banka.	The increase in area shown in column 7 is chiefly due to extended cultivation under this crop in Mirganj thana within Madhipura subdivision.
	Purnea ...	3,196,153	1,694,400	228,100	192,000	12[illegible],000	100	75	576,000	274,500	July. Normal ...	The figures for area are based on careful enquiries by a measurement in selected villages. The large reduction in area is due to the low price of jute last year and to the anticipated low price this year owing to large stocks remaining in the district which have now been mostly cleared. Owing to the excessive rain from the beginning of the season the growth of the crop was much affected and the yield was poor.
	Santal Parganas ...	3,466,100	1,698,200	3,000	1,400	1,300	100	100	4,203	3,900	Latter part of August.	The weather and rainfall conditions were favourable. The date of harvesting was normal. A normal outturn is expected.
Orissa ...	Cuttack ...	2,340,307	1,223,600	16,000	20,700	18,700	100	65	62,100	36,465	First week of August. Normal.	The weather was not very favourable owing to excessive rain and flood in June and cessation of rain in July which affected the growth of the crop. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
	Balasore ...	1,332,621	932,200	2,900	2,100	2,200	100	60	6,300	5,280	Not yet begun ...	The weather conditions were not uniformly favourable. As the rainfall was below the normal in June, July and August, the growth of the crop was retarded. Now the general prospect of the crop is good in the Sadar subdivision. The decrease in the estimated outturn is due to the plants being stunted on account of insufficient rain.
	Total ...	17,198,365	10,359,600	257,300	223,272 or in round numbers 223,300	153,986 or in round numbers 151,000.	100	75	669,816 or in round numbers 669,800	340,509 or in round numbers 340,500

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Assam, 1918.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1916-17 the area under jute in Assam represents some 3·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Character of the season.—As indicated in the preliminary forecast, in the earlier part of the year the weather was not generally favourable. The floods of early June were repeated in July and August, when there was abnormal rain in practically all districts. The crop was very considerably damaged by floods in Sylhet and Goalpara.

Area sown.—As in previous years, the figures for the permanently settled areas of Sylhet and Goalpara have been compiled by village panchayets and for other districts by the Land Records staff.

The total area under the crop as estimated by the Deputy Commissioners comes to 97,200 acres against the revised figures of 100,300 acres of last year and 90,300 acres shown in the preliminary forecast of this year. In comparison with the revised area of last year, the area in Sylhet has fallen by 5,100 acres and in two other districts by small amounts, owing to the low prices of last year; the increases in Goalpara, Kamrup, Darrang and Nowgong are mainly due to the influx of Mymensingh settlers the net decrease of 3,100 acres is mainly due to the reduction in Sylhet. The Deputy Commissioners of all districts except Cachar, Sibsagar and Lakhimpur have revised the figures reported in the preliminary forecast.

Outturn.—The percentage of outturn as estimated by the Deputy Commissioners is 67 of the normal against 74 (revised) of the previous year. On the basis of the normal yield of 3·3 bales per acre for this Province, the outturn is 214,188 bales against 245,849 bales of last year, or a decrease of about 13 per cent.

char ...	300	400	100	75	57	990	229	Middle of August, Normal.	The decrease in area is due to low jute market. Heavy rains stunted the growth of the crop.
lhet ...	18,000	18,700	13,600	93	56	57,360	25,157	End of July. Normal	There has been a reduction in the area sown this year owing to the low price of jute last year. The cause of decrease in the outturn is attributed to excessive rains and floods.
oalpara ...	42,400	48,400	50,500	61	53	97,429	88 363	1st July. Early ...	The increase in area is due to the influx of new settlers. The outturn is expected to be very low on account of drought at the sowing time, continuous rains at the time of weeding the crop and recent heavy floods.
amrup ...	8,100	10,700	10,800	85	85	30,013	30,294	15th August. Normal	The increase in area is due to immigration of the jute cultivators from Bengal and to favourable weather.

ibsagar ...	300	100	400	75	80	990	1,056	Second week of August. Normal.	The outturn is estimated to be better than last year on account of favourable weather, but much damage was done in Majuli by early floods.
akhimpur ...	200	100	100	90	92	297	416	1st September. Normal.	The cultivation of jute in this district is very small: it calls for no remarks.
aro Hills ...	4,100	5,000	4,500	75	98	12,375	14,553	Middle of July. Normal.	The decrease in area in comparison with the preliminary forecast and the figures reported in the crop abstract of last year, is due to fall in price of jute and want of rainfall at sowing time. The character of weather was favourable to the crop up to the middle of July, when the crop was damaged by flood: hence the outturn is estimated below normal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 19th September 1918.

Summary.—During the week the rainfall was generally moderate in the Northern and Eastern districts; elsewhere it was light. Transplantation of winter paddy is nearly finished; weeding is proceeding. Harvesting of autumn paddy has been nearly finished in the Eastern and Northern districts, and is much advanced in the Western districts. Steeping and washing of jute are proceeding. Prospects of standing crops are reported to be generally fair except in flood-affected areas in some of the districts of Eastern Bengal. Fodder is reported to be insuffcient in parts of Rajshahi and Dinajpur. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 1·1 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.
